His 'Prescription' Makes Sense

Doctor-President May 'Cure' Haiti

Dr. Francois Duvalier, Haiti's president, has outlined the progress of his five-year plan for development of his poverty-stricken country to Miami Herald Managing Editor George Beebe. This is the first of several articles.

By GEORGE BEEBE
Herald Managing Editor

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti—A couple of recent economic transfusions are improving Haiti's chances of recovery — but the patient is still on the critical list.

It is going to take all of the skill of Dr. Francois Duvalier to rectify the bungling of a long line of political medicos who preceded him in the presidency of this vibrant but bankrupt Negro republic.

In the 15 months since the good doctor took over the miserably happy country, he's come up with a formula that seems to make sense to most of his 3,500,000 constituents.

Dr. Duvalier
. . . five-year plan

Haiti has had 130 revolutions in 155 years of independence. People are sick of revolt. They seem to like Dr. Duvalier's soft touch on the pulse.

The man who studied for two years at the University of Michigan, still has envious foes plotting his downfall. But their chances lessen as his program solidifies.

Duvalier had the misfortune of gaining the presidency when a sagging world coffee market knocked the props completely out from an already shaky economy.

This makes his task doubly difficult.

Undismayed, the graying, distinguished looking 51-year-old Dr. Duvalier has launched an ambitious five-year recovery program that looks like this:

INAUGURATED a slum clearance project—in one of the world's worst slums.

SIGNED contracts for a score of job-producing industries.

CALLED in United States experts to analyze his budgetary and military problems.

APPOINTED a $1-a-year tourist commission to beat the drums for more free-spending Americans.

TURNED attention to furthering secondary education to produce better civic and political leadership.

LAUNCHED the $6,500,000 Artibonite Valley irrigation and drainage program that will open up farm lands and resettlement areas.

Dr. Duvalier made two significant announcements in recent days.

He set Friday as expiration date of dictatorial powers he decreed for himself six months ago. This will ease the fear of his people that he had dictatorial ambitions.

He has hired a U.S. military mission to reorganize the 5,000-man army and take it out of politics.

In the past, presidential aspirants who could sway military leaders to their side, had the key to overthrowing the government. The plums for being a military officer were great.

"All this must change for the good of our country," said the president.

Haiti now spends nearly one-fourth of its $30,000,000 budget on its army. President Duvalier is quick to explain this major expense item by pointing out that the soldiers also serve as the island's police force.

Smathers Calls for Unity

Western Hemisphere Association Proposed

From Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Creation of a Pan American Parliamentary Association to seek removal of trade and travel barriers in the Western Hemisphere was proposed Tuesday by Sen. George Smathers.

The association would be set up in accordance with a resolution introduced in the Senate by Smathers.

The Florida Democrat told the Senate the association would "aid immeasureably in breaking down artificial barriers which prevent a maximum degree of unity, cooperation and understanding."

He proposed that the association be made up of legislators from the 21 American republics.

Smathers said the State Department and many of the Latin American nations favor the proposal as a means "by which the strained relations existing today — created solely by unfounded distrust — can be eradicated."

"The Communists in launching their Latin American economic offensive wasted no time in seizing upon this unfortunate and needless situation," Smathers said.

Cold War Still On --Dulles

High Level Talks On Germany OKd

Nixon's Views, 2A

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Secretary of State John Foster Dulles gave the nod Tuesday to a foreign ministers conference on Germany this spring. At the same time, he firmly rejected any idea that Russia is trying to thaw the cold war.

Dulles told newsmen: "I have seen nothing so far which leads me to feel that there is a genuine (Soviet) desire to end the cold war. There is a very strong desire to delude us into thinking the cold war is ended.

"There are a series of proposals made ostensibly to help end the cold war which would, in fact, play greatly into the hands of the prosecutors of the cold war."

This attitude led reporters to ask what possible good could then be expected from any foreign ministers meeting this spring.

Dulles replied that the West simply has to keep trying. Sometimes, if you are tough enough and patient, agreements fair to all can be reached, he said.

Dulles said the Korean armistice, the Austrian peace treaty and last January's U.S.-Soviet exchange agreement were all examples of results from this kind of tenacity.

Dulles said it seems to him that Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan got the wrong idea about America's unity during his U.S. visit this month.

The trouble was, Dulles said, Mikoyan's talks with government officials got down to brass tacks—"concrete cases, concrete — proposals" — while his talks with businessmen and others mostly dealt with broad generalities.

The exception, Dulles said, was Mikoyan's meeting with a group of union leaders who, the secretary said, "presented their views very strongly and effectively."

Apparently what Dulles had in mind were Mikoyan's sour comments that the American people want peace but their government clings to policies which continue the cold war.

"After his trip around the country," Dulles said of Mikoyan, "he still seemed to be under an illusion that there was a greater divergence on these matters than I think is the case."

Nevertheless, Dulles added, he has "no great concern" that Russia will make a serious miscalculation on that basis, conceding there is always such a danger. He recalled that both the Kaiser and Hitler misjudged America's temper before each of the world wars.

Khrushchev Delivers His Address Through Battery of Mikes at Kremlin's Great Hall
. . . 'massive serial production of intercontinental missiles is under way'

BULLETIN!

A car jumped the curb of the second-floor ramp at the downtown Dupont Plaza Hotel early today, killing a man wiiting to be picked up by the car.

The dead man was identified as William C. O'Brien, 25, a vacationing pilot from Massachusetts.

Police said a woman who was in the car was taken to Jackson Memorial Hospital with internal injuries.

Witnesses said the car crashed through the large plate glass windows of the hotel's main lobby after striking and killed the man.

The victim apparently was dragged along as the car ground to a halt in the palatial lobby.

The ramp slants up from SE Third St. in front of the hotel, and curves around in front of the main entrance at the second-floor level.

He Shoots Woman, Kills Self

A married Southwest section bar manager shot his former sweetheart in the face late Tuesday, then killed himself as her three children and new boyfriend looked on in horror.

Dead in the explosion of an unhappy triangle was James Thomas (Big Jim) Cheatham, 41, of 738 Fernwood Ave., Key Biscayne.

His attractive victim, Mrs. Jacquelin Louise Costan, 32, a divorcee, of 1331 SW 73rd Pl., West Miami, was taken to Doctors' Hospital in fair condition with a bullet lodged in the back of her neck.

Cheatham, a hefty six-footer who owned two used car lots before going to work at the Tropics Motel bar at 6925 SW Eighth St., had been pestering Mrs. Costan for several days, neighbors said.

Only moments after a prowl car for the South West Emergency Patrol cruised by her house Tuesday night, Cheatham emerged from the shadows and stumbled across her lawn — a whisky bottle in his pocket and a gun in his hand.

Inside her house, Mrs. Costan and R. J. Platt, 32, of 125 W. 39th Pl., Hialeah, were putting her three children, Jack, 13, Jimmy, 10, and Jerrie, eight, to bed.

Jobless Diplomat Undecided on Future

Batista Consul Pops Up, Denies Fleeing From Miami

By JAMES BUCHANAN
Herald Staff Writer

Eduardo Hernandez, Batista's Miami consul-general who dropped out of sight when the dictator fled into exile, popped up here just as suddenly Tuesday.

The diplomat, who lost his job with the change in Cuban governments, denied there was anything "mysterious" about his absence, as implied by rebel forces.

In shirt sleeves, sporting a cold sore on his upper lip and undecided about the future, the 49-year-old, dapper Hernandez is trying to find a new place in the sun.

His light went out Jan. 1 when rebel chieftain Fidel Castro took over Cuba.

Hernandez stood on the lawn of his home at 403 W. San Marino Dr. on Miami Beach's Marino Island and talked to four of his close friends.

It probably was the largest gathering of pro-Batista men in Greater Miami since Cuba's latest Independence Day.

—Herald Staff Photo

Eduardo Hernandez
. . . no 'mystery'

"I did not flee Miami on Dec 31 as the rebels have claimed," Hernandez said.

"I left Miami Beach on Dec. 8 for New York, where my wife is hospitalized. And I did not 'strip' my consulate office of official records in Miami as the rebels also claim," Hernandez said.

His future is indefinite, Hernandez admitted, but his plans depend solely on the health of his wife "whom I expect to be well, and to join me, very soon."

Hernandez said the loss of his job with the Batista government would be covered "by investments I have here in Florida." He declined to name them.

"What I do from now on depends first upon what my wife wants to do," he said. Mrs. Hernandez has been in ill health for nearly a year.

Hernandez would talk about the weather, the price of fish, or anything but the past-current-or-future of Cuba or its government.

"Just make it 'no comment'," he said. "It is no time for me to talk now."

Reports that Hernandez was hidden behind armed guards at his island home or had moved are untrue.

Hernandez served Batista for the first time from 1936 until 1944 as consul-general at Miami and then went to Rio de Janeiro as consul. He returned here in 1945 as a real estate man and exporter.

In 1952, with Batista returning to power, Hernandez became consul-general once again and remained until the recent change in government.

The new consul here is Antonio Medina, career diplomat who was Hernandez' assistant.

Getting a Bang Out of Life

Sorghum--Wall-to-Wall!

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — (AP) — Somebody dropped the sorghum and thus began the wildest evening in Mrs. Raymond Fisher's life. That was the night she was having a dinner party.

She related her tale of woe Tuesday.

A friend dropped by with a quart of sorghum and fumbled it as it was being put in the refrigerator. The result: Wall-to-wall sorghum.

Then somebody else brushed too close to the kitchen stove — and over went a big roaster pan almost brimful of giblet gravy.

Have you ever had a kitchen with wall-to-wall sorghum topped with giblet gravy?

Somehow or other Mrs. Fisher got her 10 guests fed, then stumbled wearily off to bed. Four hours later she wakened with a touch of dyspepsia and reached in the dark for a piece of indigestion-cure chewing gum.

She got something, put it in her mouth and bit down. Boom!

It wasn't gum at all, but a tiny torpedo firecracker, the kind kids fling on the sidewalk.

Premier Sets Sight On 1970

Original Doctrine Of War Reversed

Warning to West, 7A

MOSCOW — (UPI) — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev Tuesday launched a campaign for the economic conquest of the West that is designed to put Russia ahead of the U.S. by 1970.

He proclaimed the Communist doctrine that neither hot nor cold war is inevitable against capitalism in his message to the opening of the 21st Soviet Communist Party Congress. He stressed that while Russia wants peaceful competition, it is keeping itself well armed with missiles.

He spoke for six hours and five minutes on everything from Germany and Berlin to giving Russians the shortest working week in the world and each family an apartment. His every point drew loud applause.

He disclosed that military strength will not be sacrificed.

"Massive serial production of intercontinental missiles is under way," he said.

The premier did not elaborate. But he warned that Russia, with its cosmic rocket and satellites, has missiles to hit any point on earth.

He stressed, however, that "we want competition to take place . . . not . . . in the production of atomic and hydrogen weapons but in the production of industrial goods, meat, butter . . ."

The U.S. will be "outstripped" by 1970 in the new "realistic" Russian plan, he said.

Khrushchev visualized stepped up Russian production under the 1959-1965 seven-year plan; then, within the next five years, or by 1970, the time will have come when Russia has "the decisive edge" in the world.

He called for an 8.6 per cent annual increase in Soviet production and said America's annual increase was only two per cent.

"When fulfilled, the seven-year plan will so greatly increase the economic potential of the U.S.S.R. that it will, together with the growth of the economic potential of all the Socialist countries, give peace a decisive edge," he said.

He admitted that the U.S. industrial production per capita now is double Russia's and that American agricultural production is 40 per cent ahead.

But in the last eight years, in such fields as steel, oil, coal, cement and wool, the rate of increase of Soviet production surpassed the American rate, he said.

Khrushchev called for a 1965 production target of 65 million to 70 million tons of pig iron, 86 million to 91 million tons of steel, and 65 million to 70 million tons of rolled stock. Other metal production must be increased "several times over." Oil production should double to 230 million to 240 million tons. Electric power stations must double capacity.

The national income is to rise as much as 65 per cent, he said.

"This new balance of forces will be so patently evident that even the most diehard imperialists will clearly see the futility of any attempt to start a war against the Socialist camp."

Khrushchev's thesis, hammered at again and again, appeared to be that with the nuclear stalemate in the world, economic power will be the key to eventual Communist triumph —a reversal of the original doctrine that war is inevitable between socialism and capitalism.

Nixon: Labor Knows How to Handle Reds

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Tuesday night that American businessmen who lionized Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan could learn a lesson from labor leaders on how to deal with Communists.

Nixon called Mikoyan "the equal of any leader I have met" and said that his recent visit here — taken as a whole —was "in the best interests of the U.S. and the free world."

But he added in an address to the Fordham College Alumni Association that the Soviet official brought "no new approach" on major East-West issues. The visit, he said, resulted in no change in the U.S. or Soviet positions.

Nixon said he did not agree with those who criticized American businessmen and bankers for entertaining Mikoyan.

"But I would respectfully suggest," he added, "that some of them in this instance could learn a lesson from our labor leaders who had to fight their unions and in the process learned how to deal with them.

"They know that a soft and naive approach does not produce results. The Communists respect those who oppose them on principle. They have nothing but contempt for those who are dupes and who can be deceived by what they know are obvious untruths."

The vice president also warned that no more disastrous mistake could be made than to slash this country's foreign economic, propaganda and political programs in the name of economy.

Nixon said he could testify that Mikoyan returned to Russia with completely different views if he expected to find this country divided in its opposition to communism, its workers "seething with discontent" or its economy in trouble.

He said Mikoyan was "noticeably impressed by the economic progress the U.S. had made in the 22 years since his last visit here and by the obvious strength of our economy today."

In a further tribute to the anti-Communist stand of American labor, Nixon added that Mikoyan did not find any encouraging signs of progress in the U.S. toward fulfillment of the Marxist prediction of an inevitable class struggle.

"On the contrary," he admitted with almost grudging admiration that the strongest defenders of the American system, the most vigorous critics of communism, and the most uncompromising supporters of our firm stand in Berlin were not the traditional whipping boys of Communist propaganda, the Wall Street bankers and businessmen, but the leaders of our free trade unions who represented the views of millions of America's wage earners."

Nixon said Mikoyan displayed mental ability and shrewdness but that even more impressive were his "steel-like toughness of character and an almost arrogant faith that his cause was right and that it would inevitably prevail."

He said he showed "no flabbiness, no softness, none of the uncertainty of the pragmagist seeking a philosophy." In short, he said, the American people were reminded in Mikoyan of "the massiveness and of the seriousness of the challenge we face in the world today."

The vice president admitted that he had been deeply concerned at "the naive attitude and the lack of understanding of communism displayed by some Americans" who represented this country in government and out overseas.

He said too few Americans saw the total picture of the anti-Communist struggle when they attacked technical aid, developmental loans, exchange and information programs.

Dixie Senators Shoot Back With Integration 'Solution'

Would Let States Run Education

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Southern Democratic senators Tuesday offered their solution to the school integration dispute — a proposed constitutional amendment to assure states and localities full control over education.

Sen. Herman E. Talmadge (D., Ga.), who headed the list of eight Dixie sponsors of the amendment, said it would avert the "unparalleled catastrophe" of wholesale school closings.

The amendment would need the support of two-thirds of Congress and three-fourths of the 49 State Legislatures. It shaped up as the South's counter-proposal to a wide range of civil rights bills either before or being prepared for Congress.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D., Ga.), although not a co-sponsor of the resolution, said the segregation crisis was "the greatest problem which has confronted the people of the Southern states in almost a century." Talmadge, he said, was making "a sincere effort to find some solution."

Northern liberals in both parties are pushing for board action in the field of civil rights, including legislation to back the Supreme Court's school desegregation ruling.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) has introduced a "modest" package designed to extend the life of the Federal Civil Rights Commission, give the Justice Department subpena power in voting rights cases and create a federal mediation service to help iron out civil rights disputes.

President Eisenhower's civil rights program has not been submitted to Congress yet. But the chief executive and other administration officials have indicated it will include extension of the commission's life and the subpena features of Johnson's program.

front door, but Mrs. Costan refused to let him in.

Instead, she walked to a front porch window facing the door and pleaded with Cheatham to leave her alone.

Light from behind her outlined her silhouette against the frosted glass of the closed jalousie window. Cheatham apparently aimed at her head and fired, police said.

As Platt ran to the front door, Cheatham barged in and the two men grappled until Platt saw Mrs. Costan lying on the porch, blood flowing from the bullet wound.

As Platt ran to the woman, Cheatham quickly put the gun to his left temple and fired.

Jack, the oldest of the three Costan children, ran screaming from the neat little house.

"My mother, my mother! Big Jim's shot my mother!" he cried.

A suicide note scribbled in a small leather address book was found on Cheatham's body by Metro Homicide Investigator Bruce Berry.

Berry declined to release the contents of the note "until we've deciphered it."

According to Mrs. Chester Groski, a neighbor, Mrs. Costan had been dating Cheatham for about a year before meeting Platt recently.

Police said Cheatham had been married for 15 years but had no children.

Platt, according to police, is the brother of L. S. (Doc) Platt, a controversial former Hialeah councilman who once ran for the State Senate.

Ike Labor Plan May Stir Fuss

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Eisenhower will send his labor message to Congress today. Sparks are expected to fly.

Eisenhower helped set up a fight by scorning a rival bill, introduced a week ago by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D., Mass), as a halfway measure.

That presidential description was relayed to newsmen by Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, House Republican leader who was among a group that conferred for 2½ hours with Eisenhower at the White House Tuesday.

The Kennedy bill may be a little better than nothing, Halleck said on his own account. But not much, he added slightingly.

Kennedy, a likely contender for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960, got his bill in well ahead of both the administration's and one planned by Chairman John L. McClellan (D., Ark.) of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

All three aim, or are expected to aim, in the same general direction but with different approaches: To eliminate as much as possible of the corruption and racketeering that have been shown to exist in some labor-management relations. The Teamster Union headed by James R. Hoffa is a common target.

It was reported at the Labor Department last week that Secretary James P. Mitchell regards the Kennedy bill with a good deal of favor—as far as it goes.

However, Mitchell is said to feel that there should be a stronger ban on blackmail picketing and that union officials should be held more accountable to members for handling union funds.

Halleck said the administration bill is intended to deal with a situation that has created a "stench in the nostrils of everybody."

Rain's Out For Today

Sudden hard rains caught weathermen and beach-goers with their umbrellas down Tuesday — but it's not supposed to happen again today.

Mostly sunny weather with temperatures near 80 was forecast for today, and only a chance of showers.

"It won't be anything like Tuesday," said Forecaster Gil Clark.

He blamed the afternoon showers Tuesday on a cold trough in the upper air that didn't change ground temperatures but plastered Greater Miami with nearly an inch of rain.

Quartet Provides Rich Experience

By DORIS RENO
Herald Music Editor

The Quartetto Italiano, playing Boccherini, Mozart and Ravel, provided one of the richest listening experiences for Friends of Chamber Music members that they have had in the four years since the organization came into being.

This quartet plays with perfectionistic ensemble, with a quartet tone that is silken, sensitive and subtle, and with the utmost love and the kind of vibrant excitement that is a result of being in love with this, and all, music.

The Quartetto makes the livest music imaginable, and to hear one of their recitals takes as much out of the listener, almost, as the performances must take out of the performers.

We know of no other group that plays the French impressionistic works with such beauty and mastery. There may not even be in the world another string quartet that can perform the Ravel F Major Quartet with such luxuriant, pulsing loveliness as these Italians do — and indeed it may be a while before last night's madly applauding audience will want to hear it from any other group.

The Mozart "Hunt" Quartet, K. 485, was quite as strong and rewarding a Mozart performance as the Ravel in the impressionistic field. The adagio was spellbinding, and the audience so reacted. The allegros were fresh and vivacious, and the minuetto danced of itself. It was great Mozart-playing.

The Three Pieces for String Quartet by Stravinsky, which have never been played in Miami before, were exciting. The first gave us an obstinate little melody that flicked off like a feather. The second reminded us of glass falling melodiously, and the third was a miniature dirge that did not depress.

The program-opener was a two-movement Boccherini Quartet, the C major, Op. 44, No. 4, and it set the mood of delight for the whole evening. The encore was the scherzo from Haydn's Op. 5, No. 3, which the Griller Quartet also played for an encore two weeks ago.

There is a lot of speculation as to the nature of a recent border conference between Duvalier and Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo of over-the-mountains Dominican Republic.

Duvalier says it was to patch up differences that have strained relations between the countries for years, to sign a non-aggression pact and to launch a joint battle against communism on the island.

Despite its poverty, Haiti has resisted the heavy hand of the Communists.

Dr. Duvalier estimates there are 2,000 known Communists in Haiti. He is proud that he was able to reject overtures made to him by Soviet Russia right after his election.

National Summary

The slowly moving eastern weather pattern continued to give combinations of ice sleet and snow over much of the most populace area of the U.S.

The advance of colder air will be accompanied by considerable cloudiness through the Gulf states but should help evict the combination of freezing rain sleet and snow from the east.

Fair to partly cloudy and cold weather should return to the central and northern Appalachians mid Atlantic states and New England by Wednesday.

Occasional rain and colder temperatures are indicated for Georgia and the Carolinas restricting fair warm conditions to Florida.

A broad zone of warming temperatures and generally fair weather is forecast from the central plains to the mid Mississippi and Ohio Valleys while some snow may drift across the Northern Great Lakes region.

Intermittent rain will give way to showers through the Pacific northwest Wednesday and showers of rain or snow should extend across northern California into the central plateau and Rockies.

End of Affair: Sighted Suitor, Scuttled Same

By Herald Wire Services

PEOPLE

MARGHERITA BETTELLI of Italy, whose note on a syrup bottle inspired a trans-atlantic marriage offer, got her first look at her divorced suitor and it apparently was enough.

"I am not going to marry that man, but I am going to stay in Venezuela and look for a job," the 28-year-old woman reportedly told a stewardess Tuesday on the liner that brought her to Caracas, Venezuela, from her native Italy.

Francisco Mule, 36, a balding immigrant tailor, found Margherita shy and a bit skeptical when he boarded ship and embraced her.

The woman sniffed when Mule shrugged off the matter of another wife and two children in Italy. He said he had obtained a Mexican divorce before he answered Margherita's note.

At this point Margherita said she wanted a little time to think things over. A short time later she left with two men. One said he was her cousin.

Margherita was employed at a bottling works near Vignola, Italy. Working on an order for a Venezuelan firm, she attached a note to one of the bottles saying she would like to visit South America. Francisco found the note, started a correspondence and proposed.

Sub Adlai for Dulles: Mrs. R.

Mrs. Roosevelt
. . . if you ask her

NEW YORK — (AP) — Eleanor Roosevelt's choice for secretary of state under a Democratic administration is Adlai Stevenson.

She named the party's two-time unsuccessful candidate for President in her column, "If You Ask Me," in the February issue of McCall's.

In a previous column, Mrs. Roosevelt had written that she still felt Stevenson would make a splendid President but, because of previous defeats, "probably will not want to run again."

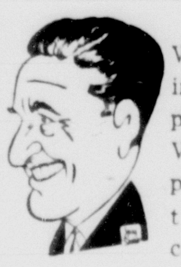
'Rose' by Other Tune Smells Slightly Amiss

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — President Eisenhower asked him to play "The Yellow Rose of Texas," and Lawrence Welk muffed it.



WELK

A beaming Welk was ending a half-hour program at a White House party when the President called out:

"Don't you have "The Yellow Rose of Texas?"

"If we don't, we can sort of make it up," said Welk with a grin.

But when he started playing, it wasn't the familiar melody.

It turned out that Accordionist Maurice Pearson led the band into a version of "Yellow Rose" that he learned in a correspondence course when he was a little boy.

"Wasn't that it?" Welk said afterwards when asked what happened. "I thought it was."

Nobody seemed to mind, though. Later on Welk was surrounded by a crush of admiring fans including Texas-born Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson, Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield and Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D., Va.)

Another Slezak Will Sing at Met

WALTER SLEZAK, actor and musical comedy star, will sing on the Metropolitan Opera stage where his father won fame half a century ago.

SLEZAK

Slezak, 57, has been signed in New York to appear as a guest artist in the comic role of Zsupan in the Johann Strauss operetta, "The Gypsy Baron."

The operetta, in a new English version by Maurice Valency, will be staged at the Met next fall for the first time since the 1905-06 season.

That was a few years before Slezak's late father, Leo, became a leading tenor at the Opera House.

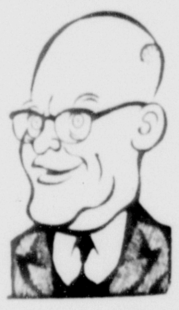
Rep. Celler Slams 'Mix' Enforcement

REP. EMANUEL CELLER (D., N.Y.) has predicted integration of public schools won't be accomplished until "about the year 3000" unless the attorney general is given authority to enforce it.



CELLER

Speaking before members of the Wisconsin Bankers Association in Milwaukee, Celler said he would push for a bill in Congress to give the attorney general power to enforce desegregation.

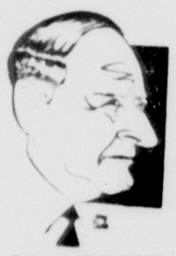
Ike Greeting Tops At Mac's Birthday

A MESSAGE from President Eisenhower was a highlight of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's 79th birthday celebration in New York.



MacARTHUR

The President sent best wishes for continued success, health and happiness and signed the message, "Old friend and assistant, Dwight D. Eisenhower."

Eisenhower served as an aide to MacArthur in the U.S. and in the Philippines before World War II.

The President's message was read at a stag party in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel. Ninety-six persons attended.

Just Hang On to the Ability to Dream

Pat Boone sums up his philosophies for teenagers on the threshold of adulthood in the conclusion of this exclusive serialization of his best-seller, "'Twixt Twelve and Twenty."

BY Pat Boone

Pat Boone Says

Maturity is not a synonym for old age. Temptation can strengthen our spiritual muscles . . . and make us mature. First, you avoid it, if you can. Second, you have to be alert so that nothing sneaks up on you. Third, you pray! Fourth you try to feel God's presence to help you in any difficulty. Fifth, you study His word in the Bible and listen to . . . advice from people.

'Twixt 12 And 20 —Final

Shakespeare said, "Sweet are the uses of adversity." It's a hard saying, but the Bard has a habit of turning out right. The key word is "uses."

BOONE

When my wife's mother died, Shirley was not a member of the Church of Christ to which I belonged. Her sorrow and her loneliness and her nagging guilt about all the little kind things she might have done for her mother before she died were wearing her down.

Now right there Shirley could have added a big load of self-pity to her burden. Instead we used to pray out loud together, and Shirley prayed alone too. She began to seek, and in the end she found her Comforter and became a member of the Church of Christ.

I can remember losses and disappointments which spurred me on to greater understanding. There was the time in high school when I lost the election for student body president. I'd been working toward that since my freshman year. Then suddenly I lost to a guy whose chief qualification was that he was an outstanding athlete, who'd only been in school one year.

It was a bitter blow to me and I was tempted to feel that it was unjust. In fact, I recall saying so to God. But then I was able to pray, without any resentment or bitterness, that he'd be a good student body president.

When school opened in the fall, it turned out the other fellow had become ineligible because of something which had happened during the summer. Another election was held and I won, but I didn't feel any gloating triumph.

I just felt genuinely sorry for the other guy. This defeat was a lesson for me to learn. I picked up some humility, and learned that my efforts weren't necessarily going to win any prizes unless they fitted His plans.

Temptations can strengthen our spiritual muscles if we use them to that purpose. For me there are five ways to resist temptation. All of them make you mature. First, you avoid it if you can. Second, you have to be alert so that nothing sneaks up on you. Third, you pray! Fourth, you try to feel God's presence to help you in any difficulty. Fifth, you study His Word in the Bible and listen to sermons and advice from people who have already overcome them.

No matter what you hear to the contrary, you can look forward with pleasure to getting up here into the adult world. It's fun to grow up! There are adults who will say to you sadly: "Have the time of your life while you're young, because, when you grow up you'll have so many responsibilities and so much hard work that you'll never have any more fun."

Well, maybe this happened to them. But it can't happen to you if you make up your mind about it right now.

Your objective is maturity in six major areas: spiritual, social, mental, physical, financial, work. That's full development of your potential. Full development along all these lines will keep you young in heart, honest! Maturity is not a synonym for old age. It means making the most of everything at every age. And that's happy living.

As you gain adult freedom you can have more fun if you're prepared for it. Take my own case. All my teenage life I thought it was goofy to eat dessert, the best part of any meal, last. Well, now I don't a lot of times. I eat it first. I know I will get all my health foods down. I can trust me. So I always start with the best.

If you've worked on your maturity check sheet along the lines we've discussed, responsibility shouldn't be such a great surprise to you that it'll get your life out of balance when you are in the adult world. You won't be afraid to try something new. You won't lose your wonder at life.

I suppose some of the "responsible" adults who are so burdened with their importance couldn't enter into their children's world for fear their dignity might slip, but I highly recommend it.

Above all, you cannot find any phase of life a dead end if you hang onto your ability to dream! And to believe that dreams do come true!

I dreamed a lot, as I've already told you—of exploring, of being a doctor, of a family, of all the wonderful things which life could bring me. I can remember sitting out in our old barn when I was 19, milking our cow Rosemary and singing. I would sing, and milk, and dream of how great it would be to be a real singer and live in New York, and go to Columbia, and make records.

I thought that would be the most perfect life imaginable—and the most impossible — for me, a teenager in battered jeans who had lost every singing contest in Nashville and was sitting in an old barn milking an old cow. Yet, two years later I was living in New York, singing on the Arthur Godfrey show, going to Columbia University and making recordings.

Do you see what I mean? Our dreams are like the big star over the prow of a ship. They are the direction in which we point our lives. They do have a way of coming true.

Do you know why they can come true?

Because we live in America!

Try to imagine yourself without liberty, without freedom, equality, justice and humanity.

Without them we have no right to dream, to work, to achieve. We cease to be human beings and become robots of some sort.

I'm often asked if I'm not afraid because you all have helped me to sudden success. "What if the bubble bursts?" the fearful adults ask. Well, I'll tell you. If the time comes when my usefulness as a singer is over, when whatever good purpose I can serve is fulfilled, I have perfect confidence that another useful path will open up and that I'll be prepared to follow it.

So, you see, you can go right on dreaming even after you hit the world of the Young Adult. Have fun now. Jam Today! Lay a solid foundation and step on up here into the adult world tomorrow. And may all your best dreams come true!

Felons Fire Prison Mill

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — (UPI) — Disgruntled convicts set fire to a cotton mill in Kilby Prison and threatened to lock seven prison employes in the burning building.

The convicts released their hostages, however, and no one was injured. The fire was brought under control quickly and authorities said there was no attempt to escape.

The convicts just wanted to be "big shots" in the eyes of fellow prisoners, a prison official said.

State Commissioner of Corrections J. M. McCullough Jr. said the blaze caused undetermined damage to machinery and cotton.

Kidnapped Baby Is Found Alive; Woman Confesses

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Police found 28-day-old Johnny Tavarez alive and well Tuesday and arrested a 25-year-old mother of three as his kidnaper.

Johnny's jubilant parents said they are "very, very happy" to have their baby back after more than four days of pleading and praying for his return.

—Associated Press Wirephoto

Accused Kidnaper
. . . Mrs. Asuncion Ortiz

The child was recovered in a basement apartment only seven blocks from the scene of the kidnaping as the result of a tip from the Spanish-language newspaper El Diario, police said.

Johnny was abducted Thursday from the Tavarez apartment in Manhattan.

The confessed kidnaper was identified as Mrs. Asuncion Ortiz. She told police she had been pregnant since last May and had lost her child by miscarriage within the past 10 days.

Thus, she said, she was able to pass off little Johnny, who weighed only 8½ pounds, as her own baby.

Mrs. Ortiz, a short, heavy-set woman, said she fooled her husband, her in-laws, and her own relatives by telling them the baby was delivered by police while she was alone in her apartment.

A police spokesman said her husband, Angel Ortiz, believed her story and never suspected that Johnny was the kidnaped Tavarez child.

Johnny was positively identified by his jubilant parents, Doralisa Tavarez, 31, and her husband, Jose, 30. The baby's footprints proved to be identical with those taken at Metropolitan Hospital when he was born.

Chief of Detectives James Leggett said Mrs. Ortiz will be charged with kidnaping but no charges will be lodged against her husband "because we have no reason to suspect him."

The arrest of Mrs. Ortiz and the recovery of Johnny shortly after midnight ended a city-wide search for "Mrs. Gladys Garcia," the name Mrs. Ortiz had used in gaining Mrs. Tavarez' confidence.

Alfie Gets Heave-Ho-- Officially

Alfie's airport variety store concession, wobbly since owner Alfred Mart was arrested on a gambling charge, got the final heave-ho from the Metro Commission Tuesday.

Commissioners voted 9-1 to cancel their deal with the Miami Beach man, who still awaits trial on the charges. Commissioner John McLeod, the minority of one, said he thought the commission should wait for the court verdict on the Mart charges before acting.

Mart may sue the county for damages, Port Authority Attorney James Eckhart warned commissioners before the vote. He pointed out that the "morality clause" in concession contract applies only to illegal acts committed on airport premises. Mart was arrested in what police called a handbook in a Miami Beach hotel.

Mart and attorney Ben Cohen could not be reached for comment.

In other Port Authority action:

The commission awarded the flight insurance concession to Associated Aviation Underwriters. This firm's guarantee of $172,172 a year to the authority was $78,000 more than the next highest of three bidders.

Commissioners heard Port Authority Director George McSherry's defense of his award of the "in-bond sales" concession to the sole bidder.

Florida Export Tobacco Co., Inc., won McSherry's approval as the dealer in tax-free cigarets and liquor to overseas travelers.

Spying Charges Hurled at Arab

CAIRO —(AP)— An official of the 10-nation Arab League Tuesday was charged by the Gamal Abdel Nasser government with passing information to a foreign country — presumably Israel — during wartime.

Aly Nour Eldin, state prosecutor of the United Arab Republic, said Abou Bakr Soliman Bayad, second secretary of the league, would stand trial on the charges. Eldin did not name the foreign country, but the U.A.R. still considers itself at war with Israel.

Pilot to Be Picked from 110 Candidates

We're Screen-Testing 'Spacemen'

NEW YORK — (UPI) — The head of the Federal Space Agency disclosed Tuesday night that the U. S. already has started to select the pilot for its first manned space satellite. He will be picked from among 110 candidates.

Dr. T. Keith Glennan, head of the National Aeronautics Space Administration, said the 110 will be narrowed down to 12 by the time this countrys' Project Mercury is ready to launch a manned earth satellite.

"All 12 of the volunteers of the Mercury team will be given the same pre-flight and flight training Glennan said. "Only immediately before the first manned orbital flight will the first Mercury astronaut be selected."

The pilot will be housed in a special space capsuel which will be hurled into orbit by an improved version of the Atlas, or perhaps the Titan, intercontinental ballistic missile.

The space agency announced Jan. 12 that McDonnell Aircraft Corp., St. Louis, would design, develop and build the speicial space capsule. The project calls for the capsule to make on orbit of the earth.

Addressing the honors night dinner of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences, Glennan gave a detailed description of the way the government is selecting its first real space man and the training he will receive.

He will be a university graduate with a decree in the physical sciences or in engineering" Glennan said. "In addition, he will have been graduated from one of the military test pilot training schools, and will have a minimum of 1,500 hours of flight time in his log book.

"He will be younger than 40, and not taller than 5 foot 11. In superb condition, he will possess the physical and psychological attributes suited for space flight, as determined by top aeromedical scientists who are participating in the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Project Mercury."

Glennan emphasized that "selection of the pilot-Astronaut already has begun."

"The first step in the selection process — already completed — was screening of the records of Navy, Marine and Air Force officers who have been graduated from their service test pilot schools.

"On the basis of criteria established with assistance of the NASA's Aeromedical Committee, headed by Dr. W. Randolph Lovelace, 110 potential candidates have been chosen."

From Cold War To High Production?

The Khrushchev Challenge

ONE WAY to end the cold war, if we read Nikita Khrushchev aright, is mass production of intercontinental ballistic missiles.

This boastful achievement was a burden of his speech yesterday before the Twenty-first Congress of the Soviet Communist Party.

If this boast is true, it will settle the running quarrel between Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy and Sen. Stuart Symington over Russia's potential in producing the ICBM. At the moment the dispute has the heavy aroma of 1960 politics. It is certain to occupy the Senate inquiry into rival missile programs now coming on stage with Sen. Lyndon Johnson as impresario.

Further, if Mr. K. is correct, we had better find out why. The military missile program is budgeted for $3.8 billion. President Eisenhower in his budget message earlier this month said the first operational made-in-America ICBM would not be on the launching pad until June 30. And as to quantity, nobody knows.

But we are not convinced that Mr. K. is doing anything more than stretching it a bit.

INDEED, the whole tone of this speech from the throne is boastful.

As such, it may be welcomed. Often the braggart mixes threats with his boasts. The only real threat that comes through the Khrushchev rhetoric is the threat to match or overmatch the United States in industrial production and standards of living.

Current and apparently reliable figures available in this country suggest that this accomplishment is distant if in fact it can be realized at all. This can be said without minimizing the very real and productive Soviet preoccupation with science and with scientific advancement. It puts us on our mettle.

Yet he revived the old plaint of heavy industry in the Soviet Union—that it must have priority over production of consumer goods.

He could only promise the latter — some day — as he has done in the past.

THIS is a kind of competition, of course, at which we can excel. It pits the private enterprise system, which we have found to be superior, against a wholly socialist economy and its lack of incentives.

No one need fear for the result, supposing that the American people realize that this contest, too, is grim, and that they must pay the price of it in diligence and self-discipline.

Meanwhile, on the diplomatic front the Khrushchev speech has offered us no challenge save to our inflexibility. Some time or other the military cold war must abate, and at that time this country must be prepared to face the realities of the post-war world — just, indeed, as Khrushchev and Kind must face them.

The only question growing out of yesterday's speech is whether Mr. K. has begun to see them first and knows more precisely where he is heading next.

The Money Isn't There

NO FORMULA has been worked out, but Rep. John Mathews Jr. is on the right highway when he says one must be found to allow the state to buy road right-of-way out of primary gasoline tax funds.

The Jacksonville lawmaker is chairman of Gov. LeRoy Collins' committee studying the costs of land for roads so needed in Florida.

Coming from a big county, he is in position to know the strangulation caused by the State Road Department policy which requires counties to furnish rights-of-way out of their secondary road money. There just isn't enough money in this two-cents-a-gallon return to do that job and maintain county road systems.

Yet the Road Department has insisted that the policy be maintained. Counties, including Dade, are being forced to borrow to get the strips for the state to pave. In many cases the land is more costly than the construction.

Mathews realizes the inequity. He holds out this promise:

"This committee hopes to come up with some recommendations that will not only enable the state to buy right-of-way, but find more money available for primary construction without any increase in the gasoline tax."

It will be a bright day for Florida motorists when this happens.

Land For The Benefit Of All

MEN in the courthouse here and in Florida's Capitol seem to share the right idea about Biscayne Bay. It is that any land pumped up there should belong to the public.

Title to bay bottom is held by five officials, elected statewide, as the trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund. For some time they have followed a policy of rejecting private plans for building islands.

Now Metro commissioners are asking the trustees to reserve all the bay bottom south of Rickenbacker Causeway for public purposes, to be drawn on from time to time, as needed, by Metro.

This is sound. It will provide, without cost to the taxpayers, sites for causeways, new parks and bay beaches, picnic grounds, boat-launching ramps, catwalks for fishermen and so on.

THE STATE government isn't likely to build these; Metro can, should and will. As a result the public's representatives here will provide improvements to be enjoyed by homefolks, visitors and all the people of Florida. These last, through their trustees in Tallahassee, are the true owners of bottom land in Biscayne Bay.

Attorney General Richard W. Ervin undoubtedly was speaking for the other trustees when he said the IIF had turned down private island-building schemes "because the public would not enjoy the results."

"We would support creation of public facilities in Biscayne Bay," he added.

All that remains is to work out the details for accomplishing that worthy purpose. Metro and the IIF should have no trouble doing this. Whatever is needful should be done to safeguard the public's right to the waters of Biscayne Bay and any land that may be built there for the benefit of all the people.

To The Strains Of Slow Music

THERE IS something intrinsically sad about the exit of a strong man from the stage of history. Fulgencio Batista, the fallen dictator, provided a solemn adagio movement to the crashing Cuban symphony in his interview from exile in Cuidad Trujillo with Herald Managing Editor George Beebe.

We commend these articles to the observer of history and particularly of Latin American affairs. Batista is of a piece with Napoleon in St. Helena, Machado and Jiminez in their one-time Miami Beach mansions.

Their words are important as a footnote to history, and as human documents, but the world does not heed them too much. Their cue is to exit from the arena to the sound of slow music.

That Kennedy Bill: '59 Model

THE ATTITUDE of Congress toward labor legislation has changed since the last session in a way indicating that curbs on the power of some free-wheeling unions may have a chance of adoption.

Nothing shows this more plainly than the revised labor-management reform bill introduced early in the session by Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

This legislation is almost identical with the Kennedy-Ives bill which breezed through the Senate, 88-1, but stalled in the House because most of the lawmakers thought it was too drastic in an election year.

In its reincarnation, the Kennedy proposal seems not drastic at all. Instead, it inclines to the middle of the road. Criticism is coming from both extremes in the controversy over labor racketeering.

Senator Kennedy is a politically acute young man who hopes to be President. He realizes that his bill has lost some of its crusading impact because of changing sentiment. "It is designed to strike a balance between the dangers of too much and too little legislation in this field," he says.

The bill as now drawn requires secret union elections and strict accountability of officers, prohibits picketing for extortion and provides criminal penalties.

Senator Kennedy frankly says his bill is aimed at the unsavory practices of the Teamsters Union. "It will close to Mr. Hoffa and his ilk most of the racketeering opportunities they have exploited," he said. "It will, in short, virtually put Mr. Hoffa and his associates out of business."

●

CHANCES are that it won't. The bill is silent on such matters as the secondary boycott and the nuisance picketing which blocks delivery of goods and is set up chiefly for other unions to honor.

These two are among the most powerful Hoffa weapons, and so it is questionable whether the bill really goes far enough.

On the other hand, some congressmen in debt for union support would like to put pro-labor matters in the bill because they believe it has a good chance of passage, even with such riders.

Senator Kennedy wants none of that. He hews to this line: "Let us first stop racketeering without becoming bogged down in the heated and complex issues raised by the entire Taft-Hartly Act." His big fight will be against those who would use his bill to strike harder blows, either for or against labor.

For these forces, Kennedy cites the words of a colleague during last session's debate:

"Let us take what we know all of us want, pass this bill, and then move on."

This is sound advice and probably will be heeded. But as certain as anything can be in this uncertain world, the Kennedy bill will not be the last word on labor legislation in this 86th Congress.

The Riddle Of Rover

DOGS here must wear license tags under the new Metro dog control ordinance. If a dog is found without a license, its owner will be subject to a fine.

So far, so good. What stumps us, though, is how the law-enforcers are going to track down the owner of an unlicensed dog, which presumably will carry no identification.

This little riddle is bound to have an easy solution. We just haven't heard it yet.

BISCAYNE BILL

Editor The Herald: Let us not berate our state librarian for calling attention to the presence of substandard series books on the library shelves of our various children's collections. Rather, we should give her a vote of thanks for her attempt to correct a situation which has been long overdue in Florida.

Teachers and librarians who have taken children's literature courses in college have recognized this unwholesome reading matter for at least the past 30 years. It is only found today in inadequately financed and substandard libraries.

We, the public, pride ourselves on our accredited schools and hospitals. Why do we get so sentimental about our libraries?

Perhaps if we parents had not stunted our minds with the adventures of the Bobbsey Twins and Baby May or the impossible exploits of Tom Swift, we would not be handing to our children such a mess of the world! Horatio Alger would need some education to go with those bootstraps today.

Many of our publishing houses are doing a wonderful job bringing out children's books that not only entertain but give the child scientific and historical facts with the entertainment. Unfortunately these good children's books are expensive. Many times the author must do as much research as he would on an adult book. The good children's author doesn't write all his books from the same outline as the authors of "series" books do.

The Boy Scout series and Girl Scout series are not sponsored by the Boy or Girl Scouts of America as the names might imply.

Removing the "series" titles from our public library shelves does not smack of book burning any more than requiring children to use only protected street crossings takes away their freedom of movement. These titles are not immoral. Parents, if they wish, may buy them in many stores. But public funds should not be used to purchase, maintain or house them.

And just in case someone brings up the banning of Whodunits and westerns for adult relaxation, relax. We adults are past help and librarians aren't going to waste breath.

Wiggly Is 'Unwholesome?' Our Freedoms Slipping

By ELENA K. MEAD
In Vero Beach Press-Journal

A TELEPHONE call from a local mother alerted us to a situation which we feel might be fraught with danger and which you, as an American parent, might like to investigate. Said the mother, "I couldn't belive my ears when I stopped by the library the other day to pick up another of the 'Oz' books and the librarian informed me it had been banned — it and a lot of other good books for children. Just what does this mean, anyway?"

We went to the local library to see what this was all about, and the librarian showed us a so-called "news letter" from the Florida State Library unsigned, and dated Dec. 31, 1958. It listed as "not to be purchased, not to be accepted as gifts, not to be processed, and not to be circulated" a group of familiar titles. It further stated that "titles now on shelves should be withdrawn from circulation of the 'series' type of books for children."

The reason? Because these "books are poorly written, untrue to life, sensational, foolishly sentimental, and consequently unwholesome for the children of your community," is what the news letter said.

IF THIS weren't serious, it would be funny. We nearly choked when we put the Florida Library Association's measuring stick against these books and thought of the "sensationalism" of the Boy and Girl Scout books — of the "unwholesomeness" of Uncle Wiggly — of the "poorly-written" Tarzan books. As to their being "untrue" to life — what are these folks going to do with Grimm's Fairy Tales, and Hans Christian Andersen? And Alice in Wonderland?

If the same yardstick were used on adult books, libraries would lose half of their volumes. What the person or persons who decreed this strange rule has forgotten is that one of the main values of juvenile literature is to inspire him, to create an adventuresome spirit in the child, to stimulate his imagination — or to transport him for a little while to a Never-Never Land.

It seems to us we'd better be looking into the authority back of such mandates and find who is deciding what is to be read and by whom — or we may find one of our freedoms slipping away from us. If anyone is really interested in keeping our children's minds clear and clean, he might better direct his efforts toward other story-telling fields than toward books that parents and grandparents consider near-classics, which they read and re-read' and loved, and now want to share with the new generations.

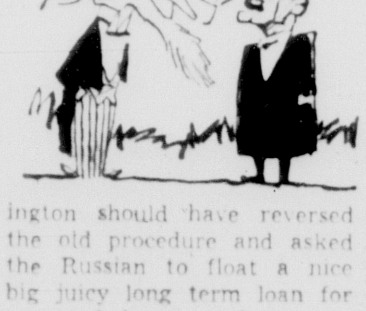
We Missed Boat With Mikoyan

Editor The Herald: A headline reads: Mikoyan Departs —Leaves Empty Handed.

To get this thing straight, Mikoyan is, was and perhaps will be, the only high dignitary who climbed the shores of good old U.S.A. and who did not look for a handout.

In fact, our solons in Washington should have reversed the old procedure and asked the Russian to float a nice big juicy long term loan for us, to balance, perhaps, our leaking budget.



HOW ABOUT MAKING US A LOAN?

Such a clever diplomatic move would not only safeguard us from any surprise attack, but as long as we owe them the money, they would treat us with silk gloves.

CHARLES H. SILLINGER

And Lolita?

Editor The Herald: Now that the shelves of the libraries are to be cleaned of such horrible books as the Wizard of Oz, Horatio Alger, the Bobbsey Twins, the Hardy Boys, etc. let's let the children see what the grown-ups are absorbing during their valuable spare time.

How about Lolita? I understand that it is second among the best-sellers in the U.S. Or what about Peyton Place and similar trash?

Rome tumbled because it got so rotten. Is that where we are headed?

O. H. MINTON

●

Book Burning

Editor The Herald: I protest the ban on certain "poorly written" books.

It is not up to the government to decide which books can be read and which cannot. While I am not defending these books as classic literature, I am trying to defend our American right to read what we please.

I am a 17-year-old student at Coral Gables Senior High School and know that first steps of the Nazi and Communist regimes was to ban books.

Hard Sell Reverses Dowdy Downtown

By JOHN PENNEKAMP

JACKSONVILLE — If this isn't the Southland's most enterprising and progressive city, which is your nominee? It has all the appearance of a community on the move.

The heaviest fog I have encountered in many years lifted yesterday in mid-morning to reveal a downtown that was dotted with newly constructed buildings, others nearing completion.

Pennekamp

The venerable George Washington Hotel, affectionately known to travelers throughout the state as the "GW," is being given an expensive face-lifting inside and out.

An impetus is the near completion of the new, Miami Beach-like modern Robert H. Meyer Hotel which is about to open less than a block away. The Meyer interests also own the Roosevelt, the GW's principal competitor.

★ ★ ★

WHAT'S HAPPENING in the hotels reflects what's going on throughout the city.

Like many another, Jacksonville was old, dowdy and stagnant a few years ago.

Then with the help of a friendly, resident governor (Fuller Warren) and his State Road Department it got its expressway under way.

It also pushed along, back in 1953, legislation which gave tax and premium refund advantages to insurance companies which located offices here to serve three or more states.

As soon as the law was enacted, Jacksonville was ready to give the "hard sell" to insurance companies.

Result: Some of the larger ones began spending millions to build the new modern skyscraper buildings which dot the skyline. More than 50 life companies have quarters here, with thousands of employes and total annual payrolls pressing $100 million.

★ ★ ★

OLD, ABANDONED railroad facilities, close in and on the waterfronts, were placed on the market when the money-needing railroads were shown how to turn a dollar. Sears acquired the abandoned Seaboard freight property for one of its biggest stores.

Nearby the city made a four-blocks long parking area to accommodate 1,864 cars and is looking for more space.

Each improvement has eliminated a blighted area. The city is waiting to see what Ed Ball, of duPont, does with the block he has cleared across the street from the GW. It now is used for parking.

Best guess is that it will be the site of his Florida National Bank building.

★ ★ ★

WHILE THE duPont — Atlantic Coast Line fight for control of the Florida East Coast Railway was going on ACL announced that it would move its headquarters from Wilmington to Jacksonville.

Intended or not, it didn't hurt the railroad's public relations.

W. T. Rice, ACL's new president, who settled the litigation that was injuring all points touched by the FEC by withdrawing, says the headquarters removal will bring 900 additional families here.

The city's youthful, sleek-looking and controversial mayor, Haydon Burns, is said to have gubernatorial ambitions, but is holding off to watch the winds as they shift in the upcoming legislative session.

His voice is hoarse from speechmaking. He was in Miami a week or so ago, one of a number of stops where he is feeling other cities of the possibility of extensive downtown improvements "if free enterprise and competition lead the way."

"Jacksonville has been telling prospective investors about its location, climate, housing facilities, labor supply, recreation facilities and schools.

Apparently it has worn down a lot of sales resistance.

Today And Tomorrow

Climate Right Now To Pass Rights Bill

By WALTER LIPPMANN

IT WOULD be a good thing if Congress could deal with civil rights legislation early in the session. For later on there are likely to be many distractions. There will be the usual traffic jam of bills, and in all probability there will be spectacular events in foreign affairs.

Lippmann

Now, and in the next few months, there is an opportunity to pay attention to the great issues involved in the field of civil rights.

★ ★ ★

IT HAS become clear that, in respect to Congress, the road forward is that of legislation to protect the right to vote. This was shown in the Civil Rights Act of 1957, the first civil rights legislation of any kind to pass Congress since the end of the Reconstruction period. This act authorized federal intervention in the states to protect the right to vote. It was passed without a filibuster when the Administration agreed to delete what was known as Part III, which would have authorized federal intervention against segregation in the public schools.

This distinction between votes and schools is in practive today, the distinction between what Congress may be able to deal with effectively and what it cannot now hope to legislate about or to enforce if it could legislate.

THE EXISTENCE of this distinction has now been confirmed as the working rule both by President Eisenhower and Sen. Lyndon Johnson. The President did this at the National Press Club Jan. 14. He was asked: "In 1957 Congress passed at your suggestion a civil rights bill dealing largely with voting. Do you think the Congress should pass civil rights legislation dealing specifically with problems arising from school segregation?" The President replied: "I think when we get into the field of law here we must be very careful. I do believe in the law concerning voting . . ."

A few days later, Sen. Johnson introduced his program to protect civil rights. It is a bill to extend the life of the Civil Rights Commission, to do something about the bombings in the Southern states, to set up a mediation and conciliation service in racial conflicts and to give the attorney general subpena powers under the voting rights law. On the central distinction between voting rights and school desegregation, the President and Sen. Johnson are agreed in principle.

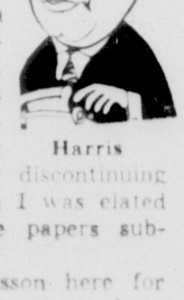
This, then, is for the time being the way forward to use the federal power to enable qualified Negroes to vote. If this can be accomplished, it will make a great difference. For insofar as the Negro people are able to vote in the deep South, there will be, as Sen. Johnson said, "plenty they can do to help themselves."

Strictly Personal

Why Criticism Depresses Us

By SYDNEY J. HARRIS

ONE DAY last month, I received a communication informing me that two new papers had been added to the list of those subscribing to this column. At the same time, I was told, one paper which had been taking the column on a trial basis decided to drop it.



Harris

Now I was much more depressed about one small paper discontinuing the column than I was elated about two large papers subscribing.

There is a lesson here for all of us. We are not as pleased about good things as we are dismayed about bad things. We can accept many compliments with a casual air, but one criticism pierces us to the bone.

Why should this be so? The answer may be hotly debated by theologians and psychiatrists, but the fact remains that each of us has within him a nagging sense of inadequacy, a feeling that everything he has carefully constructed over the years is a house of cards and might be blown down by a breath of hostile air.

We do not really believe the good things about us (although we are pleased to hear them), but we are more than ready to believe the bad things (although we try to shrug them off).

If we understand this human tendency — and understand, too, that it is a universal one — we can cope a little more realistically with this feeling when it comes.

If we realize that the most powerful people in the world at times feel futile and frightened, that the most seemingly self-assured have many moments of doubt and anxiety — this knowledge alone can go a long way toward assuaging our own haunting sense of insecurity when the cold winds of criticism blow about our ears.

Those cheery sermons advising us to exude self-confidence and think in radiant terms can do more harm than good, for they merely camouflage (but do not eradicate) the feeling of unworthiness that all honest human beings must have when they compare themselves with what they ought to be.

ALL OF US know we are not living up to the fullest and best in us; that, as St. Paul said of himself, what we should do we do not do, and what we do is what we should not do.

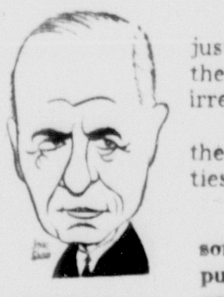
This is not a bad feeling to have, so long as we do not let it grip us into paralysis; for if we lose it, we become monsters of self-righteousness. It is only when criticism fails to shake us, fails to make us re-examine the roots of our being, that we are beyond all help.

American Jewry Is Target

Hate Groups in U.S. Are Backed by Arabs

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Little by little evidence is coming to the surface to reveal the tie-up between certain foreign governments and the activities of "racist" and "hate" groups in America.



LAWRENCE

The finger of suspicion points strongly now to the Arabs, who are alleged to be assisting financially and otherwise in an anti-Jewish campaign.

This is brought out in a series of five articles just published in New York's largest newspaper, The Daily News. They were written by a staff reporter David Burk, who, after months of painstaking investigation, writes:

"Since mid-October, in New York and other states, I have been seeking out the men and the groups tailored into the network of hate and violence, listening to their boasts and threats and admissions, reading their printed ravings, checking on their connections. I have compared my findings with the officials whose job it is to fit the confused jigsaw puzzle together.

"Nearly 90 dynamite blasts have echoed around the country in the last two years, aimed mainly at Jews, Negroes and sincere Christian citizens who have publicly backed these groups.

"FBI and internal security agents had long been on the bombers' trail, but when a $100,000 gash was torn in the Jewish temple at Atlanta, Ga., last October, a grim and startling fact leaked out for the first time.

"Practically every operation fitted into a national patern which, authorities believe, was etched by a loose-linked network of American neo-fascist groups peppered around the country.

"This hate corps . . . today has emerged as a fifth column acting in behalf of President Nasser of the so-called United Arab Republic and his dreams of empire."

* * *

THE "FASCISTS," of course, are often just a front today for Communists with whom they make common cause in trouble-making irrespective of outward difference in ideology.

This was pointed out in a recent report of the House Committee on Un-American Activities. Burk adds:

"There is a mass of evidence of direct liaison between agents of the United Arab Republic and leaders of the American race groups held responsible by U.S. authorities for the (Atlanta) bombing . . .

"The race groups here, co-ordinated rather than organized and with a total following throughout the country that officials estimate at not more than a few thousands, are zealously following the party line.

"But what, you may ask, could Nasser possibly want with a fifth column in the United States? The answer, as officials at the Department of Justice explained it to me, is transparently simple.

"The Nasser-dominated segment of the Arab world, fed on an information diet prescribed by our native racists, frankly regards not only American Jewry but the U.S. administration, too, as the fountainhead of Israel's moral and financial help.

"Looked at in this light, Nasser must knock out Israel's backers in the United States before he can keep his pledge to his followers to knock out Israel itself."

Can John Allen Stand Investigation? Why Did Rackets Committee Stop?

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Before Chairman Warren Magnuson of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee confirms Ike's newly appointed under secretary of commerce he ought to give him a very careful once-over.

John Allen, the ex-congressman from California who got this coveted post, was once under investigation by the Justice Department for the part he played as attorney for the king of Northern California gamblers, Chin Bok Hing.

PEARSON

Congressman Allen, a resident of Berkeley, Calif., had set up a so-called trust fund which the Chinese gambler used to evade around $100,000 of income taxes.

After the scheme was exposed in federal court, Chin Bok Hing took it on the lam and forthright Atty. Gen. James McGranery began a probe of the congressman.

After Herbert Brownell replaced McGranery as attorney general, the probe of the Republican congressman quietly evaporated.

Came last November and Allen was defeated for reelection.

Shortly thereafter, ex-Congressman James Patterson of Connecticut, another Republican who lost out in the Democratic landslide, was given an OK by Vice President Nixon to be under secretary of commerce in charge of transportation.

Suddenly West Coast shipping interests got busy. They want a man in charge of transportation friendly to them. Some of them quietly suggested to Nixon's office that they had been heavy contributors to the Grand Old Party in California.

Overnight Patterson found himself out of the running, while another lame duck, John Allen of California, was in the running.

That was how the man under investigation for setting up a "trust fund" for Chin Bok Hing got into the Eisenhower little cabinet.

* * *

THE McCLELLAN RACKETS Committee is scheduled to rehash an old, old story on Jimmy Hoffa told in this column as early as April 13, 1954, with new evidence reported on March 18, 23, and 28, 1957.

It's an important story and is worth rehashing—if the Republican senators on the committee will dig a little deeper into some of their own very close friends.

The story pertains to the manner in which Jimmy Hoffa, together with a local of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, placed around $20,000,000 of union welfare funds in the hands of the union insurance agency between 1948-52, an agency operated by Rose and Allen Dorfman, wife and son of Hoffa's intimate friend, Paul Dorfman, who is boss of the Waste Material Handlers Union in Chicago and an intimate of Gangster Johnny Dio.

Rose and Allen Dorfman turned the business over to the Union Casualty Co., and for this simple little transaction received commissions in excess of $1,000,000 between October, 1949, and June 30, 1953.

Significantly, when the House Government Operations Committee began proving this, their probe was mysteriously called off.

It was called off at about the time they were digging into the embarrassing question of what happened to a check for $102,000 payable to Allen Dorfman which was not deposited to his insurance agency's bank account.

When congressmen asked Dorfman if he had paid this or any part of it to Jimmy Hoffa, he refused to answer. Time after time he pleaded the 5th amendment.

* * *

THEN SUDDENLY, as the House committee was striking pay dirt, its probe abruptly ended. I reported at the time that the probe was terminated as the result of a deal whereby Jimmy Hoffa and the Michigan Teamsters would support Sen. Homer Ferguson, Republican, for reelection.

Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield, then Republican boss of Michigan, is credited with arranging the deal—though he denies this.

However, the deal was made. Said committee counsel William F. McKenna: "we were silenced before we could make public certain important financial-legal aspects of the Teamsters operations."

Said GOP Congressman Clare Hoffman of Michigan: "Our subcommittee on labor racketeering and welfare funds had barely entered upon its investigation when apparently for political reasons it was liquidated."

Republican Sens. Mundt and Goldwater, who are on the committee, could easily prove their sincerity by calling Summerfield, Halleck, Hoffman, and other Republicans involved, and get to the bottom of why the Hoffa probe was called off.

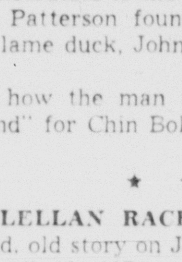
Watch and see what happens.

General Assembly in Special Session

Virginia Faces Up to Problem Today

By WILLIAM McGAFFIN
Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

WASHINGTON — A showdown crisis over desegregation of the schools appears nearer in Virginia now than at any time since the issue first arose.



McGAFFIN

A special session of the General Assembly has been summoned by Gov. J. Lindsay Almond to meet in Richmond at noon today.

Emotions are beginning to run high.

The governor, who is determined to erect new defenses against desegregation, made such a bitter speech a few days ago he was called to task for it Sunday by a local minister.

The trouble, if it comes, will be in Arlington County, just across the Potomac from the nation's capital.

The Arlington county school board has been ordered by a federal judge to enroll four Negro students in Stratford Junior High School next Monday.

And if any act of violence occurs in connection with this, according to the Rev. Ross Allen Weston, it will be "caused by the segregationists" who have been "whipped into fury" by the governor's "vitriolic words of last Tuesday (Jan. 20) night."

The Rev. Mr. Weston read an open letter to the governor in place of his regular sermon Sunday in the Arlington Unitarian Church.

* * *

TWO THINGS COULD happen to prevent the ordered desegregation from taking place Monday:

1 — THE ARLINGTON school board could win a last minute postponement in its seeking, pending an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

2 — THE SPECIAL session in Richmond could come up with some sort of legislation aimed at forestalling submission to the order.

* * *

ARLINGTON County officials, however, are gearing up to handle a potential emergency situation on the assumption that the Negroes will be admitted Monday as ordered.

Arlington County Manager A. T. Lundberg said that the school grounds will be restricted to students and teachers. And "if a disorder occurs, we're going to stop it," said Lundberg.

There is some speculation in Washington that federal marshals may be sent in to help control any disturbances.

But Lundberg insists this will not be necessary. He said that Police Chief William G. Fauver has a total of about 175 men "sworn to uphold the law."

As the general assembly prepared to meet today, there was talk in Richmond that it might go so far as to rescind the compulsory school attendance law.

More likely, however, was the prospect that some new legislation would be approved to establish tuition grants for private schooling.

The Virginia Supreme Court last week knocked down the present tuition grants laws because they would have been financed at the expense of the public schools.

The assembly is expected to get around this by providing a separate appropriation for tuition grants — possibly financed by a state-wide sales tax.

Legislators representing Northern Virginia will be opposed to this — but the best they can muster is about 30 or 35 votes out of 100 delegates in the lower house, and about 11 votes out of 40 state senators.

Generally speaking, the residents of northern Virginia will go along with school desegregation — but they are not typical Virginians. Many of them are government workers who have come in from all over the country.

The Negro student population is light in the north, compared to the southern part of the state where more than half are Negroes.

In the bitter arguments that may grow worse before they are resolved, some persons are looking hopefully for "middle of the roaders" to try to keep the train on the track.

One such person may be Colgate Darden, former governor who is about to retire as president of the University of Virginia. He has often confided to friends that he would come out strong for a "moderate approach" to the problem when he felt the time was ripe.

A Cracker Viewpoint by Nixon Smiley

Pagan Rites Stop on Church Steps As Guatemalans Enter for Prayers

AMID THE STRONG ODOR of cigaret smoke and the spritely chatter of Spanish, I sat one evening some years ago with the botanical genius, Paul Standley, in a squalid little Honduran tavern and listened to him talk about his 30 years of experiences in Latin America.

SMILEY

He talked not about the trees, the palms, and the thousands of lesser plants which thrive in the humid jungles of Mexico and Central America, about which he had written a five-foot shelf of books.

He talked about people.

For Standley, a curious "dried-up" little man who kept a lighted cigaret in his fingers during most of his waking hours, was not much to discuss his profession.

At least I never found him that way. Instead, he preferred idle chatter — harmless gossip — at a level of the Honduran paisano, or countryman, rather than on a level one would expect of a man whose knowledge of Latin American botany was legend.

* * *

BUT BETWEEN WARM BEERS and the occasional brushing of cockroaches from the crude table, I began to realize that this fellow carried in his mind a great file of fabulous information about the common people where he had collected plants.

He mentioned legends he had encountered among the Indians of Mexico and Guatemala, the unusual ceremonies he had attended in back-country villages where the people seldom ever saw a Gringo, and he alluded to the curious religious beliefs which are half-christian and half-pagan.

His knowledge of the people of Central America and Mexico can be verified by a quick perusual of one of his books.

For in addition to what is otherwise a technical description of a certain plant, Standley may also have included the plant's native name and its uses by the people where he collected it.

Standley was not what one might call a "story teller." He was a poor conversationalist. He seemed to talk better Spanish than English, when it came to relating something.

But one story he related was complete enough that it has hung in my memory. It was about a ceremony for a dead child which he attended in a mountain-fast Honduran village.

Believing that a small child which dies before it "knows sin" is sure to go to heaven, Standley said that the villagers looked upon the body as a sacred object.

And the water in which the child's body was given its final bath also was held sacred.

In the ceremony, the child's body was bathed by virgins who were relatives of the family. The child was then dressed and placed in a coffin.

The mourners, after being purified through a ceremony performed by a priest, then took their turns as they sipped the sacred bath water — la agua del angelita. (The water of the little angel.)

* * *

I WAS SURPRISED to hear that a priest, an educated man, would participate in such a superstitious ceremony and I told Standley so.

My question, he said, was natural for a Gringo. And, he hinted that I, like millions of other Gringos, had a lot to learn about the rest of the world.

"Sure, the priest was an educated man," Standley said. "He was a friend of mine and used to go with me on collecting trips about his village.

"I saw nothing wrong with the ceremony. It is like many other unusual rites I have witnessed in Central America.

"You have been to Chichicastinango (in Guatemala) where the Indians worship their pagan gods on the church steps before entering to pray to the Christian god.

"I wouldn't say that the priests at Chichicastinango approve of this. But the custom is strong. The worship of the pagan gods is more of a harmless rite than a belief. There's no doubt in my mind that the Indians hold the Christian god higher than their own gods."

* * *

THIS WAS THE LONGEST statement I ever heard Standley make. His cigaret had burned so short that he had to hold it between his fingernails to light a fresh one.

"A priest has to be a man of patience and indulgence," he added, after taking a deep drag on his fresh cigaret.

"He must consider the background of his people, their beliefs, and their ways of doing things. He often finds it necessary to honor their own rites even when they are against his own beliefs."

Standley had finished talking. He just wanted to sit, to sip his beer and take long, nervous drags on his cigaret.

But my curiosity was still unsatisfied. I wanted to ask one more question.

"Would you mind telling me one more thing?" I asked. "When you attended the ceremony, did you participate?"

"I did," he answered impatiently. "I was very close to this family. To refuse would have offended them."

Reds Feel They Are Men of Destiny

Nikita's Pep Talk Should Warn West

See Story and Picture, 1A

By JOHN B. McDERMOTT
Foreign News Analyst

Here is a penetrating analysis of Russia's latest policy pronouncements by a Herald reporter just back from a tour of Moscow and the satellites.

Nikita Khrushchev's ringing address to the Supreme Soviet undoubtedly has fired up the Russian people to a record peacetime pitch.

It should touch off alarm bells in the Western world, especially the U. S.

Khrushchev has whipped the Russians into a frenzy of economic determination approximated only by the revolutionary fever which caused them to overthrow the czar in 1917.

Russia's advances in rocket production have given the Soviets a feeling they are men of destiny in the world of tomorrow.

This feeling has been bolstered by his announcement that the USSR has started to produce the intercontinental ballistic missile "in series."

The danger, of course, is that the Russians will feel they can conquer the world whenever they want.

Yet, an indelible impression this reporter gained on his recent visit to the USSR, is that the Russian people do not want war.

They had a bellyful of it when Hitler's armies invaded their country in the early 1940's.

Khrushchev's pronouncements to the Supreme Soviet had the effect of not only firing up the home folks — like a football coach to his team just before the big game — but it also served to warn the West.

Exactly what Khrushchev meant in his statement that Russia is producing the ICBM missiles "in series" is not clear.

However, it should be viewed with concern.

Despite distorted impressions which Russia often gives to its dealings with the U.S., it has been mostly factual in any announcements concerning its rocket developments.

Khrushchev needed something to spark the blast-off of the Seven Year Program.

He got it in tying the ICBM announcement to it.

The Russian people are aware that past "Five Year Plans" have failed to come up to expectations.

On the other hand, they know from first hand experience that their living conditions today, while much below those of the U.S., are far better than anything they have experienced previously.

Therefore, with Premier Khrushchev quarterbacking, they have a feeling of hope and determination to make this newest plan work.

It calls for Russia to reach American living standards by 1965 and to be well ahead by 1970.

It is a monumental task to observers who have seen Russia. The odds are against its success.

Nevertheless, the Russian leader has announced his aims —an economic offensive designed to carry communism to total victory over capitalism.

Although Khrushchev may never achieve his goal, there can be no doubting that Russia's standard of living is sure to improve and its military potential already has been demonstrated.

The danger signals are flashing. Democracy can not afford to sit back and expect a Russian failure.

UF Probes Reported Cheating

GAINESVILLE — (AP) — Campus reports say as many as 163 students — mostly freshmen — are involved in alleged organized cheating on examinations at the University of Florida.

Hyatt Brown, chancellor of the university Honor Court and a senior from Daytona Beach, admitted Tuesday that an investigation is under way. He said the court normally has one or two cases under investigation during examination periods.

Brown would not give any number of students involved. Nor would he confirm or deny reports that some are football players.

Reports say the cheating occurred principally in two courses — Freshman English and American Institutions.

The reports indicate a similarity to a case here seven years ago in which more than 100 students were investigated and 80 convicted, some of them football players.

Brown said the Honor Court members how have mostly gone to their homes between semesters and no action is expected before the second semester opens Feb. 9.

Procedure of the Honor Court is for the cancellor to appoint an investigator, known as a justice, to get the facts and present them to the chancellor. He decides whether the evidence is sufficient to call a trial before the Honor Court. The court returns a verdict and assesses the penalty.

Realty Firm Files Suit

Unfair competition in a nationwide sales promotion of Florida lots, is charged in a Circuit Court suit filed by the Florida Realty Bureau, Inc., Lake Placid, against Vero Lakes Estates, Inc., North Miami.

The suit, filed through Attorney Fuller Warren, an ex-governor of Florida, charges that the North Miami firm is attempting to trade on the national reputation of the plaintiff firm which has offices in New York, Washington and St. Louis.

The suit charges that a copyrighted drawing showing rising real estate values as against decreasing dollar value was copied in illustrated brochures and advertisements.

Army Speeds Work On New Moon Shot

WASHINGTON—(UPI)—The Army is working against time to get a new moon rocket ready for launching.

It has missed its chance to shoot for the moon this month but hopes to make its next attempt at the end of February.

The target dates for the Pioneer IV are Feb. 26-28, but some officials said it may be as late as the first week in March before the rocket can be launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The Army's goal, in making the shot for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, will be the same as on its Dec. 6 shot which reached 66,300 miles into space.

The space probe will be a four-stage vehicle with a cone-shaped instrument package weighing about 13 pounds.

The Army will aim that rocket at the moon but it will be more likely to go past the moon and wind up as a satellite of the sun.

In that case, it would join the Russian Lunik which was launched earlier this month.

America's next Pioneer space probe will be the fifth U.S. effort to send a package of scientific instruments to the vicinity of the moon.

The first Air Force rocket blew up. The second traveled 71,300 miles into space, the deepest penetration made by an American rocket. The third failed when its top stage did not ignite.

Voodoo's White Man 'King' Dies

Voodoo land's "White King" is dead.

Stanley Reser, who for 30 years lived in a small peasant-style home among the natives of Port-au-Prince, Haiti, had become a legend on the island.

Known to many Haitians as "Doc," and revered by many as a voodoo priest, he died of a heart attack there Monday.

He came to the U. S. on and off through the years and in 1957 returned to Florida for almost a year when his wife suffered a heart attack. She died in March, and the following month he had a heart attack.

From then until August, he spent the time at his son's home at 7635 SW 22nd St., waiting to return to Haiti. His son, Charles S., is a Pan American Airways employe.

"Doc" retired as a U. S. Navy pharmacist's mate and took a job with the Haitian government as head of its mental hospital.

During his life in the Caribbean island, "Doc" painted and wrote on the subject of voodoo. He held ritualistic ceremonies at his home.

Anyone writing a book on voodoo generally went to him.

He collaborated on the book "Strange Altars" with Dr. Marcus Bach, and at the time of his death was writing his autobiography and collecting songs used in various voodoo rites.

Services and burial will be in Port-au-Prince.

Gables Resident Stricken

Refused Hospital Room, Man Dies

A 66-year-old Coral Gables man died at his home Tuesday—two hours after a hospital refused to admit him as a patient.

He was Hyman Rubin, 66, of 35 Sevilla Ave.

His son, Joel, took him to Doctors Hospital before dawn Tuesday. He was not accepted because there was no room.

Two hours later he was dead, apparently of a heart attack.

Joel said that upon arrival at the hospital a doctor examined his father and took his blood pressure, and a nurse gave injections "to make him sleep" and the two returned home.

After Rubin went to bed, he woke up with a severe attack.

Authorities said that Rubin's regular physician discussed the case with the examining physician by telephone while the patient was at the hospital.

They agreed that Rubin's symptoms didn't appear severe enough for hospitalization.

Services Held For Ex-Magician

Services for Frank Amand, 65-year-old former magician and circus performer who died Saturday of pneumonia, were held at the Tracy Funeral chapel.

A magician at the age of seven, he entered vaudeville and for years was billed as "The Boy Wonder."

He was in almost every phase of the circus world. He walked the high wires, was a trapeze man and an escape artist.

After his retirement from the circus seven years ago, he came to Miami and married "Baby Thelma;" a circus fat lady, who was once billed at 600 lbs. They were wed in 1953 on Valentine's Day and lived at 2260 NW 27th Ave.

He was a member of the AGVA, the International Brotherhood of Magicians, and the Hypnotist Guild. Besides his wife, he is survived by a daughter and four grandchildren.

Castro's Regime Combats Enemies On Two Fronts

By Herald Wire Services

HAVANA, Cuba — The fledgling revolutionary government of Fidel Castro moved against its enemies on two fronts Tuesday.

It announced the arrest Tuesday of 10 ex-army men and a civilian at San Cristobal and numbers of others elsewhere in Cuba on charges of plotting to overthrow the Castro regime.

And at just about the same time its revolutionary tribunal in Havana found Maj. Pedro Morejon Valdes, its second "war criminal," guilty and sentenced him to death.

Officials did not say how widespread the alleged plot may be, but told of initial arrests at five places. Large quantities of arms and ammunition were seized, they reported.

Besides those arrested at San Cristobal, unannounced numbers were ordered into detention as suspects at Los Palacios, Santa Cruz de los Pinos, Candelario and San Diego de los Banos.

Authorities said they had reports that subversive elements — presumably remnants of the regime of ousted President Fulgencio Batista — were holding reunions in various places.

Among those detained at San Cristobal, the highest ranking officer was identified as ex-Lt. Luis Garcia Ortega.

The military commander at San Cristobal, Maj. Herminio Escalona, told reporters the men held are at the disposition of rebel military tribunals for investigation.

Morejon was taken to a death-row cell in Havan's Cabana fortress-prison. He has 24 hours to file an appeal.

Rebel Army Chief of Staff Camilo Cienfugos had declared that he would commit suicide if Morejon escaped execution. The rebel cheiftain's dramatic announcement came after three prosecution witnesses had failed to identify the defendant.

The three witnesses accused Morejon of war crimes — but one after the other picked the wrong man when brought face to face with the defendant.

Cienfugos pointed at Morejon and charged he killed 13 farmhands, including a 12-year-old boy.

Morejon, who up to that moment had sat through the trial calmly, with a slight sneer on his face, lost his composure when Cienfugos leveled his finger at him and launched into his denunciation

The prisoner had pleaded innocent to charges of assassination, theft and other violations brought against him personally or against troops serving under his command.

She Blames Her Firing On Castro

A 10-year employe of Cuba's "Q" Airlines said Tuesday she was fired by Fidel Castro "because I am married to the brother of the former Cuban counsul."

Mrs. Elena Bejar Hernandez, a U. S. citizen, and her husband of nine months, former Cuban Army Major Efrain Hernandez, said the orders for her dismissal "came right from the top—from Castro himself."

Ex-Maj. Hernandez's brother is former Cuban consul Eduardo Hernandez who fled Miami with his wife on Dec. 31, the day before Castro's revolutionary forces took control of the government.

Efrain Hernandez, who said he was serving in Miami as an army attache to the consulate here, turned over the keys to his office Monday to the new Cuban consul, Antonio Medina.

"Since March 15, 1949, I have served "Q" Airlines in Miami," Mrs. Hernandez said, "and all of the officials here said they were sorry they had to give me 24-hour notice, but those were their orders."

Roberto Chomat, special representative for the airlines here, was not available for comment Tuesday afternoon.

Efrain Hernandez said another of his brothers, Humberto, who had been with the airlines "since they put the first seat in the first plane," also was dismissed from his job at Havana.

"Castro has decided to clear all the Hernandez family from any connection whatsover with Cuba," the ex-major said. "Myself, I expected it, but it is sad to realize they are extending the purge to U.S. citizens who may be members of our family."

Hernandez, often the target of rebel Cuban groups in Miami for his alleged espionage activities for Batista, said both he and his wife "are looking for jobs."

Police in Homestead Raked by Grand Jury

Fumbling Is Blamed For Prisoner's Death

By C. G. BERNING
Herald Staff Writer

The Dade County Grand Jury Tuesday blamed a Negro prisoner's escape and bloody rampage through the HOMESTEAD jail last November on inadequate security measures and "amateurish" handling by policemen.

In an interim report to Circuit Judge Grady L. Crawford, the jury recommended reorganization of the Homestead police department as the result of an "Extensive investigation" of conditions at the jail.

Out Your Way

All The News From All The Suburbs

Homestead officials said some recommendations of the jury already have been put into effect.

The report recommended that newly hired Police Chief John B. Cannon be given "a free hand and full authority" in improving and operating the department, and that "stringent regulations" be adopted regarding use of force on prisoners.

Homestead Mayor Tom Harris would not comment on the Grand Jury report, but Police Commissioner Stanley Wittkop said the city already has started improvements to the jail itself and has added three white and two Negro policemen to the force.

Criticism in the report centered chiefly around the escape last Nov. 17 of Robert Shaffer, 26, who wounded Policeman Ted Beam and held some 100 lawmen at bay in the jail before being killed by a shotgun blast.

The report said the jury had also received reports of cruelty to prisoners at the Homestead jail, but that "there is insufficient evidence to conclusively say that any prisoners have been mistreated."

The report said, however, that security measures at the jail were "totally inadequate . . . doors from the cell block to the outside were kept propped open. The keys to the cells were left hanging in an exposed position where they could easily be obtained by anyone."

"Perhaps the most serious breach of security was the employment for a few dollars a week of a man known to be an alcoholic," the jury said. "He was given authority to act as jailer in addition to his general maintenance duties.'

The report said the Homestead police department had "full knowledge of the deplorable conditions at the jail and took no steps to correct them. In fact, the lax practices engaged in were done at their direction or with their consent."

When Shaffer made his break, the report said, the methods used by police officers to subdue and control him "were amateurish and indicated a lack of training and knowledge in the handling of prisoners."

The shootings of the police officer and the prisoner would have been avoided by use of adequate security measures and efficient methods of subduing the prisoner, the report said. But it added that once Shaffer had broken out, there was "no alternative" but to shoot him.

Wittkop said the jailer referred to in the report admittedly had been in jail off and on for drunkeness and has been dismissed. Wittkop said Welch was hired by former Chief C. L. Tracy.

Wittkop also agreed with the jury's statement that "no police department can be properly operated with political interference."

Target of Dade Grand Jury Criticism

'Alarmed' Town Adds 6 Officers

GOLDEN BEACH homes have been hit by a wave of burglaries — 10 of them — since last month when Richard Kuiken was removed as police chief, his attorney Oakley Smit said Tuesday.

Town councilmen, alarmed at the situation, promptly authorized an increase in the force from four to 10 men, Smith said.

But acting Police Chief Charles Crum denied there have been 10 burglaries in the tiny, plush ocean-front community since Kuiken was dismissed.

"It's actually three," Crum said. Asked by a reporter to see the police department records, Crum refused, saying:

"These people up here have asked me not to show them. They don't want publicity."

Kuiken pleaded guilty Tuesday in Criminal Court to two counts of offering bribes to two of his four-man police force.

Kuiken, 45, is under $4,000 bond. Smith said that only 12 houses were burglarized during Kuiken's 12-year tenure of office.

The bribery charges followed a gambling raid at a $175,000 home at 277 Ocean Blvd., which Kuiken allegedly wouldn't let his policemen raid.

Socialite to Finish Term

Mrs. George T. Lewis, 54-year-old socialite and past president of the CORAL GABLES League of Women Voters, said Wednesday she's decided to serve out the full five days of a jail sentence rather than pay a $20 fine for a traffic violation.

Seated on an aluminum folding chair she brought along to make herself comfortable in a Gables jail cell, she said:

"I'm sticking it out because I think small cars should be given more of a break."

A Gables municipal judge ruled Tuesday that testimony did not support Mrs. Lewis' claim that a Standard Oil truck, driven by a Nevo Goodlak, 58, backed into her Fiat sports car in the 5700 block on Maynada Street in stalled traffic.

Robinson Gets Top Job

His Pay Rose --$12 to $255

By PHIL FORTMAN
Herald Staff Writer

A onetime $12-a-week City of CORAL GABLES office worker was named the city's $255-a-week boss Tuesday.

He is L. W. (Jimmy) Robinson Jr.

By unanimous vote, the City Commission named Robinson city manager at $13,286 a year.

At the same time the Commission unanimously selected Miss Loretta Sheehy as the Gables' $5,500-a-year city clerk. She had been acting city clerk since last December and has been a Gables' employe 32 years.

Robinson first worked for the city part-time in the summer of 1932 while a 20-year-old engineering student at the University of Florida, where he was graduated with a degree in Civil Engineering in 1933.

Now 49, Robinson is a native of Dallas, Tex. He has lived in Florida since 1925, and in the Gables since 1926.

His first full-time job with the Gables was as an engineer in the Building Department in 1938. He became superintendent of public works in 1945.

He was named city clerk and finance director in 1954, a dual position he held at $10,000 a year, until he was named acting city manager last Dec. 1. He succeeds Ira F. Willard, who resigned to enter banking.

Aid Eyed For Old School

By JAY WINANS

FLORIDA CITY'S outgrown elementary school, which drew loud protests from parents last week, may soon become a thing of the past if the recommendations of Dr. Joe Hall, Dade County school superintendent, are carried out.

In a letter to Jack Gooding, president of the Florida City Civic Association, Hall promised he would recommend to the School Board that a full-time principal, secretarial help and additional portable classrooms to be added in September.

At the present time, Principal James Neumeyer divides his time between Florida City and Homestead Junior High, with the result that William C. Walden, sixth grade teacher, acts as principal at Florida City most of the time.

Hall also stated that "as soon as the enrollment justifies, and money can be obtained, a permanent school would be recommended for the new site."

The site is 10 acres purchased a few years ago by the School Board. Zoning will mean that 69 children from Florida City now attending Neva King Cooper Elementary in Homestead will attend school in their own town.

HALL

"I understand," said Hall, "that there are additional children of migrant workers who are in attendance at Florida City School."

Transfer of these additional children would make Florida City elementary eligible for a 10-room school as enrollment for this is set at 250 to 300 pupils.

Hall said also that a check into the shortage of textbooks has shown that "there has been no problem except for a very temporary period."

"We shall certainly try to do all we can to help with the development of the Florida City school," said hall.

Cloudburst 'Rains' Accidents

Tuesday afternoon's sudden cloudburst touched off a two-hour rash of traffic accidents throughout Dade County, which sent dozens of persons to hospitals for treatment of mostly minor injuries.

There were some 15 accidents in rapid succession during the rain, which began about 2 p.m., and more after the rain stopped when roads were still slick.

In the worst smashup, a car driven by Charles M. Mills, 25, an off-duty Miami Springs policeman of 421 SW 73rd Ave., slammed head-on into a car driven by James Strickland, 40, of 2041 NW 18th Ter. on Milam Dairy Rd. west of the airport.

Metro Policemen Jay Culbreth and Charles Reagan said the accident was caused when Mills lost control of his car on the wet pavement while trying to pass a truck.

Mills, Strickland and two passengers in Strickland's car — Wilbur Fletcher, 25, of 1420 NW 30th St., and James Holland, 30, of 5200 NW 32nd Ave. — were taken to Jackson Memorial Hospital.

The investigators said no charges would be pressed pending further investigation of the accident.

Phonothon Today; UF May Call You

By MIKE MORGAN
Herald Staff Writer

Today's the day United Fund volunteers try to get thousands of right numbers during a three-day phonothon.

Fund volunteers, as part of the crash drive campaign, start a phonothon to reach over 5,000 potential business and professional donors.

Some 150 persons will work the telephones in an effort to reach donors who have a record of giving in the past, but have not given during the current drive. United Fund is still more than $750,000 short of its $3,477,000 goal.

"Again let me remind the community," said Fund Chairman Bill Lantaff:

"Dade county is the only metropolis in Florida which has not reached its United Fund goal.

"We cannot in truth call ourselves one of the most progressive areas in Florida if we fail to meet our community responsibilities.

"If you are one of those who has not yet contributed, and the phone rings for you, please respond. The dollars pledged now will keep the 55 health and welfare agencies operating."

MOSCOW — (UPI) — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev reported to the Soviet Communist Party that there now are more than 33 million party members in 83 countries.

In Election at Concrete Plant

Hoffa Faces Test of Strength Here

Another test of Teamster Boss Jimmy Hoffa's ability to make good will take place Monday at Acme Concrete Corp. plants here.

The National Labor Relations Board will hold an election among Acme workers on whether they want to be represented by Hoffa's union.

The Teamsters leader announced that the concrete industry was one of his prime targets when he came here last October and pledged to organize Dade County for his union.

Last year, an official of Acme Concrete, Paul Jacobs, charged Hoffa had threatened him with economic reprisals if he didn't fall in line. Jacobs said Hoffa warned he would continue to promote the product of a competitive, unionized firm.

Meanwhile, Acme's president, Michael Zorovich, said the company will take back five drivers it had discharged, and pay them "less than $3,000" in back pay.

"We agreed to do this, while continuing to deny liability," said Zorovich.

The settlement ended a series of complaints that drivers were fired for union activity.

"We discharged the men for 'good and sufficient reason'," Zorovich said, "but we have agreed to take them back because we have places to put them to work."

New Protests

SANTIAGO, Chile — (AP) — The foreign ministry reports Chile and Argentina have exchanged new protests over the presence of navy ships in Beagle Channel near Cape Horn. Both countries claim the channel but agreed last November to keep warships out until a boundary question is settled.

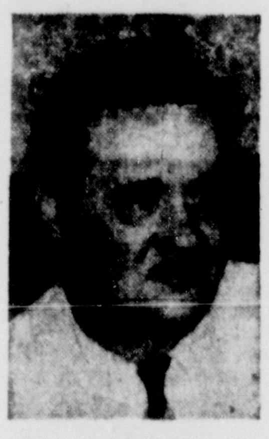
Headley Leaves Dispute to City Commission

Roadblocks Will Continue Despite Goof on Shotguns

By AL FINKELSTEIN
Herald Staff Writer



Chief Headley
. . . admits he goofed

Miami Police Chief Walter Headley said Tuesday he goofed by allowing officers manning a weekend traffic roadblock to carry rifles and shotguns while checking drivers' licenses.

But while apologizing for that, Headley said the controversial roadblocks will continue unless he's directed otherwise by city commissioners.

The city has been put on notice by former Mayor Abe Aronovitz that it will face a law suit over the roadblocks if they aren't immediately stopped. Aronovitz, who said he will do the suing, was stopped in one of the traffic checkpoints late Saturday.

Chief Headley said the commission recently approved his suggestion to stop arming checkpoint officers with shotguns, a practice started originally in case officers flushed Cuban gun-runners during their routine roadblock work, but he forgot to pass the word to officers.

"I take all blame for any inconvenience the sight of the rifles may have caused motorists," Headley said. "It won't happen again."

Meanwhile, City Manager A. E. Evans said the street checks will continue "indefinitely" — despite the threat of a lawsuit from Aronovitz.

Evans mailed a reply to Aronovitz Monday, saying he will leave it up to the City Commission for action.

Aronovitz charged the police checks "violate the civil rights of private citizens."

Of 149 violators nabbed by police in their Sunday night crackdown, Thomas Frederick, supervisor of Miami's Traffic Fines Bureau, said 52 did not have their driver's licenses on them, 86 cars had no inspection stickers, eight drivers carried suspended licenses and three were drunk.

The road checks — Chief Headley declines to call them "roadblocks" — have been in effect daily since last July 4.

Doctor Awaits $65 Letter

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Dr. Theodore Asnis is waiting for a letter from a robber.

The 36-year-old doctor was expecting a patient to show up for an appointment when a well-dressed young man came in with a pistol in his hand.

The robber bound the doctor's hands and ankles, but politely asked if the bonds were comfortable. Then he took $65 from the doctor's pockets, and, as he turned to go, said: "I'll mail you the money later."

Legs from Lambs of China Burn British Hostesses

LONDON—(UPI)—Six Chinese Airways hostess trainees flew in here, adding to a local battle over how much of a hostess's leg the passengers should see.

The Chinese girls from Hong Kong announced that during six weeks training they will hold fast to home traditions and wear graceful cheong sams, with the slit in the tight skirt showing more leg than the European normally sees on an airline hostess.

Several hundred airline girls employed by British European Airways are already embroiled in a row over a company directive that they must shorten the skirt length of their uniforms.

The row flared up when the wife of B. E. A. Air Chief Lord Douglas, criticized the present length skirts as unsightly.

Jobless Benefits Hike Urged

FLORIDA ROUNDUP

TALLAHASSEE — A Citizens Advisory Council proposed legislation Tuesday that would have the immediate effect of raising maximum jobless benefits from $30 to $36 a week.

A companion measure would increase the period of payment from 16 to 26 weeks.

A similar formula which ties benefits directly to a percentage of average weekly earnings of all industrial workers was recommended for workmen's compensation, increasing these benefits from present guaranteed maximum.

The proposal involves an "escalator" clause which would fluctuate benefits in both programs as wages are lowered or increased.

Another Atlas Blasts Skyward

CAPE CANAVERAL — The Air Force blasted its 19th Atlas skyward Tuesday night on the fiery start of what reportedly was another ocean-spanning, 4,000 mile space flight.

The 80-foot rocket, which carries U.S. hopes for matching Russian claims in the space race, bolted up majestically with a flash of white fire. It remained in sight six minutes.

Earlier Tuesday the Air Force fired two deadly Bomarc interceptor missiles against jet plane targets over the Atlantic.

The missiles blazed some 200 miles out to sea to zero in and "kill" pilotless F80 jet drones.

Private Tuition School Plan Eyed

PENSACOLA — Assistant Attorney General Ralph E. Odum said Tuesday that Florida cannot much longer stave off integration of its public schools under present laws. He suggested that a private tuition plan might be the best way to ease the problem.

Odom, Florida's chief expert on segregation law, threw cold water on a "parent-option" plan proposed by House Speaker-Designate Thomas D. Beasley that would set up a dual system of both segregated and integrated schools.

School Bus Jam Alarms Governor

TALLAHASSEE — Gov. LeRoy Collins Tuesday expressed concern about overloading of school buses.

The governor said he had observed many school buses in which children were "stacked in." He expressed belief a driver could not control his vehicle in an emergency with youngsters jammed around him.

State School Superintendent Thomas D. Bailey said the state has both laws and regulations designed to prevent overloading. The problem is enforcement, he said.

Woman Is Killed, 3 Hurt in Crash

PAHOKEE — One woman was killed and three other persons injured in a two-car head-on collision near here Tuesday.

Dead was Mrs. Julia Rogers, about 45, of New York City.

And in Ocean Ridge, Al Allen of Pompano Beach was killed when a crane toppled into the Inland Waterway.

Rip Van Winkle Couldn't Sleep with Nagging Backache

Now! You can get the fast relief you need from nagging backache, headache and muscular aches and pains that often cause restless nights and miserable tired-out feelings. When these discomforts come on with over-exertion or stress and strain—you want relief—want it fast! Another disturbance may be mild bladder irritation following wrong food and drink—often setting up a restless uncomfortable feeling.

Doan's Pills work fast in 3 separate ways: 1. by speedy pain-relieving action to ease torment of nagging backache, headaches, muscular aches and pains. 2. by soothing effect on bladder irritation. 3. by mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

Enjoy a good night's sleep and the same happy relief millions have for over 60 years. New, large size saves money. Get Doan's Pills today! —Adv.

Unions Will Fight Airline Mutual Aid

HAYES

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Labor leaders said Tuesday they may resort to industry wide bargaining to offset a multi - million dollar pact by airlines for aiding each other in event of strikes.

President Al J. Hayes of the machinists' union said this could be one result of the mutual aid plan of the nation's six largest airlines which won Civil Aeronautics Board approval Monday.

The machinists, the pilots and the transport workers already have plans to cooperate in future airline negotiations. They are considered the "Big Three" unions in the industry.

The CAB ruled, four to one, that the airlines' agreement to share profits with a strike-bound competitor would not be contrary to the public interest. Member G. Joseph Minetti dissented.

The pact was signed last November by Capital, Pan American, United, American, Trans World and Eastern Airlines. Strike "benefits" were paid to Capital, TWA and Eastern during pre-Christmas walkouts.

Spokesmen for Capital told the CAB that the $1,400,000 it received meant the difference between survival and going out of business.

Union attorneys asked the board to reject the pact on the grounds that it was a form of strike-breaking and violated the Railway Labor Act governing labor-management relations on airlines and railroads.

More than five million dollars has changed hands since the plan went into effect.

Top Military Brass Deny They've Been Gagged

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Top Army, Air Force and Marine officers indicated Tuesday they want more men. But they stopped short of criticizing military manpower limitations imposed by the Eisenhower administration.

Their cautiously worded testimony before the House Armed Services Committee prompted Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D., La.) to suggest sharply that they were being gagged by higher authority.

But the gag charge got no backing from Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff; Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, Air Force vice chief of staff; or Gen. Randolph M. Pate, commandant of the Marine Corps.

The exchanges came after the service chiefs and other Defense Department witnesses urged extension of the draft law for four years beyond next June 30.

Taylor expressed the conviction it would be impossible to maintain the Army at the desired strength without the draft, even taking account of higher pay and other incentives to voluntary enlistments.

Neither the Air Force, Navy nor Marine Corps now resorts to the draft, but spokesmen for all of them said its existence helps get volunteers for their ranks.

During the discussion, Chairman Carl Vinson (D., Ga.) asked LeMay whether he thinks the Air Force is strong enough at 850,000 men, its present level.

"I think, taking everything into consideration — and with a certain element of risk — yes," LeMay replied.

When committee members tried to draw him out on this, LeMay said no chief of staff ever has been satisfied with the strength allotted to his service.

The Air Force general, one-time head of the long range bomber command, said he believes that "if we get into a general war we will win it or lose it with the people in uniform at the time," adding:

"We believe in the Air Force there will not be time as there was in the past to induct and train large numbers of men."

Hebert made his gag assertion while questioning Taylor about cuts made in the Army strength.

The Army chief acknowledged he had recommended a level of 925,000 men and that the number had been cut by administration action to 870,000, even though Congress voted enough money for a 900,000-man Army.

JOHN CROSBY—About TV

THE VAST AND POSH and immensely impressive corridors and pools and gardens and restaurants of the Hotel Fontainebleau here are awash at the moment with television folk.

CROSBY

On any morning, if you amble down to the pool, you'll hear the bell-like tones of Jan Murray's director coaching a pick-up audience in how to squeal: "Take the money!" This is well rehearsed before air time which is 11:30 a.m. every morning, and put on tape.

If you drift down to the ocean front — and the Atlantic ocean seems to be just another of the Fontainebleau's bathing facilities — you'll find Murray's three writers, a scowling, sullen bunch, huddled over their lone typewriter, thinking up ad libs.

Down here practically every vista pleases except that of the comedy writers, living in their special hell of jokes and pleasantries.

★ ★ ★

UP ON THE UPPER DECK of the pool are Red Skelton's producers and as I watched the other day, Skelton's writers collared their producer and the following conversation ensued:

"We're going to need sound effects."
"What kind of sound effects?"
"A noon whistle."
"A noon whistle? In Miami Beach?"
"A one o'clock whistle will do."
"Will you settle for an alarm clock?"

Around the rest of the pool, all that could be heard was the soft swish of the surf and the gentle plop of plugs for Picciolo's restaurant being dropped into the script of the Murray show.

MURRAY

SKELTON

A few weeks ago, the Fontainebleau played host to "You Asked For It," an ABC show.

With Murray's "Treasure Hunt," an NBC show on the premises, and Skelton's CBS show filming Monday, this gives the hotel the true air of a Television City, the only one originating shows for all three networks.

★ ★ ★

MIAMI BEACH, which was built by publicity, has always had a passionate crush on television performers with their unrivalled capacity for spreading the good word. And the television performers have reciprocated this passion.

They love to do their shows reclining at the pool under the azure Florida skies. But this mad and mutual passion presents great problems.

Besides tying up the pool, the Murray show is a huge octopus of a dozen or so writers and technicians and so forth eating its head off and living in the best rooms right in the middle of a very good season.

For another, the azure skies of Florida sometimes turn black with rain — and always right on camera.

GODFREY

ALLEN

The other day the rains came right in the middle of Mr. Murray's show.

Mr. Murray, whose smile is as azure as anything in Florida advertising, declared that the sun would be back out in a minute or two. And darned if the sun didn't come out again.

But it won't always cooperate that way. The following day the rains poured down throughout the show — hardly a good advertisement for Florida. This has always been a sore trial for the Floridian.

Florida weather is great joke material for a comedian, topped only by California weather.

The tremendous audience TV has at its disposal is eagerly wooed by the Florida hotel keepers but that vast audience has been at varous times entertained by the sight of Jack Paar explaining how cold he is, by Steve Allen showing his goose pimples, by Arlene Francis, frankly swathed to the ankles.

If you're playing with that coaxial cable, you have to take the rough with the smooth.

★ ★ ★

UP THE BEACH A-WAYS, Arthur Godfrey has been gleefully taping his morning and evening shows from his own hotel, The Kenilworth. The performers happily trot back and forth, guesting on one another's shows.

The other day Red Skelton, who has been packing them in at the nightclub in the Fontainebleau here, journeyed north and told wonderful animal stories on the Godfrey show.

Godfrey in turn did journey south and do a bit of acting on the Red Skelton show, which will be filmed at the Fontainebleau.

Sitting around watching the Godfrey tape with Skelton the other day was Pat Boone.

Boone has been appearing on the Godfrey morning show, talking about his book and his life and not very hard times, until ABC huffily reminded him that he was an ABC star, not a CBS one, and benched him at the Kenilworth, where, like the Fontainebleau, you're likely to be run over by TV cameras unless you're very careful.

At both places the performers put a crimp in the facilities. The pool has to be cleared while they're doing TV shows and the putting green has to be emptied.

PAAR

BOONE

The customers don't seem to mind. Television has accustomed all of us to watch rather than to do.

Even in Florida, people seem to enjoy watching Jan Murray fall into a pool rather than falling into it themselves.

2 — FUTURE POWER — The story of one very important group of activities contributing to the development of Florida's educational life.

4 — U.S. MARSHAL — Escaped convicts try to track down an ex-cellmate now making an honest living.

10 — OZZIE AND HARRIET — Ozzie's defense of flying saucers leads him to become quite a public figure.

9

2 — TULANE CLOSEUP — "Hypnosis."

4 — MILLIONAIRE — Robert Alda and Ellen Drew, as two strangers in Las Vegas, gain mistaken impressions about each other's financial position.

7 — MILTON BERLE — Milton will be visited by another member of the Crosby family when Bob Crosby joins comedienne Joan Davis on the guest roster.

10 — DONNA REED — This show, which has been successful in getting to the heart of many normal family situations, does so again tonight. This time it's sibling rivalry, than which there is no rivalry as keen. This is especially true in families such as the Stones, where there is an older sister and a younger brother. In this case Jeff (the put-upon younger brother) consults a psychiatrist.

James Donald and Siobhan McKenna
. . . in What Every Woman Knows on 4 at 9:30

9:30

2 — GARDEN CLUB — A discussion explaining the origin of native plants.

4 —SHOW OF THE MONTH — Sir James Barrie's comedy, "What Every Woman Knows," is the offering tonight and they've assembled a great cast to do it. Siobhan McKenna is playing Maggie, who capitalizes on what every woman knows, to wit, in front of every woman there's a man she must manipulate. The man for Maggie is John Shand, played by James Donald, a dull clod of an egghead. She quietly pulls the strings so that he becomes a political power and the silly fool thinks he's done it all on his own. There's another woman (Diana Van Der Vlis) and a distinguished ally of Maggie (Martita Hunt) and, for the most laughs, Maggie's father and brothers (Liam Redmond, Cyril Cusack and Tim O'Connor) who have something of a family resemblance.

Best Bet

7 — BAT MASTERSON — Bat is humiliated by a burly bandit before the credits even get rolling, and you just don't do that to our Bat. Retribution comes thick and fast, with Bat even taking over the bully's girl, among other indignities. After he cleans the mess up, Bat takes off for Phoenix and the gaming tables, leaving a forlorn girl, a wiser bully and a stern message — don't mess with Bat.

10 — ACCUSED — A youth is charged with armed robbery in a gasoline station hold-up.

2 — ATOMIC PRIMER — "From Bomb to Laboratory."

7 — THIS IS YOUR LIFE — Tonight's guest is a man who lives the kind of life many of us dream of, but never do.

7 — AFRICAN PATROL — Inspector Derek turns the superstition of the natives into a weapon to unmask the brains behind a slave trade operation.

11:10

10 — MOVIE — "Hi Diddle Diddle," (1943), William Elliott, John Carroll. Wacky mix-up involves a sailor and his bride, his con-man father and an opera singer stepmother.

11:20

7 — JACK PAAR — Guests are singer Danny Costello, comedian Al Kelly and author Cleveland Amory.

11:25

4 — MOVIE — "Underground," (1941), Jeffrey Lynn, Philip Dorn, Kaaren Verne. An ardent Nazi falls in love with a secret member of the underground movement.

British Mission Gets U.A.R. OK

CAIRO — (AP) — President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic is reported to have agreed to grant diplomatic immunity to a British mission for the first time since the 1956 Suez war.

The mission will administer an agreement negotiated here this month. It would settle financial claims arising from the British attack, which prompted Nasser to break diplomatic relations with Britain.

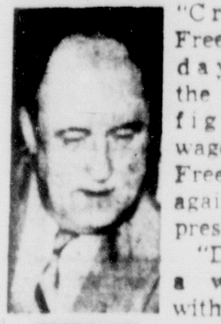
Battle Of Words Still On

Anti-Red Radio Seeking Aid

By JOHN McDERMOTT
Herald Staff Writer

"Communism is a way of life without God."

That is the way John B. Turner, Florida head of the "Crusade For Freedom," Tuesday described the propaganda fight being waged by Radio Free Europe against Red oppression.



TURNER

"Democracy is a way of life with God . . . and without censorship," he continued during a press preview of the Crusade's drive for Florida backing.

The only way 70,000,000 people behind Russia's Iron Curtain can get the truth and the facts of the outside world is through such agencies as the privately-run, American-backed Radio Free Europe, he said.

The drive for $50,000 gets under way here next week.

"You can't have democracy just by talking about it," Turner said.

He told of his own inspection of the "freedom voice" facilities at Munich and his trip to the Iron Curtain border where electrified barbed wire, machinegun outposts and minefields seal off Eastern Europe from the West.

A striking example of the desire to escape was demonstrated at the luncheon.

On hand was a wooden coffin in which a trusted, minor Czech official hid his wife and their two children while he calmly pulled it to freedom across the heavily guarded border on the rear of his bicycle.

Ostensibly he was taking the coffin to a graveyard on the frontier.

'Join the Army, Become Ruler'

LONDON — (UPI) — The semi-official Army Quarterly Tuesday told young Britons they too should join the army and "become a president or premier."

It noted that six former officers are or were heads of state. It listed President Eisenhower, French President Charles de Gaulle, President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic, Chief of State Francisco Franco of Spain, Soviet President Kliment Voroshilov, and Sir Winston Churchill.

Building Unions Wooed at Parley

By DOM BONAFEDE
Herald Staff Writer

Kiss-and-make-up appeals to stop the powerful Building Trades Department from leaving the parent AFL-CIO were made in secrecy Tuesday at the department's Miami Beach parley in the Singapore Hotel.

Sweating out the proposed reconciliation is AFL-CIO President George Meany, who is in town to woo the Building Trades Department back home.

Meany found himself on a hot seat recently when the department, which is composed of 18 craft unions, made threats of seceding from the AFL-CIO over jurisdictional disputes with industrial unions.

The root of the family squabble is whether craft unions, representing skilled workmen such as plumbers and carpenters, can organize plants the industrial unions regard as their exclusive province, such as the auto workers and steel workers.

The rift appeared reduced —but not ended — Tuesday following a report that the Detroit Trades Council had signed a no-raiding pact with Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers.

Reuther, one of the most influencial labor leaders in the U.S., had been pictured as the major force trying to invade the ranks of the craft unions.

"We hope the agreement will set a pattern throughout the nation," commented Marion Macioce, president of the Detroit council.

Meanwhile, the word at the Miami Beach conference Tuesday was:

"Meany wouldn't dare boot out Hutcheson."

Marucie Hutcheson, president of the strong Carpenters Union, goes before the AFL-CIO Executive Committee next month in San Juan, Puerto Rico, to explain why he balked at telling Senate probers about union expenditures.

Feeling is high that if the Carpenters Union is expelled from the AFL-CIO, Hutcheson will take several other building craft unions with him and join forces with Jimmy Hoffa's Teamsters Union.

Meany isn't likely to invite that possibility, delegates said Tuesday.

NEW! MEDICATED ACNE STICK
nips pimples in the "bud"
Acts fast to stop pimples from "blooming" and spreading

A new day in acne skin treatment is here! Never again need you watch helplessly while a small blemish grows into a big, ugly pimple. For now there's a new kind of medication that acts fast to heal pimples in their bud stage—or any stage. It's Sentor—the new, skin-toned acne stick that's been approved by leading skin doctors.

How Sentor works four ways
Sentor contains a new combination of medicinal ingredients that acts to clear your skin four ways: (1) It penetrates to dissolve "sick" tissue; pimples just seem to melt away! (2) Sentor dries up pustules. (3) Helps prevent scarring. (4) And Sentor combats the bacteria that make pimples grow and spread. Actually, Sentor does more to help heal pimples than any other stick, ointment, cream or lotion you could buy before!

Ask your own doctor about this new greaseless formula that is so effective and so safe. Then try Sentor Medicated Acne Stick. You'll be so glad you did.

New! Conceals while it helps heal

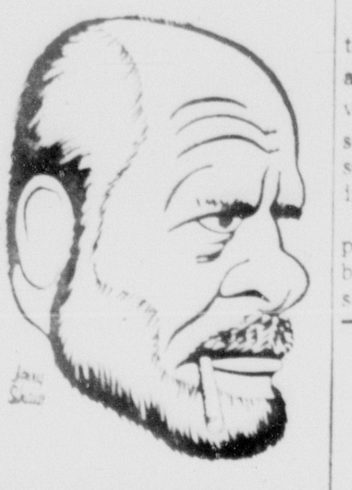
Today's Cele-Birthday

By JOY and JERRY SHAW
Of The Herald Staff



JACKSON POLLOCK, artist; born: Jan. 28, 1912, in Cody, Wis.; died: Aug. 11, 1956.

* * *

America's famous "drip" painter abandoned high school for art study in New York at 17. By 1947, he had evolved an unusual method of doing his abstracts. Placing his canvas on the floor instead of an easel, he trickled thin streams of paint in what critics have termed "spectacular cat's cradles of interlaced color." He was selected as one of seven painters to represent the U.S. at the 25th Venice biennial exhibition in 1950.

Why Men Don't Talk to Their Wives

● Is the American male losing the art of talking to his wife? In February Reader's Digest, Marjorie Holmes says "yes" and thinks she's figured out just why men are so close-mouthed. There are "several basic sex differences" . . . and she goes on to provide an earful of other reasons in February Reader's Digest. Get your copy at newsstands today.

Army, Air Force Merger Urged

PEKIN, Ill. — (UPI) — The national commander of Amvets has called for the Army and Air Force to join again to achieve real unification of services.

The commander, Dr. Winston E. Burdine, 44, of Atlanta, a World War II Air Force veteran, said there has been so much duplication since the services split that "waste was inevitable."

"Let's go back to the basic principles of defense and sensible administration," Burdine said.

Oilman Named to Talk At UM Commencement

HAIDER

Michael H. Haider, a director of Standard Oil of New Jersey, will be commencement speaker at the University of Miami Feb. 3.

Graduation exercises will be at 10:30 p.m. in Dade County Auditorium. Degrees will be awarded to approximately 400 students.

Haider, a 1927 graduate of Stanford, became director of production research and engineering for Standard Oil Development Co. in 1938.

He later became president of International Petroleum Ltd., the Standard affiliate which operates in Colombia, Peru, Venezuela and Ecuador. While holding this position, Haider lived in Coral Gables, where International Petroleum's executive offices are located. He is now a New Yorker.

Anti-Cigaret Bill OKd in S.D.

PIERRE, S. D. — (AP) — A bill which would put a skull-and-crossbones emblem on South Dakota's cigaret tax stamp was passed by the State Senate 18-16 and sent to the House.

Under the bill, the skull-and-crossbones sign would be affixed to the state tax stamp together with an admonition that the state does not recommend use of the product.

Romanian Reds Give Amnesty

VIENNA — (AP) — The Romanian Communist government has proclaimed an amnesty to mark the 100th anniversary of the union of Wallachia and Moldavia, two principalities that later became Romania.

Radio Bucharest said the decree covers all persons sentenced to not more than three years by civil or military courts. Persons sentenced up to five years will be included if they are more than 60 years old, minors, women with children or pregnant.

Butts Told Dietzel He Thanked All, but Right One--Billy Cannon

IN BETWEEN trying to pick winners at Hialeah Tuesday, Coach Wally Butts of Georgia chatted at length about football. Next to his family, the game is the most important thing in the world to Butts, new president of the National Football Coaches Association.

PAUL DIETZEL

Butts was informative and humorous, too. A sample of the latter came when Wally recalled something he said to Paul Dietzel when the LSU mentor was honored recently as Coach-of-the-Year.

"Dietzel thanked everyone, who had helped him throughout his career," Butts said. "The list included Earl Blaik, now retired from West Point, and Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns.

"Afterwards, I told Paul, 'You didn't thank the one person you should have—Halfback Billy Cannon. He was the greatest football player in the country last season.' "

This prompted the observation that Cannon wasn't too hot at the Orange Bowl the night the Tigers racked up U-Miami, 41-0.

"Maybe, not," Butts allowed. "But look what he did to the Hurricanes' defense. He kept 'em uneasy. I remember one time Charlie Trippi didn't do a thing in a game against Clemson, but we won by five touchdowns, because Clemson players were defending against Trippi. Trippi helped us by just being in there."

We talked about the two-platoon system and Butts, who is against it, commented, "Dietzel even used the three-platoon system and he'll be tough again next season. He has Cannon and most of his regulars back."

High Praise for Stram

COACH ANDY GUSTAFSON of UM knows that, too, and he is not happy over having to carry his Hurricanes to Baton Rouge for a return game with the Tigers.

"Gustafson will bring the Hurricanes back," Butts volunteered. "He made a good move in hiring Henry Stram of Notre Dame as his backfield coach.

"All reports I've heard about Stram are unanimous in reporting he is an excellent coach."

Butts, who has been vacationing here since Sunday with his former Georgia player, Lou Wolfson, leaves Friday. He is starting spring practice next week. That'll put a dent in Wally's sense of humor.

Nice Tribute to Wade

IN THE New York Mirror, Harold Weissman wrote, "Have you heard that Horace Wade, one of the most brilliant minds in racing, will become general manager of Latonia, when the new track opens on Aug. 27 after a lapse of 20 years?

"Wade, who contributed handsomely to the remarkable development of Gulfstream Park, is recuperating from an attack of yellow jaundice. It's the only thing off color ever associated with the turf figure."

HORACE WADE

Horace confirms that he will be Latonia's general manager, reminding that he assumed such a responsibility in helping to reorganize the track.

Wade is recuperating so well from the jaundice attack that he is back at work getting things in readiness for Gulfstream's opening.

"I even feel so good, I'd like to resume golfing," Horace explained. "But the doctor says I'll have to wait another month."

Interest in Pro Exhibition

The Mailbag

"IN YOUR column of Jan. 23, you stated the Baltimore Colts and Pittsburgh Steelers will appear in an exhibition football game on Sept. 4," writes Thomas M. Burns, Jr., 1424 North L St., Lake Worth. "Kindly forward this letter to the correct person, so my name may be placed on order for six tickets."

COMMENT: Consider it done, Thomas. If the exhibition promotion is handled properly it could result in attracting a lot of Floridians to Miami for the Labor Day weekend.

FSU Should Promote Veller

SPORTS WRITERS around the state are disturbed because President Robert Strozier of Florida State University has not promoted Don Veller to Seminole Athletic Director.

VELLER

I'll go along with them that Veller is thoroughly capable of handling the position and would work well with Perry Moss, the new football coach. Veller, former FSU coach, is highly respected in intercollegiate athletic circles.

It would be difficult to find a more capable man, or one more familiar with the athletic setup at FSU, where progress should be made in minor sports, as well as football.

W. Kentucky Next for UM

Western Kentucky's basketball team comes rolling into town Saturday to play Bruce Hale's brash University of Miami Hurricanes in the Miami Beach Auditorium.

The Hilltoppers got off to a slow start this year and after eight games were only 3-5. Since then, they've won four of five, topping it off with a Monday night slaughtering of highly ranked LaSalle, 96-74.

'Unknown' Second Choice at 5-2

Clem and Backbone Test Ajaccio Today

Gustavo Avila
. . . rides Ajaccio

By RUSS HARRIS
Herald Turf Writer

Can the Venezuelans do it again?

That's the question on everyone's lips today as Hialeah presents the seven-furlong $20,000 Palm Beach Handicap.

A few days ago hardly a horse player in the entire U.S.A. had heard of a colt named Ajaccio. Now that four-year-old sprinter has made today's headliner the season's most interesting race.

No one thought much about Ajaccio's record of eight straight wins in Venezuela for Trainer Millard Farisziadie until last Saturday.

Then that morning Ajaccio stunned the clockers with an effortless six-furlong workout in 1:11 1-5. The same afternoon Jockey Gustavo Avila booted Petare, Ajaccio's stablemate, to a sensational upset victory in the Royal Palm Handicap.

Now the odds-makers are listing Ajaccio as 5-2 second choice to Mrs. Adele L. Rand's Clem, 2-1 favorite in the Palm Beach.

Clem, of course, won acclaim as the three-time conqueror of Round Table last year. His 1959 debut was delayed by a sprained hock but Trainer Bill Stephens said he is ready for his engagement today.

It might be noted that Clem won only four of 20 outings last year but amassed $314,637 in earnings.

The third member of today's "Big Three" is Boncrist Farm's Backbone.

This diminutive colt traveled all over the eastern half of the U. S. last summer and joined battle with the best of them at eight different tracks. He earned $179,198 while winning nine of 24 starts.

The 19-year-old Avila, who completely hoodwinked Bill Hartack on Nadir in Saturday's Royal Palm, rides Ajaccio. Johnny Sellers handles Clem and Walter Blum will be up on Backbone.

Clem is the high weight at 124 pounds while Backbone carries 123 and Ajaccio gets in with 118. Ajaccio drew the outside post position in the field of 12. Backbone breaks from the No. 3 stall and Clem from No. 5.

Should the top three falter, there are several speedsters ready to blaze into the winner's circle today.

Perhaps the best three "outsiders" in the Palm Beach are Admiral Vee, winner of $143,848 last year and in with 118 pounds; Talent Show, dangerous and lightly weighted at 113, and Viscount, the light weight in the field at 110 and sharp victor in a sprint last week.

Hasty House Farm has entered Arcandy and Solution, both stakes winners this season, and Fred W. Hooper is represented by the duo of Alhambra and Olymar. Any of these four is capable of an upset.

The field is completed by Etonian and Saim, the latter a victor in his last race at nine furlongs.

HOOFBEATS — C. T. Chenery and Mrs. Chenery will make their first 1959 Hialeah visit today . . . Their champion, First Landing, went a mile in 1:38 3-5 Tuesday morning . . . Octopus and Easy Spur, going together, clicked five furlongs in 1:02 . . . Dandy Blitzen went six furlongs in 1:12 2-5 and Encore a half-mile in :49 3-5 . . . Bill Harmatz will fly from California to ride Tudor Era in Saturday's Bougainvillea . . . Hialeah horsemen were agreeably surprised with the prices at the second annual Florida Breeders Association sales auction when 55 two - year - olds were sold at an average price of $5,314.

'Too Small' Ajaccio Big On a Track

Ajaccio, the South American invader in today's Palm Beach Handicap at Hialeah, was regarded as "too small to be a runner" when Prof. Anselmo A. Dorato purchased him for $1,000.

Discussing the acquisition of Ajaccio, Dorato said he went to Argentina to buy some two-year-olds. He paid a total of $40,000 for four sophomores that he liked and then his eye was caught by Ajaccio. He had little difficulty obtaining that one for the nominal price.

FARISZIADIE

"None of the two-year-olds turned out to be anything," Dorato said. "But Ajaccio has won eight straight races for us and we think a lot of him."

Trainer Millard Farisziadie acted as interpreter for Dorato, who is director of the Polytechnic Institute of Caracas, an institution for pre-college training.

Farisziadie said Petare, surprise winner of the Royal Palm handicap, will run in Saturday's Bougainvillea on the turf. He planned to give Petare his first trial spin over the Hialeah grass this morning.

The trainer said Dorato had rejected several offers of more than $100,000 for Petare after the eight-year-old runner's victory here.

Dorato said he purchased Petare as a five-year-old for $20,000, and added that he is "the best horse I've ever owned."

"The best anybody ever owned?" he was asked.

The professor just smiled.—RUSS HARRIS.

'Take That,' Says Clarence Hinnant, Flicking Left to Head
. . . Jesse Bowdry (R) looks more worried about cocked right

Loser Beaten 'Helpless'

Bowdry Notches TKO Of Hinnant in 10th

By MEL DERRICK
Herald Sports Writer

Favored Jesse Bowdry, little better than even on points going into the last two rounds, battered Clarence Hinnant into a bloody, helpless mass to score a tenth-round TKO victory at Beach Auditorium Tuesday night.

Hinnant, who had absorbed Bowdry's best punches without staggering during early rounds, took at least 30 right hands without a return before Referee Jimmy Peerless stopped the suddenly brutal fight at 2:12 of the final round.

The loss, coming in Hinnant's first outing since losing a 10-round decision to Bowdry last April, snapped off a four-fight winning streak at the Beach for the veteran Washington, D.C. light heavyweight.

For Bowdry, ranked eighth contender among the light heavies, it was his 20th knockout and 24th victory in 27 bouts.

Both weighed 175½ for the contest, witnessed by 1,971 who paid $4,015.50 to cheer the main event and lively preliminaries.

"I knew it was close—too close—going into the ninth," said Bowdry's manager, Bernie Glickman. "I told him to open up."

The St. Louis bomber did. He charged out with a flashing combination attack, rocking Hinnant with a right to the head, two lefts to the rib cage, and a jarring combination that foretold the end.

In the 10th, Hinnant whipped out two lefts before Bowdry staggered him with a combination to the head, buckled him on the ropes with a belly punch, and then began to flail away without retaliation from the beaten Hinnant.

Hinnant sagged against the ropes, spewing blood and foam, shuddering with every blow, pawing futilely at the air. Even before Peerless waved Bowdry aside, the winner had slacked his blows.

Hinnant, who stambled and staggered on his way to the dressing room, sat moodily silent as handlers sliced off his bandages and unlaced his shoes.

"I just gave out," he muttered. "I just couldn't keep going."

Hinnant had weahtered Bowdry's vaunted punching style in the early rounds, and moved ahead on The Herald's scorecard with a "cover up and slash" style in the seventh. But his picking and jabbing couldn't hold off the storm in the ninth and tenth.

Swift Chico Velez zipped out a unanimous decision over Weyman Dawson in a 10-round lightweight semi-windup. Dawson, who had a point taken away in the seventh round for a low blow, finished no nearer than five points to the young St. Nick's Arena discovery on the three official scorecards.

Judge Stu Winston and Referee Cy Gottfried both had Velez ahead, 99-92, while Judge Barry Pearlman saw it, 98-93, Velez.

Other preliminaries:

Charlie Titone, 127½, and Ray Estepa, 128½, fought to a six-round draw booed by the Titone-favoring fans; Silky Shelton, 148, decisioned Bobby Shaw, 150½, four rounds; and Dick DiVeronica, 140, decisioned Billy Hall, 146.

Casey Snaps Back At Yanks: Hustle Or End Up Traded

NEW YORK — (AP) — Manager Casey Stengel Tuesday lined up on the side of the New York Yankee front office in its salary squabble with the players. At the same time he warned the athletes to either improve their training habits or face the possibility of a trade.

"Some of the players, if they don't like it here, they'll be moving like some of those ball clubs did," he said in his best Stengelese. "They'll get it right in the rear. See how they'll like being away from the big city. Some individuals better not think they're bigger than the ball club."

The grizzled pilot, here to attend a dinner in his honor Thursday, didn't mention names, but pulled no punches as he accused some of his hirelings of breaking training rules, such as staying out past curfew, visiting out of bounds night spots, arriving late at the ball park, not giving out 100 per cent at all times and otherwise misbehaving.

"The trouble with some of our players is they don't know the difference between midnight and afternoon," he said.

"Some people seem to think I was too easy going last year. I'm going to be stricter next year. The players will have to be getting to bed by midnight and they'd better be getting to the game on time.

"Also they'll have to run out fly balls. If they're too tired to run 90 feet to first base, they'll get fined. I haven't fined them for such things in the past.

Casey emphasized he always had been on the players' side in their past differences with the front office concerning salaries, but he indicated strongly he was not in sympathy with them this time.

"I hope they get a raise. I've always gone to bat for the players, but I heard last summer there were some of them who didn't go to bat for me."

He was referring to some Yankee explanations for their slump, when they defended themselves by saying "maybe the manager was a little bit at fault, too."

"There's a couple of men on our club who ought to make $75,000 and $125,000. I'm talking about two particular men. But you can't give an individual $100,000 to play when he don't live up to the rules."

Stengel left it up to the listeners to guess the identity of the two should-be millionaires.

Butts Seeks Long Contract With UM

By JIMMY BURNS
Herald Sports Editor

A long term extension of football rivalry to be resumed by Georgia and the University of Miami in 1960 will be proposed, Coach Wally Butts of the Bulldogs said here Tuesday.

"We play here next year and if it is agreeable with Athletic Director Jack Harding, I would like to shift the 1961 game here," said Butts. In addition to the transfer, he will discuss a lengthy agreement.

Butts, new prisident of the National Football Coaches Association, does not share the fear of some that professional football offers a threat to the colleges.

"College and pro football are different types," Butts said, then added with a chuckle: "They're both big business. We have to make about $50,000 a game to come out even at Georgia.

"Pro football is the best, because the players are more experienced, but there is still no substitute for the old college try. Half of the people go to a game to see the football, and the other half to enjoy the color and pageantry."

Butts was sattisfied with recent rules changes and explained why the committee decided to widen the goal posts from 19½ to 24 feet, instead of moving the posts to the goal line, as in pro football.

Successful Coach, Successful Financier Chat

. . . Georgia's Wally Butts (L) with Louis Wolfson

"The coaches were influenced by the injury hazard provided by having the goal posts on the goal line," Butts explained. "Coaches will work harder with the wider posts to develop field goal kickers, because it takes three points to beat the two, now possible to score by running or passing for extra points."

Butts also was pleased that in liberalizing the substitution rules, the game was spared a return to the two-platoon system.

"The latter is okay in pro football, where they have a player limit," said Butts. "In the college game, it might have meant using 50 or 60 players in a game.

"Now one player can enter anytime the clock is stopped, which means you can get a specialist in the game most of the time, and send in instructions without cheating from the sidelines."

Butts also likes the change which prevents penalizing a team more than half the distance to the goal. Under the old system a foul on the 16, meant the defending team could be slammed back to its one. Now it would be penalized only to its eight.

Butts views LSU and Auburn as the outstanding teams in the Southeastern conference again; concedes his Georgia eleven will be stronger, but says it again will lack depth.

W. Virginia Loses Cribbing Gridders

By Herald Wire Services

The West Virginia University football team was dealt a blow for the 1959 season Monday when three squad members were expelled for attempting to steal questions to semester examinations.

The dismissed players were probable starting fullback Glenn Shemblin, Sissonville, W. Va.; sophomore halfback Dick Manion, 20, Wheeling, W. Va.; and sophomore tackle Don Duck, 20, Nitro, W. Va.

Coach Art Pappy Lewis said his squad would be hurting without the services of the gridders, but added, "I don't condone what they did."

Lemon to Try

BOB LEMON'S once-mighty arm will get another try with the Cleveland Indians. "I've got my mind set on pitching for Cleveland again," he told a reporter in Long Beach, Calif., "and I've been invited to spring training at Tucson."

He finished last year with San Diego in the Pacific Coast League after working only 25 ineffective innings with Cleveland early in the season.

Cepeda Sorry

ORLANDO CEPEDA, first baseman for Puerto Rico's Santurce club (and the San Francisco Giants) said Tuesday he is sorry he lost his temper during the riot-halted game at Mayaguez Sunday.

But he also said he would appeal for a hearing on the $200 fine levied against him by League President Carlos Garcia Noceda.

Tribe All Signed

CLEVELAND'S INDIANS finished first in the major leagues Tuesday — first in signing all players to 1959 baseball contracts.

With receipts of contracts from Pitchers Bill Dailey and Hal Wodeschick, plus Infielders Woody Held and Billy Harrell, the Indians said all 39 players on their roster had come to terms.

Other signees: Pitcher Johnny Podres and Rip Repulski, Los Angeles Dodgers; Pitchers Jack Sanford and Billy Muffett, San Francisco Giants; Pitcher Walt Craddock and Shortstop Rac Slider, Kansas City A's; Outfielder Bob Bowman, Philadelphia Phils; Pitcher Dick Donovan, Third Baseman Bubba Phillips and Shortstop Don Prohovich, Chicago White Sox.

Sal Takes Cut

SAL MAGLIE, 41-year-old right-hander, has agreed to a "fair cut" in salary by the St. Louis Cardinals and has sent in his signed contract, callimg for a salary of about $28,000 for 1959.

"I deserve it," he said, "but I'm looking forward to next season. I've been working out every other day and my arm — and back — feel fine."

Now Brian London Has Thumb in Title Bout Pie

By Herald Wire Services

The heavyweight title fight situation, murky at best, got even more confused Tuesday in the wake of a lawsuit and a trans-Atlantic telegram.

The lawsuit was tossed into Federal Court by lawyers for Eddie Machen. Machen seeks to get a return bout with Champion Floyd Patterson before Patterson fights Ingemar Johansson in June.

JOHANSSON

PATTERSON

London Promoter Harry Levene waved a telegram from Patterson's manager and announced a fight in April between Patterson and Britain's Brian London is "sealed and tied up with only a couple of details to be settled."

Levene said, "I spoke to Patterson's manager, Cus D'Amato, by phone Monday night and received the following cable: Trying for date and site London vs. Patterson. Will inform you. Have patience!"

In New York, D'Amato said he was "surprised that Levene made public my private communication." He refused to confirm Levene's statement that the fight will be held April in the United States.

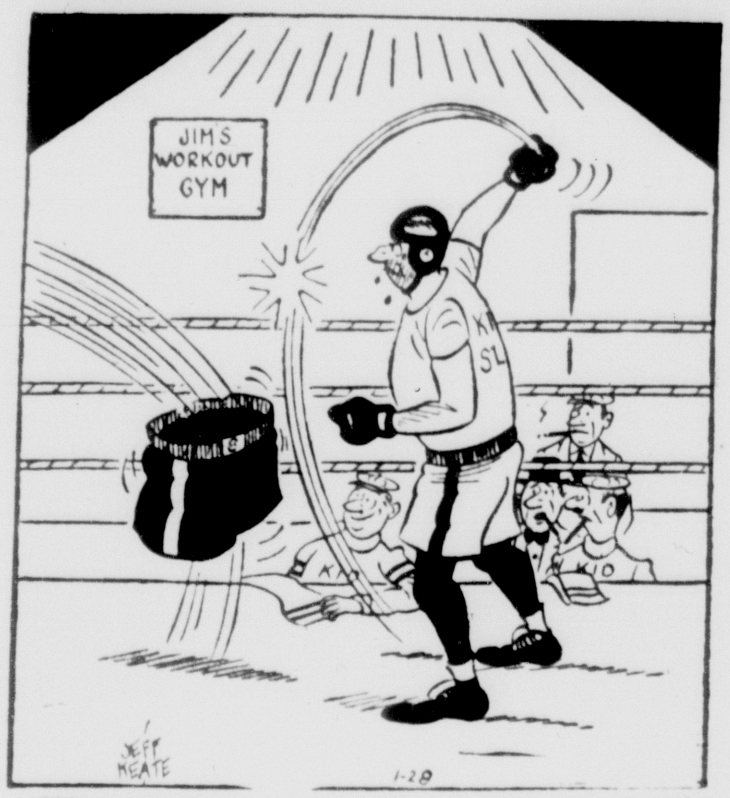
London's big claim to fame is a questionable TKO over Willie Pastrano. London lost his British and Empire titles to Henry Cooper early this month.

Johansson and the promoter for the proposed Johansson-Patterson fight acted thoroughly unconcerned by all the action.

Concerning the lawsuit in which Machen is trying to keep Johansson from fighting anybody in the U.S. before a Machen-Johansson rematch, Promoter Bill Rosensohn said:

"The best legal opinion I have been able to get tells me it will be next to impossible for them (Machen) to enjoin Johansson from fighting."

And concerning the Patterson-London fight, Johansson said it would make "no difference" to him if Patterson did fight somebody else first.



"What else does your boy have besides that terrific bolo punch?"

Petare Gets Top Saturday

Through his smashing triumph in last Saturday's Royal Palm, the Argentine-bred Petare has been "rewarded" with 126 pounds for Saturday's $25,000 Bougainville Turf Handicap at Hialeah.

Petare, who arrived from Venezuela five days before making his successful United States debut, drew two more pounds than Clem, a doubtful starter in the grass test of 1 3-16 miles.

Third on the list of 52 eligibles is English-bred Tudor Era, already a smart winner at the Hialeah meet.

He is weighted at 122, followed by the Irish importation Jack Ketch, 118, who last season won the Canadian championship.

The weights:

Petare	126	Mystic 2nd	111

Hialeah Five Upset, Gables Tops Beach

Herald Service

FORT LAUDERDALE — Central Catholic's Raiders, who had won only one basketball game all year, poured on the coal Tuesday night and blasted once-beaten Hialeah High, 61-58.

Central Catholic took the lead with six minutes to play and hung on for its second victory in 10 tries. It was Hialeah's second defeat in 11 games.

Bernie (Boom Boom) Butts, Hialeah's Mr. Offense, tossed in 26 points for high scoring honors. Bludaw and Batchelder had 17 and 16 for the winners.

Hialeah's B team beat Central Catholic, 61-58.

Cavaliers Win, 53-48

With the exception of a freeze that almost backfired, Coral Gables had everything its own way Tuesday night while beating Miami Beach, 53-48, in a high school basketball game at Gables' gym.

Gables held a commanding lead until the last quarter when Beach melted the freeze to outscore the Cavaliers, 13-5. But that wasn't enough.

Wally Dale and Woody Woodward each scored 12 points to pace Gables' sixth win against four losses.

In the JV game, Gables won its ninth straight with no losses, 72-31.

LUCKY BALL — Bill Jelliffe, who obviously was working on this beard before Castro had peach fuzz, holds up the ball he sank for a hole-in-one Tuesday in the PGA Seniors' Golf Tournament. Jelliffe, of Denver, used a No. 6 iron to ace the 159-yard sixth hole at Dunedin. The shot helped him card an even par 72 and earn a tie for third place after the first day's play.

Bayshore Features Tri-Test

Multiple competition is scheduled in the golf exhibition to be played at Bayshore course Thursday at 1 p.m. for the benefit of Variety hospital, Milton Rashkow, tournament director of the sponsoring Miami Amateur Golf association, said Tuesday.

The match features threesomes. One includes Cary Middlecoff, Marlene Hagge and Jack Penrose, outstanding LaGorce amateur.

The other is composed of Sammy Snead, Mickey Wright and Frank Strafaci, Bayshore amateur star.

Rashkow said the two teams will play together as a six-some and that scoring will be recorded for: (A) Best ball of threesome; (B) Total team medal; (C) Snead vs. Middlecoff, Wright vs. Hagge and Strafaci vs. Penrose.

An admission fee of $2 will be charged and Rashkow said the entire receipts will go to Variety hospital. Collection of the gallery admissions will be directed by Jack Bell.

Eagles' 2nd Loss

Conchs' Mira, Powell Rap Southwest, 39-23

George Mira and Boog Powell sparked Key West High to a 39-23 victory over Southwest Tuesday night at the Eagles gymnasium.

The loss was only Southwest's second of the season and first in the Gold Coast Conference.

Mira and Powell each collected 11 points. Chris Lefferts, Southwest's high scorer, was hampered by a broken nose.

Roller Derby Back Tonight

The Roller Derby swings back into action at Miami Stadium tonight at 8:30, with the Florida Red Devils meeting the California Bombers in a final five-game series ending Sunday night. The Red Devils currently hold a 4-2 lead.

Star of the Red Devil girls' team, Terri Lynch, will be out of action due to torn shoulder muscles.

After Sunday, the Red Devils move to the Exhibition Hall on Miami Beach for a 10-game stand. The Bombers go to San Francisco.

Ace Interceptor

Bill Bucek of Rice gained 84 yards with five pass interceptions during the 1958 football season.

IN A RAGE followed the pace closely and responded well to wear down GISELLE. The latter wrested command on the final turn and held on determinedly. GAY DICTATION saved ground while outrun early and lacked sufficient response when sent outside for her challenge. PARLAYED rallied from far back without menacing the top ones. REPLENISH showed nothing. BELCHISE attained a commanding early advantage and flattened out.

SCRATCHES: Lady Lyric, Acclaim, Lucinda, Well Seasoned.

DAILY DOUBLE 4-2 PAID $60.50

Philipeep $8.30, 4.80, 3.70; Lucky Me $8.60, 6.30; Royal Briar $5.40.

WINNER SELECTED BY: Ortell, Castle, Ulbig.

OWNERS: 1. Harbor View Farm; 2. West Wind Farm; 3. M. R. Schneider; 4. R R Damon; 5. T D Buhl; 6. Elias Bros.; 7. Mrs. C. L. Larkin; 8. Mrs. N. Combest; 9. J. Materra; 10. A. L. Lawrence; 11. Mrs. C. Silvers; 12. Joc-Anna Stable.

PHILIPEEP moved from just off the pace to wear down LUCKY ME. The latter was responsible for the pace until the final yards and gave way. ROYAL BRIAR made up ground impressively through the final quarter. HAT BOX was closest to the leader on the turn and weakened. MAKES PERFECT weakened. KING ME was outrun.

SCRATCHES: Ontario 2nd, Patagonian, Pine Valley, Wayward Jenny.

471—THIRD—Purse $3,500, 2-year-old maidens,

Chuckie David $14.50, 8.40, 6.70; Tasma (a entry) $6.10, 6.90; Greek Page (a entry) $6.90.

OWNERS: 1. P. L. Grissom; 2. Pebble Brook Farm; 3. Mrs. W. Gilroy; 4. Pin Oak Farm; 5. D. E. Loveman; 6. K. Noe; 7. R.B.M. Stable; 8. H. P. Krimendahl; 9. A. E. Metz; 10. J. A. Wesley; 11. Spring Hill Farm; 12. Mrs. T. Mackle; 13. Irene O'Neil.

CHUCKIE DAVID broke sharply to the outside to cause crowding, then appeared clear while drifting in slightly and holding the opposition safe. TASMA displayed speed along the inside and held on willingly. GREEK PAGE finished well after having been slow to settle into stride. DJEDGEY made up ground. WESTERN POKER weakened, as did JEFF'S FUTURE. NIEQUEST was shuffled back early, as was FRAIDY CAT.

SCRATCHES: Anxious Miss, Prince Quill, Knockout Punch, Alegnib, Yep.

Mr. Bellevue $9.90, 3.90, 3.10; Ledlie $2.90, 2.40; Blanch $4.00.

WINNER SELECTED BY: Ortell, Ulbig, Consensus.

OWNERS: 1. T. R. Trout; 2. Calumet Farm; 3. Dorothy M. Turner; 4. L. Aitken; 5. W. G. Williams; 6. C. M. Kline; 7. A. G. Vanderbilt; 8. Sanford Stud Farm; 9. Mrs. D. M. Hollingsworth; 10. Mrs. J. W. Galbreath; 11. Calumet Farm; 12. Potato Chip Farm.

MR. BELLEVUE, unhurried while well placed early, responded well during the drive to wear down LEDLIE. The latter rapidly attained a clear advantage in early stretch and was unable to hold sway. BLANCH trailed into the stretch and finished with a rush along the inside. THEKLA ROSE lacked the needed rally. EARLY OF TYRONE failed to reach contention. HIDDEN VIRTUE flattened out after having set and and pressed the pace. SKITTLES stopped to a walk after a half.

SCRATCHES: Jealous, Ellen J., Homeward Angel, Irishtown Lady.

Alsabeg $10.10, 5.10, 3.30; Osofleet $4.70, 3.10; Surprise Attack $3.30.

WINNER SELECTED BY: McLaughlin, Harris, Castle, Consensus.

OWNERS: 1. O. S. Deming; 2. Modan Stable; 3. B. S. Campbell; 4. S. Jacobs; 5. J. C. Toomey; 6. Saline River Farm; 7. Lake Side Stable; 8. R. D. Stable; 9. F. G. Gabriel; 10. Jumping Brook Farm; 11. Fairlawn Farm; 12. G. S. Colella.

ALSABEG steadied after having been involved in early crowding, moved boldly on the final turn and continued to rally from the outside to wear down OSOFLEET. The latter wrested command just inside the furlong pole and gave way in the final stride. SURPRISE ATTACK held a commanding lead to the stretch and weakened.

SCRATCHES: Alors, Imagine That, Blind Fury, Oo La La.

Ignacio Near Singles Lead At Dania

Ignacio's hot streak during the last week has inched him closer to the lead, currently held by Isasa, in the National Singles Championship at the Dania Jai-Alai Palace.

While attention was focused on Ondarra, Bari and Alex, Ignacio caught fire and surged past all of them into second place in the singles race.

With eight firsts in that contest, Ignacio is now only three wins behind Isasa.

Ignacio is leading the International Championship race with Careaga, which indicates how well this popular Basque is playing. All of which means he should go to the post as favorite tonight in the ninth game.

7-16 Races Close Out Flagler Medley Tonight

A pair of gallops over the 7-16 mile course tonight brings the rich Kennel Medley Championship stake to a close at Flagler dog track.

In this stake, each owner picks his best runner at progressively longer distances. J. W. Ewalt leads with 29 points going into tonight's events. Boasting 13 points or more are the Evers, Crosby, Cole, Jordan, Randle, Eaton and Fulton kennels.

Ewalt shoots tonight with Another Portis B. in the 11th race against Cole's Whirling Jet, Eaton's Revolt's Mary and Fulton's Rio Grande Rose.

In the other 7-16 finale, Jordan's Madame Harmony, a veteran of all three previous Medley rounds, opposes Evers' Mr. Tears, Crosby's Your Bonus and Randle's Say It.

Jot's Jiggs and Honey Line, a pair of speedsters, clash in the ninth race at the sprint distance of 3-16 mile.

Guara Back In Top Form

Guara, a sensation at 22 when he first reported to Miami Fronton, is having one of his greatest seasons this year as a veteran of 29.

Winner of the Gold Cesta Stakes, singles title and "most quinelias won" award in 1952, Guara was injured a year later and never approached the form he displayed that season.

This year Guara has recovered the "magic" lacking in other seasons. He's already accumulated 23 victories while becoming one of the most consistent front court players on the roster.

Red Lips Tops Hollywood Field

Red Lips, which has annexed victory in three out of her last four starts, meets LaVeon and other racers with burning early speed in tonight's featured ninth race at Hollywood Kennel Club.

The Meadows greyhound is moving up from Grade B to Grade A, but the jump may not be too tough for her. Red Lips captured her more recent start in the sizzling time of 31 6-10th seconds, indicating she can run with the fastest of them.

LaVeon, one of the few greyhounds ever to beat Bud Jack, is expected to be the real toughie for Red Lips.

'Gal' Takes On Beach 'A' Dogs

Everybody's Gal, which left the "maiden" ranks just three weeks ago, casts her lot with Grade A greyhounds for the first time tonight at the Miami Beach Kennel Club.

The classy pup takes on a strong field in the eighth race over the O. P. Smith Course.

The older greyhounds which will put Everybody's Gal to to the test includes National Beauty, a seven length winner in her last start. Other experienced dogs in the race are: Sultry, a beaten favorite in her last start; Bronze Majesty, Go'N Win, Silver Zip, Trans China and Ramerue.

Mrs. Turner Cracks 'Black Marlin Barrier'

Search, Strike, Strain—and a Whopper

Vic Dunaway has been vacationing at Cabo Blanco, Peru. This is the first of a series of columns from the Latin American fishing waters.

CABO BLANCO, Peru—Mrs. Ellen Turner of Winter Park broke the black marlin barrier for anxious members of the International Women's Fishing Association, assembled here for their invitational tournament.

DUNAWAY

The top prize of all ocean gamefish, black marlin are more abundant off Cabo Blanco than anywhere else in the world, yet the IWFA members suffered through four suspenseful days before cashing in. Actually, there had been 16 consecutive days during which the blacks eluded the angling efforts of visiting fishermen.

Then Mrs. Turner renewed sagging spirits.

At 3 p.m. that day Mrs. Turner was harnessed to the fighting chair of the cruiser, Miss Peru. I was on the flying bridge, hoping to aid the crew in spotting the telltale caudal fin slicing the surface of the sea.

Suddenly, the lookout on the starboard side yelled the alert. Somewhere in the pitching, white-capped waves he had seen, for a brief moment, the sickle tail of a black marlin. Silence enveloped the boat as all eyes strained to pick it up again.

Then, way to port, I saw it. I yelled and pointed and the captain swerved sharply to follow my gesturing arm. But the mate began to scream a protest. Unwittingly, I had sounded the alarm for a smaller striped marlin, but fortunately the mate had pinpointed the black once more. In seconds the Miss Peru came about and the chase was on.

* * *

Series of Tingling, Greyhounding Leaps

IN THE COCKPIT, the third crew member tossed over a five-pound tuna rigged to a cable leader. Mrs. Turner let her line peel off, then held. Skillfully, the skipper guided the boat in an arc that skimmed the tuna past the bill of the cruising black. For an agonizing half-minute he followed the bait before opening his mouth to take.

Mrs. Ellen Turner
. . . and prized catch

Line whizzed rapidly from the big 14-0 reel as Mrs. Turner snubbed it with glove-wrapped fingers. Finally the captain sounded his sharp, "Okay!" She flipped the free-spool lever and struck hard—once, twice, again. Simultaneously the cruiser raced forward to add heft to the strike.

He was on!

The marlin came out of the water at once in a series of four tingling, greyhounding leaps. Then he set sail for Australia, ripping off 39-thread line in a slender blur of white as the mate wrung sponge after sponge of water over the straining reel.

Five hundred yards out he tore through the air again, seeming to hang over the end of the world, barely in view.

Fifteen rod-cranking minutes later he was within 100 feet of the boat, and he performed a third series of leaps, now so close that we could see the white patches chafed by the leader on his ebony back.

He made another, shorter surface run, then gave up his topwater tactics and bore deep. Slowly, yard by yard, he screeched line off the protesting reel, and at last he stopped 50 fathoms down.

* * *

Not a Record, But a Great Catch

THE EXCITEMENT was over. Work was at hand—a half-hour more of pumping and straining to lift the now-dead bulk, inches at a heave, up from the depths.

Finally he swelled up from the water like an immense bobbing balloon and lay lifeless beside the boat. A few minutes of rope-tying and hauling and he was in the cockpit. More than an hour and a quarter had elapsed since the strike.

FISHING
with Vic Dunaway

Back at the Cabo Blanco pier, the scale which has weighed thousand-pound black marlin registered this one at 442 pounds.

It was no record-breaker, but certainly a great catch, and a testimonial to a smooth anglerette and a skillful, experienced Peruvian crew.

More than that, it was a shot in the arm for the seven other women of the IWFA.

They could now face the four remaining days of the tournament knowing that the black marlin had returned to Cabo Blanco. And maybe among them would be that coveted thousand-pounder.

St. Pete's Butter Figures Smooth in Hollywood Stake

By JOE BROWN
Herald Greyhound Writer

The St. Petersburg greyhound track will be well represented in the $10,000 Hollywood Kennel Club Silver Anniversary Stake opening Feb. 10. More than 40 dogs, four from St. Pete, are entered.

BROWN

Latest St. Petersburg entry is Butter, a highly regarded marathon runner owned by Mike Castellani. He should like the 3-8th mile distance, the course over which the Silver Anniversary eliminations and championship will be run.

* * *

THREE KENNELS racing at Miami Beach Kennel Club will be represented in the Silver Anniversary Stake. They are L. M. Baltes, Burl Eidson and James (Dreamy) Conlen.

Baltes will pin his hopes on Flip That, while Eidson has nominated Lincoln Road and Conlen has entered Irish Charm. All three routers are noted long distance performers.

* * *

TWO YOUNG greyhounds—Rio Grande Rose, 23 months old, and Chic Matron, 24 months old—may hold the key tonight in Flagler's $7,500 added Kennel Medley.

Can Rio Grande Rose carry George Fulton's kennel back from first round obscurity? The answer may lie in the performance of Oscar Evers' Chic Matron.

Rio Grande Rose arrived at Flagler this season hailed as the top distance greyhound in the country. The 7-16th distance should be suited for both "Rose" and Chic Matron.

Full Concentration Means Good Bowling

By BILLY SIXTY

In no other sport, with the possible exception of golf, is concentration so important as in bowling.

The bowler, like the golfer, competes against inanimate objects. He cannot force an opponent to make mistakes, or exploit someone else's weaknesses. He must avoid mistakes himself, and correct his own weaknesses.

He must avoid distractions and adjust himself to various conditions and scoring circumstances. This requires a full measure of concentration.

Concentration begins with the starting position. Assume a natural pose, erect but relaxed, as in the sketch. Shoulders should be squared at right angles to the lane. The ball is supported by the left hand. Don't rush. Pause a moment. Take a deep breath and exhale.

Line up your target, whether it's a spot on the alley near the foul line, or a line along the alley or a pin. Forget what happened last frame, or what is coming up next game. Concentrate on what you are doing — NOW.

Learn to think only of the ball you are swinging, and what you propose to accomplish with it. Keep your mind on what you are doing and you will be able to do what you have in mind. That's concentration.

Edison Bees Top Norland

Edison's Junior Varsity used a big second half to race past Norland High and score a 48-32 basketball victory Tuesday afternoon at the loser's court.

The Baby Raiders trailed, 12-15, at halftime, but 17 and 19 point third and fourth quarters nailed the Vikings to their seventh loss.

Wayne Whidden and Jim Bennett scored 11 and 10 points for Edison. Johnny Thomas had eight and Paul Antullis seven for Norland.

Rubenstein Reward Canceled

NEW YORK — (AP) — The $25,000 reward offered for information leading to the conviction of the slayer or slayers of Serge Rubinstein was withdrawn Tuesday — the fourth anniversary of his death.

Attorneys for the estate of the playboy and international financier announced in newspaper advertisements the estate had withdrawn the reward offered Sept. 20, 1955.

Rubinstein, 46, was choked to death in his bedroom in his Fifth Ave. mansion. The police department still lists the case as "open."

Progress?

DARLINGTON, England — (UPI) — A British reporter retraced the route of the world's first public steam railway here and found it now takes 31 minutes for the 11-mile trip instead of the 30 minutes first clocked in 1824.

1959 EDSEL

made to be the most distinctive car on the road—yet it's priced with Ford, Chevrolet and Plymouth. And Edsel gives you many "eye-opening" extras that the low-priced field either forgets or charges extra for.

Look at this "EYE-OPENING" ECONOMY!
- Extra Economy when you buy—you get more for your money—more size, more room, more comfort, more solid value for every dollar you invest.
- Extra Economy when you drive—you choose from four engines, including two V8's that give you spirited performance on regular gas, and a thrifty Six as well.

Look at these "EYE-OPENING" EXTRAS!
- Extras that are built into every Edsel—self-adjusting brakes, Diamond Lustre finish that never needs waxing, wall-to-wall carpeting, electric clock, aluminized mufflers that last twice as long, foam-rubber seat cushioning, and many others.

If you want to hear real enthusiasm—talk to a 1959 Edsel owner

LIFE WITH LARRY THOMPSON

It Can't Hurt--Can It?

SINCE I HAVE had my quota of colds and-or flu this season, I decided to take drastic measures when I felt myself coming down with the ailings the other night.

For the benefit of our children, my wife keeps a supply of cold remedies that would keep the average hospital in business for a week. I took a swallow from three different cough syrup bottles, chewed two different kinds of cough drops, gargled a gargle, and swallowed a penicillin pill, two aspirins, and two vitamin capsules.

All this reminded me that I had a bunch of old medicine left over from more than a year ago when I got a physical examination and the doctor told me how to stay healthy. I decided that it would be a good idea to take some of those pills, too, just to build up my general resistance.

I figured that this way a cold and-or flu wouldn't have a chance.

I got out the box with all my old medicine in it, but the labels had become illegible.

At this late date I couldn't remember which pills were for what. I finally decided that where I could make out "Bedtime" on the label, I would take a pill from that bottle, since I was ready for bed. Even if it was a pill for an acid stomach, it couldn't hurt me, I told myself, and if it happened to be a pill for a cold, I'd be that much better off.

I took one of each "bedtime" pill. Then I put Vicks on my chest, mentholatum on my neck, Vaseline on my lips, used some nose drops, plus a nasal spray, and headed for bed.

The treatment didn't hurt me at all. I felt just as good the next morning as I had when I went to bed.

Of course I didn't feel any better, but there's no telling what shape I would have been in if I hadn't taken such good care of myself.

AFTER MENTIONING in this corner that Gordon K. Bachelor, of the Bachelor of Arts shop, Coconut Grove, had an ancient Victor talking machine, he got a surprise.

William Jackson, 6851 NW 29th Ave., notified him that he had an Edison gramophone, made in 1888, plus a collection of cylinder records. Mr. Jackson bought it when he first got married, some 60 years ago.

Mr. Jackson and Mr. Bachelor got together, and the phonograph and records now belong to Mr. Bachelor. That is, most of the records do. There were eight records and two of them broke when Mr. Bachelor tried to play them.

They were wax records and apparently these, like human bones, become brittle with age. Mr. Bachelor is treating the rest of the collection with the care a mother gives a new baby. He plays them, though.

Each record cover has a picture of Thomas A. Edison, plus the warning that dealers could not sell it for more than 35 cents.

DEALING WITH two completely unrelated subjects, Mrs. N. C. Cromwell, 11975 SW 188th Ter., South Miami Heights, writes in this interesting fashion:

"Darn it, why did you have to write about where to put your arms when you sleep? Never bothered me before, but last night I could hardly get to sleep wondering what to do with them!

"By the way, I'd like to ask if anyone knows how far a parakeet can fly. We found a banded one clear down at Goulds Canal last Sunday. It doesn't belong to anyone at the fishing camps and there are no homes for miles and miles.

"He's a male and so pretty, but we've lost the friendship of our own male parakeet since we brought him home. He spends all his time talking to the new bird instead of us."

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
2 ♠	Pass	2 NT.	3 ♥
Pass	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Three of ♥.

Today's hand presents an unusual safety play which declarer designed for himself to protect against an undesired trump break.

The bidding will pass muster tho South's two spade opening may offend some purists since it is a mite short of the technical requirements for a demand bid.

Against the four spade contract, West led the three of hearts and East won with the queen. To some players it would appear tempting to return the singleton club on the chance of obtaining a ruff, but in the face of South's vigorous bidding, East held forth little hope of finding West with the ace. He decided rather to attack dummy's entry on the remote chance that he could in this manner prevent the run of the club suit. Dummy's entry was the fourth spade which East hoped to force out by returning a heart. East knew, of course, that declarer held one more suit for West's play of the three followed by the nine showed that he could have only the jack left.

Lack of foresight will result in defeat of the contract if declarer in his anxiety to win all the tricks, ruffs in dummy, for when the spades break 3-1 he will be unable to reach the North hand to cash the two club tricks. Declarer cautiously refused to win the trick, discarding a diamond from dummy, and East could find no effective defense.

On a casual analysis it may appear that declarer could bring home the contract even if he ruffs the heart return, but actually he cannot do so against sound defense. After ruffing the heart, presumably declarer draws only two trumps and then plays the ace and king of clubs. If East trumps, declarer is home, but if East discards declarer will be forced to give up two diamond tricks.

Kidnaping Threat Sent to Wally Cox

NEW YORK — (AP) — Wally Cox, television comedian, and his wife and two children have been threatened with kidnaping unless he pays $1,500.

The threat was contained in a note delivered in a restaurant to his manager, Gloria Safier.

Two young men handed the note to a hat check girl, who gave it to Miss Safier. The men left the restaurant without being detected.

Miss Safier said she received three threatening telephone calls after getting the note.

"Have you got the money ready yet?" a voice demanded. She said that in one call she was told to take the money to a bar at Idlewild Airport, and, in another, was told to take it to a locker in Grand Central Terminal.

A third call said she had "two more hours."

Cox was reported unruffled by the threats. He is staying in his New York apartment. Police said his wife and the two children were in the Cox country home, the location of which was not disclosed.

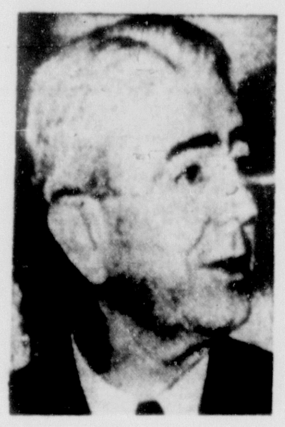
General Says Administration 'Floundering Around'

Wedemeyer Raps Foreign Aid Program

Herald Bureau

PALM BEACH — Abandoning a prepared speech, Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer Tuesday plunged into an attack on America's foreign aid program and criticized the Eisenhower administration for "floundering around in calamitous international scenes."

The retired Army general, whose famed "Wedemeyer Reports" took World War II strategy to task, spoke before the annual membership meeting of the Palm Beach County chapter, American Red Cross at the Everglades Club.



Gen. Wedemeyer
. . . 'civilian' speaks

The general remarked, "I'm beginning to get the civilian viewpoint. When you wear a uniform for 30 years, you are inhibited."

In his attack on foreign aid, he said, "I am opposed to giving millions and millions of dollars to various countries without getting something in return."

He pleaded for "realistic cooperation and mutual assistance among compatible countries." He scored aid to Poland and Yugoslavia.

Wedemeyer also called for legislation protecting state rights and urged more citizen interest in good government.

Complaining that the "objectives promised by the Republicans have not been accomplished," he added, "I can't see any difference between the Democratic New Deal and the Republican Party of today."

Economic Growth...at the rate of 282 million cubic feet per day

Natural gas will flow into Florida at the rate of 282 million feet per day when the Houston Corporation's big 1517 mile pipe-line is completed. And right with it will come new industrial and economic growth for the entire State.

The next time you see this scene stop and take a second look for in a few short weeks the men and equipment will be gone and in their wake will be an abundant flow of natural gas for industrial, agricultural and home use.

The Town Crier

BY Jack Bell

BELL

THE EXPERTS came up with a new idea last week to relieve traffic jams — a causeway running from Broward to Monroe County, right through Biscayne Bay.

Or was it new? Shucks, 'twas just an old one dusted off. In the good old days when city commissioners needled each other without getting angry and resorting to profanity, R. C. Gardner advocated such a causeway. As a matter of fact he suggested the thing every other week for about four years, and added a barb on special days, just to cause his disgusted fellow commissioners to growl, "Oh, go jump in that bay, and forget to come up."

The idea was received with no little enthusiasm this time. But in Gardner's days the people objected violently to "spoiling our beautiful bay." John Pennekamp points out that the government is going to widen and deepen the Intra-Coastal Waterway, thus tossing the causeway folks great hunks of free fill.

Think of the easement of street and highway traffic, if we get such a causeway.

Too Suggestive

I went down to the foreign sports car show Sunday. It was truly beautiful. But I came away empty handed and disappointed. Every time I looked at a sleek little job that I thought I'd like to have, the price was $2,995. The really cheap jobs are for family run-around use.

Frankie Watts showed one right snazzy job. A poster stood beside it telling about the special design, tooling, mechanism, interior. Down at the bottom, it said, Frankie will consider any offer "that is fair." I was about to make an offer fair to my pocketbook when I noticed: "Suggested price $18,800."

The most unusual car there is the Citroen. They've given the family enough room to load even the clothes the women folks think "we might need" on a trip.

The Renault people erected the Eiffel Tower replica, the central theme of the decorations. All afternoon the announcer told of lost husbands, wives, children waiting "at the Eiffel Tower."

The best looking cars? The Ferraris, of course.

Child Talent

This is "Meet Our Talented Children Week" around opera circles. The Guild got a shot in the arm this season, when local singers of real talent helped make Monday night's performance of Rigoletto one long to remember.

Of course the masters were Flaviano Labo and Guiseppe Taddei of La Scala, singing the parts of the Duke and Rigoletto as we've never heard them sung here. But Dade Auditorium lobby between acts was sort of home week for parents and friends of singers.

Nancy Firszt of course won the most plaudits and Papa Boyle was there to accept them for her. Then there were Dr. and Mrs. James McCormick, oh so proud of their two youngsters. James Jr. sang the Count Monterone role — exceptionally well, too — and his sister Veronica sang the role of Gilda's (Nancy Firszt) nurse. Tom Winston, retired fireman and one of the best basso voices you'll hear anywhere, sang the Count Ceprano role. And Pat Mathews, voice teacher at Miami Edison Junior High, sang the usher role. Irene Patty Swartz, a neighbor of ours and one of the really fine singers in Miami, had the Countess Ceprano role.

I've never is known such excitement about a Guild production. And 'twas earned.

Laugh Time

Here's one Larry Boggs of New Smyrna sent me, from a church banquet.

A quaker had a cow, kind and gentle. But one morning while he was milking her she kicked over the pail three times. The quaker faced the cow and said: "Thee knows I can't curse thee. Thee knows I cannot strike thee. But thee does not know I can sell thee to an Episcopalian."

Bolita Tailspin

Comedian Paul Gray, gets credit for the quip quoting Castro saying he'll lay 9 to 5 there'll be no gambling in Cuba. Castro has said many things, and it's possible. But I do know he has thrown the Miami bolita operators and players into a tailspin. He stopped the numbers lottery over in Havana and we're not throwing "Cuba" here on Saturdays any more.

Rescuer of 5 Gets Hero Award

This Sea Scout Was Prepared

By CHARLES TAYLOR
Herald Staff Writer

Leaping into the boiling surf for the third time, a life-line in tow, Eddie DuMuzzio was starting to think that if anybody was going to drown that Easter Sunday, it would be he.

He had hauled two young girls to shore at stormy Dania Beach on his first trip, and two men on the second. Now he was going after the fifth and last person—the one he was afraid of because the man was panicking.

That was April 21, 1957, and Eddie, 15 then, made it back with the rescued man, even though the anxious people on shore pulled so hard on the life-line they dragged Eddie under water most of the way.

Tuesday night, Sea Scout Eddie, South Broward High football star and son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles DuMuzzio, 30 SW Seventh St., Dania, was given the Boy Scouts of America top hero award — the Gold Honor Medal—at a meeting of the South Florida Council of Scouts in Miami.

Youth's Spree

He Lived Like King On Loot

By HENRY RENO
Herald Staff Writer

An 18-year-old Minnesota boy told Miami police Tuesday he lived like a king at Jacksonville and Miami Beach from the profits of a crime spree before being nabbed in a supermarket holdup here.

Metro Safety Director Thomas J. Kelly immediately ordered an investigation into the possibility that Herbert Leland Richard of Austin, Minn., may also be a killer.

Kelly said a .32 caliber pistol Richard dropped after a robbery Monday is of the type used in the fatal shooting of Vernon Brubaker, 54, of 3181 SW 24th St., who was found dying of a bullet wound in the head in his Ojus bar Saturday night.

Richard said his name was Michael David Leahey when he was chased down and captured Monday following a stickup at the Kwik Chek store, 5299 NE Second Ave. He dropped the pistol while fleeing and confessed to the holdup after he was trapped in a utility room.

Tuesday, however, the youth told Miami Detective A. S. Gurdack his name was Richard, and unraveled a bizarre tale of four robberies in Minnesota, two of them at gunpoint, and two car thefts that netted him close to $3,000.

Richard, who admitted a long juvenile record and said he was on probation from a Minnesota state reformatory, told Gurdack he first stole company checks and cashed $1,200 worth of them after quitting work for the Smith-Corona Typewriter Co. at St. Paul.

He came to Jacksonville for a week of "wild living," Richard said, then returned to St. Paul, stole and cashed $400 more in Smith-Corona checks and also cleaned out the cash register in a bar after forcing the owner and a waitress to lie on the floor.

He then stole a car, ditched it in Rochester, Minn., stole another one and pulled his biggest stickup at the Applebaum supermarket in St. Paul, Richard related.

He said he followed the supermarket manager after the store closed, waited for him to have a drink at a bar, then jumped into his car with him and forced him back to the store to turn off the burglar alarm and hand over some $900 from the safe.

That was on Jan. 10, Richard said, and he arrived in Miami Beach about four days later. He said he lived lavishly at the Atlantic Towers Hotel, 4201 Collins Ave.

Gypsy Boy's Condition Still Grave

Larry Mitchell, six-year-old gypsy prince injured here last weekend, still was in critical condition at Northshore Hospital late Tuesday.

The child apparently was struck by a hit-run driver Sunday afternoon. He was found by playmates lying along the roadside at NW 26th Ave. and 69th St. near a gypsy camp. He underwent surgery for a fractured skull.

Congregations of gypsy sympathizers have staked out on hospital grounds to wait the child's fate. He is grandson of Steve Mitchell, 87-year-old king of the gypsy tribe.

State Scorns City Permit

It's official now — the state will not take out a Miami permit for its new 2.5-million dollar office building at NW 12th Ave. and 14th St.

In Tallahassee, Terry Lee, coordinator of state institutions, told the cabinet that a Miami permit would add $3,000 to the building cost.

Lee said the state has never purchased a city permit in the past and has "no reason" to buy one now.

Gov. LeRoy Collins and members of the cabinet agreed.

Last week, Ellis Knox, head of the city building department, said the city will not fight the state's decision.

Designer Sniffs at Those on Boulevard

City to Get Street Sign Design (Free)

By JOHN MORTON
Herald Staff Writer

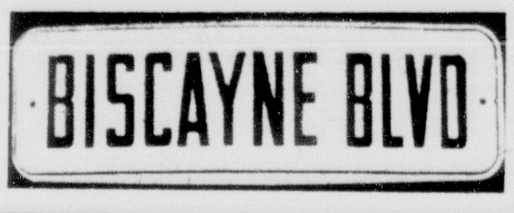
One of the nation's top industrial designers thinks the street signs along Biscayne Blvd. are "pretty drab" so he's going to whomp us up some new ones — free.

Raymond Loewy has designed just about everything from perfume bottles to bulldozers and his firm, Raymond Loewy Associates of New York, takes on an occasional street sign job as a "public service."

Mayor Robert King High met Malcolm Bane, a Loewy man, at a recent dinner party and their conversation got around to the black-silver street markers used on "the boulevard."

"We decided they are pretty drab," Mayor High said Tuesday, "and Bane offered to design new ones."

'Pretty Drab'



The Loewy associate confirmed the offer from New York Tuesday, but said Mayor High would have to acknowledge that the city wants them to go ahead.

"Be my guest," Mayor High replied.

Bane said the firm sometimes prepares as many as 300 different "concepts" of a specific job.

It will be up to the city to make the final choice of design.

The hammer-and-nails portion of the project will be carried out by the city's own street sign shop, the mayor said.

UM Out To Cut 'Frills'

Grid Losses Add to Woes

By PHIL MEYER
Herald Staff Writer

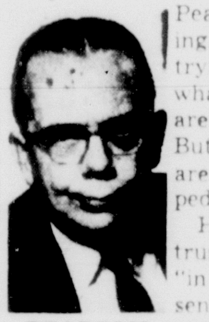
The University of Miami, its pocketbook strained by lagging enrollment and a money-losing football team, was sharpening its economy ax Tuesday.

University trustees said they are seeking "frills" to cut out of next year's budget.

"We need money — as much as we can get," one trustee said. "And where we find a department is costing us money and is not needed, we certainly will do away with it."

Reports that the trustees were looking hardest at the University Symphony, the Bureau of Business Research, and the Department of Home Economics were denied Tuesday by UM President Jay F. W. Pearson.

William S. Howland, director of public information, quoted Pearson as saying, "We are trying to effect what economies are possible. But no activities are being dropped."



PEARSON

However, one trustee said that "in a general sense and without going into specific departments, those things were discussed."

"All things are being examined to see where we can tighten our belts," the trustee said. "We must live within our own income."

The University's financial troubles were blamed Tuesday by Treasurer Eugene E. Cohen on "a substantial drop" in football revenue and the failure of enrollment to increase as expected.

"We budgeted for an increased number of students who never showed up, and for a good year in football," he said. "It gives us a problem."

Cohen said a 300-student increase in enrollment was expected, but only about 30 extra students showed up. He blamed the recent business recession for causing many out-of-town students to stay at home last fall. Daytime enrollment is about 9,000.

The losing football team drew 81,766 fewer paying spectators last fall than in the 1957 season. However, 30,000 of the deficit is accounted for by the seven-game home schedule as comparde to eight games the previous year.

UM officials are waiting anxiously for the spring enrollment figures, Cohen said.

"We don't know yet just how serious it will be," he said. "But the twice-a-year registration determines our major income."

At a luncheon meeting Tuesday of UM's Law Alumni Association, President Pearson said the university will come closer to operating on its tuition this year than practically any other school of its size in the country.

"But it can't be done," he said. "To provide proper educational advantages as a great institution, schools must have donors."

Pearson said capital is currently needed for a science building, a library, higher faculty pay, and debt amortization.

Heads of the three departments mentioned most in economy talk said Tuesday they doubted they would go.

"I don't think they could abolish us," said Dr. Reinhold P. Wolff, head of the Business Research Bureau. "Too many people in town need us."

Wolff added, however, that the bureau is not a self-sustaining operation, although it does contract to private firms for its services.

'Horse-and-Buggy' Era Ending?

Vast Traffic Law Changes Foreseen

Nominee To Decline Plans Post?

By LEO ADDE
Herald Staff Writer

At least one nominee to Metro's new Planning Advisory Board may decline the appointment, The Herald learned Tuesday, because of a new ruling by County Attorney Darrey A. Davis on conflict-of-interest laws.

Architect Edwin T. Reeder said the Davis ruling "may well have an effect" on his acceptance of a place on the county's most powerful advisory board. He added he has not made up his mind.

State and county laws bar planning advisors from making any new business contracts with the county government while they are on the board, Davis told the Metro Commission.

Commissioners gave formal approval Tuesday to the list of 11 planning advisers they drew up last week. They set a Jan. 30 effective date on the appointments, to give nominees chance to decline if they wish in light of the Davis ruling.

At the time commissioners named their choices to the board, Davis advised that members "would not be disqualified by law from transacting business with the county."

"I made a mistake," the county attorney said Tuesday. After a closer study of laws, he said, he believes planning advisers may carry out existing contracts their private businesses have with the county, but not make any new ones.

Reeder designed the new county jail and criminal courts building.

The list of advisers includes a truckline operator, automobile dealer, publisher, and real estate men whose private fields might make them bidders for county business.

The Planning Advisory Board will adopt the "master plan" for Dade development. The plan will have the force of law on land use and location of certain types of buildings.

Davis ruled that "as county officers, members of this board are precluded from direct or indirect personal dealings with the county. They may neither sell their products or their services to the county, nor may they purchase from the county."

Home's on Fire But She Sticks to Job

By JOY WINANS
Herald Writer

A lady school bus driver kept right on driving Tuesday—even though she knew her house was on fire.

In fact, she changed her route a little so she wouldn't have to drive by her flaming home.

"I didn't want to go to pieces," explained Mrs. Phillip Reams, 48, of near Homestead.

"I knew my first duty was to get those children to school."

She did. In four round trips, Mrs. Reams delivered 120 children to Redland School and South Dade High School.

It was on the first trip that she learned about the fire.

When she stopped to pick up her 10-year-old niece, Patricia Grossman asked, "Auntie, did you know your house was on fire?" (A neighbor had telephoned the Grossmans.)

"I tried hard to think it was just a small fire and that Phillip would put it out," said Mrs. Reams. "He is an ex-fireman, you know, and we have three fire extinguishers at the house."

But husband Phillip left for work before the fire started in the Reams' two-story pine home on Tennessee Rd.

When Mrs. Reams finally got home, four bus loads and one detour later, the home was gutted.

Gone was $8,000 worth of furniture, a deep freeze, washing machine and a brand new vibrating chair.

Firemen managed to save a 100-pound tank of bottled gas which they rolled from the side of the house.

Safety Unit Chief Sees '59 Action

By TOM LOWNES
Herald Staff Writer

Vast changes in Florida's "horse-and-buggy" traffic laws will be in force before the year is over, J. I. Jackson, director of Dade's Citizen's Safety Council, said Tuesday night.

Calling traffic "the biggest domestic problem this state has," Jackson forecast that 1959 legislative action would include:

AN INCREASE in minimum age limits for driver's licenses to 18 years — except for youngsters passing a state-paid after-school driving course. They will be eligible at 16.

HIGHER FEES for licenses. Perhaps a 25 or 50 cent increase over the present $1.25 yearly level. The extra money will finance free training for young motorists and other forms of driver education.

EXTENSION of the licensing period from one to three years with renewals staggered according to drivers' birthmonths.

STRICTER attention to driver's physical and mental fitness before license renewal.

INCLUSION of the "implied consent" clause in licenses, by which a driver agrees to either accept a drunkometer test when arrested or accept a license suspension prior to trial.

NEW LAWS to make the results of drunkometer tests and radar speed records admissible in court.

AN INCREASE from 400 to 500 in the number of Florida Highway Patrolmen.

Jackson made his predictions at a dinner of the Young Republican Club, 1947 W. Flagler St.

He was backed up on most points by Sen. Joe Eaton, chairman of the Legislature's Council on Traffic Safety — the group which proposes new traffic laws.

But Eaton said he would not go along with a sweeping expansion of the Highway Patrol's ranks — or anything else requiring financing through new taxation.

"This is a session," said Eaton, "in which most legislators aren't going to be willing to raise any taxes — and I'm one of them."

Both Jackson and Eaton credited The Herald's safety campaign for what they called the public's willingness — even public demand — for stiffer, surer traffic laws.

Eaton also added a prediction of his own to Jackson's 1959 legislative list: an unappealable 90-day minimum license suspension for drunk driving to replace the present full-year minimum which is often lifted after only a few weeks.

"Statistics show that if the present accident rate continues, one out of every two Floridians will be injured in an auto crash during his lifetime," Eaton said.

Would Allow Dade to Save Millions

Shift in Road Policy Urged

Dade County will save millions of dollars on its major roads program if the state assumes full responsibility for right-of-way acquisition — a step which a special governor's committee has recommended.

That prediction came Tuesday from William Singer, Miami's member of the State Road Board.

Price of the land exceeds cost of construction of some current projects in this area, Singer noted. For the interchange at NW 36th St. and Seventh Ave., the structure will cost 10.25 million dollars and the right-of-way 10.5 million.

For the past 10 years, State Road Department policy has required counties to acquire and pay for rights-of-way before the state would turn over its share of construction costs. On Tuesday, the governor's committee on rights-of-way advised that the State Road Department take over the burden of buying land for primary roads.

Singer said he will follow up this recommendation and urge that it be presented to the legislative session.

"It is nearly impossible to tell how much Dade County has spent on rights-of-way in the past 10 years," Singer said. "But from current projects, it obviously must have been millions.

"In my district's current $25 million bond issue," he added, "there is a seven million dollar item for land alone for the Palmetto expressway."

Singer said "the normal increase in land costs here" accounts for the huge right-of-way expenses.

"We have not run into instances of speculators acquiring the land when they first hear an expressway is going through, so they will make a big profit in condemnation proceedings," Singer said.

Beth Steel Abandons Its Merger Plans

Dow Jones, AP, UPI

Bethlehem Steel Corp. and the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. announced they have abandoned plans for a merger and will not appeal a federal district court injunction against it.

The companies said an appeal could not be finally disposed of before 1960.

The government opposed the merger on the ground that it violated the Clayton Act and would lessen competition and create a monopoly.

The companies said they still believe the merger would have stimulated competition and resulted in obvious advantages to steel consumers and the public.

'Czechs Treated Me Like Royalty'

By STAN JOHNSON
Herald Business Writer

A Miami manufacturer who just returned from a buying trip behind the Iron Curtain says it's not difficult to do business with the Communists.

"They treated me like royalty," said Jack Zwerner, president of Perrine Industries, Hialeah jalousie door manufacturer.

Zwerner visited Czechoslovakia where he made arrangements to buy window glass for his business.

He was met at an airport in Prague by a chauffeur-driven limousine and whisked to his hotel.

Later, he concluded a deal with the director of the government owned glass industry to buy 1.5 million dollars worth of jalousies over a 12-month period.

"They knew all about jalousies," said Zwerner. "I didn't have to explain anything to them."

He said the Czech glass can be delivered in Florida for about five per cent less than the glass he formerly bought in Western European countries.

Zwerner doesn't expect to encounter any sales resistance to his product in this country because of the switch to a Communist-made glass.

"A contractor is interested in quality and price," he said. "He doesn't care where the glass comes from."

The Daily Investor

'Your System Is Too Hit-or-Miss'

Q. I am a 39-year-old widow and have a monthly pension of $125. I ventured into the stock market for the first time a few months ago and I am a bit nervous.

I bought 15 shares of Kroger (I will have 45 as a result of the three-for-one split), 25 shares of Texas Gulf Sulphur, 100 shares of Chock Full O'Nuts, 1,000 shares of Lisbon Valley Uranium (at three cents a share) and 100 shares of Holly Corp. (at $1.50 a share).

I know the last two are highly speculative. But I decided to take the risk because of the low cost. What do you think of my choice?

A. Some are fair. Some are bad. But your whole system (if it can be called that) of buying stock is terrible. You are going about investing in a hit-or-miss method. You have no more right owning some of those things than you do playing the horses.

A widow on a pension should never buy highly risky stocks, no matter how low their price seems to be. The small profit you might make isn't worth the worry and the distinct possibility that you might lose some of what little money you have.

And those two low-priced things aren't the only ones you should be concerned about. Actually, none of the issues you hold is really suited for you.

Kroger has been a very good performer. It is a high-grade stock, but is more of a growth issue than an income producer. It should appeal to people looking to the future—not to widows in need of current income.

Texas Gulf Sulphur has had its ups and downs in the market. It might be easy to argue that, because the company is the world's largest producer of sulphur and has a strong financial position, its stock has to improve in our expanding economy. That may be true. But it has to live down its past reputation.

Chock Full O'Nuts looks good. However, the stock has been on the market only a short time and will have to prove itself.

Life Firms Plan Merger

Stockholders of the American Life Savings Insurance Co., which has headquarters in Miami, voted unanimously here Mondy to merge with a Nashville, Tenn., firm that has been expanding its insurance holdings in recent months.

American Life is being acquired by American Investors Corp., headed by Harry McDonald, former chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Louis Jepeway, board chairman of the Miami firm, said American Life policyholders will be protected "through re-guaranteed" policies handled by a South Carolina firm in the American Investors group.

Dr. E. C. Lunsford, president of American Life, becomes a vice president of American Investors under the new arrangement. Insurance commissioners of Florida and Tennessee must approve the merger before it becomes final but approval is expected in about 45 days.

This kangaroo is blissfully unaware of it, but she's been insured for $350.

In what is described as the Miami area's only individual life insurance policy for a kangaroo, Cauley and Martin insurance agency insured the life of Katy, the traveling mascot of Riddle Airlines.

George L. Giles, Riddle's president, took out the policy.

Katy is really more than a mascot. She's valuable as the central theme of a Riddle sales program and makes public appearances in cities on the airline's routes.

Unheralded Stock Goes Up 967 Pct.

NEW YORK —(UPI)— A spectacular stock market performance in the tradition of E. L. Bruce, Lukens Steel, American Motors and P. Lorillard is being staged by a little-known $2 million a year chemical company headquartered in Elizabeth, N.J.

Stock of Borne Chemical Co. on the American Stock Exchange more than doubled itself last week and touched a high Monday of $80 a share which is 967 per cent above its 1958 low of $7.50.

But it was sold heavily Tuesday when the American Stock Exchange announced a routine investigation into the rise. It lost $27.25 points net and closed at $42.25.

Last week it rose by $32.25 a share to $68.25.

Company officials aren't sure what's responsible. Neither are the brokerage houses.

But there are lots of theories. Among these are a slim supply of stock and a new process for hermetically sealed plastic containers.

In many cases of such rises the ticker is fired by groups trying to buy into the company.

Out of 189,492 outstanding shares only about 40,000 or 50,000 are on the market, with the balance held by management.

New High Set in Savings

A record savings increase of $47,123,000 in December brought total savings for the 103 Florida savings and loan associations to $2,054,265,000 at the close of 1958.

According to statistics released by the Florida Savings and Loan League, the record savings increase during December surpassed the previous monthly high of $40,879,500 established in December, 1957, by $6,243,500.

While savings were on the rise in December, total loans closed during the month also set a new monthly record of $51,904,761 which enabled the Florida associations to close out the year with $506,881,000 in loans closed.

This was the first time that the savings and loan lending volume in Florida had passed the half - billion - dollar mark. The record lending year was $54,096,000 above the total for 1957.

During 1958, the savings and loan associations in Florida financed 61,370 dwellings including 23,900 new homes.

A Sell-It-Yourself Lot

A do-it-yourself car lot where people can rent space and sell their own flivvers opened Tuesday in Fort Lauderdale.

The promoters, Bruce Meinken and Ray McMackin, say their Car Owners Market Corp. is the first used car lot in the nation which allows the buyer and seller to do business directly, thus eliminating middleman costs and profits.

A flat fee of $9 entitles the car owner to three days, or any part thereof, of "sales exposure" on the COMCO lot at 620 W. Broward Blvd.

After three days, the rate drops to $1.50 a day.

An inquiry card setup enables the buyer and seller to get together privately and set their own price.

Meinken and McMackin will advertise cars on their lots and arrange financing and insurance for buyers, if they need them.

Your Income Tax: III

Your Mother-in-Law May Be Worth $600

This is the third in a series of six articles which can help you save time and money in preparing your 1958 income tax return.

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Staff Writer

All last year you worried about supporting your dependents — your family and perhaps other relatives or a down-and-out friend who came to dinner and never left. Now you can rejoice and add up your string of $600 income tax exemptions.

Exemptions are the biggest single tax-cutting device. Each one lops $600 off the top of your taxable income. If you can claim enough of them, you'll owe no tax at all.

The rules for claiming exemptions are stiff and often misunderstood. Many taxpayers, for example, don't know that the man-who-came-to-dinner may be a legitimate tax exemption.

Another question that puzzles many taxpayers: what is income? It may be that some of the money you received in 1958 isn't considered income by Uncle Sam.

Exemptions will be discussed first — because they're a more pleasant topic.

You are sure to get at least one exemption, for yourself. And you get a second one if you were 65 or over on or before Jan. 1, 1959.

If you file a joint return, you also get one for your spouse—two if your mate is 65 or over.

Any blind taxpayer is entitled to still another exemption.

Additional exemptions are granted for your children, members of your household (not counting servants) and dependent relatives.

There are five tests which must be met by such people if you are to claim them as exemptions. They must:

HAVE RECEIVED more than half their total support from you.

NOT HAVE FILED a joint return for 1958 with their husband or wife.

BE A CITIZEN of the United States or a resident of the United States, Canada, Mexico, Panama or the Canal Zone.

HAVE BEEN a member of your household for the entire taxable year (that can cover a long-time dinner guest), or be related to you, or your spouse if you file jointly.

HAVE RECEIVED less than $600 in total reportable income during 1958.

There are exceptions to this fifth requirement. You can claim one exemption for each of your children regardless of his or her income, provided the child was under 19 at any time during the tax year or was a fulltime student. These exceptions also apply to stepchildren and legally adopted children.

It is important to note that your children must meet the other four tests or you can't claim them as exemptions.

Incidentally, you can ignore the value of any scholarship in figuring out whether you provide more than half the total support of a son or daughter who is a student.

Benefits under the GI bill, though, do count as part of a student's support.

The relatives who can be claimed as exemptions even though they're not members of your household are: mother, father, mother-in-law, father-in-law, brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister, brother-in-law, sister-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, stepmother, stepfather, grandparents, grandchildren or—when related by blood—aunt, uncle, niece or nephew.

In some cases, several people chip in to provide more than half the support of a relative, such as a widowed mother.

Although none of them contributes more than half the support alone, each can take a turn claiming the exemption if:

AROUND INCOME TAX TIME, I GROW FOND OF THAT LAZY NO-GOOD BROTHER OF YOURS!
Z-Z-Z

THE SUPPORTED person meets the five tests for a dependent, except that no one person provides half the support.

THE PERSON claiming the exemption contributes more than 10 per cent of the dependent's support.

EACH OTHER person in the group files a statement with IRS declaring he or she is not claiming the individual as an exemption for that same year.

Note that dependents, other than your children, can't have reportable income of $600 or more.

The following income is tax-free and doesn't have to be reported by anyone:

STATE AND FEDERAL Social Security payments, workmen's compensation (including state and federal unemployment benefits) and payments under the Railroad Retirement Act.

INHERITANCES and death benefits from life insurance policies.

ALL GOVERNMENT payments and benefits to veterans and their families, except interest on terminal leave bonds and retirement pay not connected with a disability.

GIFTS, meaning money or anything of value for which you performed no service whatever.

INTEREST on state and municipal bonds.

SUBSISTENCE and rental allowances to members of the armed forces.

DIVIDENDS on GI life insurance programs (but not interest on dividends left on deposit with the Veterans Administration).

You also can ignore several other categories in adding up your taxable income, but there are strings attached.

Prizes and awards are exempt from taxes if given in recognition of past accomplishments in civic, literary, artistic, charitable or religious fields.

If you had to enter a contest to get a prize or award, or agreed to perform a substantial future service for the donor, the prizes and awards are taxable.

Scholarships also are tax exempt if the recipient is a candidate for a degree. If the recipient isn't a candidate for a degree, the maximum exempt amount is $300 a month for 36 months.

Remember, too, as noted in an earlier article, that the first $50 of dividends on stock ($100 if you file a joint return and the stock is owned jointly with your wife) generally is tax exempt.

In addition, dividends subject to tax are eligible for a special tax credit which is explained on page 14 of the IRS instruction booket.

The odds are that any other money you collected during 1958 is taxable. To run down the list of taxable income:

Wages, salaries, bonuses, commissions, fees, tips, interest, profits from the sale or exchange of property, rents and royalties, profits from farm, business or profession, income from estates or trusts.

Even alimony and separate maintenance or support payments received from someone who deducted them on his or her tax return are taxable.

Tomorrow: Tax breaks given job-connected expenses, sick pay and retirement income.

Corporate News Stirs Movement

NEW YORK — (AP) — The stock market arrested a decline and closed irregular Tuesday.

Individual stocks moved, sometimes pretty widely, on specific corporate news. Otherwise, the general runs of gains and losses kept mostly within a one-point range.

Word that Bethlehem and Youngstown Sheet had called off their proposals for a merger was outstanding. Youngstown reacted by wiping out a 3⅛ point gain and closing unchanged. Bethlehem, comparatively unruffled, lost ⅛ on the day, closing at a slightly better price than it had before the news.

A raft of stock split and dividend news was published. After the New York market close U.S. Steel reported on earnings and declared the usual dividend. It has a net gain of 5-8 on the day.

Most striking stock movement was on the American Stock Exchange where Borne Chemical topped to a loss of 27 points, closing at 42¼. The stock doubled in price last week and hit a high of 80 Monday. Its wild performance brought investigation by the exchange and the SEC.

Ah! Sweet Mystery of Rice
For the uninitiated whose only contact with rice to date has been at a wedding, we suggest a very rapid excursion to our menage. You'll be absolutely disconcerted at the way the little grains are coaxed, coddled and cajoled into a rare delicacy. Try our Fried Rice—steamed, then browned with chopped chicken, barbecued pork, green onions, eggs and soya sauce.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

A-1 Sealed, written bids will be received by the City of Opa Locka, Florida, at the City Hall, February 12, 1959 up to 8:00 P.M. Eastern Standard Time, at which time and place all bids will be publicly opened and read aloud. The bids will be based on the furnishing, delivering, and installing, or constructing, the Road Program within the limits of the City of Opa Locka, Florida, otherwise known as Project 904, as shown on the Engineer's plans.

A-2 Bids based on the entire program will only be considered.

A-3 The Bidder will submit, along with his bid, the following: (a) A list of City, County contractor's licenses and on each license, so indicate the type of license it is, whether general contractor, sub-contractor, or engineering contractor and the category of work he is licensed to perform under each license. (b) A photostatic copy of his Dade County and State occupational license, listing his principal place of business in Dade County. (c) A current financial statement, the form of which will be supplied in the Engineer's Specifications and which the Bidder must certify as to being accurate. (d) A bid bond in the amount of five per cent (5%) of the base bid as a guarantee that the Bidder, if awarded the contract, will within five (5) consecutive days after written notice be given of such award, enter into a written contract with the City of Opa Locka, Florida, in accordance with his accepted bid and will submit a contract surety bond satisfactory to the City of Opa Locka, Florida, and equal to one hundred per cent (100%) of the contract price. (e) A statement in letter form stating the maximum amount of time the Bidder will require to complete the project. (f) A written letter from the insurance or surety company that, in the event the Bidder is a successful Bidder, they will supply his contract surety bond, which will state that they (the surety company) will write a contract bond and performance bond for the Bidder, and that they (the insurance company) qualify for the handling of such bonds as covered in the State Laws of Florida, Acts of 1957, Page 5, Section 631.17, Chapter 57-100.

A-4 All construction shall be carried out in accordance with the plans, specifications, and contract documents which may be examined at the Opa Locka City Hall, Opa Locka, Florida. Upon deposit of Seventy Five Dollars ($75.00) the plans and specifications may be obtained at the office of the City Engineer, INTERSTATE ENGINEERING CO., INC., 1222 N. E. 163rd Street, North Miami Beach, Florida. Upon return of the documents undamaged, within fifteen (15) days after the opening of bids, Seventy Five Dollars ($75.00) will be refunded to active Bidders only. Inactive Bidders will forfeit the complete deposit of Seventy Five ($75.00) Dollars.

A-5 No Bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening of bids.

A-6 The City of Opa Locka, Florida, reserves the right to (a) Waive informalities in any bid; (b) Reject any and all bids; (c) Delete a portion of the program; (d) Extend the program within the limits of the items involved.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS
Construction of Control Tower
at Tamiami Airport

Sealed Bids for furnishing all labor, materials, tools, equipment and incidentals for the construction of an Airport Traffic Control Tower at Tamiami Airport will be received by the Dade County Port Authority of Dade County, Florida, at the office of the Authority on the 10th floor of the Dade County Court House in Miami, Florida until 10:00 a.m. E.S.T. on February 5, 1959, at which time and place all bids received will be publicly opened and read.

The project provides for the construction of a concrete block tower base, for moving an existing control cab from Miami International Airport and securing it on the top of such tower base, for rehabilitation of the existing cab and for mechanical and electrical and various incidentals.

The amount of liquidated damages to be paid by the Contractor or his Surety to the Authority for failure to complete the work within the time stipulated in the Contract Documents shall be as stated in the Contract Documents.

The wage rates for laborers, mechanics and apprentices shall be not less than those established by the Florida Industrial Commission for public construction in Dade County, Florida. Labor classification and corresponding minimum wage rates to be paid are included in the Contract Documents.

Plans and other Contract Documents are open to public inspection during office hours, at the office of the Port Authority Engineer, Dade County Port Authority, 7th Floor, 20th Street Terminal, Miami International Airport, Miami, Florida, and may be obtained there, or by written application directed to the Port Authority Engineer, at P. O. Box 757, Miami 48, Florida, upon payment of Two Dollars ($2.00) for one set of plans and two copies of the other Contract Documents. The payment will be refunded upon return of one set of plans and one copy of the other Contract Documents, in good condition, to the Authority, within thirty (30) days after the opening of the Bids.

Each Bid must be accompanied by a cashier's check or by a Bid Bond in the amount of five percent (5%) of the Total Bid Price as a guarantee that the Bidder, if awarded the Contract, will within ten (10) calendar days after written notice of such award enter into a written Contract with the Dade County Port Authority, in accordance with the accepted Bid and give a Performance and Payment Bond satisfactory to that Board in a sum at least equal to the Total Bid Price.

The Authority reserves the right to waive any informalities and to reject any or all Bids.

ROUTINE WORK LESSENS YOUR ABILITY TO THINK FOR YOURSELF!

ARE THERE FEWER DIVORCES AMONG EDUCATED PEOPLE?
YES ☐
NO ☐
3
MOST PEOPLE TAKE AN INTEREST IN POLITICS!
TRUE ☐
FALSE ☐

By S. M. DUVALL and EVELAN M. DUVALL, Ph.Ds

FALSE. MUCH DEPENDS on your mental habits while you're doing the routine work. If you develop the habit of thinking, you'll find that some of our best ideas come when we're washing the dishes, or mowing the lawn. The trick is to set yourself an intellectual task as you start the routine job.

2. Yes. Factually, the more education people have, the lower the divorce rate. Education improves a marriage's social position and, usually, its income. It ctn give the couple a better understanding of the principles of successful living. When husband and wife attend night school, it's decidedly a good sign. Parents often want their children to get as much schooling as possible to prepare them better for life, including married life.

3. False. Political scientists Robert Agger and Vincent Ostrom studied the political activities of 260 people in a rural community of 3,000. Of these, about 20 had some influence, 37 talked a lot but had little say, 24 worked, and 132 did almost nothing at all. Three men ran the town. These researchers feel that the ordinary citizen ought at least to know what the score is, and preferably to be willing to do something about his community.

NOLAN BROWN Cadillac

OPEN LETTER TO USED CAR BUYERS

Three reasons why you see more Cadillacs on the road today than any other make in its price field:

First — Cadillac is the most beautiful car on the road.

Second — Cadillac is the easiest handling and the most comfortable car to ride in.

Third — Cadillac is one of the most economical cars to own and operate over a period of time.

In our used car department we have the most beautiful and reasonable priced used Cadillacs you can find anywhere. They are traded from the original owners and look and run like new. We can make you a very attractive offer for your present car. Our stock also consists of many other makes and models of clean used cars.

Come by, see them, drive them, or call us for a demonstration. Then you will see why you should . . .

MAKE THE MOVE TO CADILLAC AND NOLAN BROWN NOW!

I'M REALLY raving about our 1956 PONTIAC "V8" 2-door HARDTOP. You will too when you see and drive it. It's a honey. The two tone Kenya Ivory and Limefire Green finish is in showroom condition. The original factory interior including the Naugahide doorpanels has been sparked with beautiful expensive tailor made to fit Naugahyde and foampuff seat covers.

HERE'S the extras — DUAL RANGE HYDRAMATIC, the big "8" tube De Luxe push button radio, thermostat heating and fresh air system, directional signals, and above average white wall tires. I couldn't hear a rattle in its tight body. Better be first in line for this one. Enough said? No Cash needed — Just trade in your 1951 model for the down payment.

Life With God Proves the Best

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: Would it be possible for you to provide a list of activities that do not merit Christian approval. I am always confronted with this problem as the director of our youth work in the church.

My Answer

ANSWER: I know of no such classification of activity. I hope that none will be made, for then Christianity would degenerate from being a life lived in fellowship with God to a legalistic type of association that would produce more pharisees and hypocrites than Christians. The genius of the Christian faith is the personal liberty granted to individuals to follow the leading of the Holy Spirit. It is this freedom that demands of us the making of choices. Out of this constant tension produced by the necessity of choice comes a strong and vigorous faith and a conscious fellowship with Jesus Christ. Those who live in faith and fellowship do all things to the glory of God and are not bogged down with petty prohibitions.

"Good Looks" Cream for Whole Family

ESOTÉRICA
3 months' supply
$2*
7 oz. economy size $4*
*plus tax

A "good looks" cream for family skin problems! Called Esoterica. Invisible — fast acting, because it carries medication under the skin where these problems start. So effective, Esoterica is now featured by leading stores everywhere. Results guaranteed if your problem listed below:

Fades Age Spots* on Hands

*Weathered brown spots on your hands and face tell the world you're getting old, perhaps before you really are. Fade them out with new Esoterica, the new medicated cream that breaks up masses of pigment under the skin to make it look white, smooth and young again. Younger folks may use Esoterica to retard age signs indefinitely.

Helps Enlarged Pores

Often a man's first "old age mark"

Open enlarged pores may cause your complexion to look rough, and unclean. Regular use of Esoterica helps shrink the opening to smooth out recesses. Here's a tip for men: Use Esoterica daily. Leaves skin supple, clean and clear. Its delicate fragrance soon disappears, yet, the beneficial result is long-lasting because Esoterica works under the skin.

Blackheads-Pimples*

Stubborn *outward pimples and blackheads respond fast. Esoterica, the medicated cream, clears up skin troubles where other creams have failed. No longer need you suffer the embarrassment and loneliness caused by these unsightly blemishes. Apply Esoterica at night—tomorrow, your mirror will reveal a clearer, brighter and smoother skin. It's "date bait." It's not a cover-up. It penetrates deep to work from inside out.

FREE OFFER—Limited Time Only!

8-day trial size of HORMONEX BEAUTY SERUM—amazing new $3.50 per ounce concentrated liquid hormone serum. Only 7 drops a day fades wrinkles, crow's feet. Works fast to make skin look younger, softer, smoother. Spread over face and throat. Look for amazing results. Free with ESOTERICA.

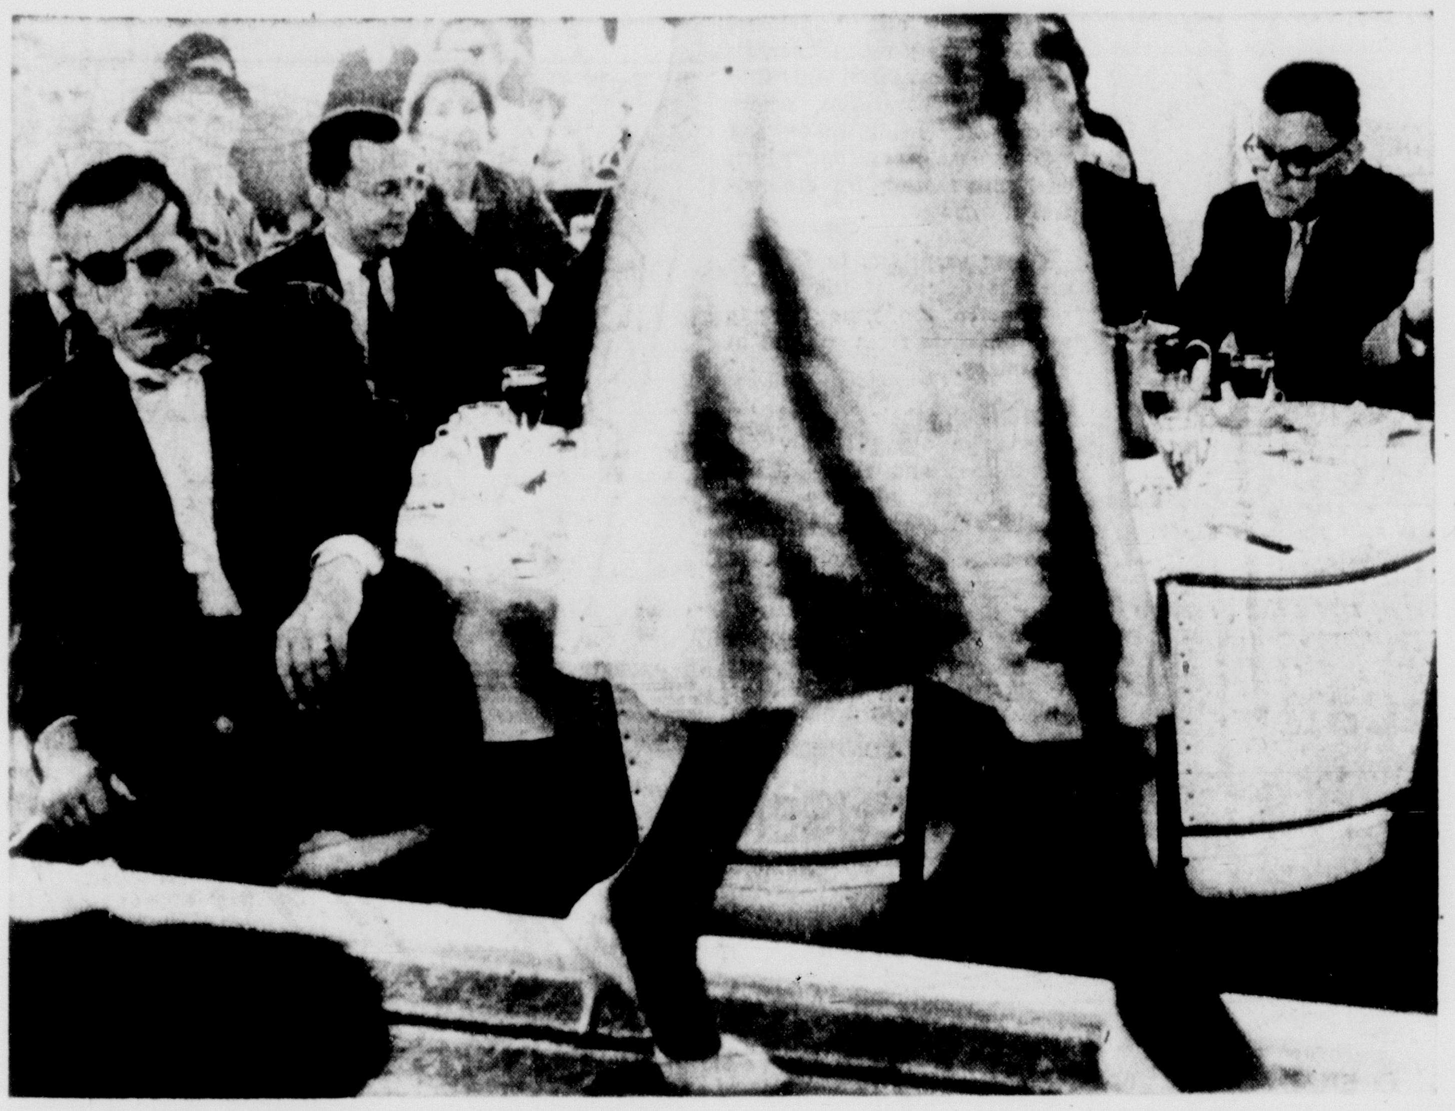
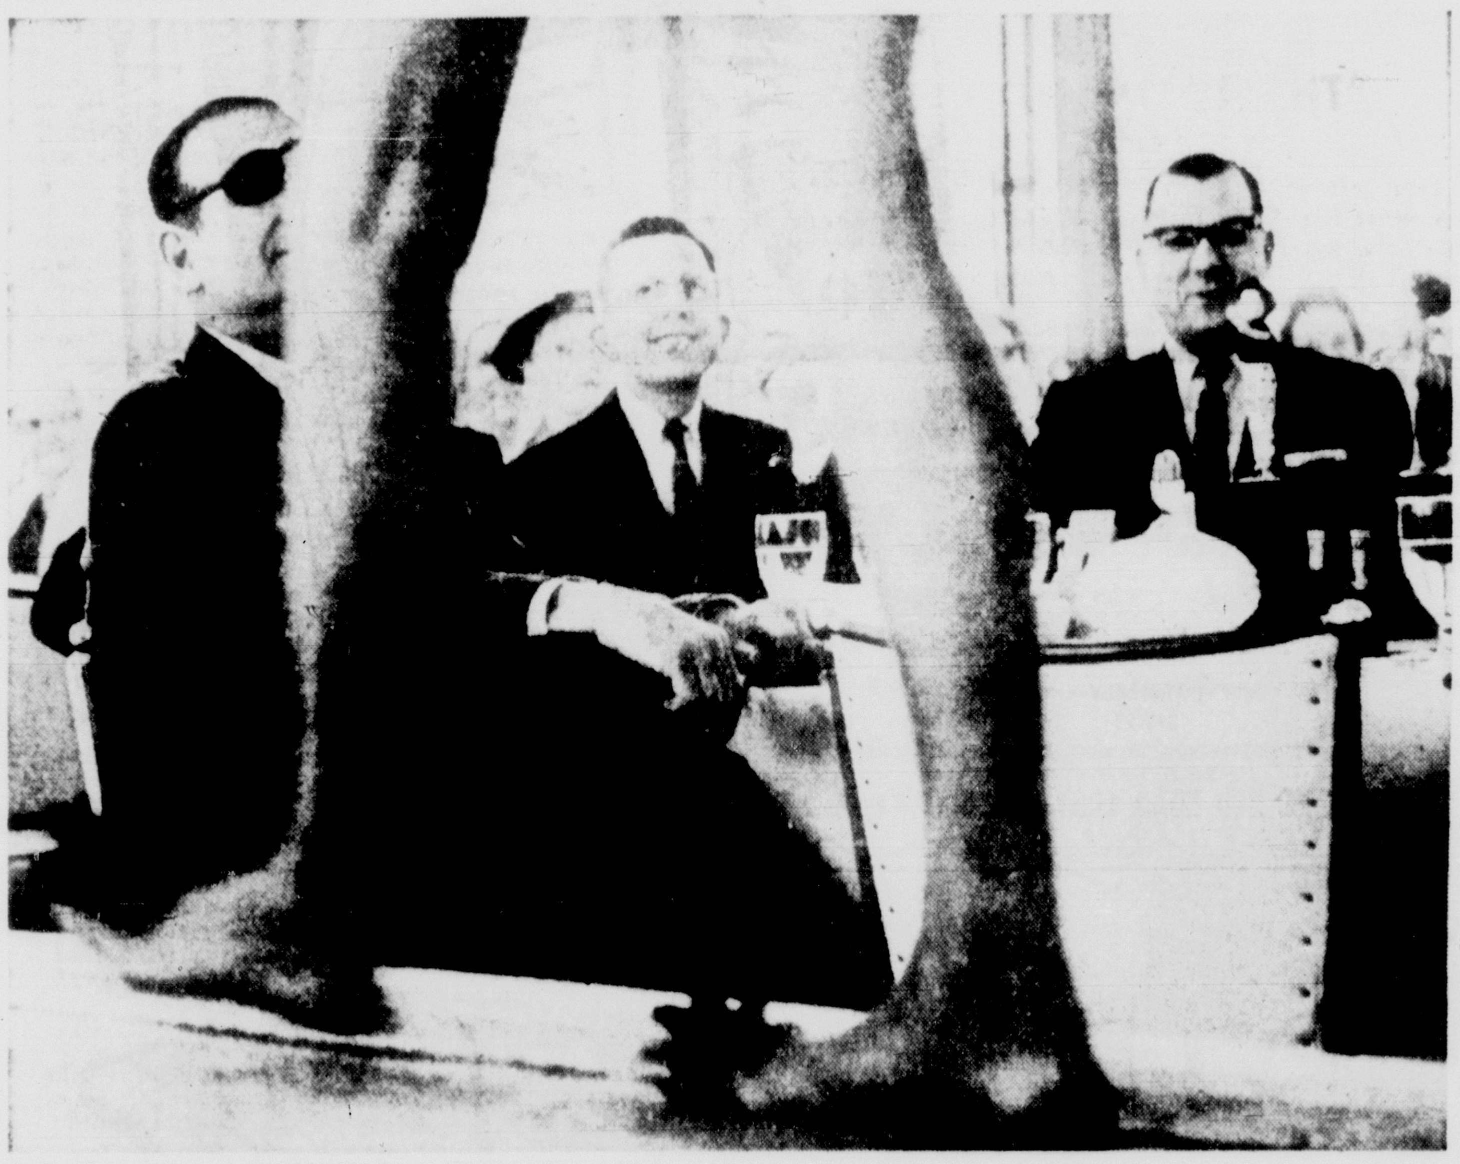
OF FASHION SHOW

A Male's Eye View



MEN COULDN'T CARE LESS about the dresses in a fashion show sponsored by the Coco Plum Woman's Club. Registering various degrees of boredom are Hugh Grengras, Don Cravens and Harold B. Bosworth who were caught off guard by the camera.

—Herald Staff Photos by Ray Fisher



BUT BATHING SUITS! That's another story. Look how the eyes light up, the smiles on these happy men. Grengras, Cravens and Ray T. Sterling enjoyed this part of the fashion show. Eight men attended the fashion show and sat at a special "rooster" table, right up close to the runway.

'Another Evita Peron? No, No!' Says Argentina's First Lady

Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

CHICAGO — Senora Elena Frondizi, quiet little wife of the Argentine president, said she can "never, never, never" be another Eva Peron.

And that, she added, is a good thing for her country.

The short, plump, dark-eyed senora had only one other word for her glamorous blonde predecessor:

"No," she said. "No, no, no," meaning she didn't want to be compared with Eva.

Argentina, she said, must never have another Evita.

The wife of President Arturo Frondizi, dressed in plain navy and white, stuck close to her husband's side during her first morning in Chicago.

That's the way she likes it, she said, and added:

"I am happiest being just a little shadow of my husband."

(The Frondizis will arrive in Miami Friday and be the honor guests at a state dinner Saturday evening at the Fontainebleau. President Frondizi will be here to dedicate the new terminal building at the international airport on Sunday.)

Sra. Frondizi wears almost no makeup—just a touch of pink lipstick—and she hasn't bothered to touch up the streaks of gray in her short, dark hair.

And after six days of whirling through the U. S., she looks a little tired.

An interpreter was handy in her hotel suite, but Sra. Frondizi knows enough English to speak for herself.

"I am not active in what you call public life," she said. "I prefer tending my house and my husband."

She and the president have a daughter, 21, in Argentina.

The senora doesn't plan to shop or sightsee in Chicago, she said.

How We Can Have Better Schools

By ELEANOR DIXON
Herald Club Editor

Better public schools for Florida's children need not mean higher school taxes on the county level says State Sen. Verle A. Pope, of St. Augustine.

And it needn't mean accepting federal aid — which the senator opposes.

His approach to financing better schools, which he outlined in Miami Tuesday, would include three steps:

1. Require "special interest groups — power, mining, phosphate and pulp industries" to pay their fair share of state sales tax.
2. Cut down on fringe services rendered by the public school system, such as the adult education program.

"We could reduce the expense of adult education by requiring tuition. Most of these students are working people who could afford it."

3. Get more use out of present school buildings to "postpone capital outlays."

The silver haired senator, twice named Florida's most valuable senator, spoke Tuesday night at the Miami Woman's Club's banquet.

This is the club's annual social event honoring members' husbands and more than 150 guests sat at the pink and white decorated dinner tables in the club dining room.

In his after dinner talk, the senator stressed the need of public knowledge of government and the particular importance of the educational system as a "first line of defense of the nation."

Our educational system, he said, should be geared to the "immediate problem of scientific defense" and the long range problem of combatting "the great effort of communistic forces to make inroads from within" in democracy.

The senator is a member of the legislature's interim committee on education which has made an intensive study of school problems. Earlier Tuesday he said the committee will probably recommend "accelerating emphasis on the teaching of mathematics, languages and science and strengthening teacher qualifications in academic fields."

Mrs. Menser To Visit Here

Mrs. C. L. Menser, Vero Beach, president of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs, will be the guest today of Coral Gables Junior Woman's Club at a noon luncheon in the clubhouse.

Plans for the juniors' cabaret Feb. 27 will be presented. Another guest of honor will be Mrs. M. Lewis Hall, Coral Gables, second vice president of the federation.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Christiansen
. . . at Committee of 100's Bal Prestige

By HELEN WELLS
Herald Society Editor

Bal Prestige, Committee of 100's annual ball at Indian Creek Country Club Tuesday night, was just that, a prestige party.

For instance, Dr. John Oliver LaGorce, well loved in this locality as well as nationally, was honorary chairman with Mrs. LaGorce, although she was absent, having been called to Washington.

Heading the receiving line in the loggia were Leonard Roy, executive vice president of the Committee, and his attractive June, who wore black to set off her black hair and camellia white skin. They introduced the 450 guests to Dr. LaGorce and other co-chairmen of the committee who were Mary and Ed Christiansen, Virginia and Jim Gerity Jr., Sally and Bill Kappel, Ivah and Neil Miller.

The Geritys donated the favors which were good looking silver ash trays.

Helen Berry and Loren, who arrived Friday from Dayton, Ohio, the Everett Larshes and the John E. Wrathers gave the decorations, flowers and programs, blue and silver, colors of the Committee.

Neil and Ivah Miller

The Christiansens rounded up the entertainment which was Nancy Donovan, vocalist.

Hazel and John Reish loaned the replicas of fabulous jewels which they have donated to Lowe Art Gallery. They include the crowns of the royal family of England, diamonds big enough to choke an ox and other spectacular jewels.

The Reishes entertained Clay Aldrich, director of Lowe Gallery, and Mrs. Aldrich, Dr. and Mrs. William Budreau, and the Newton Skillmans, among others.

Ivah Miller, in blue satin trimmed with ermine, and Neil, just back from a deep freeze trip to Chicago and his boyhood home, Lime Springs, Iowa, which he hadn't visited in 40 years, had among their guests Ivah's son Freddie Brooks and his pretty wife Willie, Beth and Sandy Gramling, Beverly and John Muckerman, Maude and Ross Young.

Other hosts at this merry party included Amelia and George Coury, Jane and Jim Dickey, Hattie and Al McCarthy, June and J. P. Simmons, the Marcellus Staleys, Cile and Dr. Nicholas Tierney, Agnes and Dr. D. Ward White.

Places To Go

Future party dates: Maybelle and John Haynsworth, Marge and Nate Hunt are combining forces for a cocktail, buffet dance on Feb. 27th at the Surf Club.

Betty and Orion Mather have set Feb. 24th for their cocktail buffet dance, also at the Surf.

May (Mrs. Floyd) Best and Hazel (Mrs. Al) Penn have invitations in the mail for a luncheon on Feb. 25th at the Surf. May arrives from Elkhart, Ind., next week.

On Feb. 11th Marion (Mrs. E. E.) Swartswelter is entertaining at luncheon for Florence Bourke Ellis after the latter's first book review at the Surf.

★ ★ ★

There will be cocktails on Feb. 7th at the Bay Point home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Flandreaux. A number of their guests will be friends of Eileene Flandreaux's son, Dick Maloy, who is winding up his year as president of the University Club, and is having a few friends from the club as guests.

★ ★ ★

Among students who will receive their sheepskins on Tuesday at the graduation exercises of University of Miami, will be Ursula Bitter, daughter of John Bitter, dean of the school of music and director of the Symphony.

First Night at the Playhouse

Despite active competition from the opera opening Monday the first performance of "Visit to a Small Planet" attracted scores of theater lovers to Coconut Grove Playhouse.

In the audience was an authority on the comedy — its author Gore Vidal. With him were Playhouse owner George Engle and his wife Dorothy, plus their guests Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bottorf, long-time friends from Owensburg, Ky.

Broadway was also represented by Lola Fisher who got rave notices when she replaced temporarily Julie Andrews in My Fair Lady. She was with her brother Ed Fisher, a well-known skin diver, and his wife who are local people.

What Does Doctor Mean-- 'Free Floating Anxiety?'

By DR. J. G. MOLNER

DEAR DR. MOLNER:

My brother has a nervous condition and his psychiatrist diagnosed it is a 'free-floating anxiety.' Could you explain what he means, and can it be cured? — J. S.

Dr. J. G. Molner

You know, I rather like that psychiatrist. He got your curiosity stirred up.

If he had described "anxiety in technical terms, you'd likely have said, "Uh-huh," and let it go at that.

If he'd said, "Your brother just has a terrible habit of stewing over things, whether they require any worry or not," you'd perhaps have replied, "Sure, anybody can see that."

But he mixed the jargons. And got you interested. Good for him!

There's nothing wrong with anxiety — if there's a reason for being anxious. You suffer from anxiety when a child is sick, when you think your job is in danger, when you can't figure out how to pay a bill that's due next week. You're in a car that is being driven too fast, your wife is mad at you, the furnace is on the fritz and you don't know if it will last out the winter. So you are anxious!

Anxiety — or worrying about what needs to be worried about — is perfectly reasonable.

But when somebody starts to worry just for the sake of worrying, that's something else. He remains in a habitual state of anxiety even when things are going well. It's a "free-floating anxiety" when you worry, without any reason to support it.

Where did this anxiety come from? From some overwhelming problem recently? No. It came, more likely, from some combination of things in the past.

We know that this habitual, emotional, illogical sort of anxiety is harmful. Since it is not based on logic, or on the conscious choice of the victim, it isn't something he can get over just by telling himself not to worry. Somebody has to help him find the deep-seated, and perhaps almost forgotten experiences which got his emotions locked into this pattern of anxiety.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible. Always write to him in care of The Miami Herald.

Mrs. Roosevelt Meets Our Future Pharmacists

By ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

CHICAGO, Ill. — The other afternoon I went over to speak at the Brooklyn College of Pharmacy, which is part of Long Island University.

MRS. FDR

This school is entirely supported by student tuition fees, yet these fees are kept remarkably low.

I confess that I knew little about the education given to the men and women who make up our doctors' prescriptions in our drugstores, and I was very much interested in the research institute and the laboratories where studies are being made and experiments carried out which deal with therapy for the control of diseases.

I was surprised, in fact, to see the extent of the education given the young people who graduate from colleges of pharmacy.

Although their special interests lie along clearly defined lines and their studies have to be intensive in a particular area, it was interesting that they should still wish to carry on a course, in which I spoke, dealing with general interests in various other fields.

Two Cute Books

IF YOU HAVE a family consisting of two small boys—one perhaps two or three years older than the other—you will enjoy a picture book of its captions called "My Little Brother Gets Away With Murder," by Alan and Harry Pesin.

The authors are father and and older son. The little brother is that lovely, golden-angel, around two or three, who behaves like a devil and never looks like one.

If anywhere you have had a combination of this kind, you will chuckle from beginning to end.

I received another little book the other day which will take you just a minute to look at, but you may enjoy reading it and showing pictures to your children or grandchildren.

It is a book of rhymes dedicated to "boys and girls everywhere."

The title is "Green Book," the verses are by Jean Merin, and it is illustrated by Kathleen Spagnolo.

Race Announcer Fred Capossela
. . . no bets in 25 years

COLLECTS STAMPS INSTEAD

Hialeah's Announcer Never Bets on Ponies

By REGRET
Herald Columnist

"And that's Hartack in orange on Nadir, orange, Nadir, Nadir, orange, Hartack, Nadir, number seven, orange, Nadir, number seven, Hartack . . ."

Winners' Circle

Sounds like an announcer calling a one-entry race, doesn't it?

Well, it isn't. It's Fred Capossela, announcer at Hialeah, fixing one horse in his mind as the horses walk to the starting gate before a race.

This spiel, a repetition of horses, jockeys, colors and numbers, is all that breaks the silence in the announcer's box, high above the finish line from the time the horses leave the paddock until they are at the gate. Five minutes is all Capossela has to memorize the field. He doesn't think about a race until number one horse sets a hoof on the track, and he forgets all about it the second the trailing horse crosses the finish line.

Capossela, a small, happy-faced man who dresses beautifully, celebrated his 25th year of announcing at Tropical Park this year, his 16th at Hialeah. He's called the field at all the New York tracks for 20 years and has been connected with racing for 35.

He hasn't missed a day's work from illness in 29 years.

Cappy, as he's best known, has a wife Frances and a son Fred Jr., now a senior at Fordham University. His hobby is stamp collecting on which he concentrates just as hard as he does on the line-up before a race.

"If a stamp collector comes in here," he gestured around the announcer's box, "we stop everything."

He collects only 19th century U.S. die proofs and essays, and won second prize with his collection in the international stamp show in New York's Colisseum in 1956.

Racing touches Cappy's life very little outside of the time he is memorizing and calling a race. He never talks horses off duty and never, in 25 years, has he bet on a horse.

"I couldn't give an impartial call if I did," he explained. "I call every horse in a race because every bettor deserves it, whether he's betting $2 or $1,000.

The pressure of memorizing and calling nine races a day, six days a week from March 25 to November 30 — 215 days a year — has convinced Capossela to leave racing at the track and stick to stamps at home.

"That keeps us balanced," said he.

A Good Day To Wear Slacks

PANTS WERE the order of a recent damp day for women in the grandstand. Slacks came in all shades—black velvet, lavender plaid, violet cotton, baby blue flannel, rusty corduroy and bright red velveteen.

No spectacular long pants showed up in the clubhouse—there's a rule ag'in 'em.

Also in fashion were muddy boots — on the jockeys.

* * *

First Time Out This Season

First-time visitors at Hialeah this season include James Cox Brady, New York business leader and member of the Jockey Club, policy making group for American racing.

Mr. Brady was lunching with Anderson Fowler, husband of Mr. Brady's sister Genevieve who owns Glenelg Stable in Teaneck, N.J.

Santorin, Mr. Brady's 3-year old chestnut fillie, ran second in the third race Saturday.

Season first-timers too were Mr. and Mrs. Amory Haskell, just back from their West Indies honeymoon.

'Femininity' Is Fashion Story With Paris' Top Designers

By PAUL GHALI
Miami Herald Chicago News Foreign Service

PARIS — Watch your shoulders, your neckline, your hair, your waist this season. This is where the 1959 Paris fashion story lies.

It's a story that accentuates femininity.

You will show your graceful curves instead of being forced to squeeze into rigid busts or hide under unbecoming sacks. And you won't have to shorten your skirts so they show your knees.

With four top designers — Jacques Heim, Jean Patou, Pierre Balmain and Pierre Cardin having shown wholesome new collections, it can be said that Paris fashion is set — unless, of course, Dior's St. Laurent decides otherwise Thursday.

Wider shoulders, open coats and suits, belted waists and wide heavy hats to balance the silhouette. This is the big news.

Shoulders are squared and framed in stiff, standup bands or wide cape collars of woven fabric strips. Sometimes they are inserted in graceful, heart-shaped ruffles resembling portraits of Queen Mary Stuart. Sometimes they are inserted in boned midriff collars encircling necklines and ending in graceful capes in back.

Sleeves are three-quarter length, always without cuffs. There are plenty of short, wide-sleeved jackets skimming the waist. Sometimes neckline width is achieved by mounting the sleeve in a double pleat at shoulder point.

In coats and afternoon wear the big news is the wide boat or keyhole neck.

Daytime coats are broad-shouldered as are the suit jackets or wide like a tent falling from boat necklines scooped out from one shoulder to the other. Cocktail and dinner coats are often of light printed material and end in ruffles sometimes adding a third tier below a double-ruffled dress.

* * *

THERE are two types of suits. One has long, flaring jackets — just what good old Chanel has been calling for, for years. The other has a slim long jacket bloused over a wide belt at the natural waistline.

For daytime wear skirts are slightly longer, covering the knee — but just. For evening wear they are ankle length.

At Heims', suits have wide open necklines and sailorlike collars. Jackets are worn over narrow skirts and tuck-in blouses.

Patou shows shirtwaist dresses and short evening models marked by punching effects over and above close-fitting belts.

At Cardin, Dior's best pupil, the new line is called the hoop. The silhouette is slender. Shoulders and bosoms are stressed by hoop collars and short full-flown sleeves.

The Balmain leitmotif is gaiety — pastel colors and pearls.

Pearls are used as buttons or to inspire colors: pink pearls, black pearls and so forth.

There are two silhouettes: The sheath and the wide, bell-shaped dress. Like all the other houses, Balmain offers broadened shoulders and belted skirts.

He offers some exquisite technical details of couture. Sleeves are not mounted, they are cut in the same piece as the coat.

For evening wear, Balmain shows very narrow underskirts topped by wide Gainsborough-type dresses.

Hats are big, heavy affairs. Little hats are doomed. The new hats often are feather-topped or wide straw forms as won by Breton peasants, with ribbons or flowers. Sometimes they have the appearance of cream puffs in pastry shops.

Late afternoon dresses have lots of floating muslin panels. Evening dresses are bell-shaped or with beaded skirts worn over tight underskirts. As in Romantic periods they have draperies starting from under the waist or boldly from the shoulder and angling down to the opposite side of the dress.

The Romantic effect of the hats matches the Romantic look of the hairdos which make other big news in this season's Paris fashions.

Instead of the fluffy hairdo of the last year, women will wear bands and twisted knots like little girls in the mid-nineties.

Fabrics are either airy woolens or light-weight silk chiffons or muslins.

There are all possible types of wools — wool mesh, mock boucle, tweeds and, for summer, cretons, bubble chiffons, tulle, satin, silk and voile.

You, too, will lick your fingers

Maple Sugar in Sausage Gives It Unusual Flavor

Something new in sausage is in food stores this week for the Miami shopper. It's sausage made with maple sugar among its ingredients, instead of the usual type sugar.

Flavor of the sausage, put out by a nationally-known packer is not sweeter than other sausage, but the maple sugar gives it a definite "different" taste from the company's other type sausage.

Cost of the new type sausage is slightly higher than the other. It comes in a new type package for Miami shoppers, too. It's a 1-pound brick.

When first introduced in food stores in a North Carolina city recently, the new sausage proved so popular that its packers say it cornered 30 per cent of the local market because of the unique flavor.

READERS' EXCHANGE

The sausage will be available at most super markets in this area.

Pretty Up Your Shower Presents

When wrapping a large gift for a baby shower use the usual pink, white or blue tissue paper with either matching or contrasting ribbons.

Then cut from magazines cute pictures of babies and paste them here and there on the package.

You will like the effect, so will the hostess and the recipient of the gift.

Old Socks Solve Problems

Old socks over shoes can often be handy things.

Slip them over the baby's shoes when riding in the car and the bottoms of his shoes will not soil the car upholstery or slip covers.

Wear a pair of old socks over your own shoes when doing a paint job indoors. This will protect your shoes from paint splashes.

'Sick When I Was Drunk and Sick Sober'

By MARY ASTOR

One In a Series

The psychiatrist gave me books to read, books on alcoholism and on psychology. Then he brought me a copy of The Seven Story Mountain. And it was through this beautiful book that I found my way back to the church.

It wasn't just an emotional spasm. During the long days in the hospital I carefully and deliberately went over the sins of the past eight years; I looked at them in all their stark ugliness, with coldly appraising eyes.

I felt the indescribable sense of presence as I said the almost forgotten Act of Contrition, and my contrition cut through me like a surgeon's scapel, with white-hot sharpness that was too great for tears.

It brought a dry, desperate firmness of resolution. One resolution stood out above all others: come what may, I would never again take my hand from His.

No longer was I on the "pink cloud" of my conversion. No longer did I have a serene and unquestioning confidence in myself. I had confidence only in God. I knew that it would not be enough merely to make a hatful of good resolutions. You have to be alert every minute, lest you stumble.

I started going to Mass. But I was low in spirit because I could not receive the Sacraments.

* * *

'Lights Floated'

THE YEAR was practically spent in bed. About two o'clock I would give up and go to the bar and have a straight whiskey. I talked to no one on the phone, and we had no one at the house.

I stopped putting on nail polish; my hands shook too much. My hair was blessedly curly, so I could let it grow and not go to a beauty parlor. I sometimes got into a shirt and slacks and wandered about in the patio. My knees hurt. My elbow, shoulder, and jaw were painful with neuritis.

Sleep was miserable. I would close my eyes at night and clouds of colored light would float before me, and sometimes faces with huge mouths and teeth. Finally I had to keep the light on. I would get up and wander around the livingroom.

Tommy would appear and ask, "What's the matter, honey? No sleep?"

"No."

"Do you want to talk?"

"No."

"Take another pill."

"I've had three."

"Damn! Well, I've got to get up early . . ."

And he would go back to the bedroom, and in a moment his snores would shake the house. Then I might go to the bar and pour about three fingers of bourbon, and down it, curl up in a chair, and go to sleep for a while.

* * *

'Welcome Home'

I had never lost touch with Father O'Dea. He never "bothered me;" he would simply make an occasional social phone call, asking no questions.

In my talks with him Father discovered that Tommy and I had not lived as man and wife for well over a year. He asked me if it would be too delicate a matter if I asked Tommy to sign a paper agreeing to continue this relationship. He would submit this, with a statement that complex conditions, including finances and children, made a divorce impractical at this time, to the Chancery Office.

Tommy was very good about it; he said he was happy to sign the paper if it would help me feel better. Father came to the house one afternoon; I was too ill to walk, or get out of bed. He heard my confession, simply and factually. He gave me absolution and said, with tears in his voice, "Welcome home, Mary."

* * *

The Police Came

MY NERVOUSNESS was getting worse instead of better. I couldn't sleep. The doctor kept me well supplied with sleeping pills, but sleeping-pill rest is not good rest.

One night I decided that I would not be careful about how much I drank. I began drinking, and the rest I recall only in disjointed fragments. I remember crying bitterly, and I remember thinking that I would take a couple of sleeping pills and go to sleep.

The pills were in the bedroom, on the mantel above the fireplace. As I opened the box I jerked the lid, and the white capsules fell all over the bricks. Finally I gave up trying to retrieve them all, and poured another drink of vodka to wash them down.

The rest is secondhand. Father O'Dea says I phoned him and said, "I've taken poison—get help." He was too far to be of immediate help, so he phoned young Father Smith of St. Cyril's.

Father Smith says he got there in about five minutes, and I was lying on the floor. He thought I was dead, or very near death. The quickest thing he could think of was the police.

He called them, and they came with an ambulance—and they took a look at the pictures in the hall and recognized the fact that this was not only a Mrs. Wheelock, but Mary Astor.

All the papers carried the story of "Attempted Suicide."

Consciousness came back painfully to me two days later in Culver City Hospital.

How absurd it was to try to explain that it had been like the instinctive action of a woman putting pins into her mouth. It was my only shred of comfort—that there had been no conscious intention of sucide. My offense was simply that I had been blind-drunk.

After I came home from the hospital, it became too expensive to keep Ebbie; we let her go in August, and I took care of the house. In many ways, it was a good thing for me; it revived my interest, and gave me a sense of responsibility. Now I had to make deicisions, even though they were only so slight as the decision of what to have for dinner. It was an effort, but I had to face it.

Whipped Cream Ruffles, Chocolate Curls Adorn Charlotte Russe
. . . a rich and handsome dessert

This Dessert for Company Is Really a Snap To Prepare

By JEANNE VOLTZ
Herald Homemaking Editor

Daily Food Guide

Charlotte Russe is an old fashioned dessert, company style. But it really is easy to make.

The only cooking is to dissolve gelatin and sugar. The gelatin mixture is chilled briefly, then whipped cream is folded in for rich smoothness.

The dessert is chilled in a spring form pan to come out perfectly shaped to an elegant appearance. If you don't have a spring form pan, line the pan with foil extending above the sides so the charlotte can be lifted out easily.

COMPANY FOR DINNER

Raw Vegetable Relishes
Iced Beef Broth
Roast Chicken
Rice with Almonds
Tossed Green Salad
Heated French Bread
Charlotte Russe

A hostess saving feature of Charlotte Russe is that it is made long before serving time to give it time to chill.

CHARLOTTE RUSSE

12 lady fingers
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1/3 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
3 teaspoon salt
3 cups milk
1/4 cup brandy, or 1 tablespoon brandy of rum flavoring
2 cups heavy cream, whipped

Split lady fingers. Cut off one end to stand upright and place around sides of an 8-inch spring form pan. Mix together gelatin, sugar and salt in saucepan. Stir in milk. Place over medium heat, stirring constantly until gelatin and sugar are dissolved, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in brandy or flavoring.

Chill until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Fold in whipped cream. Turn into pan lined with lady fingers. Chill until firm. To unmold, release spring and remove sides of mold carefully. Garnish with more whipped cream forced through cake decorator and shaved chocolate. Makes 12 servings.

Installation

Mrs. Edith M. Reed and Robert W. Willing will be installed as royal matron and patron of Magic City Court 1, Order of the Amaranth at an 8 p.m. ceremony Saturday in Biscayne Temple, 124 NW 15th Ave.

Ad Woman of Year Likes To Work Under Pressure

By ELEANOR DIXON
Herald Staff Writer

You may drop any illusion that the advertising business is the bailiwick of only hard driving men in gray flannel suits.

Quite the contrary says Margot Sherman, an attractive, articulate woman who is vice president of the world's second largest advertising agency, McCann-Erickson. She also is "Advertising Woman of the Year," named by the Advertising Federation of America.

"Women have a tremendous place in advertising because they know the motivations of women, what they need and want. They're writing to their own responses.

"Let me give you an example. A man, looking at a picture of a kitchen, will see the bay window and say to himself, 'I couldn't afford that. It's too expensive.' He wants to reproduce the kitchen exactly as it stands.

"A woman looking at the same picture moves right in and shops it. She sees the cafe curtains, the color of the flooring, how the copper kettles are hung."

Nevertheless, a woman in advertising need not be "typed" to work only on woman-minded projects. "Once a woman becomes an advertising woman, she can do anything. I've appointed a woman as copy group head on an automobile account. To paraphrase, a writer is a writer is a writer."

Miss Sherman holds one of the top level positions in advertising. As administrative director of the creative division of the agency, she is responsible for the work of six departments and 300 people. Her second job, chairman of the creative plans board, is her favorite.

As such she reviews and has final authority on all campaigns — "from fashion to gasoline, watches to appliances."

Miss Sherman joined the agency in 1936 as a copy writer after working as a reporter or columnist on several newspapers. "We tend to think of advertising in terms of writing and layout but it's an amazing business with so many facets.

"In some terms, though, it is much like the newspaper business. You must be able to work under pressure and like it," she explained.

"I think it appeals to a deep-seated urge to strain ourselves, to see how well we can do. And it seems to attract bright people."

"Bright" is probably not a strong enough description of Miss Sherman. As a journalism graduate of the University of Michigan, she was the first woman to win the McNaught Gold Medal Award for her scholastic record (summa cum laude).

Despite a demanding career, Miss Sherman says her family comes first. Her husband, Roger Peet, is a New York attorney. They have a son who is a student at Harvard Law School and a daughter, 12.

They have a vacation home in Hollywood, and while they are here Miss Sherman will speak at the Advertising Club of Greater Miami's ladies night program tonight.

'When I Needed It, I Was Spanked'

DEAR ELEANOR HART:

I would be grateful if you would let me know whether I am right or wrong.

In my childhood, children were taken across mother's knee for a sound spanking right through until we finished grammar school. After all, you're only 12 or 13 by then.

I am now told by today's children that this stops when they begin school — that across the knee business, is for tots only.

We lived a wonderful happy home life, but when we needed the hair brush, it was applied, and we can truthfully admit now that when it was administered we deserved it.

There are many of us mothers who are waiting for your reply. We want to have nice, well-mannered, trained children, but if we can't touch them after they're five or six, it seems pretty hopeless.

I am not an advocate of continual punishment. My mother overlooked plenty of our little misdeeds, but when we did things repeatedly and in a defiant manner, we got the "knee business," and those same faults did not occur again.

RESPECTFUL MOTHER

How you discipline your child is as personal as your toothbrush. It is for the parent to discover what works best with his child.

But whatever the method you find most effective, be it spanking, deprivation of certain privileges or just plain "solitude" — confined to one's room for an hour or so, take a firm stand — certainly "today's children" should not be telling you — ever.

When you punish, you serve emphatic notice that a specific form of misbehavior is not acceptable. Your child generally senses that it is the deed and not himself that has been punished. And he may be actually relieved of unsettled feelings of guilt because he has paid a penalty.

In any case, when you must punish a youngster, you should immediately let him know how much you love him and that you are still interested in all he does. This is the surest safeguard against any possible evil effects of punishment.

She Steals Dad From 11 Children

DEAR ELEANOR HART:

I couldn't believe my eyes when I read the letter from Tess. How could a woman of any scruples think of tearing a man away from 11 children?

If she were raised as a Catholic or a Christian, where was she when Sunday School was in session? The Tenth Commandment is elementary.

How can a mother with small children up and leave them?

As for losing weight, it isn't easy. It took me six months to lose 10 pounds after my fifth was born, and I dieted like mad.

Paying a small amount a week for each child until he is 16 and can quit school and go to work is a ridiculous statement. It takes about eight dollars a week to feed and clothe the average child properly.

And what about college and the finer things in life for these young people instead of a possible turn to juvenile delinquency?

If Tess could hold a precious child of her own in her arms, she would know what is in the heart of a mother.

Frankly I think the man is the same as Tess, but if his wife has stood it for 25 years and is willing to keep him for her family's sake, she deserves every decent consideration.

I wonder if Tess has the nerve to take her letter to a priest and hear what he has to say.

CHRISTIAN MOTHER

Thought for the Day

"The greatest man living may stand in need of the meanest, as much as the meanest does of him."

'I'd Go Through It All Again'

DEAR ELEANOR HART:

I, like Single Woman, am tired of reading letters from these spoiled, pampered women who call themselves wives.

I am a housewife and darned proud of it. I feel it's a woman's privilege to make a man happy in his own home. If you don't, someone else will.

I have been married since I was 16—six years now — and believe me, it hasn't been easy. I was a service wife and we almost starved sometimes. If it weren't for fishing we would have. But I'd go through it all again, for I deeply love my husband.

Even now, we're having it hard. We lost everything a year ago, plus having to pay doctor bills because of trouble my husband got into.

His own family turned their backs on him and won't even write him. Life's lessons are always hard, I suppose.

I've never had much since we've been married, no so-called labor saving devices, not even a washing machine. In spite of this, I love my husband more than when I married him. He is a wonderful, loving man.

CONTENTED WIFE

A lucky one, too, to have a partner like you who can still make those how-to-live-though-married scales balance so beautifully. Good luck!

Eleanor Hart.

PIN-WORMS MAY BE A FAMILY AFFAIR
Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms . . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.
To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:
First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.
Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Disney's '59 Model Sleeping Beauty Has Appeal to Teenagers

IS "SEX" coming to Walt Disney's field of animated cartoon drama? Well, not in the sense of a Brigitte Bardot or Mamie Van Doren movie — but a Disney spokesman states that Princess Aurora of "Sleeping Beauty," which will be shown at the Sheridan Theater in a Feb. 10 preview premiere for The Lend-a-Hand Fund, will be a "more vital and aware person than Snow White!"

In it, the 16-year-old Aurora, who has been put into a deep spell by the sorcery of the bad witch, has been developed into a person who "will be understood by today's teen-agers." She will, we are told, "be more responsive to the courtship of her dream prince when he surprises her in a charming scene in the forest." How about that!

Disney, in a commendable display of restraint, is leaving the name alone, however. We can think of a lot of lesser producers who would also up-date the title to something like "Your Kiss Awakened Me."

Billy Daniels in Rooney Picture

FONTAINEBLEAU'S Ben Novack is breathing easier now that location of Frank Sinatra's "Never So Few" has been switched from Burma to Hawaii . . . Ruth Berle is expected in town any day — so can husband Milton be far behind? . . . Billy Daniels, who just closed at the Eden Roc Cafe Pompeii, has been cast for a part in Mickey Rooney's "The Big Operator."

Janet Leigh rested a few hours at Ben Gaines' Miami Skyways over the weekend before continuing down to Key West to join Tony Curtis on the "Operation Petticoat" location. Del Russo, the make-up magician, is with the unit — as are a number of other Miamians — and finds the 6:30 rising time the toughest part of the deal.

For a comparatively "new" town like Miami Beach a record of a quarter-century of operation is a rare one but that's what Jack Goldman is celebrating this week (starting tonight) at his Hickory House. Of course, the silver anniversary applies only to Jack's Miami operation. The New York Hickory House, in which he still has an interest, is older even than that. And beyond that, we knew Jack and brother Al, who operates Fu Manchu's here, when they had road-house restaurants in upper New York City and on Long Island in the late 20's.

O'Connor to Follow Sinatra

JUST ABOUT ALL the entertainers in the area should be in to see Jack one of the four nights of the official "celebration." Among the stars he has been boss to down the years — both here at the old Clover Club and at the Riviera in Las Vegas — are Tony Martin, Jackie Miles, Lena Horne, Liberace, Patti Page, Cab Calloway, Louis Prima, The Vagabonds (he boosted them from a $750 price tag to better than $3,500 a week!) and scores of others.

Donald O'Connor follows Frank Sinatra as a Fontainebleau headliner in March. Rose Hardaway, Ricki Dunn and Holly Warren will be on the Montmartre's opening bill — plus a French headliner . . . Favorite dish of Chandler Fan and Bill's Dave Nussbaum is Beatrice Leon, a New Yorker . . . Singer Jan Bart due Feb. 7 at the Royal Palm in behalf of Israel Bonds . . . Didi Rossheim, press relations aide at Hollywood Beach Hotel, is acquiring a private relation. She is to wed Lou Wright, of Buffalo, a Christmas holiday guest at the hotel . . . Betty Winchell, wife of ventriloquist Paul, vacationing at the Thunderbird . . . Charlie Spivak and band open at Gaslight Inn tonight.

It was rumored these past few days that Talullah Bankhead was making a movie in Miami. Story is that she'll do only some narration for a movie called "A Boy Who Owned an Elephant," being made at Rainbow Pictures studio in South Miami. Donald Brockman Sewell, said to be a godson of Miss Bankhead, Buddy Walker, Molly Turner and Ruth Foreman are in the cast. Peter Gayle, 21, is producing and Saul Swimmer is directing. Donald and his mother are at the Carillon.

'Miami Undercover' Scripted

TELESERIES titled "Miami Undercover" is being scripted by Richard Landau for Aubrey and Howard W. Koch, who have been theatrical film producers up to now. Landau's screen credits include "The Creeping Unknown," "Hot Cars," "Hellbound," "The Man Is Armed" and "The Girl in the Black Stockings" so don't look for anything light as an aid to tourism.

Actor just cast for "Bloodlust" out in Hollywood is named Troy Patterson. Must be the city feller type . . . A revolving pig — in neon — will dominate the roof of Barbecue Heaven, Bill Sherman's new Miami Beach spot.

There is a dental hygienist on Normandy Isle named Pearl Buffem . . . Paul Whiteman visited the Sports Car Show at Dinner Key. In his own Jaguar.

Batista's Fall Film-Bound

ANSWER to last week's query on whether Sammy Katzman had stepped down from TV "Stakeout" filming here to do a theatrical film on Cuban situation is probably "yes." He has registered "The Rise and Fall of Fulgencio Batista" as a movie title.

Paul Benson, just passing through town en route from California to New York on business for Milton Berle, confirmed that he'll do a Western. But it will be one of the Wagon Train series to keep him on the tube for his own March 4 date pre-empted by Bell Telephone . . . It is rumored that king-size demands on the sponsor might release Jim Arness from "Gunsmoke" to do some more theatrical movies.

Conference of Arizona Women's Clubs voted citations to Maurice Chevalier, for "Gigi," Josh Logan and Mitzi Gaynor for "South Pacific," Robert Wise for "I Want to Live," and to Blake Edwards for "The Perfect Furlough," which opens here soon. Edwards is in Key West's Key Wester Motel now while shooting "Operation Petticoat," with Tony Curtis and Cary Grant.

Verdon Stage Talent Runs 4 Generations

GREASEPAINT is infectious, folks. A good case in point is Gwen Verdon, who is coming to Broadway soon in "The Redhead." Her great-grandfather was an actor. Her grandmother was a professional dancer. Her mother was a vaudevillian and her father was a stage electrician on the MGM lot. Miss Verdon did a buck-and-wing on the stage when she was 4-years-young . . . Similarly, there is Helen Hayes' son, James MacArthur, who will make his Broadway debut this season in "Far Away the Train Birds Cry." Miss Hayes recently explained how her son became an actor: "By osmosis. I never taught him. But around the house we always had the professional approach to the theatre. We worked hard. And James must have assimilated that. He works hard at things and takes acting seriously."

IN A WAY, Cecil B. DeMille's life was one of the greatest dramas he produced. He was one of the film industry's pioneers and one of its mightiest conquerors. He functioned with all the daring qualities of a gambler and the impressive flamboyance of an outstanding showman. His genius was the ability to know what the public enjoyed. And his secret was a simple idea. Although he was an exponent of the lavish, DeMille's success as a showman was motivated by a basic fact. He once pointed out: "No spectacle can make a film successful. No amount of casting nor all the direction in the world. Only one thing — the story."

Gwen Verdon . . . genes

James MacArthur . . . osmosis

Cecil B DeMille . . . daring

Showmen like Cecil B. DeMille are rare indeed. The magic lanterns never had a greater magician.

LIFE made a bitter bargain with actress Gene Tierney. She was embraced with beauty, talent and fame. Then tortured with years of heartbreak . . . Despair compelled her to seek the solace of psychiatry. The star recovered, but the victory over her personal sorrow was all too brief. The other day she resumed the therapy.

Many of her friends hope that the spirit which enabled her to emerge from the shadows before — will soon make it possible for her to again dispel the darkness. Clouds are temporary. A star is constant.

NOTHING is more hypocritical than Dictator Fulgencio Batista accepting the friendship and hospitality of Dictator Rafael Trujillo — and then denouncing Fidel Castro's reckless firing squads. Back in 1936, a Reader's Digest article reported the following shocker: "Trujillo proceeded with cold inhumanity to liquidate his enemies. An estimate, authenticated by scores of trustworthy witnesses and reports of the Foreign Policy Association, is that between 3,000 and 5,000 were slain."

The irony of history: Castro is now shaking his fist at the United States. Back in 1898, the armed fist of the United States liberated the people of Cuba by crushing the Spanish tyranny.

Queen Elizabeth has discovered that a crown can be a burden. The Queen and Prince Phillip secured an injunction to stop a gossipy series about the royal pair being published in a London paper. It was bylined by a former superintendent of Windsor Castle . . . Several years ago, Prince Philip sought to stop gossip about the royal family by inserting a clause in the employment contracts of the royal staff which barred them from publishing royal secrets. He took the action following publication of a book by the Prince's ex-valet who wrote that he owned only one suit (horrors!) while he dated Elizabeth.

A philosopher once commented: "You shouldn't repeat gossip—but what else can you do with it?"

* * *

BOB HOPE has been spending much time in the homes of eagles. His latest flying visit to overseas bases was the subject for another entertaining tv show . . . Hope has spent so much time doing the hither-thither-and-yon circuit—his home life is practically nonexistent. Bob once quipped: "When I get home these days, my family thinks I've been booked there on a personal appearance tour."

MAKING a date for his current personal appearance at Cafe Pompeii of the Eden Roc is television star Edgar Bergen. Okaying the date is Charlie McCarthy, left. They'll be on hand through next Tuesday.

Band Concert

Frances Maddaford, contralto, will be the soloist at tonight's concert by Caesar La Monaca and his band in Bayfront Park bandshell. Gordon Shaw wil narrate the program, which opens at 7:45.

Shostakovich Tries Operetta

New Show Has Moscow Fans Happy Over Hop

MOSCOW—(P)—A sparkling Lindy hop stopped the show at the premiere here of a new musical comedy by Russia's leading composer of classical music.

The lighthearted score for the operetta, "Moscow Cheremushki," was the first such work by Dmitri Shostakovich, whose works are in the repertory of most leading symphony orchestras in the West.

Tania Shmiga, heroine of the operetta which deals with Moscow's tight housing situation, and N. O. Ruban, who plays her suitor, swung into a breathless Lindy hop in a sequence that had the first-night audience shouting for more.

The dance expressed the couple's joy at their victory in getting an apartment in the new housing project replacing the old Cheremushki slums on the edge of the capital.

Another number that drew enthusiastic applause was a ballet dealing with the problems of renting an apartment in the new project.

Stage Plans Global Wings

NEW YORK — (AP) — A project for international exchange of stage ideas has been launched by the Institute for Advanced Studies in the Theatre Arts.

The new organization plans to invite professionals from Europe, Asia and South America to conduct six-week seminars on elements of acting, staging, designing and playwriting.

The institute was formed by Dr. John D. Mitchell and his wife, Miriam, both long active in the theater and education.

Wright Combination

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — (UPI)—Laurence Olivier has rented the house here which Frank Lloyd Wright designed for his granddaughter, Anne Baxter.

'Small Planet' Has Comic As Well as Cosmic Touch

By GEORGE BOURKE
Herald Amusement Editor

Drama Review

The Wall Street Journal just a few days ago revealed that there were only two "unknowns" among the 296 UFO's (Unidentified Flying Objects) reported in the last half of 1958 — so it may be that "Visit to a Small Planet," new tenant at the Coconut Grove Playhouse, may not attract the attention it did in its original form — a teleplay in the days when the ratio of unknown UFO's was higher.

Gore Vidal's original teleplay may have been a subtle warning, with farcial overtones, that the contemporary "cold war" is an ideal climate in which a high-sounding "outsider" might be able to breed world catastrophe but the need to stretch it to commercial dramatic length has filled it with so many vaudeville and burlesque routines that it may be impossible for many to see the true treatise for the padded wordage.

It's hard to justify criticism of a play which gets the laughs that the characters in "Visit to a Small Planet" received at its Grove opening — and laughs there were.

But in the main they were for such minor matters as a pompous television news analyst upstaging his mike guest; a modern miss agreeing to sleep with, but refusing to marry, the boy she loves; a general in the laundry division of the Army talking Pentagon English, and a space-man conversing with a cat!

Locale of the play is the Virginia home of a news analyst into which a space-man of human appearance injects himself just as the analyst, in a filmed program, is telling his listeners that there is no such thing as a flying saucer.

A tip-off of things to come is given in the visitor's announcement that he has come from his superior, perfect, emotion-less, sexless and deathless planet to get in on the Civil War. A miscalculation has orbited him in this century instead of the 19th!

He has the power to read minds and the superior scientific knowledge of his planet allows him to top any of our — or Russia's — arms achievements. You've heard of the absorption of a child with a new toy. The visitor becomes absorbed with his own power and the stupidity of the Earth People — and an Earth People ambition engulfs him.

We repeat, the necessity for stretching and filling in the time which was consumed with commercials in the television version detracts from the pace and continuity of the piece.

Paul Lynde is overwhelming, but gets laughs as the harassed general assigned to keep the spaceman's visit Top Secret to avert panic; James Reese is properly pompous as the analyst who is unwilling host to the embarrassing visitor; Reginald Gardiner gives his spaceman a true out-of-this-world insouciance with occasional lusty emotion (such as when he wants to watch the young folk make passionate love).

Ann Whitside and William Traylor are the only normal people in the play as the lovers, and Lucille Benson displays the detachment and non sequitur comment we assume is natural to commentators' wives.

But it is the sound effects and the offstage conversations which should be given top honors. Vidal "personally supervised" and Robert Caldwell directed. "Visit to a Small Planet" will be at the Playhouse through Feb. 7.

GRANT TAKES Rifkind and both singer Gogi Grant and attorney Robert Rifkind of Beverly Hills, Calif. seem well-pleased with the result. They are shown at Las Vegas, Nev. following their marriage Saturday.

A RAG A BONE and A PONYTAIL
GEORGE BOURKE — Miami Herald —
"A Rag, A Bone And A Ponytail" zoomed off with a good head of steam at its opening . . . the production presents a full hour of solid entertainment."
HERB KELLY — Miami Daily News —
"A Rag, A Bone And A Ponytail" is a dazzling fast show, is brilliantly staged and best of all, it is original . . . one fast sketch follows another and they show sophistication, novelty and imagination . . . If you are searching for something different, this should satisfy you."
PAUL M. BRUUN — Miami Beach Sun —
"A Rag, A Bone And A Ponytail" will surpass any entertainment in town for originality and it is always a delight to recommend anything that bespeaks of originality and which dares to be different . . . The stage is always jammed and alive with action."

Roberta Sherwood, DeWitt Join Variety All-Star Show

Sammy Walsh — Roberta Sherwood — George DeWitt

. . . producer and two more participants in annual show

An even dozen show headliners have promised to perform on the Miami Variety Club's Show of Shows all-star benefit at the Miami Beach Auditorium on Feb. 5 — and confirmations are expected from more, according to veteran performer Sammy Walsh, who is producer for the three-hour program.

"We are well on our way to having our best show ever," Walsh predicts. "We can't miss. We already have Bob Hope as our emcee and the latest additions to our show bill give us 12 solid acts."

Hope is coming to Miami Beach for the show just prior to the release of his latest movie, "Alias Jesse James."

Among the stars already committed to the show are Roberta Sherwood, George DeWitt, Alan Gale, of Ciro's; Diosa Costello, of the Lucerne's Havana Mardi Gras Revue; Pupi Campo, of the Fontainebleau Hotel Boom Boom Room; Bobby Hackett, of Miami Springs Villas; Jackie Heller, of the Eden Roc Cafe Pompeii; Nancy Donovan, Paul Gray, Jerry Lester and Buddy Rich, of the Johnina Dream Bar.

Tickets for the event range from $2.50 to $20 and can be obtained at the Auditorium or at the Variety Club in the Miami Colonial Hotel. Last year, with Walter Winchell as emcee and star, the benefit netted Variety Children Hospital $22,000.

Says Joan Collins

Lucky for Bardot She Didn't Try Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Joan Collins, no slouch in the sex appeal department herself, says it's lucky Brigitte Bardot started in France instead of Hollywood.

"I must say," comments the British beauty, "that it would have been more difficult for her here.

"She could never have gotten onto a sound stage with that wild hairdo, yet it's part of her individual personality. Over here a studio would have given her hair the standard treatment and made her look like every other actress under contract."

Joan believes European producers want more individuality among their stars than do most American moviemakers.

She argues that actresses who fight regimentation eventually become the big stars. She also admits that there's more to Miss Bardot than that wild hair-do.

"She's a natural comedienne," observes Joan, "but she would have had to fight to get comedy roles here."

His 'Prescription' Makes Sense

Doctor-President May 'Cure' Haiti

Dr. Francois Duvalier, Haiti's president, has outlined the progress of his five-year plan for development of his poverty-stricken country to Miami Herald Managing Editor George Beebe. This is the first of several articles.

By GEORGE BEEBE
Herald Managing Editor

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti—A couple of recent economic transfusions are improving Haiti's chances of recovery — but the patient is still on the critical list.

It is going to take all of the skill of Dr. Francois Duvalier to rectify the bungling of a long line of political medicos who preceded him in the presidency of this vibrant but bankrupt Negro republic.

In the 15 months since the good doctor took over the miserably happy country, he's come up with a formula that seems to make sense to most of his 3,500,000 constituents.

Haiti has had 130 revolutions in 155 years of independence. People are sick of revolt. They seem to like Dr. Duvalier's soft touch on the pulse.

The man who studied for two years at the University of Michigan, still has envious foes plotting his downfall. But their chances lessen as his program solidifies.

Duvalier had the misfortune of gaining the presidency when a sagging world coffee market knocked the props completely out from an already shaky economy.

This makes his task doubly difficult.

Undismayed, the graying, distinguished looking 51-year-old Dr. Duvalier has launched an ambitious five-year recovery program that looks like this:

INAUGURATED a slum clearance project—in one of the world's worst slums.

SIGNED contracts for a score of job-producing industries.

CALLED in United States experts to analyze his budgetary and military problems.

APPOINTED a $1-a-year tourist commission to beat the drums for more free-spending Americans.

TURNED attention to furthering secondary education to produce better civic and political leadership.

LAUNCHED the $6,500,000 Artibonite Valley Irrigation and drainage program that will open up farm lands and resettlement areas.

Dr. Duvalier made two significant announcements in recent days.

He set Friday as expiration date of dictatorial powers he decreed for himself six months ago. This will ease the fear of his people that he had dictatorial ambitions.

He has hired a U.S. military mission to reorganize the 5,000-man army and take it out of politics.

In the past, presidential aspirants who could sway military leaders to their side, had the key to overthrowing the government. The plums for being a military officer were great.

"All this must change for the good of our country," said the president.

Haiti now spends nearly one-fourth of its $30,000,000 budget on its army. President Duvalier is quick to explain this major expense item by pointing out that the soldiers also serve as the island's police force.

Duvalier, trying to be demo-

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC
HAITI

HAITI is one of the world's three Negro republics, located 640 miles southeast of Miami.

SIZE approximates Maryland in area. Occupies one-third the Caribbean island of Hispaniola which it shares with the Dominican Republic.

POPULATION estimated at 3,500,000 French-speaking natives. The religion is Catholic but Voodism is practiced.

GOVERNMENT is run by a president and two elected houses.

POLITICS are frequently turbulent. Twice since taking office in 1957 President Duvalier has shaken up the Army's general staff to counter reported revolutionary plots. Haiti is strongly anti-Communist.

ECONOMY hinges on tourism.

Cold War Still On --Dulles

High Level Talks On Germany OKd

Nixon's Views, 2A

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Secretary of State John Foster Dulles gave the nod Tuesday to a foreign ministers conference on Germany this spring. At the same time, he firmly rejected any idea that Russia is trying to thaw the cold war.

Dulles told newsmen: "I have seen nothing so far which leads me to feel that there is a genuine (Soviet) desire to end the cold war. There is a very strong desire to delude us into thinking the cold war is ended.

"There are a series of proposals made ostensibly to help end the cold war which would, in fact, play greatly into the hands of the prosecutors of the cold war."

This attitude led reporters to ask what possible good could then be expected from any foreign ministers meeting this spring.

Dulles replied that the West simply has to keep trying. Sometimes, if you are tough enough and patient, agreements fair to all can be reached, he said.

Dulles said the Korean armistice, the Austrian peace treaty and last January's U.S.-Soviet exchange agreement were all examples of results from this kind of tenacity.

Dulles said it seems to him that Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan got the wrong idea about America's unity during his U.S. visit this month.

The trouble was, Dulles said, Mikoyan's talks with government officials got down to brass tacks—"concrete cases, concrete — proposals" — while his talks with businessmen and others mostly dealt with broad generalities.

The exception, Dulles said, was Mikoyan's meeting with a group of union leaders who, the secretary said, "presented their views very strongly and effectively."

Apparently what Dulles had in mind were Mikoyan's sour comments that the American people want peace but their government clings to policies which continue the cold war.

"After his trip around the country," Dulles said of Mikoyan, "he still seemed to be under an illusion that there was a greater divergence on these matters than I think is the case."

Nevertheless, Dulles added, he has "no great concern" that Russia will make a serious miscalculation on that basis, conceding there is always such a danger. He recalled that both the Kaiser and Hitler misjudged America's temper before each of the world wars.

Landing Gear Fails; 24 Unhurt

LANSING, Mich. — (UPI) — A Capital Air Lines Viscount plunged into a snowbank when its landing gear apparently collapsed as it touched down at the Lansing airport Tuesday but the 24 passengers aboard escaped injury.

Khrushchev Delivers His Address Through Battery of Mikes at Kremlin's Great Hall
. . . 'massive serial production of intercontinental missiles is under way'

Ike's Labor Message Due Today

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Eisenhower will send his labor message to Congress today. Sparks are expected to fly.

Eisenhower helped set up a fight by scorning a rival bill, introduced a week ago by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D., Mass), as a halfway measure.

That presidential description was relayed to newsmen by Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, House Republican leader who was among a group that conferred for 2½ hours with Eisenhower at the White House.

The Kennedy bill may be a little better than nothing, Halleck said on his own account. But not much, he added slightingly.

Kennedy, a likely contender for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960, got his bill in well ahead of both the administration's and one planned by Chairman John L. McClellan (D., Ark.) of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

All three aim, or are expected to aim, in the same general direction but with different approaches: To eliminate as much as possible of the corruption and racketeering that have been shown to exist in some labor-management relations. The Teamster Union headed by James R. Hoffa is a common target.

It was reported at the Labor Department last week that Secretary James P. Mitchell regards the Kennedy bill with a good deal of favor—as far as it goes.

However, Mitchell is said to feel that there should be a stronger ban on blackmail picketing and that union officials should be held more accountable to members for handling union funds.

Halleck said the administration bill is intended to deal with a situation that has created a "stench in the nostrils of everybody."

Kennedy has spoken of his measure as an effective reform bill which would "virtually put Mr. Hoffa and his associates out of business."

The Kennedy bill wold require public financial accounting by unions, fix criminal penalties for mishandling of union funds or books, make it illegal for union funds to be paid to hoodlums, ban shakedowns and require democratic union elections.

Nikita's Ringing Pep Talks Should Be Warning to West

By JOHN B. McDERMOTT
Foreign News Analyst

Nikita Khrushchev's ringing address to the Supreme Soviet undoubtedly has fired up the Russian people to a record peacetime pitch.

It should touch off alarm bells in the Western world, especially the U. S.

Khrushchev has whipped the Russians into a frenzy of economic determination approximated only by the revolutionary fever which caused them to overthrow the czar in 1917.

Russia's advances in rocket production has given the Soviets a feeling they are men of destiny in the world of tomorrow.

This feeling has been bolstered by his announcement that the USSR has started to produce the intercontinental ballistic missile "in series."

The danger, of course, is that the Russians will feel they can conquer the world whenever they want.

Yet, an indelible impression this reporter gained on his recent visit to the USSR, is that the Russian people do not want war.

They had a bellyful of it when Hitler's armies invaded their country in the early 1940's.

Khrushchev's pronouncements to the Supreme Soviet had the effect of not only firing up the home folks — like a football coach to his team just before the big game — but it also served to warn the West.

Exactly what Khrushchev meant in his statement that Russia is producing the ICBM missiles "in series" is not clear.

However, is should be viewed with concern.

Despite distorted impressions which Russia often gives to its dealings with the U.S., it has been mostly factual in any announcements concerning its rocket developments.

Khrushchev needed something to spark the blast-off of the Seven Year Program.

He got it in tying the ICBM announcement to it.

The Russian people are aware that past "Five Year Plans" have failed to come up to expectations.

On the other hand, they know from first hand experience that their living conditions today, while much below those of the U.S., are far better than anything they have experienced previously.

Therefore, with Premier Khrushchev quarterbacking, they have a feeling of hope and determination to make this newest plan work.

It calls for Russia to reach American living standards by 1965 and to be well ahead by 1970.

It is a monumental task to observers who have seen Russia. The odds are against its success.

Nevertheless, the Russian leader has announced his aims —an economic offensive designed to carry communism to total victory over capitalism.

Although Khrushchev may never achieve his goal, there can be no doubting that Russia's standard of living is sure to improve and its military potential already has been demonstrated.

The danger signals are flashing. Democracy can not afford to sit back and expect a Russian failure.

Here is a penetrating analysis of Russia's latest policy pronouncements by a Herald reporter just back from a tour of Moscow and the satellites.

Soviet Drinking Is Off--Nikita

MOSCOW —(AP)— Nikita Khrushchev said Tuesday a campaign to cut down on drinking in the Soviet Union will result in "people consuming more sweets and less bitters."

He reported the Soviet people consumed 113 million fewer liters (roughly quarts) of strong drink in 1958 than in the year before but added the country has a long way to go "to eliminate such survivals of the past as hard drinking."

Getting a Bang Out of Life

Sorghum--Wall-to-Wall!

MEMPHIS, Tenn. —(AP)— Somebody dropped the sorghum and thus began the wildest evening in Mrs. Raymond Fisher's life. That was the night she was having a dinner party.

She realted her tale of woe Tuesday.

A friend dropped by with a quart of sorghum and fumbled it as it was being put in the refrigerator. The result: Wall-to-wall sorghum.

Then somebody else brushed too close to the kitchen stove—and over went a big roaster pan almost brimful of giblet gravy.

Have you ever had a kitchen with wall-to-wall sorghum topped with giblet gravy?

Somehow or other Mrs. Fisher got her 10 guests fed, then stumbled wearily off to bed. Four hours later she wakened with a touch of dyspepsia and reached in the dark for a piece of indigestion-cure chewing gum.

She got something, put it in her mouth and bit down. Boom!

It wasn't gum at all, but a tiny torpedo firecracker, the kind kids fling on the sidewalk.

Premier Sets Sight On 1970

Original Doctrine Of War Reversed

MOSCOW — (UPI) — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev Tuesday launched a campaign for the economic conquest of the West that is designed to put Russia ahead of the U.S. by 1970.

He proclaimed the Communist doctrine that neither hot nor cold war is inevitable against capitalism in his message to the opening of the 21st Soviet Communist Party Congress. He stressed that while Russia wants peaceful competition, it is keeping itself well armed with missiles.

He spoke for six hours and five minutes on everything from Germany and Berlin to giving Russians the shortest working week in the world and each family an apartment. His every point drew loud applause.

He disclosed that military strength will not be sacrificed.

"Massive serial production of intercontinental missiles is under way," he said.

The premier did not elaborate. But he warned that Russia, with its cosmic rocket and satellites, has missiles to hit any point on earth.

He stressed, however, that "we want competition to take place . . . not . . . in the production of atomic and hydrogen weapons but in the production of industrial goods, meat, butter . . ."

The U.S. will be "outstripped" by 1970 in the new "realistic" Russian plan, he said.

Khrushchev visualized stepped up Russian production under the 1959-1965 seven-year plan; then, within the next five years, or by 1970, the time will have come when Russia has "the decisive edge" in the world.

He called for an 8.6 per cent annual increase in Soviet production and said America's annual increase was only two per cent.

"When fulfilled, the seven-year plan will so greatly increase the economic potential of the U.S.S.R. that it will, together with the growth of the economic potential of all the Socialist countries, give peace a decisive edge," he said.

He admitted that the U.S. industrial production per capita now is double Russia's and that American agricultural production is 40 per cent ahead.

But in the last eight years, in such fields as steel, oil, coal, cement and wool, the rate of increase of Soviet production surpassed the American rate, he said.

Khrushchev called for a 1965 production target of 65 million to 70 million tons of pig iron, 86 million to 91 million tons of steel, and 65 million to 70 million tons of rolled stock. Other metal production must be increased "several times over." Oil production should double to 230 million to 240 million tons. Electric power stations must double capacity.

The national income is to rise as much as 65 per cent, he said.

"This new balance of forces will be so patently evident that even the most diehard imperialists will clearly see the futility of any attempt to start a war against the Socialist camp."

Khrushchev's thesis, hammered at again and again, appeared to be that with the nuclear stalemate in the world, economic power will be the key to eventual Communist triumph —a reversal of the original doctrine that war is inevitable between socialism and capitalism.

Nixon: Labor Knows How to Handle Reds

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Tuesday night that American businessmen who lionized Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan could learn a lesson from labor leaders on how to deal with Communists.

Nixon called Mikoyan "the equal of any leader I have met" and said that his recent visit here — taken as a whole —was "in the best interests of the U.S. and the free world."

But he added in an address to the Fordham College Alumni Association that the Soviet official brought "no new approach" on major East-West issues. The visit, he said, resulted in no change in the U.S. or Soviet positions.

Nixon said he did not agree with those who criticized American businessmen and bankers for entertaining Mikoyan.

"But I would respectfully suggest," he added, "that some of them in this instance could learn a lesson from our labor leaders who had to fight their unions and in the process learned how to deal with them.

"They know that a soft and naive approach does not produce results. The Communists respect those who oppose them on principle. They have nothing but contempt for those who are dupes and who can be deceived by what they know are obvious untruths."

The vice president also warned that no more disastrous mistake could be made than to slash this country's foreign economic, propaganda and political programs in the name of economy.

Nixon said he could testify that Mikoyan returned to Russia with completely different views if he expected to find this country divided in its opposition to communism, its workers "seething with discontent" or its economy in trouble.

He said Mikoyan was "noticeably impressed by the economic progress the U.S. had made in the 22 years since his last visit here and by the obvious strength of our economy today."

In a further tribute to the anti-Communist stand of American labor, Nixon added that Mikoyan did not find any encouraging signs of progress in the U.S. toward fulfillment of the Marxist prediction of an inevitable class struggle.

"On the contrary, he admitted with almost grudging admiration that the strongest defenders of the American system, the most vigorous critics of communism, and the most uncompromising supporters of our firm stand in Berlin were not the traditional whipping boys of Communist propaganda, the Wall Street bankers and businessmen, but the leaders of our free trade unions who represented the views of millions of America's wage earners."

Nixon said Mikoyan displayed mental ability and shrewdness but that even more impressive were his "steel-like toughness of character and an almost arrogant faith that his cause was right and that it would inevitably prevail."

He said he showed "no flabbiness, no softness, none of the uncertainty of the pragmagist seeking a philosophy." In short, he said, the American people were reminded in Mikoyan of "the massiveness and of the seriousness of the challenge we face in the world today."

The vice president admitted that he had been deeply concerned at "the naive attitude and the lack of understanding of communism displayed by some Americans" who represented this country in government and out overseas.

He said too few Americans saw the total picture of the anti-Communist struggle when they attacked technical aid, developmental loans, exchange and information programs.

Top Brass Denies Gag At Hearing

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Top Army, Air Force and Marine officers indicated Tuesday they want more men. But they stopped short of criticizing military manpower limitations imposed by the Eisenhower administration.

Their cautiously worded testimony before the House Armed Services Committee prompted Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D., La.) to suggest sharply that they were being gagged by higher authority.

But the gag charge got no backing from Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff; Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, Air Froce vice cheif of staff; or Gen. Randolph M. Pate, commandant of the Marine Corps.

The exchanges came after the service chiefs and other Defense Department witnesses urged extension of the draft law for four years beyond next June 30.

Taylor expressed the conviction it would be impossible to maintain the Army at the desired strength without the draft, even taking account of higher pay and other incentives to voluntary enlistments.

Neither the Air Force, Navy nor Marine Corps now resorts to the draft, but spokesmen for all of them said its existence helps get volunteers for their ranks.

During the discussion, chairman Carl Vinson (D., Ga.) asked LeMay whether he thinks the Air Force is strong enough at 850,000 men, its present level.

"I think, taking everything into consideration — and with a certain element of risk — yes," LeMay replied.

When committee members tried to draw him out on this, LeMay said no chief of staff ever has been satisfied with the strength allotted to his service.

The Air Force general, onetime head of the long range bomber command, said he believes that "if we get into a general war we will win it or lose it with the people in uniform at the time," adding:

"We believe in the Air Force there will not be time as there was in the past to induct and train large numbers of men."

Hebert made his gag assertion while questioning Taylor about cuts made in the Army strength.

The Army chief acknowledged he had recommended a level of 925,000 men and that the number had been cut by administration action to 870,000, even though Congress voted enough money for a 900,000-man Army.

Mrs. Hernandez Loses Airline Job

Fired by Castro, She Says

A 10-year employe of Cuba's "Q" Airlines said Tuesday she was fired by Fidel Castro "because I am married to the brother of the former Cuban counsul."

Mrs. Elena Bejar Hernandez, a U.S. citizen, and her husband of four months, former Cuban Army Major Efrain Hernandez, said the orders for her dismissal "came right from the top—from Castro himself."

Ex-Maj. Hernandez's brother is former Cuban consul Eduardo Hernandez who fled Miami with his wife on Dec. 31, the day before Castro's revolutionary forces took control of the government.

Efrain Hernandez, who said he was serving in Miami as an army attache to the consulate here, turned over the keys to his office Monday to the new Cuban consul, Antonio Medina.

"Since March 15, 1949, I have served "Q" Airlines in Miami," Mrs. Hernandez said, "and all of the officials here said they were sorry they had to give me 24-hour notice, but those were their orders."

Roberto Chomat, special representative for the airlines here, was not available for comment Tuesday afternoon.

Efrain Hernandez said another of his brothers, Humberto, who had been with the airlines "since they put the first seat in the first plane," also was dismissed from his job at Havana.

"Castro has decided to clear all the Hernandez family from any connection whatsoever with Cuba," the ex-major said. "Myself, I expected it, but it is sad to realize they are extending the purge to U.S. citizens who may be members of our family."

Hernandez, often the target of rebel Cuban groups in Miami for his alleged espionage activities for Batista, said both he and his wife "are looking for jobs."

Mrs. Hernandez was given two weeks pay with her dismissal from the airline, which serves several points in Cuba from West Palm Beach and Key West.

Rain's Out For Today

Sudden hard rains caught weathermen and beach-goers with their umbrellas down Tuesday — but it's not supposed to happen again today.

Mostly sunny weather with temperatures near 80 was forecast for today, and only a chance of showers.

"It won't be anything like Tuesday," said Forecaster Gil Clark.

He blamed the afternoon showers Tuesday on a cold trough in the upper air that didn't change ground temperatures but plastered Greater Miami with nearly an inch of rain.

Louis DeJoie, wealthy mulatto planter who lost to Duvalier in the 1957 election and fled to New York, boasts from exile that his political foe "won't last another six months."

There is a lot of speculation as to the nature of a recent border conference between Duvalier and Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo of over-the-mountains Dominican Republic.

Duvalier says it was to patch up differences that have strained relations between the countries for years, to sign a non-aggression pact and to launch a joint battle against communism on the island.

Despite its poverty, Haiti has resisted the heavy hand of the Communists.

Dr. Duvalier estimates there are 2,000 known Communists in Haiti. He is proud that he was able to reject overtures made to him by Soviet Russia right after his election.

"I'd much prefer to deal with the United States," he said.

France Says 'No' To Batista

PARIS —(AP)— The French government has poured cold water on efforts by former Cuban Dictator Fulgencio Batista to take political refuge here, a foreign ministry spokesman said Tuesday.

"The moment is not opportune for Monsieur Batista to come to France, if only because of the number of Cubans here who are partisans of the new regime," he said.

Batista had sounded out the French government through intermediaries here, the spokesman said, but a formal request for asylum was not made.

The spokesman said, therefore, that no formal rejection was called for or made.

Batista has been granted asylum in the Dominican Republic.

Holdup Man Held As Killer Suspect

Metro detectives Tuesday began checking the possibility that an 18-year-old Minnesota youth who told police of a whirlwind robbery spree may also be a killer.

Public Safety Director Thomas J. Kelly said a .32 caliber pistol dropped Monday by Herbert Leland Richard of Austin, Minn., alias Michael David Leahey, was the same type that fired a fatal bullet into the head of Ojus bar owner Vernon Brubaker Saturday night.

Miami police said Richard told them of four robberies, two of them at gunpoint, and two car thefts in Minnesota that netted him some $3,000 in cash. He said he lived like a king in Jacksonville and Miami Beach before being caught in a Miami supermarket holdup Monday.

Homestead Jail Practices Hit

The Dade County Grand Jury in an interim report Tuesday criticized "lax practices" in the Homestead city jail and recommended reorganization of the Homestead Police Department.

The report said the jury's recommendation followed an "extensive investigation" of conditions in the jail, including the escape of a Negro prisoner who wounded an officer before he was finally shot down and killed.

Byroade Backed for Afghan Post

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Henry A. Byroade won Senate Foreign Relations Committee approval Tuesday to be ambassador to Afghanistan. First, however, he was questioned about complaints over his contacts with an American Negro at his former post in the Union of South Africa where the government maintains a color barrier.

The ambassador, just back from South Africa Monday night, was asked about a party given there in his honor to which an American Negro was invited. Sen. Frank Church (D., Idaho) noted reports that an official of the South African government had protested.

Byroade said that was correct, but it wasn't the first time an American Negro citizen had been invited, although the embassy has been accused of maintaining a color barrier.

The ambassador said he attempted to explain to the South African official the difference between the U. S. citizen and African natives, because "their laws are very strict."

"I think the embassy is making the best compromise that it can," he said.

The Town Crier

BY Jack Bell

THE EXPERTS cmae up with a new idea last week to relieve traffic jams — a causeway running from Broward to Monroe County, right through Biscayne Bay.

BELL

Or was it new? Shucks, 'twas just an old one dusted off. In the good old days when city commissioners needled each other without getting angry and resorting to profanity, R. C. Gardner advocated such a causeway. As a matter of fact he suggested the thing every other week for about four years, and added a barb on special days, just to cause his disgusted fellow commissioners to growl, "Oh, go jump in that bay, and forget co come up."

The idea was received with no little enthusiasm this time. But in Gardner's days the people objected violently to "spoiling our beautiful bay." John Pennekamp points out that the government is going to widen and deepen the Intra-Coastal Waterway, thus tossing the causeway folks great hunks of free fill.

Think of the easement of street and highway traffic, if we get such a causeway.

* * *

Too Suggestive

I went down to the foreign sports car show Sunday. It was truly beautiful. But I came away empty handed and disappointed. Every time I looked at a sleek little job that I thought I'd like to have, the price was $2,995. The really cheap jobs are for family run-around use.

Frankie Watts showed one right snazzy job. A poster stood beside it telling about the special design, tooling, mechanism, interior. Down at the bottom, it said, Frankie will consider any offer "that is fair." I was about to make an offer fair to my pocketbook when I noticed: "Suggested price $18,800."

The most unusual car there is the Citroen. They've given the family enough room to load even the clothes the women folks think "we might need" on a trip.

The Renault people erected the Eifel Tower replica, the central theme of the decorations. All afternoon the announcer told of lost husbands, wives, children waiting "at the Eifel Tower."

The best looking cars? The Ferraris, of course.

Statistics

MIAMI READINGS AT 4:30 P.M. TUESDAY: Skies, cloudy; temperature, 74 degrees; winds from the southeast at five miles an hour; barometer, 30.00 inches; relative humidity, 90 per cent.

National Summary

The slowly moving eastern weather pattern continued to give combinations of ice sleet and snow over much of the most populace area of the U.S.

The advance of colder air will be accompanied by considerable cloudiness through the Gulf states but should help evict the combination of freezing rain sleet and snow from the east.

Fair to partly cloudy and cold weather should return to the central and northern Appalachians mid Atlantic states and New England by Wednesday.

Occasional rain and colder temperatures are indicated for Georgia and the Carolinas restricting fair warm conditions to Florida.

A broad zone of warming temperatures and generally fair weather is forecast from the central plains to the mid Mississippi and Ohio Valleys while some snow may drift across the Northern Great Lakes region.

Intermittent rain will give way to showers through the Pacific northwest Wednesday and showers of rain or snow should extend across northern California into the central plateau and Rockies.

TORCH BURNING attempt on her two children landed Mrs. Juanita Hamil, 21, in county jail at Bartow, on a charge of attempted murder. Her husband, Grover, arrived over the weekend and said he would help his wife. Police said neighbors rescued Sharon Kay, 4, and Olin Vivian, 3, from Mrs. Hamil's locked and burning bathroom.

Orange Estimate: 85 Million Boxes

By DAVE KRASLOW
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON—Florida's orange crop for the 1958-59 season was estimated at 85 million boxes Tuesday by the Agriculture Department.

This is three per cent larger than the 1957-58 crop, which suffered heavy winter cold losses by this time, and 12 per cent above average.

Florida's crop of premium Valencia oranges is expected to hit 34 million boxes, up 14 per cent.

The Agriculture Department's quarterly forecast said more than two out of three oranges grown in the U.S. will be Florida oranges.

Florida will produce 68.5 per cent of the nation's output. California is next with 29 per cent.

California's 1958-59 crop is estimated at 36 million boxes, 56 per cent above the short 1957-58 crop, light mainly because of hot weather in the summer of 1957.

National production is put at 124 million boxes, up 14 per cent over last year, and four per cent greater than the 1947-56 average.

"Because of delayed maturity of the Florida crops," the Agriculture Department said, "early-season uses for both fresh market shipment and for processing have been smaller than a year ago.

"Partly for this reason, grower prices last fall have averaged much higher than a year earlier, when prices were relatively low in view of the prospective heavy crop which was later reduced by freezes."

Fresh sales of 1958-59 Florida oranges hit about seven million boxes by Jan. 17, about 31 per cent below comparable sales a year earlier.

Use by processors was about 16.5 million boxes, 40 per cent below the heavy use a year earlier.

About 64 per cent of the 1957-58 U.S. orange crop was processed and nearly all the rest was used fresh.

Processing took about 77 per cent of last year's Florida crop, but only 15 per cent of the California crop.

U.S. production of grapefruit in 1958-59 was put at 42.5 million boxes, seven per cent above last year but six per cent below the 1947-56 average.

PB Area Farmers OK Plans

By ED PFISTER
Herald Bureau Chief

WEST PALM BEACH — An efficient Florida Department of Agriculture — supplanting the present "crazyquilt" setup that has evolved from a bureau created in 1889 — was proposed here Tuesday by a legislative delegation.

The committee, headed by Orange Park Sen. Tom Adams, has been studying the state's agriculture problems for 18 months under a mandate from the 1958 Legislature.

It paused here for a public hearing in the Mounts Agriculture Building to determine the reaction of farm organizations and leaders to 27 sweeping recommendations.

Palm Beach County Rep. Emmet S. Roberts said that "while the recommendations still can't spell out that the Secretary of Agriculture be familiar with that industry, they do provide safeguards."

He explained that the principal advisory committee and two other less elaborate committees would be made up of representatives from all agriculture interests in the state. They would guide the secretary.

Roberts said actually, the recommendations would create Florida's "first statutory Department of Agriculture."

"What we have now," he said "is a conglomeration of activities related to agriculture, both within and without the department."

He said the present system is overlapping and costly and fails to measure up to the demands of the agriculture industry.

The proposed recommendations—scheduled to be laid before the 1959 Legislature—won general tentative approval after they were explained in detail.

David C. Click, Clewiston, agriculturist and chairman of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control, Board, commended the committee for its work.

Mike Machek, Delray Beach, representing the Palm Beach County Farm Bureau, said the organization would send a letter of approval.

Roy Rood, of Jupiter, the Florida Nurserymen's Association, lauded the proposed recommendations, and George Young, representing the Glades Livestock Market and the Florida Livestock Market Association, suggested changes and was in agreement with the proposed reorganization.

T. D. Farnsworth, Lake Worth, agreed with protective measures suggested by the poultry industry.

Beasley 'Mix' Plan Disputed

PENSACOLA —(UPI)— Assistant Atty. Gen. Ralph E. Odum said Tuesday that Florida cannot much longer stave off integration of its public schools under present laws. He suggested that a private tuition plan might be the best way to ease the problem.

Odom, Florida's chief expert on segregation law, threw cold water on a "parent-option" plan proposed by House Speaker-Designate Thomas D. Beasley that would set up a dual system of both segregated and integrated schools.

He said it would be knocked out in a minute if ever challenged in the courts by a Negro child who could show he was denied admission to a white school he was otherwise entitled to attend.

He said Florida needs all the legislation it can get in this field and the Beasley plan would be valuable in communities where the races can amicably settle their differences.

Odum said another type of parent-option plan, that would include a state subsidy to parents to educate their children in private schools, would meet legal tests and is probably the only "realistic" solution for communities where integration would encounter violent public resistance.

Odum told the Pensacola Rotary Club that the Legislature should enact as many laws on the subject as possible, in order to cover situations which vary greatly in nearly every area.

There is no magic, foolproof cure-all to the problem, he said, "but some measure of relief may be found in a combination of various alternatives."

"County school boards should be given as wide latitude as possible under state law to choose from among a number of possible procedures which best suit their own local conditions," he said.

"It would be a mistake to attempt by state law to compel all school boards to follow the same procedure."

He told the civic leaders that the only permanent bar to race-mixing is privately-owned, operated and financed schools.

Until the people decide whether they want private schools or integrated schools, Odum said, public officials must exhaust every legal remedy to delay "premature and unworkable" Federal court integration orders.

Pioneer, 101, Still Spry

Special To The Herald

FORT MYERS — At 100 years old and almost 101, Mrs. Sara Ingraham is the oldest Southwest Florida pioneer, so far as can be learned — and may be the oldest living woman pioneer in the state.

In 1884 she and her husband J. B. Ingraham — he died 25 years ago — were first settlers on Fisheating Creek, 40 miles northeast of Fort Myers in the settlement now know as Venus.

"Panthers would screan suddenly in the night outside our cabin and frighten me terribly," she said. "Wolves would skulk in the edge of the timber by day and howl along the creek at night.

"Indians were our only neighbors, but they were friendly and helped teach us how to live in the wilderness. Wild deer and turkey were so numerous that we had to take turns standing guard to shoo them out of our garden in daytime."

Mrs. Ingraham was the daughter of a wealthy Reidsville, Ga., family and her husband was a Carolina physician and surgeon.

How they abandoned civilization and turned pioneers to invade the Southwest Florida wilderness is a story as strange as any fiction.

"He had a mania for hunting and fishing — he loved it more than his medical practice," said Mrs. Ingraham.

"He read a series of newspaper articles on the wilds of Florida and after that there was no holding him," she continued. "He closed his practice, we sold everything we had and moved to Fisheating Creek, staking out a homestead."

The doctor never doctored again, she said, except to treat the disorders of his own family, Indian friends, and later, white neighbors.

The Ingrahams brought up 10 children at their wilderness home. Five sons and two daughters are still living. One son, Otis, still lives at the old homestead on Fisheating Creek, raising cattle and hogs there.

Born March 27, 1858, at Reidsville, Ga., Mrs. Ingraham expects to be visiting her daughter Mrs. H. P. Langford at Limestone, Fla., when she celebrates her 101st birthday March 27th.

She is spry, active, cares for herself, walks to visit neighbors, and writes her own letters to old friends and members of the family.

"A person should keep busy, look for things to do — and never give up!" she said.

New Rules Ready for Assessors

TALLAHASSEE — (AP) —The State Cabinet Tuesday received a new tax assessors' manual which is expected to help bring uniform property values under the full cash value assessment law.

Action on the manual was deferred until Thursday. When adopted, county tax assessors will be required to follow it in arriving at assessments.

The 130-page manual will be used first in preparation of 1959 tax rolls.

It is the first general revision of the manual since 1945. The overhauling work was done by the school of business administration at Florida State University, in cooperation with Lewis H. Tribble, attorney for the state comptroller's office, and a committee of the County Tax Assessors Association.

Tribble said the manual didn't set forth any concise, clear cut definition of full cash value.

However, he said it did list some criteria based upon recent court decision, which would help assessors.

These included replacement costs, recent sales price, anticipated income and factors such as topography, shape, architecture, population trends, and general economic conditions.

Trawler Speeds to Port

Bite of Poison Fish Puts Seaman in Pain

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—The Coast Guard reported Tuesday a Florida seaman was bitten by a poisonous fish in the Gulf of Mexico Monday.

The Coast Guard identified the man as Ralph Shores, 34, Key West, a crewman aboard the trawler Duchess. A spokesman said he was bitten on his hand by a scorpion fish off Campeche on the Yucatan Peninsula.

The Duchess reported Shores was suffering pains in his arm, and the Coast Guard advised the owner of the trawler to arrange clearance with Mexican authorities and proceed to Campeche.

Last indications are the vessel is heading for Campeche, the Coast Guard said.

The Duchess is owned by Ed Knight of Thompson Enterprises, Key West.

Woman's Land Ad Probed by Cabinet

TALLAHASSEE —(AP)— The Cabinet voted Tuesday to look into the advertising practices of a Vero Beach woman who allegedly sells a list of state-owned lands available for purchase.

Van Ferguson, director of the Internal Improvement Fund, identified the woman as J. D. Hall. He said she formerly operated from Silver Springs, but has moved to Vero Beach.

Secretary of State R. A. Gray brought up the subject by asking if any of the Cabinet members had seen an ad which ran in New York newspapers. He said the ad implies that the list offered for sale is official.

He termed the ad "adroitly worded, which if analyzed word by word, says nothing that is not true, but in its entireity gives a false impression."

Gray said the ad refers to "State of Florida lands for sale."

Ferguson said the ads run in both out-of-state and Florida publications by the woman are a nuisance.

He said the woman sells a list of state properties available for sale and supplies "some sort of map" for a $3 fee. He said the listings include properties which are under lease and some which were sold years ago.

The state will furnish information of state lands available for purchase without cost, he said.

Ferguson said the ads had been modified recently, but still were objectionable.

"I don't know whether we can stop her. But the ads make a bad impression," Gray commented.

Ferguson said the ads have run in Boston, New York, several Midwest cities, Atlanta, Jacksonville and in Sunday supplements carried by a number of other Florida cities.

Gov. LeRoy Collins, recalling the 1957 law empowering the Real Estate Commission to crack down on false claims by subdivision developers, said he would ask the commission to look into the ads.

Collins said an ad even though not false, could be a violation of law if it is misleading.

"We ought to get into it and stop it," he said.

GAINESVILLE — (AP) — The University of Florida Honor Court is investigating reports of organized cheating on examinations by some students, some athletes.

Dean R. C. Beaty of student personnel said the Honor Court had initiated the inquiry and he was not familiar with details. He said he did not know the number of students involved.

Dr. J. Wayne Reitz, university president, said Dean Beaty had acquainted him with the situation and both he and Beaty "have the utmost confidence in the Student Honor Court which handles all such matters."

Crane Falls Killing 1

OCEAN RIDGE — One man was killed and another trapped for an hour just inches from death when a crane toppled into the Inland Waterway here Tuesday.

As the pile driving crane turned over, witnesses said, the 35-foot boom struck a Negro workman who was perched on a freshly driven piling, knocking him into the water.

Hours after the accident rescuers were still searching for the body. The victim was identified as Al Allen of Pompano Beach. Co-workers said he was married and hat a daughter.

The crane operator, Art Allen, was trapped in the crushed shell of the cabin for more than an hour before rescuers could cut through the tangled wreckage with a blow torch.

Proposal Includes Escalator Clause

TALLAHASSEE —(UPI)— A Citizens Advisory Council proposed legislation Tuesday that would have the immediate effect of raising maximum jobless benefits from $30 to $36 a week.

A companion measure would increase the period of payment from 16 to 26 weeks.

A similar formula, which ties benefits directly to a percentage of average weekly earnings of all industrial workers, was recommended for workmen's compensation, increasing these benefits from the present $35 weekly maximum to $44.

The proposal involves an "escalator" clause which would fluctuate benefits in both programs as wages are lowered or increased. Thus, in depression times, payments could fall below the present guaranteed maximum.

The recommendations, drafted by the State Industrial Commission's Advisory Council, were unveiled at a prelegislative hearing attended by representatives of management and labor.

No strong opposition was voiced, but spokesmen for Associated Industries, a powerful business lobbying group, said they will need more time to study the proposal before endorsing or rejecting it.

Industrial Commission Chairman James T. Vocelle said the new plan would make it possible for an unemployed Florida worker to qualify for a maximum of $936 a year.

The most a worker can get under the present law is $480 a year.

Vocelle said it would push Florida into 15th place among the states in maximum jobless benefits. It now ranks at the botton, with only Arkansas paying less.

It also would do away with the necessity for the Legislature to set dollars and cents maximums every two years.

Tinsley Rucker of Jacksonville, employer member of the council and chairman of the sub-committee that drew the unique proposal, called it a "great step forward."

Under the plan, the average wage of all covered workers would be figured each year, and maximum jobless payments would amount to half the average. Maximum workmen's compensation payments would be based on 60 per cent of the average.

The council also proposed that unemployment compensation coverage by required of all employers with one or more workers. Present law excludes employers with less than four employes.

Vocelle said this would bring another 80,000 workers under the program which now covers 800,000 of a total labor force of 1,200,000, excluding farm and domestic workers.

It recommended legislation increasing the taxable wage on which employers pay the unemployment compensation tax from $3,000 to $4,800 a year.

The council considered but rejected for the present extension of unemployment compensation coverage to state and local government workers, vegetable and fruit packers and non-profit organizations.

Bomarc Streaks To 'Kill'

CAPE CANAVERAL —(AP)— The Air Force's deadly Bomarc air defense missile scored another "kill" Tuesday on a blazing flight over the Atlantic.

Minutes after the needle-nose missile streaked skyward it closed in on a pilotless F-80 jet drone cruising some 200 miles out to sea.

For test purposes, the 47-foot missile did not make contact, but it was learned that the shoot was considered highly successful.

The Bomarc, one of the nation's most potent air defense weapons, was fired by remote control by a huge electronic computer brain 1,500 miles away in Kingston, N.Y.

The Kingston site is one of the centers for SAGE, the elaborate radar-computer network that protects the nation from a sneak air attack.

The computer turned out firing data in seconds after the drone was picked up by radar at the Cape.

The Bomarc, which should be operational before the end of the year, is powered by a liquid fuel booster rocket for takeoff and twin ramjet engines for sustained flight. It uses a unique radar homing device to dive in on target with amazing accuracy.

The first Bomarc launching base is ready at Santa Rosa Island off the Florida west coast. The Bomarc was fired successfully from there the first time Jan. 5.

Thirteen other Bomarc sites are being constructed at strategic locations throughout the country.

Collins Hits School Bus Overloading

TALLAHASSEE —(AP)— Gov. LeRoy Collins Tuesday expressed concern about overloading of school buses.

The governor said he had observed many school buses which the children were "stacked in." He expressed belief a driver could not control his vehicle in an emergency with youngsters jammed around his seat.

State School Superintendent Thomas D. Bailey said the state has both laws and regulations designed to prevent overloading. The problem is enforcement, he said.

"Some counties have got themselves into a jam. They just don't have enough buses to handle the children," Bailey said.

He said he too was worried about overcrowding of school buses and would do everything he could to get counties to comply with maximum load rules.

"It's one of those things that has to be taken care of at the local level," he said.

Trial Nears Jury

State Closing Case Against King

BARTOW — (UPI) — The state was almost thrugh building the case it hoped woud prove former state Sen. Harry King conspired to commit perjury before a Polk County Grand Jury in 1956.

Special Prosecutor Charles Nugent Jr. of West Palm Beach said he had only one witness left to call.

The defense was tight-lipped about its plans.

The state charged King paid former Rep. Boone Tillett Jr. $10,000 to step out of a Senate race against King.

The state said King conspired with the Polk sheriff and two deputies to tell a Grand Jury that the payment was an attempt to trap Tillett at blackmail—not a political pay-off.

One of the last witnesses called by the state Tuesday was O. C. Stanley, manager of the General Telephone Co. office at Winter Haven. He spent the morning on the stand identifying long distance toll slips allegedly representing calls made by King, the two deputies, the sheriff and a jailor who is also a defendant in the case.

Beth Steel Abandons Its Merger Plans

Dow Jones, AP, UPI

Bethlehem Steel Corp. and the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. announced they have abandoned plans for a merger and will not appeal a federal district court injunction against it.

The companies said an appeal could not be finally disposed of before 1960.

The government opposed the merger on the ground that it violated the Clayton Act and would lessen competition and create a monopoly.

The companies said they still believe the merger would have stimulated competition and resulted in obvious advantages to steel consumers and the public.

'Czechs Treated Me Like Royalty'

By STAN JOHNSON
Herald Business Writer

A Miami manufacturer who just returned from a buying trip behind the Iron Curtain says it's not difficult to do business with the Communuists.

"They treated me like royalty," said Jack Zwerner, president of Perrine Industries, Hialeah jalousie door manufacturer.

Zwerner visited Czechoslovakia where he made arrangements to buy window glass for his business.

He was met at an airport in Prague by a chauffeur-driven limousine and whisked to his hotel.

Later, he concluded a deal with the director of the government owned glass industry to buy 1.5 million dollars worth of jalousies over a 12-month period.

"They knew all about jalousies," said Zwerner. "I didn't have to explain anything to them."

He said the Czech glass can be delivered in Florida for about five per cent less than the glass he formerly bought in Western European countries.

Zwerner doesn't expect to encounter any sales resistance to his product in this country because of the switch to a Communist-made glass.

"A contractor is interested in quality and price," he said. "He doesn't care where the glass comes from."

'Your System Is Too Hit-or-Miss'

Q. I am a 39-year-old widow and have a monthly pension of $125. I ventured into the stock market for the first time a few months ago and I am a bit nervous.

I bought 15 shares of Kroger (I will have 45 as a result of the three-for-one split), 25 shares of Texas Gulf Sulphur, 100 shares of Chock Full O'Nuts, 1,000 shares of Lisbon Valley Uranium (at three cents a share) and 100 shares of Holly Corp. (at $1.50 a share).

I know the last two are highly speculative. But I decided to take the risk because of the low cost. What do you think of my choice?

A. Some are fair. Some are bad. But your whole system (if it can be called that) of buying stock is terrible. You are going about investing in a hit-or-miss method. You have no more right owning some of those things than you do playing the horses.

A widow on a pension should never buy highly risky stocks, no matter how low their price seems to be. The small profit you might make isn't worth the worry and the distinct possibility that you might lose some of what little money you have.

And those two low-priced things aren't the only ones you should be concerned about. Actually, none of the issues you hold is really suited for you.

Kroger has been a very good performer. It is a high-grade stock, but is more of a growth issue than an income producer. It should appeal to people looking to the future—not to widows in need of current income.

Texas Gulf Sulphur has had its ups and downs in the market. It might be easy to argue that, because the company is the world's largest producer of sulphur and has a strong financial position, its stock has to improve in our expanding economy. That may be true. But it has to live down its past reputation.

Chock Full O'Nuts looks good. However, the stock has been on the market only a short time and will have to prove itself.

This kangaroo is blissfully unaware of it, but she's been insured for $350.

In what is described as the Miami area's only individual life insurance policy for a kangaroo, Cauley and Martin insurance agency insured the life of Katy, the traveling mascot of Riddle Airlines.

George L. Giles, Riddle's president, took out the policy.

Katy is really more than a mascot. She's valuable as the central theme of a Riddle sales program and makes public appearances in cities on the airline's routes.

Unheralded Stock Goes Up 967 Pct.

NEW YORK —(UPI)— A spectacular stock market performance in the tradition of E. L. Bruce, Lukens Steel, American Motors and P. Lorillard is being staged by a little-known $2 million a year chemical company headquartered in Elizabeth, N.J.

Stock of Borne Chemical Co. on the American Stock Exchange more than doubled itself last week and touched a high Monday of $80 a share which is 967 per cent above its 1958 low of $7.50.

Last week it rose by $32.25 a share to $63.25.

Company officials aren't sure what's responsible. Neither are the brokerage houses.

But there are lots of theories. Among these are a slim supply of stock, a new process for hermetically sealing plastic containers and rumored development of a plastic suitable for the missile field.

In many cases of such rises the ticker is fired by groups trying to buy into the company. However, Borne officials say that isn't the case here.

Out of 189,492 outstanding shares only about 40,000 or 50,000 are on the market, with the balance held by management.

New High Set in Savings

A record savings increase of $47,123,000 in December brought total savings for the 103 Florida savings and loan assiciatons to $2,054,265,000 at the close of 1958.

According to statistics released by the Florida Savings and Loan League, the record savings increase during December surpassed the previous monthly high of $40,879,500 established in December, 1957, by $6,243,500.

While savings were on the rise in December, total loans closed during the month also set a new monthly record of $51,904,761 which enabled the Florida associations to close out the year with $506,881,000 in loans closed.

This was the first time that the savings and loan lending volume in Florida had passed the half - billion - dollar mark. The record lending year was $54,096,000 above the total for 1957.

During 1958, the savings and loan associations in Florida financed 61,370 dwellings including 23,900 new homes.

A Sell-It-Yourself Lot

A do-it-yourself car lot where people can rent space and sell their own flivvers opened Tuesday in Fort Lauderdale.

The promoters, Bruce Meinken and Ray McMackin, say their Car Owners Market Corp. is the first used car lot in the nation which allows the buyer and seller to do business directly, thus eliminating middleman costs and profits.

A flat fee of $9 entitles the car owner to three days, or any part thereof, of "sales exposure" on the COMCO lot at 620 W. Broward Blvd.

After three days, the rate drops to $1.50 a day.

An inquiry card setup enables the buyer and seller to get together privately and set their own price.

Meinken and McMackin will advertise cars on their lots and arrange financing and insurance for buyers, if they need them.

We'll Keep Armed, Says Nikita

Russia Launches Economic Campaign to Outstrip West

Premier Sets Sight On 1970

Original Doctrine Of War Reversed

Warning to West, 7A

MOSCOW — (UPI) — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev Tuesday launched a campaign for the economic conquest of the West that is designed to put Russia ahead of the U.S. by 1970.

He proclaimed the Communist doctrine that neither hot nor cold war is inevitable against capitalism in his message to the opening of the 21st Soviet Communist Party Congress. He stressed that while Russia wants peaceful competition, it is keeping itself well armed with missiles.

He spoke for six hours and five minutes on everything from Germany and Berlin to giving Russians the shortest working week in the world and each family an apartment. His every point drew loud applause.

He disclosed that military strength will not be sacrificed.

"Massive serial production of intercontinental missiles is under way," he said.

The premier did not elaborate. But he warned that Russia, with its cosmic rocket and satellites, has missiles to hit any point on earth.

He stressed, however, that "we want competition to take place . . . not . . . in the production of atomic and hydrogen weapons but in the production of industrial goods, meat, butter . . ."

The U.S. will be "outstripped" by 1970 in the new "realistic" Russian plan, he said.

Khrushchev visualized stepped up Russian production under the 1959-1965 seven-year plan; then, within the next five years, or by 1970, the time will have come when Russia has "the decisive edge" in the world.

He called for an 8.6 per cent annual increase in Soviet production and said America's annual increase was only two per cent.

"When fulfilled, the seven-year plan will so greatly increase the economic potential of the U.S.S.R. that it will, together with the growth of the economic potential of all the Socialist countries, give peace a decisive edge," he said.

He admitted that the U.S. industrial production per capita now is double Russia's and that American agricultural production is 40 per cent ahead.

But in the last eight years, in such fields as steel, oil, coal, cement and wool, the rate of increase of Soviet production surpassed the American rate, he said.

Khrushchev called for a 1965 production target of 65 million to 70 million tons of pig iron, 86 million to 91 million tons of steel, and 65 million to 70 million tons of rolled stock. Other metal production must be increased "several times over." Oil production should double to 230 million to 240 million tons. Electric power stations must double capacity.

The national income is to rise as much as 65 per cent, he said.

"This new balance of forces will be so patently evident that even the most diehard imperialists will clearly see the futility of any attempt to start a war against the Socialist camp."

Khrushchev's thesis, hammered at again and again, appeared to be that with the nuclear stalemate in the world, economic power will be the key to eventual Communist triumph —a reversal of the original doctrine that war is inevitable between socialism and capitalism.

His 'Prescription' Makes Sense

Doctor-President May 'Cure' Haiti

Dr. Francois Duvalier, Haiti's president, has outlined the progress of his five-year plan for development of his poverty-stricken country to Miami Herald Managing Editor George Beebe. This is the first of several articles.

By GEORGE BEEBE
Herald Managing Editor

PORT AU-PRINCE, Haiti—A couple of recent economic transfusions are improving Haiti's chances of recovery — but the patient is still on the critical list.

It is going to take all of the skill of Dr. Francois Duvalier to rectify the bungling of a long line of political medicos who preceded him in the presidency of this vibrant but bankrupt Negro republic.

In the 15 months since the good doctor took over the miserably happy country, he's come up with a formula that seems to make sense to most of his 3,500,000 constituents.

Haiti has had 130 revolutions in 155 years of independence.

People are sick of revolt. They seem to like Dr. Duvalier's soft touch on the pulse.

The man who studied for two years at the University of Michigan, still has envious foes plotting his downfall. But their chances lessen as his program solidifies.

Duvalier had the misfortune of gaining the presidency when a sagging world coffee market knocked the props completely out from an already shaky economy.

This makes his task doubly difficult.

Undismayed, the graying, distinguished looking 51-year-old Dr. Duvalier has launched an ambitious five-year recovery program that looks like this:

INAUGURATED a slum clearance project—in one of the world's worst slums.

SIGNED contracts for a score of job-producing industries.

CALLED in United States experts to analyze his budgetary and military problems.

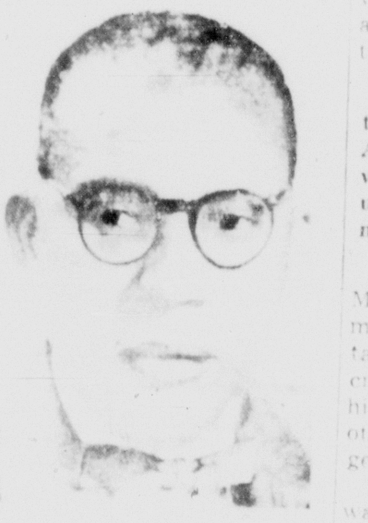
APPOINTED a $1-a-year tourist commission to beat the drums for more free-spending Americans.

TURNED attention to furthering secondary education to produce better civic and political leadership.

LAUNCHED the $6,500,000 Artibonite Valley irrigation and drainage program that will open up farm lands and resettlement areas.

Dr. Duvalier made two significant announcements in recent days.

He set Friday as expiration date of dictatorial powers he decreed for himself six months ago. This will ease the fear of his people that he had dictatorial ambitions.



Dr. Duvalier
. . . five-year plan

He has hired a U.S. military mission to reorganize the 5,000-man army and take it out of politics.

In the past, presidential aspirants who could sway military leaders to their side, had the key to overthrowing the government. The plums for being a military officer were great.

"All this must change for the good of our country," said the president.

Haiti now spends nearly one-fourth of its $30,000,000 budget on its army. President Duvalier is quick to explain this major expense item by pointing out that the soldiers also serve as the island's police force.

Cold War Still On --Dulles

High Level Talks On Germany OKd

Nixon's Views, 2A

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Secretary of State John Foster Dulles gave the nod Tuesday to a foreign ministers conference on Germany this spring. At the same time, he firmly rejected any idea that Russia is trying to thaw the cold war.

Dulles told newsmen: "I have seen nothing so far which leads me to feel that there is a genuine (Soviet) desire to end the cold war. There is a very strong desire to delude us into thinking the cold war is ended.

"There are a series of proposals made ostensibly to help end the cold war which would, in fact, play greatly into the hands of the prosecutors of the cold war."

This attitude led reporters to ask what possible good could then be expected from any foreign ministers meeting this spring.

Dulles replied that the West simply has to keep trying. Sometimes, if you are tough enough and patient, agreements fair to all can be reached, he said.

Dulles said the Korean armistice, the Austrian peace treaty and last January's U.S.-Soviet exchange agreement were all examples of results from this kind of tenacity.

Dulles said it seems to him that Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan got the wrong idea about America's unity during his U.S. visit this month.

The trouble was, Dulles said, Mikoyan's talks with government officials got down to brass tacks—concrete cases, concrete ... proposals" — while his talks with businessmen and others mostly dealt with broad generalities.

The exception, Dulles said, was Mikoyan's meeting with a group of union leaders who, the secretary said, "presented their views very strongly and effectively."

Apparently what Dulles had in mind were Mikoyan's sour comments that the American people want peace, but their government clings to policies which continue the cold war.

"After his trip around the country," Dulles said of Mikoyan, "he still seemed to be under an illusion that there was a greater divergence on these matters than I think is the case."

Nevertheless, Dulles added, he has "no great concern" that Russia will make a serious miscalculation on that basis, conceding there is always such a danger. He recalled that both the Kaiser and Hitler misjudged America's temper before each of the world wars.

Roaring Atlas Flies 'Test Hop'

More State News 9A, 11A, 1C, 2D

CAPE CANAVERAL—(UPI)—A barrel-chested Atlas missile, mainstay of the U.S. rocket arsenal, thundered into the sky Tuesday night on what was believed to be only a 4,500-mile test hop.

Officials said it was another test aimed at improving the reliability of the intercontinental Atlas, scheduled to be in troop units by June 30.

The firing followed by only a few hours Russian Party Chief Nikita Khrushchev's announcement that the Soviets were turning out ICBMs in series production.

The three powerful engines of the 100-ton war rocket shattered the evening stillness of the Cape. Ignition occurred at 6:34 p.m. EST. The 80-foot Atlas, bathed in flood lights, began its characteristic gradual climb and bored through two low-hanging cloud banks.

The rocket appeared to head on a more easterly course than usual for Atlas firings. It was visible for more than five minutes, vanishing with a blue glow in the sky.

The Atlas put in orbit the "talking" satellite which burned up last Wednesday after 34 days in space. But an Atlas has been shot the full ICBM range of 6,300 miles only once. Engine failure cut short a second intercontinental hop attempt of an Atlas fired Jan. 15. That missile traveled less than 200 miles.

Tuesday night's Atlas firing was the 19th of the powerful missile since testing began 14 months ago. And it was the second in a new test phase aimed at improving the reliability of the Atlas.

One of the primary purposes of the new tests is to make the Atlas's mechanism simpler and to reduce the weight.

Convair Astronautics is making Atlases only in a limited quantity at its San Diego, Calif., plant. But the weapons are being turned out by a production line, with modifications being made as Cape tests prove them necessary.

Jobless Diplomat Undecided on Future

Batista Consul Pops Up, Denies Fleeing Miami

By JAMES BUCHANAN
Herald Staff Writer

Eduardo Hernandez, Batista's Miami consul-general who dropped out of sight when the dictator fled into exile, popped up here just as suddenly Tuesday.

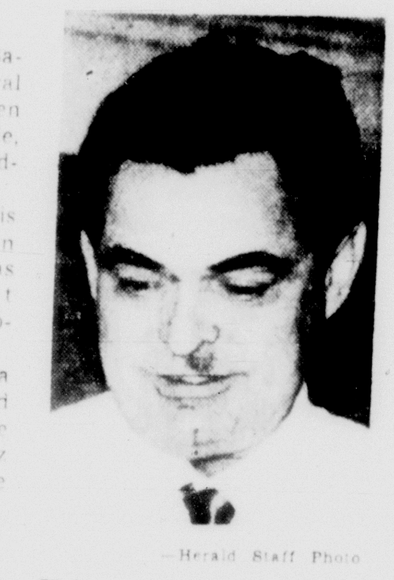
The diplomat, who lost his job with the change in Cuban governments, denied there was anything "mysterious" about his absence, as implied by rebel forces.

In shirt sleeves, sporting a cold sore on his upper lip and undecided about the future, the 49-year-old, dapper Hernandez is trying to find a new place in the sun.

His light went out Jan. 1 when rebel chieftain Fidel Castro took over Cuba.

Hernandez stood on the lawn of his home at 403 W. San Marino Dr. on Miami Beach's Marino Island and talked to four of his close friends.

It probably was the largest gathering of pro-Batista men in Greater Miami since Cuba's latest Independence Day.



—Herald Staff Photo

Eduardo Hernandez
. . . no 'mystery'

"I did not flee Miami on Dec. 31 as the rebels have claimed," Hernandez said.

"I left Miami Beach on Dec. 8 for New York, where my wife is hospitalized. And I did not 'strip' my consulate office of official records in Miami as the rebels also claim," Hernandez said.

His future is indefinite, Hernandez admitted, but his plans depend solely on the health of his wife "whom I expect to be well, and to join me, very soon."

Hernandez said the loss of his job with the Batista government would be covered "by investments I have here in Florida." He declined to name them.

"What I do from now on depends first upon what my wife wants to do," he said. Mrs. Hernandez has been in ill health for nearly a year.

Hernandez would talk about the weather, the price of fish, or anything but the past-current-or-future of Cuba or its government.

"Just make it 'no comment'," he said. "It is no time for me to talk now."

Reports that Hernandez was hidden behind armed guards at his island home or had moved are untrue.

Hernandez served Batista for the first time from 1936 until 1944 as consul-general at Miami and then went to Rio de Janeiro as consul. He returned here in 1945 as a real estate man and exporter.

In 1952, with Batista returning to power, Hernandez became consul-general once again and remained until the recent change in government.

The new consul here is Antonio Medina, career diplomat who was Hernandez' assistant.

Getting a Bang Out of Life

Sorghum--Wall-to-Wall!

MEMPHIS, Tenn. —(AP)— Somebody dropped the sorghum and thus began the wildest evening in Mrs. Raymond Fisher's life. That was the night she was having a dinner party.

She related her tale of woe Tuesday.

A friend dropped by with a quart of sorghum and fumbled it as it was being put in the refrigerator. The result: Wall-to-wall sorghum.

Then somebody else brushed too close to the kitchen stove—and over went a big roaster pan almost brimful of giblet gravy.

Have you ever had a kitchen with wall-to-wall sorghum topped with giblet gravy?

Somehow or other Mrs. Fisher got her 10 guests fed, then stumbled wearily off to bed. Four hours later she wakened with a touch of dyspepsia and reached in the dark for a piece of indigestion-cure chewing gum.

She got something, put it in her mouth and bit down. Boom!

It wasn't gum at all, but a tiny torpedo firecracker, the kind kids fling on the sidewalk.

Successor OKd for Bishop

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Dr. William F. Creighton was elected bishop coadjutor of the Episcopal Diocese of Washington Tuesday.

The 49-year-old rector of St. John's Episcopal Church of Bethesda, Md., was elected by a special diocesan convention. He will automatically succeed the Rt. Rev. Angus Dun as bishop when the latter retires not later than 1962.

Western Hemisphere Association Proposed

From Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Creation of a Pan American Parliamentary Association to seek removal of trade and travel barriers in the Western Hemisphere was proposed Tuesday by Sen. George Smathers.

The association would be set up in accordance with a resolution introduced in the Senate by Smathers.

The Florida Democrat told the Senate the association would "aid immeasureably in breaking down artificial barriers which prevent a maximum degree of unity, cooperation and understanding."

He proposed that the association be made up of legislators from the 21 American republics.

Smathers said the State Department and many of the Latin American nations favor the proposal as a means "by which the strained relations existing today — created solely by unfounded distrust — can be eradicated."

"The Communists in launching their Latin American economic offensive wasted no time in seizing upon this unfortunate and needless situation," Smathers said.

Nixon: Labor Knows How to Handle Reds

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Tuesday night that American businessmen who lionized Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan could learn a lesson from labor leaders on how to deal with Communists.

Nixon called Mikoyan "the equal of any leader I have met" and said that his recent visit here — taken as a whole —was "in the best interests of the U.S. and the free world."

But he added in an address to the Fordham College Alumni Association that the Soviet official brought "no new approach" on major East-West issues. The visit, he said, resulted in no change in the U.S. or Soviet positions.

Nixon said he did not agree with those who criticized American businessmen and bankers for entertaining Mikoyan.

"But I would respectfully suggest," he added, "that some of them in this instance could learn a lesson from our labor leaders who had to fight their unions and in the process learned how to deal with them.

"They know that a soft and naive approach does not produce results. The Communists respect those who oppose them on principle. They have nothing but contempt for those who are dupes and who can be deceived by what they know are obvious untruths."

The vice president also warned that no more disastrous mistake could be made than to slash this country's foreign economic, propaganda and political programs in the name of economy.

Nixon said he could testify that Mikoyan returned to Russia with completely different views if he expected to find this country divided in its opposition to communism, its workers "seething with discontent" or its economy in trouble.

He said Mikoyan was "noticeably impressed by the economic progress the U.S. had made in the 22 years since his last visit here and by the obvious strength of our economy today."

In a further tribute to the anti-Communist stand of American labor, Nixon added that Mikoyan did not find any encouraging signs of progress in the U.S. toward fulfillment of the Marxist prediction of an inevitable class struggle.

"On the contrary, he admitted with almost grudging admiration that the strongest defenders of the American system, the most vigorous critics of communism, and the most uncompromising supporters of our firm stand in Berlin were not the traditional whipping boys of Communist propaganda, the Wall Street bankers and businessmen, but the leaders of our free trade unions who represented the views of millions of America's wage earners."

Nixon said Mikoyan displayed mental ability and shrewdness but that even more impressive were his "steel-like toughness of character and an almost arrogant faith that his cause was right and that it would inevitably prevail."

He said he showed "no flabbiness, no softness, none of the uncertainty of the pragmagist seeking a philosophy." In short, he said, the American people were reminded in Mikoyan of "the massiveness and of the seriousness of the challenge we face in the world today."

The vice president admitted that he had been deeply concerned at "the naive attitude and the lack of understanding of communism displayed by some Americans" who represented this country in government and out overseas.

He said too few Americans saw the total picture of the anti-Communist struggle when they attacked technical aid, developmental loans, exchange and information programs.

Ike's Labor Message Due Today

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Eisenhower will send his labor message to Congress today. Sparks are expected to fly.

Eisenhower helped set up a fight by scorning a rival bill, introduced a week ago by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D., Mass), as a halfway measure.

That presidential description was relayed to newsmen by Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, House Republican leader who was among a group that conferred for 2½ hours with Eisenhower at the White House Tuesday.

The Kennedy bill may be a little better than nothing, Halleck said on his own account. But not much, he added slightingly.

Kennedy, a likely contender for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960, got his bill in well ahead of both the administration's and one planned by Chairman John L. McClellan (D., Ark.) of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

All three aim, or are expected to aim, in the same general direction but with different approaches: To eliminate as much as possible of the corruption and racketeering that have been shown to exist in some labor-management relations. The Teamster Union headed by James R. Hoffa is a common target.

It was reported at the Labor Department last week that Secretary James P. Mitchell regards the Kennedy bill with a good deal of favor—as far as it goes.

However, Mitchell is said to feel that there should be a stronger ban on blackmail picketing and that union officials should be held more accountable to members for handling union funds.

Halleck said the administration bill is intended to deal with a situation that has created a "stench in the nostrils of everybody."

Kennedy has spoken of his measure as an effective reform bill which would "virtually put Mr. Hoffa and his associates out of business."

The Kennedy bill would require public financial accounting by unions, fix criminal penalties for mishandling of union funds or books, make it illegal for union funds to be paid to hoodlums, ban shakedowns and require democratic union elections.

Mrs. Hernandez Loses Airline Job

Fired by Castro, She Says

A 10-year employe of Cuba's "Q" Airlines said Tuesday she was fired by Fidel Castro "because I am married to the brother of the former Cuban counsul."

Mrs. Elena Bejar Hernandez, a U.S. citizen, and her husband of nine months, former Cuban Army Major Efrain Hernandez, said the orders for her dismissal "came right from the top—from Castro himself."

Ex-Maj. Hernandez's brother is former Cuban consul Eduardo Hernandez who fled Miami with his wife on Dec. 31, the day before Castro's revolutionary forces took control of the government.

Efrain Hernandez, who said he was serving in Miami as an army attache to the consulate here, turned over the keys to his office Monday to the new Cuban consul, Antonio Medina.

"Since March 15, 1949, I have served "Q" Airlines in Miami," Mrs. Hernandez said, "and all of the officials here said they were sorry they had to give me 24-hour notice, but those were their orders."

Roberto Chomat, special representative for the airlines here, was not available for comment Tuesday afternoon.

Efrain Hernandez said another of his brothers, Humberto, who had been with the airlines "since they put the first seat in the first plane," also was dismissed from his job at Havana.

"Castro has decided to clear all the Hernandez family from any connection whatsoever with Cuba," the ex-major said. "Myself, I expected it, but it is sad to realize they are extending the purge to U.S. citizens who may be members of our family."

Hernandez, often the target of rebel Cuban groups in Miami for his alleged espionage activities for Batista, said both he and his wife "are looking for jobs."

Mrs. Hernandez was given two weeks pay with her dismissal from the airline, which serves several points in Cuba from West Palm Beach and Key West.

Rain's Out For Today

Sudden hard rains caught weathermen and beach - goers with their umbrellas down Tuesday — but it's not supposed to happen again today.

Mostly sunny weather with temperatures near 80 was forecast for today, and only a chance of showers.

"It won't be anything like Tuesday," said Forecaster Gil Clark.

He blamed the afternoon showers Tuesday on a cold trough in the upper air that didn't change ground temperatures but plastered Greater Miami with nearly an inch of rain.

'Ballet' Girl Scandals Rock Paris

PARIS —(UPI)— The "Affair of the Rose Ballets" added stories of alleged sex orgies involving at least one prominent French politician and teenage girls Tuesday to a wave of scandals which have suddenly beset the young Fifth French Republic.

Paris circles already were buzzing over a sensational legal battle that has entangled one of France's wealthiest families in sordid charges of bribery, blackmail, procuring and attempted murder.

A blonde 23-year-old call girl was the key figure in what is known as "L'Affaire Lacaze."

The "Affair of the Rose Ballets" leaped into prominence when a Paris judge summoned former Police Officer Pierre Sorlut for questioning about his alleged role in organizing parties of young girls for prominent French personalities, including at least one high-ranking politician, not otherwise identified.

Sorlut was arrested and jailed recently on the basis of stories told police by several girls who said Sorlut arranged indecent "rose ballets" in villas in the outskirts of Paris.

The girls were said to have been lured into the "ballets" with promises they would meet important men who would help them to careers as actresses and models.

What exactly took place at the "Rose Ballets" was not disclosed. But some Paris newspapers said part of the routine was for the girls to perform "suggestive dances" in front of "personalities who wanted to meet young girls."

"L'Affaire Lacaze" involved Jean Lacaze, 57, wealthy director of the Zellidja lead and zinc mine in Morocco, and his adopted nephew, Jean-Pierre Guillaume, 25.

Guillaume was adopted by Lacaze's sister, Mme. Jean Walter, widow of the founder of the mines and a wealthy woman.

Lacaze was alleged to have attempted to have Guillaume murdered and tried to frame him on a charge of procuring in order to cheat him out of his heritage.

According to Guillaume, Lacaze promised $30,375 to self-admitted call girl Marie-Therese Godeneche if she would get Guillaume arrested on charges of procuring.

Lacaze and one of his attorneys were arrested last week and charged with bribing a witness.

Holdup Man Held As Killer Suspect

Metro detectives Tuesday began checking the possibility that an 18-year-old Minnesota youth who told police of a whirlwind robbery spree may also be a killer.

Public Safety Director Thomas J. Kelly said a .32 caliber pistol dropped Monday by Herbert Leland Richard of Austin, Minn., alias Michael David Leahey, was the same type that fired a fatal bullet into the head of Ojus bar owner Vernon Brubaker Saturday night.

Miami police said Richard told them of four robberies, two of them at gunpoint, and two car thefts in Minnesota that netted him some $3,000 in cash. He said he lived like a king in Jacksonville and Miami Beach before being caught in a Miami supermarket holdup Monday.

Homestead Jail Practices Hit

The Dade County Grand Jury in an interim report Tuesday criticized "lax practices" in the Homestead city jail and recommended reorganization of the Homestead Police Department.

The report said the jury's recommendation followed an "extensive investigation" of conditions in the jail, including the escape of a Negro prisoner who wounded an officer before he was finally shot down and killed.

Byroade Backed for Afghan Post

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Henry A. Byroade won Senate Foreign Relations Committee approval Tuesday to be ambassador to Afghanistan. First, however, he was questioned about complaints over his contacts with an American Negro at his former post in the Union of South Africa where the government maintains a color barrier.

The ambassador, just back from South Africa Monday night, was asked about a party given there in his honor to which an American Negro was invited. Sen. Frank Church (D., Idaho) noted reports that an official of the South African government had protested.

Byroade said that was correct, but it wasn't the first time an American Negro citizen had been invited, although the embassy has been accused of maintaining a color barrier.

The ambassador said he attempted to explain to the South African official the difference between the U. S. citizen and African natives, because "their laws are very strict."

"I think the embassy is making the best compromise that it can," he said.

Louis DeJoie, wealthy mulatto planter who lost to Duvalier in the 1957 election and fled to New York, boasts from exile that his political foe "won't last another six months."

There is a lot of speculation as to the nature of a recent border conference between Duvalier and Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo of over-the-mountains Dominican Republic.

Duvalier says it was to patch up differences that have strained relations between the countries for years, to sign a non-aggression pact and to launch a joint battle against communism on the island.

Despite its poverty, Haiti has resisted the heavy hand of the Communists.

Dr. Duvalier estimates there are 2,000 known Communists in Haiti. He is proud that he was able to reject overtures made to him by Soviet Russia right after his election.

"I'd much prefer to deal with the United States," he said.

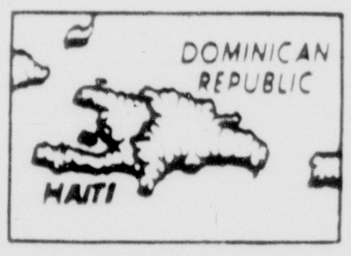
Haiti At a Glance



HAITI is one of the world's three Negro republics, located 640 miles southeast of Miami.

SIZE approximates Maryland in area. Occupies one-third the Caribbean island of Hispaniola which it shares with the Dominican Republic.

POPULATION estimated at 3,500,000 French-speaking natives. The religion is Catholic but Voodoo is practiced.

GOVERNMENT is run by a president and two elected houses.

POLITICS are frequently turbulent. Twice since taking office in 1957 President Duvalier has shaken up the Army's general staff to counter reported revolutionary plots. Haiti is strongly anti-Communist.

ECONOMY hinges on tourism.

MARINE—Jacksonville through the Florida Straits: Variable winds at five to 12 miles an hour. Partly cloudy, except considerable cloudiness extreme north with some rain. East Gulf: Variable winds at five to 12 miles an hour. Partly cloudy except considerable cloudiness with some light rain extreme north.

Statistics

MIAMI READINGS AT 4:30 P.M. TUESDAY: Skies cloudy, temperature 74 degrees, winds from the southeast at five miles an hour, barometer 30.00 inches, relative humidity 90 per cent.

National Summary

The slowly moving eastern weather pattern continued to give combinations of ice sleet and snow over much of the most populace area of the U.S.

The advance of colder air will be accompanied by considerable cloudiness through the Gulf states but should help evict the combination of freezing rain sleet and snow from the east.

Fair to partly cloudy and cold weather should return to the central and northern Appalachians mid Atlantic states and New England by Wednesday.

Occasional rain and colder temperatures are indicated for Georgia and the Carolinas restricting fair warm conditions to Florida.

A broad zone of warming temperatures and generally fair weather is forecast from the central plains to the mid Mississippi and Ohio Valleys while some snow may drift across the Northern Great Lakes region.

Intermittent rain will give way to showers through the Pacific northwest Wednesday and showers of rain or snow should extend across northern California into the central plateau and Rockies.

Wrecking Crews Clearing Way for 4-Lane Highway

By DAN BROWN
Cocoa Bureau Chief

COCOA — Wrecking tools are rasping out a song of progress for this community. They are clearing the way for a new million-dollar highway.

All along a new Cocoa-Rockledge route for U.S. 1 workmen are ripping down buildings to make way for the road construction crews who'll be here in about a month.

Other men are planning businesses they hope will blossom alongside the new road.

Thirty-seven buildings—most of them in Cocoa's Negro section — are coming down in the road's path.

The new road, a four-lane divided highway, is to run from Cocoa's north limits to an existing four-lane section of U.S. 1 south of Rockledge.

Although the road will follow a new route most of its length, 7.2 miles, road engineers have managed to route it through sparsely developed sections.

One trailer park, the Hillcrest in Rockledge, will go. A Negro church has been moved and the 37 buildings are coming down. But for most of its length the road will cross only fields and citrus groves.

The improved highway will follow the existing U.S. 1 route between Cocoa's north line and Cocoa Place in the north section of the city.

It'll also use existing rights-of-way from a point in Rockledge where the existing road and a railroad nearly touch to the north end of the existing four-laning.

Lucky Residents of 4 Towns Don't Have to Pay City Taxes

Second in a Series

By BILL BUNGE
Melbourne Bureau Chief

MELBOURNE — Residents in half of the eight cities in South Brevard County should have more money left after taxes — than folks in the four other towns — because they have no municipal taxes to pay.

BUNGE

These lucky people live in Palm Bay, Indian Harbor Beach, Melbourne Village and Satellite Beach.

People residing in Melbourne, Eau Gallie, Melbourne Beach and Indialantic get an annual tax bill.

If the proposal goes through for the formation of this area's ninth town, there will be five municipalities without city tax levies. Leaders of the movement to incorporate the thickly populated section south of Patrick Air Force Base claim there would be adequate revenue from other sources.

A majority of the cities which do not levy taxes against resident's property are financed by kick-backs from the state cigaret tax and franchise agreements with Florida Power and Light Co.

Some, however, add to that income by charging occupational license and building permit fees. And a good police department often picks up a few extra dollars here and there.

As an example of the income a small town can pick up from the state and power company, backers of the incorporation of the area south of the base claim their income would run between $15,000 and $30,000 from the cigaret tax refund alone.

Even in the larger towns of Melbourne and Eau Gallie, the power franchise and cigaret tax refunds "help out a lot," say city officials.

Palm Bay probably has one of the most interesting arrangements of any of the cities who operate without taxing residents.

In Palm Bay, citizens and municipal officials pitch in under a cooperative plan to get public works projects done. There isn't any set rule about who is supposed to help on this or that project, but there always are enough "hands" and material and equipment available when somebody decides on a new program.

Town officials give this as one of the main reasons why there isn't any need for property taxes.

When the town was first incorporated, streets were in bad shape. Soon volunteer work parties turned up with material and equipment—and tackled the task.

Palm Bay now boasts a modern and comfortable city hall—built by the people. And sheltered in an area adjoining the new building is a shiny red fire engine—free of debt. A county fire unit also is kept there.

But it is hard to keep away from charging property taxes. Indialantic, largest and perhaps fastest growing city south of Patrick on the beach, started out life as a city without taxes.

As more and more residents settled there, demands on the municipal government grew. Officials finally decided city taxes had to be levied. But this was no easy thing to get into operation.

The original idea was to levy a special assessment against property to fix streets and handle drainage work. One of the town's largest property owners went to court and won.

Indialantic went back to its kick-back source of revenue, after returning a considerable amount of funds paid by property owners under the original taxation attempt. However, the opposition was hurdled later, and now Indialantic has tax bills to send out each year, too.

Jensen Beach Bridge Repair Work Gets OK

New Span Ruled Out For Now

By ZOLA SWARTHOUT
Herald Correspondent

STUART — The Martin County Commission has decided to repair the Jensen Beach Bridge draw span.

The bridge is not expected to be open to traffic, however, for three or four months.

The board reached its decision after it was informed by the State Road Department that there was no hope of planning to build a new bridge for at least two years.

The bridge has been out of commission since Thanksgiving when a barge smashed the draw span.

State Road Department board member William D. Singer of Miami told the commission in a letter that the board had decided that "no additional bonds could be issued until the income from the two new Stuart bridges to the ocean increases substantially."

He added that the fiscal requirements of the bond resolution for the Stuart bridges must be met before additional bonds could be issued.

"We will check this situation periodically and keep you advised. I hope to see an increase in the 80 per cent gas surplus fund and in tolls on the Stuart bridges," Singer said.

He added that he felt tolls would increase when water was made available on Hutchinson Island, and when land prices moderated to the extent that development there would appear profitable.

Singer advised the commission to accept the proposal made by the insurance company covering the damage done by the insurance barge, and replace the drawspan. The insurance adjustors said there was $30,000 evident damage and had set aside another $30,000 for "hidden damage."

The board decided to accept the insurance company's proposal and proceed with the repair of the draw span.

Singer also advised the commission that the SRD would resurface one and a half miles of Sewall's Point Road from just north of the Stuart bridges road to the intersection of State Road 707 in Jensen Beach. This project, according to Singer, will get under way immediately.

At a joint meeting held Jan. 13 at Seymour's Inn in Jensen Beach with the Martin and St. Lucie county commissions, various road projects effecting both counties were discussed.

St. Lucie County said they would attempt to finish A1A down Hutchinson Island to the north Martin County line, and would include the cost in a proposed bond issue, if Martin County would build a portion of the proposed Glades Highway which runs through Martin County.

Singer advised the Martin County Commission that St. Lucie County commissioners wanted the SRD to pay from it's four cent gasoline funds over a period of 30-year debt retirement, that portion of the debt service cost equal to the pro-rata of the cost of the A1A project to the total bond issue.

"Also," continued Singer, "they (St. Lucie county) want assurance that the Glades cutoff road would be built along the railroad track to Lake Okeechobee through Martin County."

Singer said that the SRD board was firmly opposed to committing four cent funds beyond the term of this administration.

Singer urged the Martin Commission to acquire the right of way for the Glades cutoff road as soon as possible.

Martin County Attorney William R. Scott and commissioner Guy F. Boyd assured the commission that the rights of way would be secured soon for the Glades road.

Martin To Enforce Zoning Law

STUART — Proper and adequate roads and drainage system will be sharply eyed by the Martin County Commission in all new subdivisions as a result of two complaints brought before the board Tuesday.

The Commission rescinded approval of the Jensen Highlands subdivision, which was made two weeks ago, following inspection and approval of Commissioner Seymour Gideon.

Commission Chairman Marvin H. Rowell said that he inspected the roads in the subdivision this week and found that the width varied from 16.8 to 18 feet. The county plant law requires 20-foot roads.

The Commission will also request William Weiss, developer, to return the bond which is required for road construction prior to acceptance by the county.

Another proposed subdivision was blasted by the Commission, following a request made by Ed. Mapp, representing the Stuart Board of Realtors.

The Jensen Hills subdivision, owned by Louis Davidson and planned for a retirement village, was mapped with lots 60 by 90 feet and 65 by 95 feet. Mapp asked the Commission to enforce the county plat law which he claimed Davidson was violating.

Chairman Rowell recommended that the law be amended to require a subdivider to file a plat if more than three lots were planned on the property.

Commissioner E. J. Arnold blasted the project stating that it was this type of proposal that led to the boom day real estate fisaco.

Warner B. Tilton, chairman of the Jensen Beach zoning committee said that no roads were planned in the subdivision, but that the county recently constructed a road to the north end of Davidson's property.

Tilton then asked the Commission for a public hearing on Feb. 14 at 10 a.m. to amend the Jensen Beach zoning act increasing the size of lots at a minimum of 7,500 feet aimed at rectifing the small lots proposed in the Jensen Hills subdivision.

Chairman Rowell asked the Commission to employ a qualified unbiased engineer to measure and test all roads & drainage in new subdivision prior to acceptance of the plat by the commission.

Deadly Bomarc Missile Takes Off at Cape Canaveral
. . . its twin, sitting nearby, went aloft a few hours later

Air Force Fires 2 Bomarcs

CAPE CANAVERAL —(AP)— The Air Force fired two deadly Bomarc interceptor missiles against jet plane targets over the Atlantic Tuesday in a five-hour span.

The lightning swift missiles blazed some 200 miles out to sea to zero in and "kill" pilotless F80 jet drones.

It was learned that the results of the first shoot were highly successful as the 47-foot weapon closed in on the target and then veered away at the last split second.

It was not known whether a report would be available on the second launching.

The Bomarcs, considered one of the nation's most potent air defense weapons, were fired by remote control by a huge electronic computer brain some 1,500 miles away in Kingston, N.Y.

The Kingston site is one of the centers for Sage, the elaborate radar-computer network that protects the nation from a sneak air attack.

The computer turned out firing data in seconds after the drone was picked up by radar at the Cape.

Woman's Land Ad Probed by Cabinet

TALLAHASSEE —(AP)— The Cabinet voted Tuesday to look into the advertising practices of a Vero Beach woman who allegedly sells a list of state-owned lands available for purchase.

Van Ferguson, director of the Internal Improvement Fund, identified the woman as J. D. Hall. He said she formerly operated from Silver Springs, but has moved to Vero Beach.

Secretary of State R. A. Gray brought up the subject by asking if any of the Cabinet members had seen an ad which ran in New York newspapers. He said the ad implies that the list offered for sale is official.

He termed the ad "adroitly worded, which if analyzed word by word, says nothing that is not true, but in its entireity gives a false impression."

Gray said the ad refers to "State of Florida lands for sale."

Ferguson said the ads run in both out-of-state and Florida publications by the woman are a nuisance.

He said the woman sells a list of state properties available for sale and supplies "some sort of map" for a $3 fee. He said the listings include properties which are under lease and some which were sold years ago.

The state will furnish information of state lands available for purchase without cost, he said.

"I don't know whether we can stop her. But the ads make a bad impression," Gray commented.

New Ship Docks Today

The SS American Mariner, a newly commissioned ship packed with missile measurement instruments, is scheduled to dock at Port Canaveral's military piers today.

The ship, which was commission last Thursday in Baltimore, is on her way to a station in the south Atlantic on the Atlantic missile range.

Visitors won't be permitted aboard the ship which is packed with secret equipment and is said to be capable of more accurate measurements of missile trajectory than any existing ship.

Wharf Repair May Cost As High As $100,000

Cocoa Bureau

COCOA — Port Canaveral manager George King Tuesday estimated permanent repairs for the port's buckled public wharf may "cost more than $50,000, possibly even $100,000."

King said the estimate won't be firm until port engineers find the damage which caused the wharf to start slipping into the harbor.

A December ship collision with the wharf is believed responsible for the damage.

Workman directed by Charlton Randall, a consulting engineer for the Port Authority, have been making temporary repairs since Monday. They are tying the buckled metal bulkhead of the fill-and-bulkhead wharf in place with heavy steel cables anchored to the port warehouse.

Randall's men are also excavating the wharf fill in an attempt to find the cause of the damage.

It is thought one or more of the wharf's steel tiebacks may have broken by the December blow given the dock by the SS Tropicana, an orange juice tanker.

The Canaveral Port Authority is scheduled to meet today to call for bids on permanent repairs.

GOP, Demos To Realign?

VERO BEACH — A realignment of political parties within the next 30 years was predicted by Robert F. Hurleigh of Washington, senior vice president of the Mutual Broadcasting Co. and radio news commentator, who spoke at the Vero Beach Chamber of Commerce annual banquet.

Pointing to the similar views of the liberal Republicans and Democrats and of the conservative members of both parties, Hurleigh said the parties probably would reform into liberal and conservative.

VETERAN MISSILE test engineer, Will J. Tebo has been named base administrator for Northrop Aviation at the Air Force Missile Test Center. He is a member of the Northrop team that has helped pioneer testing of inter-continental missiles over the Atlantic Test Range, with headquarters near Melbourne.

Beth Steel Abandons Its Merger Plans

Dow Jones, AP, UPI

Bethlehem Steel Corp. and the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. announced they have abandoned plans for a merger and will not appeal a federal district court injunction against it.

The companies said an appeal could not be finally disposed of before 1960.

The government opposed the merger on the ground that it violated the Clayton Act and would lessen competition and create a monopoly.

The companies said they still believe the merger would have stimulated competition and resulted in obvious advantages to steel consumers and the public.

'Czechs Treated Me Like Royalty'

By STAN JOHNSON
Herald Business Writer

A Miami manufacturer who just returned from a buying trip behind the Iron Curtain says it's not difficult to do business with the Communists.

"They treated me like royalty," said Jack Zwerner, president of Perrine Industries, Hialeah jalousie door manufacturer.

Zwerner visited Czechoslovakia where he made arrangements to buy window glass for his business.

He was met at an airport in Prague by a chauffeur-driven limousine and whisked to his hotel.

Later, he concluded a deal with the director of the government owned glass industry to buy 1.5 million dollars worth of jalousies over a 12-month period.

"They knew all about jalousies," said Zwerner. "I didn't have to explain anything to them."

He said the Czech glass can be delivered in Florida for about five per cent less than the glass he formerly bought in Western European countries.

Zwerner doesn't expect to encounter any sales resistance to his product in this country because of the switch to a Communist-made glass.

"A contractor is interested in quality and price," he said. "He doesn't care where the glass comes from."

The Daily Investor

'Your System Is Too Hit-or-Miss'

Q. I am a 39-year-old widow and have a monthly pension of $125. I ventured into the stock market for the first time a few months ago and I am a bit nervous.

I bought 15 shares of Kroger (I will have 45 as a result of the three-for-one split), 25 shares of Texas Gulf Sulphur, 100 shares of Chock Full O'Nuts, 1,000 shares of Lisbon Valley Uranium (at three cents a share) and 100 shares of Holly Corp. (at $1.50 a share).

I know the last two are highly speculative. But I decided to take the risk because of the low cost. What do you think of my choice?

A. Some are fair. Some are bad. But your whole system (if it can be called that) of buying stock is terrible. You are going about investing in a hit-or-miss method. You have no more right owning some of those things than you do playing the horses.

A widow on a pension should never buy highly risky stocks, no matter how low their price seems to be. The small profit you might make isn't worth the worry and the distinct possibility that you might lose some of what little money you have.

And those two low-priced things aren't the only ones you should be concerned about. Actually, none of the issues you hold is really suited for you.

Kroger has been a very good performer. It is a high-grade stock, but is more of a growth issue than an income producer. It should appeal to people looking to the future—not to widows in need of current income.

Texas Gulf Sulphur has had its ups and downs in the market. It might be easy to argue that, because the company is the world's largest producer of sulphur and has a strong financial position, its stock has to improve in our expanding economy. That may be true. But it has to live down its past reputation.

Chock Full O'Nuts looks good. However, the stock has been on the market only a short time and will have to prove itself.

Life Firms Plan Merger

Stockholders of the American Life Savings Insurance Co., which has headquarters in Miami, voted unanimously here Mondy to merge with a Nashville, Tenn., firm that has been expanding its insurance holdings in recent months.

American Life is being acquired by American Investors Corp., headed by Harry McDonald, former chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Louis Jepeway, board chairman of the Miami firm, said American Life policyholders will be protected "through re-guaranteed" policies handled by a South Carolina firm in the American Investors group.

Dr. E. C. Lunsford, president of American Life, becomes a vice president of American Investors under the new arrangement. Insurance commissioners of Florida and Tennessee must approve the merger before it becomes final but approval is expected in about 45 days.

George L. Giles, Riddle's president, took out the policy.

Katy is really more than a mascot. She's valuable as the central theme of a Riddle sales program and makes public appearances in cities on the airline's routes.

Unheralded Stock Goes Up 967 Pct.

NEW YORK —(UPI)— A spectacular stock market performance in the tradition of E. L. Bruce, Lukens Steel, American Motors and P. Lorillard is being staged by a little-known $2 million a year chemical company headquartered in Elizabeth, N.J.

Stock of Borne Chemical Co. on the American Stock Exchange more than doubled itself last week and touched a high Monday of $80 a share which is 967 per cent above its 1958 low of $7.50.

But it was sold heavily Tuesday when the American Stock Exchange announced a routine investigation into the rise. It lost $27.25 points net and closed at $42.25.

Last week it rose by $32.25 a share to $63.25.

Company officials aren't sure what's responsible. Neither are the brokerage houses.

But there are lots of theories. Among these are a slim supply of stock and a new process for hermetically sealed plastic containers.

In many cases of such rises the ticker is fired by groups trying to buy into the company.

Out of 189,492 outstanding shares only about 40,000 or 50,000 are on the market, with the balance held by management.

In Florida

New High Set in Savings

A record savings increase of $47,123,000 in December brought total savings for the 103 Florida savings and loan associations to $2,054,265,000 at the close of 1958.

According to statistics released by the Florida Savings and Loan League, the record savings increase during December surpassed the previous monthly high of $40,879,500 established in December, 1957, by $6,243,500.

While savings were on the rise in December, total loans closed during the month also set a new monthly record of $51,904,761 which enabled the Florida associations to close out the year with $506,881,000 in loans closed.

This was the first time that the savings and loan lending volume in Florida had passed the half - billion - dollar mark. The record lending year was $54,096,000 above the total for 1957.

During 1958, the savings and loan associations in Florida financed 61,370 dwellings including 23,900 new homes.

A Sell-It-Yourself Lot

A do-it-yourself car lot where people can rent space and sell their own flivvers opened Tuesday in Fort Lauderdale.

The promoters, Bruce Meinken and Ray McMackin, say their Car Owners Market Corp. is the first used car lot in the nation which allows the buyer and seller to do business directly, thus eliminating middleman costs and profits.

A flat fee of $9 entitles the car owner to three days, or any part thereof, of "sales exposure" on the COMCO lot at 620 W. Broward Blvd.

After three days, the rate drops to $1.50 a day.

An inquiry card setup enables the buyer and seller to get together privately and set their own price.

Meinken and McMackin will advertise cars on their lots and arrange financing and insurance for buyers, if they need them.

Morejon Stands Before Tribunal at New Scene of Cuban War Crimes Trials
. . . setting is small courtroom in the War Courts building near Camp Libertad

Defendant Dies or I Do, Castro Chief Threatens

HAVANA, Cuba —(UPI)— Maj. Pedro Morejon Valdes, second "war criminal" to face revolutionary retribution here, was sentenced early Tuesday to death at a trial lasting more than 10 hours.

Morejon was taken to a death-row cell in Havana's Cabana fortress-prison. He has 24 hours to file an appeal.

Rebel Army Chief of Staff Camilo Cienfugos had declared that he would commit suicide if Morejon escaped execution. The rebel chieftain's dramatic announcement came after three prosecution witnesses had failed to identify the defendant.

The three witnesses accused Morejon of war crimes — but one after the other picked the wrong man when brought face to face with the defendant.

Cienfugos was called as a technical witness. He was rebel commander in Oriente province where Morejon's alleged crimes were committed before the government of Fulgencio Batista fell Jan. 1.

Cienfugos pointed at Morejon and charged he killed 13 farmhands, including a 12-year-old boy.

Cienfugos told the revolutionary tribunal in the Hall of Justice at the War Court building that the prisoner was "one of the most ruthless, brutal murderers in Cuba."

"I have made a note to myself," Cienfugos said, "that if Morejon is not executed by a firing squad, I will shoot myself."

Morejon, who up to that moment had sat through the trial calmly, with a slight sneer on his face, lost his composure when Cienfugos leveled his finger at him and launched into his denunciation.

The prisoner had pleaded innocent to charges of assassination, theft and other violations brought against him personally or against troops serving under his command.

His trial lacked most of the circus aspects which attended that of Maj. Jesus Sosa Blanco, who last week was sentenced to death.

For 26-Week Period

Board Asks Hike Jobless Pay

TALLAHASSEE —(UPI)— A Citizens Advisory Council proposed legislation Tuesday that would have the immediate effect of raising maximum jobless benefits from $30 to $36 a week.

A companion measure would increase the period of payment from 16 to 26 weeks.

A similar formula, which ties benefits directly to a percentage of average weekly earnings of all industrial workers, was recommended for workmen's compensation, increasing these benefits from the present $35 weekly maximum to $44.

The proposal involves an "escalator" clause which would fluctuate benefits in both programs as wages are lowered or increased. Thus, in depression times, payments could fall below the present guaranteed maximum.

The recommendations, drafted by the State Industrial Commission's Advisory Council, were unveiled at a pre-legislative hearing attended by representatives of management and labor.

No strong opposition was voiced, but spokesmen for Associated Industries, a powerful business-lobbying group, said they will need more time to study the proposal before endorsing or rejecting it.

Industrial Commission Chairman James T. Vocelle said the new plan would make it possible for an unemployed Florida worker to qualify for a maximum of $936 a year.

The most a worker can get under the present law is $480 a year.

Vocelle said it would push Florida into 15th place among the states in maximum jobless benefits. It now ranks at the botton, with only Arkansas paying less.

It also would do away with the necessity for the Legislature to set dollars and cents maximums every two years.

Tinsley Rucker of Jacksonville, employer member of the council and chairman of the sub-committee that drew the unique proposal, called it a "great step forward."

Under the plan, the average wage of all covered workers would be figured each year, and maximum jobless payments would amount to half the average. Maximum workmen's compensation payments would be based on 60 per cent of the average.

The council also proposed that unemployment compensation coverage by required of all employers with one or more workers. Present law excludes employers with less than four employes.

Vocelle said this would bring another 80,000 workers under the program which now covers 800,000 of a total labor force of 1,200,000, excluding farm and domestic workers.

It recommended legislation increasing the taxable wage on which employers pay the unemployment compensation tax from $3,000 to $4,800 a year.

The council considered but rejected for the present extension of unemployment compensation coverage to state and local government workers, vegetable and fruit packers and non-profit organizations.

Collins Hits School Bus Overloading

TALLAHASSEE —(AP)— Gov. LeRoy Collins Tuesday expressed concern about overloading of school buses.

The governor said he had observed many school buses which the children were "stacked in." He expressed belief a driver could not control his vehicle in an emergency with youngsters jammed around his seat.

State School Superintendent Thomas D. Bailey said the state has both laws and regulations designed to prevent overloading. The problem is enforcement, he said.

"Some counties have got themselves into a jam. They just don't have enough buses to handle the children," Bailey said.

He said he too was worried about overcrowding of school buses and would do everything he could to get counties to comply with maximum load rules.

State Closing Case Against Harry King

BARTOW — (UPI) — The state was almost through building the case it hoped would prove former state Sen. Harry King conspired to commit perjury before a Polk County Grand Jury in 1956.

Special Prosecutor Charles Nugent Jr. of West Palm Beach said he had only one witness left to call.

The defense was tight-lipped about its plans.

The state charged King paid former Rep. Boone Tillett Jr. $10,000 to step out of a Senate race against King.

The state said King conspired with the Polk sheriff and two deputies to tell a Grand Jury that the payment was an attempt to trap Tillett at blackmail—not a political pay-off.

One of the last witnesses called by the state Tuesday was O. C. Stanley, manager of the General Telephone Co. office at Winter Haven. He spent the morning on the stand identifying long distance toll slips allegedly representing calls made by King, the two deputies, the sheriff and a jailor who is also a defendant in the case.

Crane Falls Killing 1

OCEAN RIDGE — One man was killed and another trapped for an hour just inches from death when a crane toppled into the Inland Waterway here Tuesday.

As the pile driving crane turned over, witnesses said, the 35-foot boom struck a Negro workman who was perched on a freshly driven piling, knocking him into the water.

Hours after the accident rescuers were still searching for the body. The victim was identified as Al Allen of Pompano Beach. Co-workers said he was married and had a daughter.

The crane operator, Art Allen, was trapped in the crushed shell of the cabin for more than an hour before rescuers could cut through the tangled wreckage with a blow torch.

Beasley 'Mix' Plan Disputed

PENSACOLA —(UPI)— Assistant Atty. Gen. Ralph E. Odum said Tuesday that Florida cannot much longer stave off integration of its public schools under present laws. He suggested that a private tuition plan might be the best way to ease the problem.

Odom, Florida's chief expert on segregation law, threw cold water on a "parent-option" plan proposed by House Speaker-Designate Thomas D. Beasley that would set up a dual system of both segregated and integrated schools.

He said it would be knocked out in a minute if ever challenged in the courts by a Negro child who could show he was denied admission to a white school he was otherwise entitled to attend.

He said Florida needs all the legislation it can get in this field and the Beasley plan would be valuable in communities where the races can amicably settle their differences.

Odum said another type of parent-option plan, that would include a state subsidy to parents to educate their children in private schools, would meet legal tests and is probably the only "realistic" solution for communities where integration would encounter violent public resistance.

Odum told the Pensacola Rotary Club that the Legislature should enact as many laws on the subject as possible, in order to cover situations which vary greatly in nearly every area.

There is no magic, foolproof cure-all to the problem, he said, "but some measure of relief may be found in a combination of various alternatives."

"County school boards should be given as wide latitude as possible under state law to choose from among a number of possible procedures which best suit their own local conditions," he said.

"It would be a mistake to attempt by state law to compel all school boards to follow the same procedure."

He told the civic leaders that the only permanent bar to race-mixing is privately-owned, operated and financed schools.

Until the people decide whether they want private schools or integrated schools, Odum said, public officials must exhaust every legal remedy to delay "premature and unworkable" Federal court integration orders.

Hard-Luck Youth Hurt Once Again

Herald Bureau

MELBOURNE — Another case of tough luck has been dealt Melbourne's Mack Spencer.

Mack, a local high school football halfback the whole town helped after a 1957-injury in a game with Cocoa, has been seriously injured in an automobile accident at Greensboro, N.C. He was a passenger in a friend's car.

According to information received here, Mack is in a hospital there with his right arm broken in two places, the left arm with one break, a severe fracture at the base of the skull, and injuries about the mouth and jaw.

He has been taken off the critical list and reportedly is "holding his own."

The youth, a high school junior, lost his left foot in the 1957 football accident.

After the mishap, the people of Melbourne made a community project out of helping him by donating money for medical and hospital expenses and mailing him stacks of cards.

Could 'Little Berlin' Develop in Brevard

MELBOURNE — South Brevard County may have a "little Berlin" situation on its hands one of these days.

However, there would be a difference between the one here and Germany's Berlin in that both of the Brevard "sectors" would be under American control. Russia wouldn't have a thing to say about anything.

Area leaders see this situation developing if several thousand residents — mostly missile workers — south of Patrick Air Force Base go through with plans to form South Brevard's ninth city.

The island beach section slated to become part of the proposed city is bounded on the north by PAFB, south by the town of Satellite Beach, east by the ocean and west by the Indian River.

And sitting inside the proposed city limits is the 999-home Capehart military housing project. This sprawling 16 million dollar development, although inside the town, can not become a part of it.

However, the only sad note on this situation would be that the new city could be challenged if it added Capehart's 2,000-odd residents to its own population total.

Orange County Judge Appointed

TALLAHASSEE —(AP)— Gov. LeRoy Collins Tuesday appointed Richard H. Cooper of Orlando judge of the Orange County criminal court of record.

Cooper, now solicitor for the court, will take the post after the present judge, W. H. Murphy, retires March 1.

The governor named Warren H. Edwards, also of Orlando, to succeed Cooper as solicitor.

Orange Estimate Set At 85 Million Boxes

By DAVE KRASLOW
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Florida's orange crop for the 1958-59 season was estimated at 85 million boxes Tuesday by the Agriculture Department.

This is three per cent larger than the 1957-58 crop, which suffered heavy winter cold losses by this time, and 12 per cent above average.

Florida's crop of premium Valencia oranges is expected to hit 34 million boxes, up 14 per cent.

The Agriculture Department's quarterly forecast said more than two out of three oranges grown in the U.S. will be Florida oranges.

Florida will produce 68.5 per cent of the nation's output. California is next with 29 per cent.

California's 1958-59 crop is estimated at 36 million boxes, 56 per cent above the short 1957-58 crop, light mainly because of hot weather in the summer of 1957.

National production is put at 124 million boxes, up 14 per cent over last year, and four per cent greater than the 1947-56 average.

"Because of delayed maturity of the Florida crops," the Agriculture Department said, "early-season uses for both fresh market shipment and for processing have been smaller than a year ago.

"Partly for this reason, grower prices last fall have averaged much higher than a year earlier, when prices were relatively low in view of the prospective heavy crop which was later reduced by freezes."

Fresh sales of 1958-59 Florida oranges hit about seven million boxes by Jan. 17, about 31 per cent below comparable sales a year earlier.

Use by processors was about 16.5 million boxes, 40 per cent below the heavy use a year earlier.

About 64 per cent of the 1957-58 U.S. orange crop was processed and nearly all the rest was used fresh.

Processing took about 77 per cent of last year's Florida crop, but only 15 per cent of the California crop.

U.S. production of grapefruit in 1958-59 was put at 42.5 million boxes, seven per cent above last year but six per cent below the 1947-56 average.

City Strengthens Planning, Zoning

By BILL BUNGE
Melbourne Bureau Chief

MELBOURNE — Old differences between the City Commission and the Planning and Zoning Board were buried Tuesday when the two boards agreed on a new policy aimed at giving the planners greater authority in guiding the future growth of Melbourne.

The Planning Board was authorized to revamp the city's master zoning ordinance and map to "make it workable," consider annexation of neighboring areas to insure future growth, beautification, and continue the practice of approving commercial building permits.

These policy changes were made after the planners told commissioners that the board is dissatisfied with current operating rules.

"I think the whole setup stinks," was the way Dale Jacobus, PZB member, summed up the present situation.

According to Jacobus and other board members, the PZB worked with Palanning Engineer Anthony Pimentel "for months" in developing a master zoning ordinance and map two years ago.

Jacobus said the City Commission at that time approved the program, but "when we got the finished product back to use, it was completely different."

Many areas are not properly zoned," Jacobus pointed out," and the relationship of zones is not good. Some of these things are working hardships on people."

Richard B. Muldrew of the zone board siad the group "worked 19 months on the zoning program, and when the commission changed it the board lost interest.

Commissioner E. W. (Bill) Buss and City Manager Tevis Huguely suggested, and the City Commission agreed, that the primary function of the volunteer board should be planning Melbourne's future growth, and not hold it down "to merely passing on building permits."

New Rules Ready for Assessors

TALLAHASSEE — (AP) —The State Cabinet Tuesday received a new tax assessors' manual which is expected to help bring uniform property values under the full cash value assessment law.

Action on the manual was deferred until Thursday. When adopted, county tax assessors will be required to follow it in arriving at assessments.

The 130-page manual will be used first in preparation of 1959 tax rolls.

It is the first general revision of the manual since 1945. The overhauling work was done by the school of business administration at Florida State University, in cooperation with Lewis H. Tribble, attorney for the state comptroller's office, and a committee of the County Tax Assessors Association.

Tribble said the manual didn't set forth any concise, clear cut definition of full cash value.

However, he said it did list some criteria based upon recent court decision, which would help assessors.

These included replacement costs, recent sales price, anticipated income and factors such as topography, shape, architecture, population trends, and general economic conditions.

146 Pass State Boards in 3 Fields

By the Associated Press

Names of those who have successfully passed examinations for registration as professional engineer, architect and land surveyor were announced Tuesday by state boards.

The State Board of Engineer Examiners announced 62 were registered as professional engineers and 48 as land surveyors. The State Board of Architecture said 36 had passed tests and were registered as architects.

Those receiving registration, and their fields, included:

Architects

Franklin W. Tye, Sanford; William B. Holmes, Clearwater; Robert L. Miller, St. Petersburg; Autha W. Forehand, Tallahassee; Arthur C. McCree, Orlando; Frank S. Roberts, Inman H. Leff, James O. Kemp and Dan P. Branch, all of Jacksonville.

Walter L. Willard of Panama City; George R. McElvy and J. Arthur Wohlberg, both of Tampa; Gerald J. Wemmer of Maitland; Constantine L. KnInis of Gainesville; Bruce A. Renfroe of Lakeland; William R. Frizzell of Fort Myers.

Robert A. Denyne, Charles R. Kerley, Danny C. Duckhan, Donald R. Mowry, and Charles W. Duemmling, all of Fort Lauderdale; Joseph R. Blais and Earl J. Draeger, both of Sarasota; Herbert L. Anson of Hollywood; John B. Goesbooker of Lantana; Richard G. Stebbins of Fort Pierce.

Steven J. Ginnocchio, Robert W. Richardson Jr. and Robert H. Braido, all of Palm Beach; Peter A. Jefferson, Sidney M. Walker, Joseph N. Williams, Mrs. Claire D. Giller, Sidney L. Kotkin, Allen B. Berman and Ralph W. Clayton, all of Miami.

Three architects—Emmet J. Laughlin, Miami; Paul H. Elliott, Jacksonville, and Herman R. Lichtman, Miami Beach — were granted registration without examination because they have been registered in other states.

Engineers

Khrushchev Accuses Nasser

World News

MOSCOW — (AP) — Premier Khrushchev Tuesday accused Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic of making spurious attacks on Communists.

He told the 21st Soviet Party Congress that Communists and Arab nationalists should be united in fighting imperialism.

"We cannot remain silent in the face of the campaign conducted in some countries against progressives under the spurious guise of anti-communism," Khrushchev said.

Since there recently have been statements against the ideas of communism in the United Arab Republic and accusations were leveled at Communists I, as a Communist, think it is necessary to declare at this congress of our Communist Party that it is wrong to accuse Communists of helping to undermine and divide the national effort in the struggle against imperialism.

"Quite the contrary. There are no people more resolute and loyal to the struggle against colonialists than the Communists."

In a speech Dec. 23, Nasser classed Communists with imperialists and Zionists as agents of disunity in the Arab world. He started a roundup of Communists leaders in Egypt and Syria and arrested several hundred of them.

Japan Rejects Neutrality

TOKYO — (AP) — Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi firmly rejected neutrality as a foreign policy for Japan but urged renewed trade with Communist China.

In a policy address before the new session of Parliament he endorsed Japan's close defense and diplomatic ties with America. The premier warned that neutrality would lead Japan into the Communist camp.

Newsman Flees North Korea

PANMUNJOM —(UPI)— A North Korean reporter for the Soviet newspaper Pravda defected to the West Tuesday, leaving his wife and infant daughter to what he said was certain execution by the Communists.

"I am saved," said Lee Dong Joon, 30, as he evaded two Communist guards and sneaked into the backdoor of a U.N. Command hut.

A meeting of the Joint U.N.-Communist Korean military armistice commission w[illegible]ing on in the next hut as Lee defected.

Lee said that he feared he was going to be executed by the Reds because of his family background.

Communists executed his father and one brother during the Korean war and arrested his mother as a "reactionary" just one month ago. He, himself, had been interrogated by the North Korean Communist Party over the last two months, he said.

Employes Want Casinos Opened

HAVANA, Cuba — (AP) — A committee representing the employes of gambling casinos is urging the government to authorize the immediate opening of these establishments. The casinos have been closed since the revolution succeeded New Year's Day.

The committee says 2,000 persons are out of work as a result and are in financial distress.

President Manuel Urrutia has announced the question is being studied.

Fidel Castro, the rebel military chieftain, has suggested that the casinos be allowed to operate, but with Cubans barred, and with the government getting 70 per cent of the income for social welfare institutions and for promoting tourist business.

He's Using A Plane

MINNEAPOLIS — (AP) — With his auto driver's license suspended, William G. Hopp is commuting by plane to the Minneapolis workhouse to serve a 30-day sentence under the Huber law, which permits him daytime freedom.

Hopp works near his home in suburban Robbinsdale, takes a cab to a nearby airport each evening. There he climbs into his 65-horsepower plane and, in four minutes, lands on the ice of Parkers Lake, on whose shore the bastille is located. Mornings, he reverses the route.

"It's OK with us," said Rolf Stageberg, workhouse superintendent. "Appears to be perfectly legal." And the traffic court has no jurisdiction over Hopp's flying license.

He drew the term Jan. 13 for driving after his license was supended.

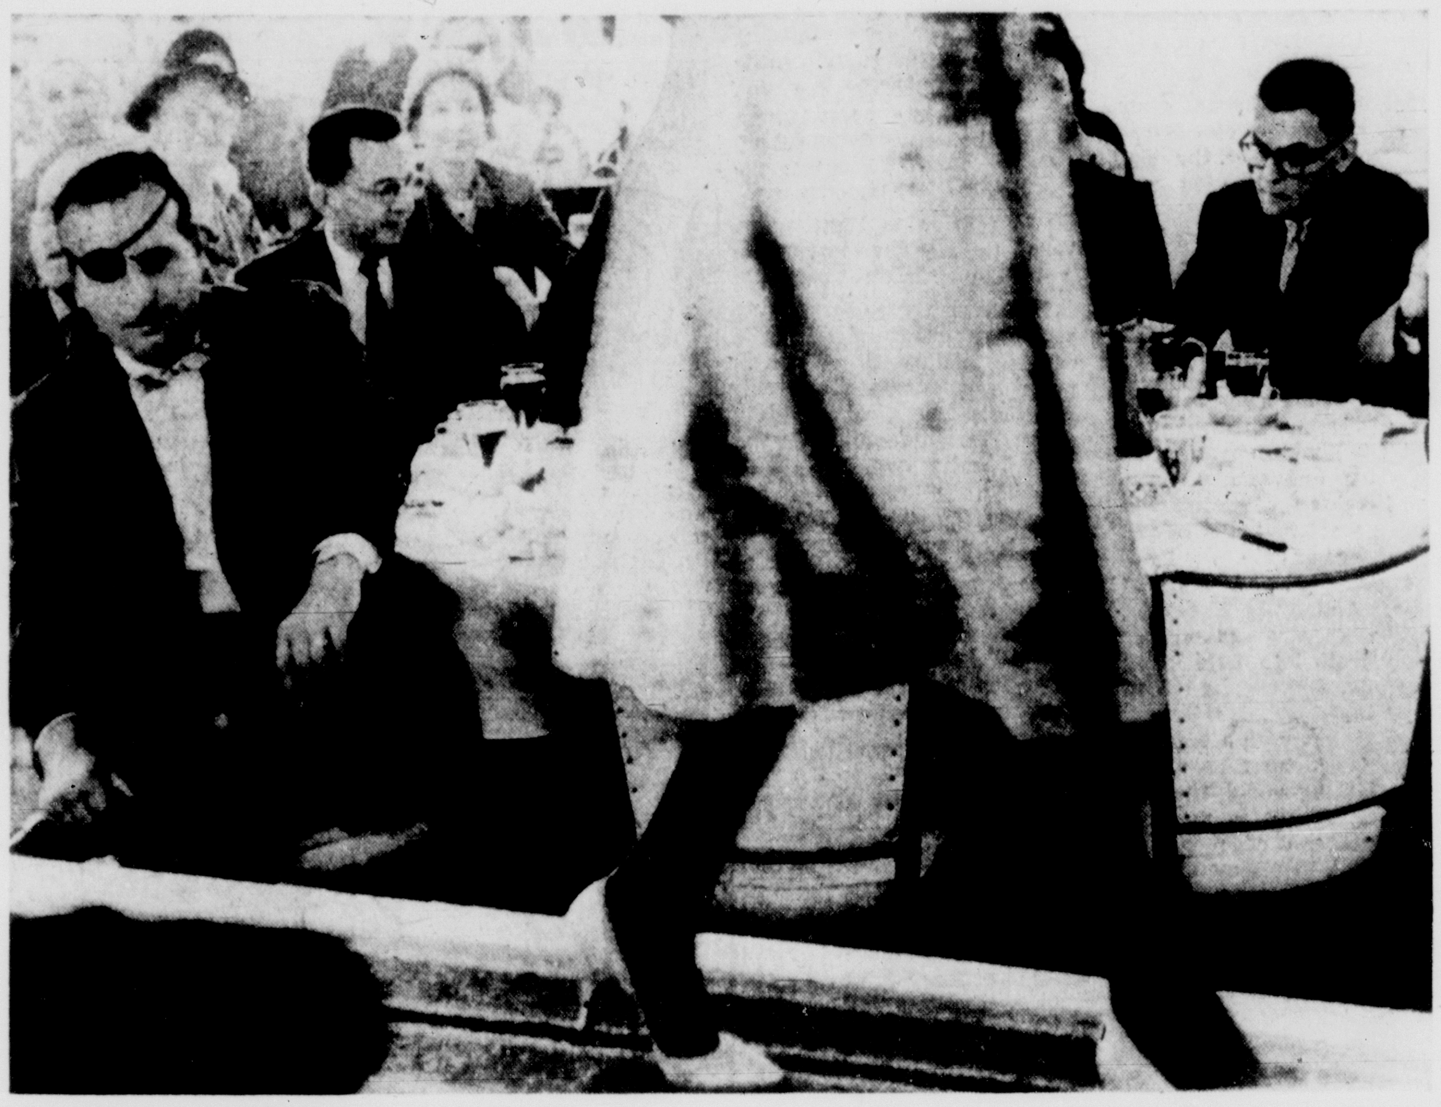
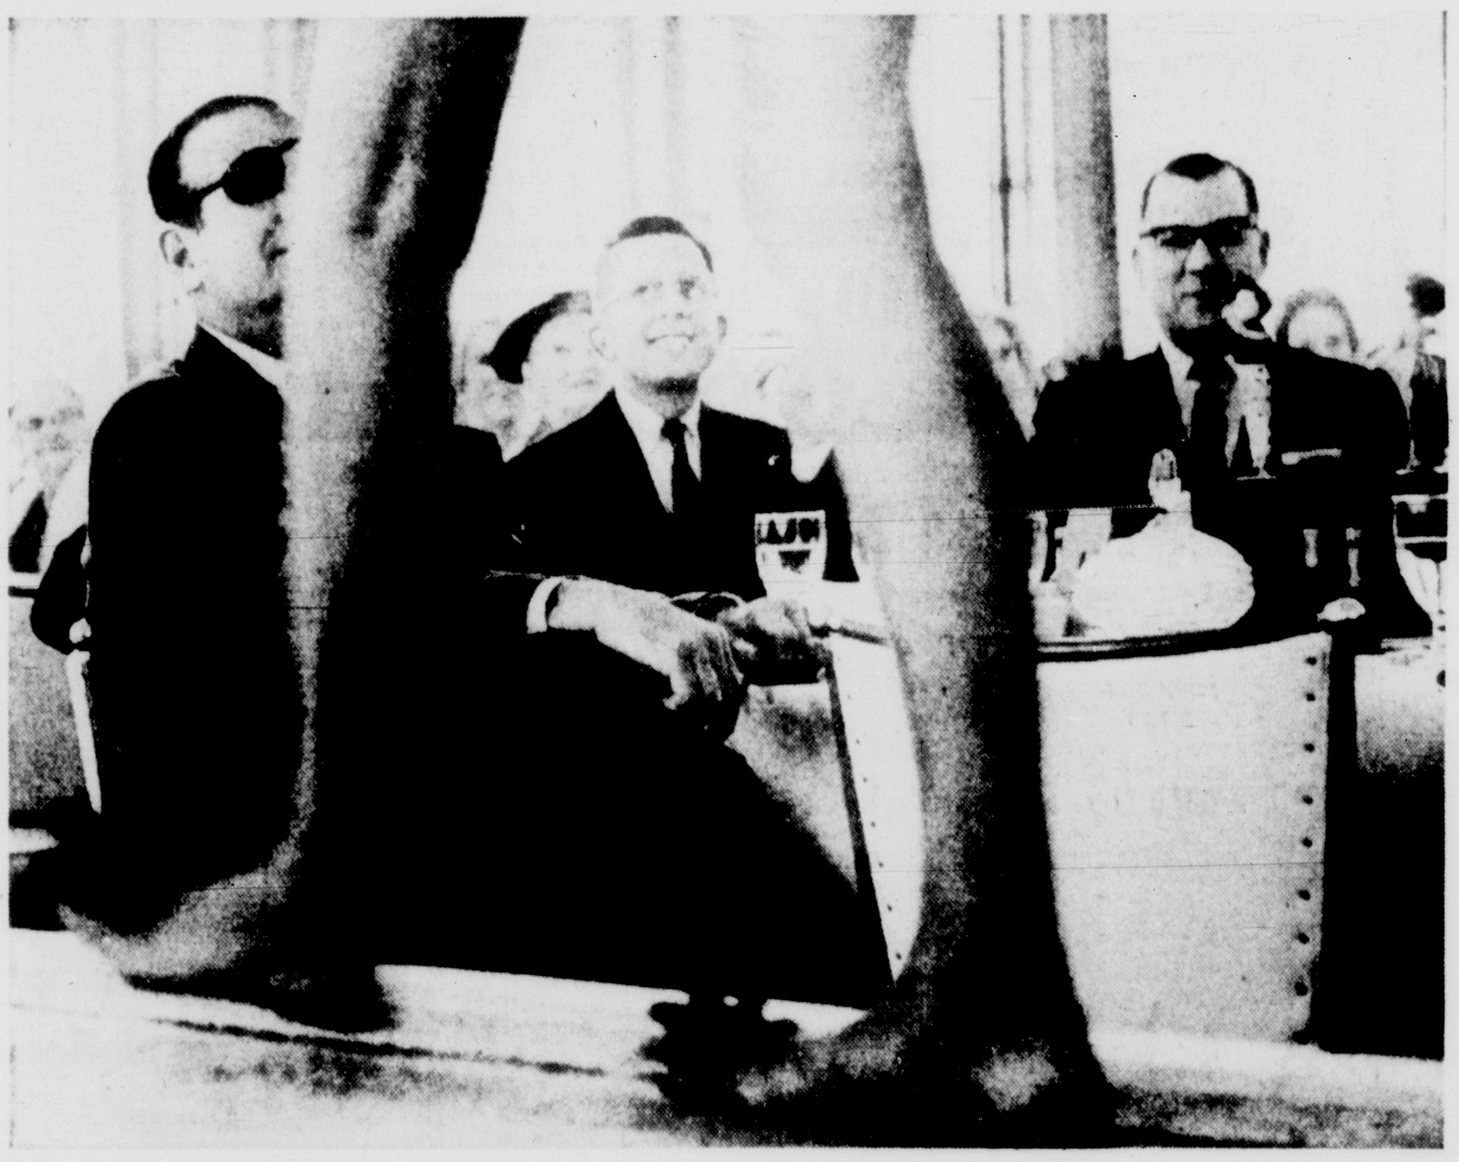
OF FASHION SHOW
A Male's Eye View



MEN COULDN'T CARE LESS about the dresses in a fashion show sponsored by the Coco Plum Woman's Club. Registering various degrees of boredom are Hugh Grengras, Don Cravens and Harold B. Bosworth who were caught off guard by the camera.

—Herald Staff Photos by Ray Fisher



BUT BATHING SUITS! That's another story. Look how the eyes light up, the smiles on these happy men. Grengras, Cravens and Ray T. Sterling enjoyed this part of the fashion show. Eight men attended the fashion show and sat at a special "rooster" table, right up close to the runway.

'Another Evita Peron? No, No!' Says Argentina's First Lady

Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

CHICAGO — Senora Elena Frondizi, quiet little wife of the Argentine president, said she can "never, never, never" be another Eva Peron.

And that, she added, is a good thing for her country.

The short, plump, dark-eyed senora had only one other word for her glamorous blonde predecessor:

"No," she said. "No, no, no," meaning she didn't want to be compared with Eva.

Argentina, she said, must never have another Evita.

The wife of President Arturo Frondizi, dressed in plain navy and white, stuck close to her husband's side during her first morning in Chicago.

That's the way she likes it, she said, and added:

"I am happiest being just a little shadow of my husband."

(The Frondizis will arrive in Miami Friday and be the honor guests at a state dinner Saturday evening at the Fontainebleau. President Frondizi will be here to dedicate the new terminal building at the international airport on Sunday.)

Sra. Frondizi wears almost no makeup—just a touch of pink lipstick—and she hasn't bothered to touch up the streaks of gray in her short, dark hair.

And after six days of whirling through the U. S., she looks a little tired.

An interpreter was handy in her hotel suite, but Sra. Frondizi knows enough English to speak for herself.

"I am not active in what you call public life," she said. "I prefer tending my house and my husband."

She and the president have a daughter, 21, in Argentina.

The senora doesn't plan to shop or sightsee in Chicago, she said.

Senora Frondizi

How We Can Have Better Schools

By ELEANOR DIXON
Herald Club Editor

Better public schools for Florida's children need not mean higher school taxes on the county level says State Sen. Verle A. Pope, of St. Augustine.

And it needn't mean accepting federal aid — which the senator opposes.

His approach to financing better schools, which he outlined in Miami Tuesday, would include three steps:

1. Require "special interest groups — power, mining, phosphate and pulp industries" to pay their fair share of state sales tax.
2. Cut down on fringe services rendered by the public school system, such as the adult education program.

"We could reduce the expense of adult education by requiring tuition. Most of these students are working people who could afford it."

3. Get more use out of present school buildings to "postpone capital outlays."

The silver haired senator, twice named Florida's most valuable senator, spoke Tuesday night at the Miami Woman's Club's banquet.

This is the club's annual social event honoring members' husbands and more than 150 guests sat at the pink and white decorated dinner tables in the club dining room.

In his after dinner talk, the senator stressed the need of public knowledge of government and the particular importance of the educational system as a "first line of defense of the nation."

Our educational system, he said, should be geared to the "immediate problem of scientific defense" and the long range problem of combatting "the great effort of communistic forces to make inroads from within" in democracy.

The senator is a member of the legislature's interim committee on education which has made an intensive study of school problems. Earlier Tuesday he said the committee will probably recommend "accelerating emphasis on the teaching of mathematics, languages and science and strengthening teacher qualifications in academic fields."

Mrs. Menser To Visit Here

Mrs. C. L. Menser, Vero Beach, president of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs, will be the guest today of Coral Gables Junior Woman's Club at a noon luncheon in the clubhouse.

Plans for the juniors' cabaret Feb. 27 will be presented. Another guest of honor will be Mrs. M. Lewis Hall, Coral Gables, second vice president of the federation.

GREY HAIRS NEED WORRY YOU NO MORE!
Wm. J. Brandt's
LIQUID EAU DENNA
HAIR COLORER

Will cover grey hair in 10 to 20 minutes so that you would not know it ever was grey. It is liquid. One application with a toothbrush or swab does it. No pack. No mess.

ANYONE CAN PUT IT ON AT HOME
No one will suspect your hair has been dyed. Leaves it soft and lustrous, no dead color, no streaks, no spots — Just a uniform color if properly applied.

WILL NOT TURN HAIR REDDISH
It will not rub off. It stays on several months. Shampooing, sea bathing, sun, permanent waving, curling it, straightening iron . . . nothing takes it off. You can cover any grey hair no matter how stubborn or how caused.

WONDERFUL FOR TOUCHING UP
You can put it on just where needed. Can be used over dyes or where powdered hennas have been used. Women and men use EAU DENNA to advantage.

DOES NOT INTERFERE WITH PERMANENT WAVING
Full directions in each box in English and Spanish. Use as directed on label. Colors: Black, Dark Brown, Medium Brown, Light Brown, Drab Blonde, Auburn. Price per box, 2.50 plus Federal tax. Your money back if not satisfied. Cut this ad out now. Save for future reference.

PERSONALLY SPEAKING

March Of Dimes Is Big Feature Of Most Events

By EDITH BLACK-VOSS
Herald Correspondent

AROUND BREVARD COUNTY — Practically every note to our desk these days has some reference to the March of Dimes: "Dance to benefit March of Dimes," "Auction to benefit MofD," "Coffee to benefit —," etc. It's difficult to come up with anything that's different in this so well known fund-raising drive.

However, we thought Sunday's idea of giving the public a sight-seeing aerial over Central Brevard at one cent per pound was unusual. Secretly, we wondered how many decided to go on a diet after being weighed in, or did Marvin Johnson act the "perfect gentleman" and take their word for their weight?

MRS. VOSS

Ordinarily the flight would have given quite a few people an idea of the growth of their section of the county that is best realized from the air. With that old California dew slipping down practically all day though, the visibility couldn't have been very good.

Maybe the idea bears repeating during better weather.

Club Federation Is Meeting

TODAY'S THE DATE for the Brevard Federation of Women's Clubs all-day meeting at Melbourne. A 10 a.m. board meeting, to be presided over by Mrs. M. M. Buchanan of Cocoa, federation president, will be followed by the general meeting of club members from Titusville, Cocoa, Melbourne, and Eau Gallie.

Luncheon will be at the Balcelona Hotel; meetings at the Melbourne Women's Club. State Rep. James H. Pruitt will be a speaker. Public Relations Counsel Karl Kahn will also speak during the all-day session.

How Goes The Book Mart?

SOME TIME AGO Mrs. Barbara Taylor, down Melbourne way, sent an article on the book mart, to be held by members of the Melbourne-Eau Gallie branch of the American Association of University Women. Like so many, this was one of those that reached me too late to include in this Wednesday published but Sunday-written column.

We always like receiving articles from club secretaries and publicity chairmen. Such are the essence of life of this column. Unfortunately, with a Monday deadline for regular Wednesday features in The Herald, Monday's mail is too late. How goes the Book Mart, Barbara?

We've watched with interest the activities of the chapters of AAUW and the service groups all around the county. So many have started in just the last year or two, another indication of the growth of the area.

Melbourne Players Will Open

THESPIANS DOWN Melbourne way are again presenting five days of entertainment to all who appreciate the dramatic. Jan. 28 through Feb. 1 are the dates of their latest venture before the footlights, "Light Up The Sky."

A new director of the Indian River Players was also announced this week, following resignation of Fred M. Taylor. Taylor resigned because of illness. Bill Lockey, actor of much experience, including a season studying Shakespeare at Stratford-on-Avon, has taken over the directorial reigns.

February Has Attractions

ASIDE FROM THE production just mentioned, which which actually closes Feb. 1, the second month of 1959 is beginning to look crowded around the edges. Concerts galore, variety shows, dances, etc. etc. March is taking on the air of fashion shows, follies and flower shows.

First on the February schedule is the concert by Martha Lipton, singer of TV, radio and stage fame. Miss Lipton will appear in the third Brevard Civic Music Association concert Feb. 7 at Cocoa High School.

The following weekend, at that school, the Band Parents Association of CHS will sponsor the variety show, "Enjoy Yourself," about which we've heard so much. It gives promise of being quite professionally done and we're looking forward to it.

The 1959 edition of "The Follies," which have been so successful for several years in the Central Brevard area, as sponsored by the Junior Womans Club of Cocoa, is equally successful in South Brevard too. Dates for the follies there, sponsored by the Brevard Hospital Service Guild, will be March 12-14.

Members are busily seeking advertisers for the programs and lining up talent for the auditions, which will be held three weeks prior to presentation of the state extravaganza. As in Titusville and Cocoa, the show will actually be produced by a director from the Cargill Co. of New York City, on a percentage basis.

Proceeds of the Melbourne show will replenish the treasury of the hospital guild, so active in the support of that institution.

Musical Comedy Dates Are Set

ALL OF BREVARD County will be treated to its first locally produced musical comedy, "Hit The Deck," during March and early April. This is the latest venture of the Brevard Light Opera Association, whose presentations of Gilbert & Sullivan operettas, as well as those of Victor Herbert, and other composers, have so delighted audiences in the past few years.

The change to a musical comedy type production will no doubt be welcomed, since this particular type of entertainment is not readily available in the area, and there is nothing amateurish about these productions now.

South Brevard will be treated first with weekend presentations in the Melbourne High School on March 20-21. Then comes the Central Brevard schedule, March 27-28 at Cocoa High School. North Brevard will see the comedy at the Titusville High School April 4. Alyce Christ is director of this modern production.

Missile Misses Chapters Grow

THAT MISSILE MISSES club is one of the fastest growing in the county, we believe. In fact, we've lost track of the number of chapters, but the Merritt Island group is the newest.

Officers were elected last week in this new group with Mrs. Jerry Cooper to serve as chairman, Mrs. Rodger Sime, co-chairman; Mrs. Leonard Smith, secretary; Mrs. Ronald Masher, treasurer; Mrs. Louise Butcher, publicity; and Mrs. Al Norton, telephone chairman. The third Wednesday of each month is the meeting date set.

Prior to the Feb. 18 meeting membership is open to any resident of Merritt Island whose husband, or some member of their immediate family, is employed at Cape Canaveral or Patrick AFB.

Stickroots To Live In Tripoli

PALM BEACH — Now touring Florida and Nassau before leaving for Tripoli are Lt. and Mrs. John Carl Stickroot, whose marriage took place Jan. 17 at a nuptial mass in the McGuire Air Force Base Chapel, New Jersey.

The bride is the former Aimee Josephine Gross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred A. Gross of Medford Lakes, N. J. Lt. Stickroot is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Stickroot of Palm Beach and Detroit.

The bride was attended by Betsy Thompson of Detroit and Mrs. C. Roland Wallace of Medford Lakes.

Dr. Frederic Stickroot was his brother's best man. Ushers were Thomas Thompson of Detroit; Lt. Robert Gaines, Hartford, Conn., and Alfred A. Gross Jr., of Medford Lakes Lodge.

Lt. and Mrs. Stickroot will leave March 1 for his new post in Tripoli, Libya.

'Mercy' Tea Planned by Hadassah

PALM BEACH — Palm Beach County Chapter of Hadassah will hold its eighth annual "angel of Mercy" tea and fashion at the Whitehall hotel, Thursday, Feb. 5, at 2:30 p.m.

A special prize will be a Fiat automobile.

Proceeds of the function will go toward the support of Youth Aliyah, a child rescue program.

More than 65,000 children have been rescued, educated, and given security and love through this program since 1934.

The Hadassah medical program, which includes many hospitals and a new medical school center, also will benefit.

Reservations are being taken by Mrs. Abraham Burns, Mrs. Maurice Brams, Mrs. Carl Brukenfeld and Mrs. Edward Olin.

Met Singers To Perform

ORLANDO — Four Metropolitan Opera singers will appear with the Florida Symphony Orchestra, Frank Miller conducting, at the second annual Gala Oper Concert of Feb. 13 at Municipal Auditorium.

Heidi Krall, Mildred Miller, Cesare Sieppi and Richard Tucker will sing arias from famous operas, with the highlight being the performance of the quartet from Riggoleto.

The Junior League of Orlando is presenting the concert, with proceeds going to the Florida Symphony Orchestra.

Celebrities Crowd PB Opening

By HELEN VAN HOY SMITH
Herald Staff Writer

PALM BEACH — Royal Poinciana Playhouse was a Tiffany window and a fashion show Monday night. Palm Beach society, its elegant grand dames, beautiful younger women, and the men who squire them, turned out for Noel Coward's "Private Lives," starring Eva Gabor and John Emery.

"Private Lives," to run all week, ushered in the Royal Poinciana Playhouse season.

So many noted guests were there that the curtain was more than 30 minutes late in rising. Nobody would be seated.

Famous folks were everywhere—actress Faye Emerson in emerald green chiffon; stage star Fay Bainter in pale pink with a white fur wrap around her shoulders; Jean Dalrymple of the New York City Center Opera in white brocade.

Playhouse impresario Frank J. Hale caused a sensation by wearing a white dinner jacket with black lapels. Mrs. Sylvanus Stokes, in pale green chiffon, had a bunch of violets at her waistline.

Women in the audience were wearing mostly floor length evening dresses, and there wasn't a feminine knee to be seen in the entire house.

Millie Considine, wife of the noted newsman Bob Considine, wore pink and silver. Mrs. Nathaniel Leverone was in steel blue satin; Mrs. Samuel Rinaker in green satin; slender blonde Mrs. George Henri Boutet chose steel gray. Mrs. Marion Sims Wyeth, whose husband is president of the Society of the Four Arts in Palm Beach, wore a silk print in shades of red. Another stunning theater costume was the silk print gown with matching jacket worn by Mrs. Dodge Sloan.

The Edwardian luxury of the Playhouse set off to their best advantage the gorgeous gowns. And the crowd itself was as bubbly as the champagne fountain which sent up a sparkling spray in the plush Celebrity Room every time someone bought a bottle of the stuff.

Gorgeously Gowned Eva Gabor Yearns To Do Role in Rags

BY HELEN VAN HOY SMITH
Herald Staff Writer

PALM BEACH — "I'd like to do a play where I would wear only rags."

At this remark by the beauteous Eva Gabor, John Emery raised a cynical eyebrow. The two are appearing together in Noel Coward's "Private Lives," at the Royal Poinciana Playhouse.

"I would. I mean it."

The setting for the conversation, which might have been taken bodily from a Noel Coward play, was the terrace of the Playhouse Celebrity room at lunch time. With Eva and John were John Girous of the Playhouse and this reporter. Talk was all about the theater and the movies and funny things that happen off-stage or off-camera.

Eva said she thought glamorous clothes often detract from the theme of the play. So she would like to wear rags.

On her they would look good.

Curvy, with a 22-inch waist, Eva was wearing a pastel blue shirtwaist dress, pleasantly short and full. A straw hat shaded her eyes from the sun and a 15-carat diamond kept the sunburn from a finger. Her only makup was pink lipstick that matched the chiffon scarf tied over her hat and under her chin.

"I don't diet. I should, I know." And Little Eva looked pensive as she sank pretty, pearly teeth into a thick minute steak. She weighs 108 and is five foot, 2 inches tall.

Eva speaks with a continental accent. John Emery, even when talking about the temperature, speaks in measured Shakespearean cadence, with gestures. A handsome and distinguished actor, he has wit and a great deal of charm. His speech is not affected. He's just being natural.

He has a long record of Shakespearean roles. You remember that he was also in "ten North Frederick," with Gary Cooper and Suzy Parker. Recently you've been seeing him on TV in "Have Gun, Will Travel."

All tricked up in western garb, with big hat and big guns, he was working in 115 degree temperature in the California desert. Overcome and dehydrated by the heat, he would lie helpless on the ground until he was needed, then he would mount his surly steed and go into action before the camera. At the end of his stint he would again become a recumbent figure.

Eva remembered fainting one night as the curtain came down on Act I. As she was drifting off she heard someone tell her understudy to hurry up — that Eva was out and this was her big chance.

"So I came to right away. When the curtain went up on Act II, I was up too."

Eva also remembers being helped to dismount during a costume picture. She was riding a spirited steed and riding side saddle, wearing riding habit. The skirt caught on the saddle, and "there I was with my long white underwear showing. It was cold. But they cut that part of the picture."

Both Eva and John Emery paid their respects to the horses chosen for TV and movie actors. They are always mean, rebellious creatures, — the horses not the actors.

John Emery said he thought that soon TV pictures would all be taped.

After the play in Palm Beach Eva is going to Spain to make a film. Walter Pidgeon and Debbie Reynolds will be among the other players in it.

John Emery's plans? "Oh I shall go back home and die," he quipped. Emery, once married to Tallulah Bankhead, is now married to former ballerina, now actress, Tamara Geva.

The cast for "Private Lives" is now rehearsing busily.

PRIVATE LIVES have never been a specialty with the sisters Gabor, but Eva Gabor is starring in Noel Coward's "Private Lives" at the Royal Poinciana Playhouse, this week. The play ushers in the Playhouse season.

His 'Prescription' Makes Sense

Doctor-President May 'Cure' Haiti

Dr. Francois Duvalier, Haiti's president, has outlined the progress of his five-year plan for development of his poverty-stricken country to Miami Herald Managing Editor George Beebe. This is the first of several articles.

By GEORGE BEEBE
Herald Managing Editor

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti—A couple of recent economic transfusions are improving Haiti's chances of recovery — but the patient is still on the critical list.

It is going to take all of the skill of Dr. Francois Duvalier to rectify the bungling of a long line of political medicos who preceded him in the presidency of this vibrant but bankrupt Negro republic.

In the 15 months since the good doctor took over the miserably happy country, he's come up with a formula that seems to make sense to most of his 3,500,000 constituents.

Dr. Duvalier
. . . five-year plan

Haiti has had 130 revolutions in 155 years of independence.

People are sick of revolt. They seem to like Dr. Duvalier's soft touch on the pulse.

The man who studied for two years at the University of Michigan, still has envious foes plotting his downfall. But their chances lessen as his program solidifies.

Duvalier had the misfortune of gaining the presidency when a sagging world coffee market knocked the props completely out from an already shaky economy.

This makes his task doubly difficult.

Undismayed, the graying, distinguished-looking 51-year-old Dr. Duvalier has launched an ambitious five-year recovery program that looks like this:

INAUGURATED a slum clearance project—in one of the world's worst slums.

SIGNED contracts for a score of job-producing industries.

CALLED in United States experts to analyze his budgetary and military problems.

APPOINTED a $1-a-year tourist commission to beat the drums for more free-spending Americans.

TURNED attention to furthering secondary education to produce better civic and political leadership.

LAUNCHED the $6,500,000 Artibonite Valley irrigation and drainage program that will open up farm lands and resettlement areas.

Dr. Duvalier made two significant announcements in recent days.

He set Friday as expiration date of dictatorial powers he decreed for himself six months ago. This will ease the fear of his people that he had dictatorial ambitions.

He has hired a U.S. military mission to reorganize the 5,000-man army and take it out of politics.

In the past, presidential aspirants who could sway military leaders to their side, had the key to overthrowing the government. The plums for being a military officer were great.

"All this must change for the good of our country," said the president.

Haiti now spends nearly one-fourth of its $30,000,000 budget on its army. President Duvalier is quick to explain this major expense item by pointing out that the soldiers also serve as the island's police force.

Smathers Calls for Unity

Western Hemisphere Association Proposed

From Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Creation of a Pan American Parliamentary Association to seek removal of trade and travel barriers in the Western Hemisphere was proposed Tuesday by Sen. George Smathers.

The association would be set up in accordance with a resolution introduced in the Senate by Smathers.

The Florida Democrat told the Senate the association would "aid immeasureably in breaking down artificial barriers which prevent a maximum degree of unity, cooperation and understanding."

He proposed that the association be made up of legislators from the 21 American republics.

Smathers said the State Department and many of the Latin American nations favor the proposal as a means "by which the strained relations existing today — created solely by unfounded distrust — can be eradicated."

"The Communists in launching their Latin American economic offensive wasted no time in seizing upon this unfortunate and needless situation," Smathers said.

Russia Launches Economic Campaign to Outstrip West

Cold War Still On --Dulles

High Level Talks On Germany OKd

Nixon's Views, 2A

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Secretary of State John Foster Dulles gave the nod Tuesday to a foreign ministers conference on Germany this spring. At the same time, he firmly rejected any idea that Russia is trying to thaw the cold war.

Dulles told newsmen: "I have seen nothing so far which leads me to feel that there is a genuine (Soviet) desire to end the cold war. There is a very strong desire to delude us into thinking the cold war is ended.

"There are a series of proposals made ostensibly to help end the cold war which would, in fact, play greatly into the hands of the prosecutors of the cold war."

This attitude led reporters to ask what possible good could then be expected from any foreign ministers meeting this spring.

Dulles replied that the West simply has to keep trying. Sometimes, if you are tough enough and patient, agreements fair to all can be reached, he said.

Dulles said the Korean armistice, the Austrian peace treaty and last January's U.S.-Soviet exchange agreement were all examples of results from this kind of tenacity.

Dulles said it seems to him that Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan got the wrong idea about America's unity during his U.S. visit this month.

The trouble was, Dulles said, Mikoyan's talks with government officials got down to brass tacks—"concrete cases, concrete — proposals" — while his talks with businessmen and others mostly dealt with broad generalities.

The exception, Dulles said, was Mikoyan's meeting with a group of union leaders who, the secretary said, "presented their views very strongly and effectively."

Apparently what Dulles had in mind were Mikoyan's sour comments that the American people want peace but their government clings to policies which continue the cold war.

"After his trip around the country," Dulles said of Mikoyan, "he still seemed to be under an illusion that there was a greater divergence on these matters than I think is the case."

Nevertheless, Dulles added, he has "no great concern" that Russia will make a serious miscalculation on that basis, conceding there is always such a danger. He recalled that both the Kaiser and Hitler misjudged America's temper before each of the world wars.

Successor OKd for Bishop

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Dr. William F. Creighton was elected bishop coadjutor of the Episcopal Diocese of Washington Tuesday.

The 49-year-old rector of St. John's Episcopal Church of Bethesda, Md., was elected by a special diocesan convention. He will automatically succeed the Rt. Rev. Angus Dun as bishop when the latter retires not later than 1962.

Khrushchev Delivers His Address Through Battery of Mikes at Kremlin's Great Hall
. . . 'massive serial production of intercontinental missiles is under way'

Roaring Atlas Flies 'Test Hop'

More State News 9A, 11A, 1C, 2D

CAPE CANAVERAL—(UPI)—A barrel-chested Atlas missile, mainstay of the U.S. rocket arsenal, thundered into the sky Tuesday night on what was believed to be only a 4,500-mile test hop.

Officials said it was another test aimed at improving the reliability of the intercontinental Atlas, scheduled to be in troop units by June 30.

The firing followed by only a few hours Russian Party Chief Nikita Khrushchev's announcement that the Soviets were turning out ICBMs in series production.

The three powerful engines of the 100-ton war rocket shattered the evening stillness of the Cape. Ignition occurred at 6:34 p.m. EST. The 80-foot Atlas, bathed in flood lights, began its characteristic gradual climb and bored through two low-hanging cloud banks.

The rocket appeared to head on a more easterly course than usual for Atlas firings. It was visible for more than five minutes, vanishing with a blue glow in the sky.

The Atlas put in orbit the "talking" satellite which burned up last Wednesday after 34 days in space. But an Atlas has been shot the full ICBM range of 6,300 miles only once. Engine failure cut short a second intercontinental hop attempt of an Atlas fired Jan. 15. That missile traveled less than 200 miles.

Tuesday night's Atlas firing was the 19th of the powerful missile since testing began 14 months ago. And it was the second in a new test phase aimed at improving the reliability of the Atlas.

One of the primary purposes of the new tests is to make the Atlas's mechanism simpler and to reduce the weight.

Convair Astronautics is making Atlases only in a limited quantity at its San Diego, Calif., plant. But the weapons are being turned out by a production line, with modifications being made as Cape tests prove them necessary.

Jobless Diplomat Undecided on Future

Batista Consul Pops Up, Denies Fleeing Miami

By JAMES BUCHANAN
Herald Staff Writer

Eduardo Hernandez, Batista's Miami consul-general who dropped out of sight when the dictator fled into exile, popped up here just as suddenly Tuesday.

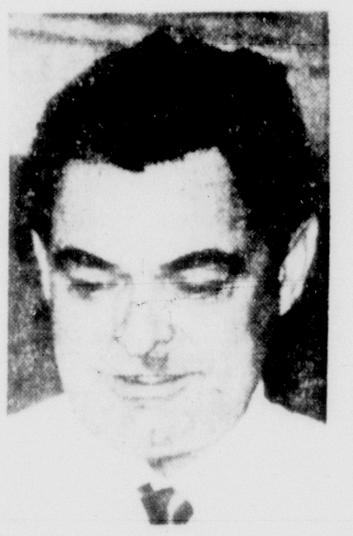
The diplomat, who lost his job with the change in Cuban governments, denied there was anything "mysterious" about his absence, as implied by rebel forces.

In shirt sleeves, sporting a cold sore on his upper lip and undecided about the future, the 49-year-old, dapper Hernandez is trying to find a new place in the sun.

His light went out Jan. 1 when rebel chieftain Fidel Castro took over Cuba.

Hernandez stood on the lawn of his home at 403 W. San Marino Dr. on Miami Beach's Marino Island and talked to four of his close friends.

It probably was the largest gathering of pro-Batista men in Greater Miami since Cuba's latest Independence Day.



—Herald Staff Photo

Eduardo Hernandez
. . . no 'mystery'

"I did not flee Miami on Dec. 31 as the rebels have claimed," Hernandez said.

"I left Miami Beach on Dec. 8 for New York, where my wife is hospitalized. And I did not 'strip' my consulate office of official records in Miami as the rebels also claim," Hernandez said.

His future is indefinite, Hernandez admitted, but his plans depend solely on the health of his wife "whom I expect to be well, and to join me, very soon."

Hernandez said the loss of his job with the Batista government would be covered "by investments I have here in Florida." He declined to name them.

"What I do from now on depends first upon what my wife wants to do," he said. Mrs. Hernandez has been in ill health for nearly a year.

Hernandez would talk about the weather, the price of fish, or anything but the past-current-or-future of Cuba or its government.

"Just make it 'no comment'," he said. "It is no time for me to talk now."

Reports that Hernandez was hidden behind armed guards at his island home or had moved are untrue.

Hernandez served Batista for the first time from 1936 until 1944 as consul-general at Miami and then went to Rio de Janeiro as consul. He returned here in 1945 as a real estate man and exporter.

In 1952, with Batista returning to power, Hernandez became consul-general once again and remained until the recent change in government.

The new consul here is Antonio Medina, career diplomat who was Hernandez' assistant.

Getting a Bang Out of Life

Sorghum--Wall-to-Wall!

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — (AP) — Somebody dropped the sorghum and thus began the wildest evening in Mrs. Raymond Fisher's life. That was the night she was having a dinner party.

She related her tale of woe Tuesday.

A friend dropped by with a quart of sorghum and fumbled it as it was being put in the refrigerator. The result: Wall-to-wall sorghum.

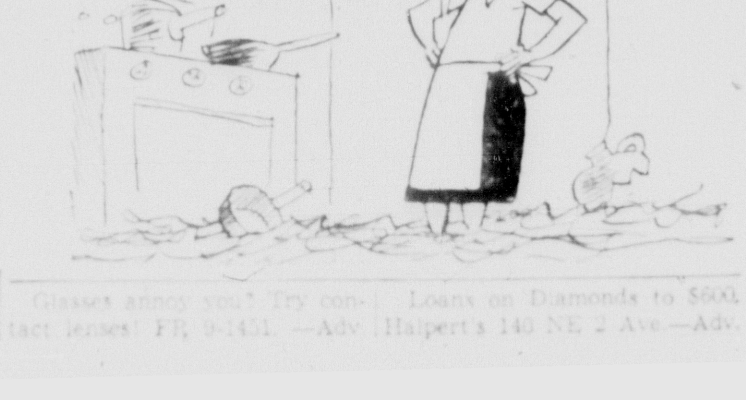
Then somebody else brushed too close to the kitchen stove—and over went a big roaster pan almost brimful of giblet gravy.

Have you ever had a kitchen with wall-to-wall sorghum topped with giblet gravy?

Somehow or other Mrs. Fisher got her 10 guests fed, then stumbled wearily off to bed. Four hours later she wakened with a touch of dyspepsia and reached in the dark for a piece of indigestion-cure chewing gum.

She got something, put it in her mouth and bit down. Boom!

It wasn't gum at all, but a tiny torpedo firecracker, the kind kids fling on the sidewalk.



SORGHUM WALL TO WALL WITH GIBLETS— WHAT A DISH—

Premier Sets Sight On 1970

Original Doctrine Of War Reversed

Warning to West, 7A

MOSCOW — (UPI) — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev Tuesday launched a campaign for the economic conquest of the West that is designed to put Russia ahead of the U.S. by 1970.

He proclaimed the Communist doctrine that neither hot nor cold war is inevitable against capitalism in his message to the opening of the 21st Soviet Communist Party Congress. He stressed that while Russia wants peaceful competition, it is keeping itself well armed with missiles.

He spoke for six hours and five minutes on everything from Germany and Berlin to giving Russians the shortest working week in the world and each family an apartment. His every point drew loud applause.

He disclosed that military strength will not be sacrificed.

"Massive serial production of intercontinental missiles is under way," he said.

The premier did not elaborate. But he warned that Russia, with its cosmic rocket and satellites, has missiles to hit any point on earth.

He stressed, however, that "we want competition to take place . . . not . . . in the production of atomic and hydrogen weapons but in the production of industrial goods, meat, butter . . ."

The U.S. will be "outstripped" by 1970 in the new "realistic" Russian plan, he said.

Khrushchev visualized stepped up Russian production under the 1959-1965 seven-year plan; then, within the next five years, or by 1970, the time will have come when Russia has "the decisive edge" in the world.

He called for an 8.6 per cent annual increase in Soviet production and said America's annual increase was only two per cent.

"When fulfilled, the seven-year plan will so greatly increase the economic potential of the U.S.S.R. that it will, together with the growth of the economic potential of all the Socialist countries, give peace a decisive edge," he said.

He admitted that the U.S. industrial production per capita now is double Russia's and that American agricultural production is 40 per cent ahead.

But in the last eight years, in such fields as steel, oil, coal, cement and wool, the rate of increase of Soviet production surpassed the American rate, he said.

Khrushchev called for a 1965 production target of 65 million to 70 million tons of pig iron, 86 million to 91 million tons of steel, and 65 million to 70 million tons of rolled stock. Other metal production must be increased "several times over." Oil production should double to 230 million to 240 million tons. Electric power stations must double capacity.

The national income is to rise as much as 65 per cent, he said.

"This new balance of forces will be so patently evident that even the most diehard imperialists will clearly see the futility of any attempt to start a war against the Socialist camp."

Khrushchev's thesis, hammered at again and again, appeared to be that with the nuclear stalemate in the world, economic power will be the key to eventual Communist triumph—a reversal of the original doctrine that war is inevitable between socialism and capitalism.

Nixon: Labor Knows How to Handle Reds

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Tuesday night that American businessmen who lionized Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan could learn a lesson from labor leaders on how to deal with Communists.

Nixon called Mikoyan "the equal of any leader I have met" and said that his recent visit here — taken as a whole —was "in the best interests of the U.S. and the free world."

But he added in an address to the Fordham College Alumni Association that the Soviet official brought "no new approach" on major East-West issues. The visit, he said, resulted in no change in the U.S. or Soviet positions.

Nixon said he did not agree with those who criticized American businessmen and bankers for entertaining Mikoyan.

"But I would respectfully suggest," he added, "that some of them in this instance could learn a lesson from our labor leaders who had to fight their unions and in the process learned how to deal with them.

"They know that a soft and naive approach does not produce results. The Communists respect those who oppose them on principle. They have nothing but contempt for those who are dupes and who can be deceived by what they know are obvious untruths."

The vice president also warned that no more disastrous mistake could be made than to slash this country's foreign economic, propaganda and political programs in the name of economy.

Nixon said he could testify that Mikoyan returned to Russia with completely different views if he expected to find this country divided in its opposition to communism, its workers "seething with discontent" or its economy in trouble.

He said Mikoyan was "noticeably impressed by the economic progress the U.S. had made in the 22 years since his last visit here and by the obvious strength of our economy today."

In a further tribute to the anti-Communist stand of American labor, Nixon added that Mikoyan did not find any encouraging signs of progress in the U.S. toward fulfillment of the Marxist prediction of an inevitable class struggle.

"On the contrary," he admitted with almost grudging admiration that the strongest defenders of the American system, the most vigorous critics of communism, and the most uncompromising supporters of our firm stand in Berlin were not the traditional whipping boys of Communist propaganda, the Wall Street bankers and businessmen, but the leaders of our free trade unions who represented the views of millions of America's wage earners."

Nixon said Mikoyan displayed mental ability and shrewdness but that even more impressive were his "steel-like toughness of character and an almost arrogant faith that his cause was right and that it would inevitably prevail."

He said he showed "no flabbiness, no softness, none of the uncertainty of the pragmagist seeking a philosophy." In short, he said, the American people were reminded in Mikoyan of "the massiveness and of the seriousness of the challenge we face in the world today."

The vice president admitted that he had been deeply concerned at "the naive attitude and the lack of understanding of communism displayed by some Americans" who represented this country in government and out overseas.

He said too few Americans saw the total picture of the anti-Communist struggle when they attacked technical aid, developmental loans, exchange and information programs.

Ike's Labor Message Due Today

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Eisenhower will send his labor message to Congress today. Sparks are expected to fly.

Eisenhower helped set up a fight by scorning a rival bill introduced a week ago by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D., Mass), as a halfway measure.

That presidential description was relayed to newsmen by Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, House Republican leader who was among a group that conferred for 2½ hours with Eisenhower at the White House Tuesday.

The Kennedy bill may be a little better than nothing, Halleck said on his own account. But not much, he added slightingly.

Kennedy, a likely contender for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960, got his bill in well ahead of both the administration's and one planned by Chairman John L. McClellan (D., Ark.) of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

All three aim, or are expected to aim, in the same general direction but with different approaches: To eliminate as much as possible of the corruption and racketeering that have been shown to exist in some labor-management relations. The Teamster Union headed by James R. Hoffa is a common target.

It was reported at the Labor Department last week that Secretary James P. Mitchell regards the Kennedy bill with a good deal of favor—as far as it goes.

However, Mitchell is said to feel that there should be a stronger ban on blackmail picketing and that union officials should be held more accountable to members for handling union funds.

Halleck said the administration bill is intended to deal with a situation that has created a "stench in the nostrils of everybody."

Kennedy has spoken of his measure as an effective reform bill which would "virtually put Mr. Hoffa and his associates out of business."

The Kennedy bill would require public financial accounting by unions, fix criminal penalties for mishandling of union funds or books, make it illegal for union funds to be paid to hoodlums, ban shakedowns and require democratic union elections.

Mrs. Hernandez Loses Airline Job

Fired by Castro, She Says

A 10-year employe of Cuba's "Q" Airlines said Tuesday she was fired by Fidel Castro "because I am married to the brother of the former Cuban counsul."

Mrs. Elena Bejar Hernandez, a U.S. citizen, and her husband of nine months, former Cuban Army Major Efrain Hernandez, said the orders for her dismissal "came right from the top—from Castro himself."

Ex-Maj. Hernandez's brother is former Cuban consul Eduardo Hernandez who fled Miami with his wife on Dec. 31, the day before Castro's revolutionary forces took control of the government.

Efrain Hernandez, who said he was serving in Miami as an army attache to the consulate here, turned over the keys to his office Monday to the new Cuban consul, Antonio Medina.

"Since March 15, 1949, I have served "Q" Airlines in Miami," Mrs. Hernandez said, "and all of the officials here said they were sorry they had to give me 24-hour notice, but those were their orders."

Roberto Chomat, special representative for the airlines here, was not available for comment Tuesday afternoon.

Efrain Hernandez said another of his brothers, Humberto, who had been with the airlines "since they put the first seat in the first plane," also was dismissed from his job at Havana.

"Castro has decided to clear all the Hernandez family from any connection whatsoever with Cuba," the ex-major said. "Myself, I expected it, but it is sad to realize they are extending the purge to U.S. citizens who may be members of our family."

Hernandez, often the target of rebel Cuban groups in Miami for his alleged espionage activities for Batista, said both he and his wife "are looking for jobs."

Mrs. Hernandez was given two weeks pay with her dismissal from the airline, which serves several points in Cuba from West Palm Beach and Key West.

Rain's Out For Today

Sudden hard rains caught weathermen and beach-goers with their umbrellas down Tuesday — but it's not supposed to happen again today.

Mostly sunny weather with temperatures near 80 was forecast for today, and only a chance of showers.

"It won't be anything like Tuesday," said Forecaster Gil Clark.

He blamed the afternoon showers Tuesday on a cold trough in the upper air that didn't change ground temperatures but plastered Greater Miami with nearly an inch of rain.

'Ballet' Girl Scandals Rock Paris

PARIS —(UPI)— The "Affair of the Rose Ballets" added stories of alleged sex orgies involving at least one prominent French politician and teenage girls Tuesday to a wave of scandals which have suddenly beset the young Fifth French Republic.

Paris circles already were buzzing over a sensational legal battle that has entangled one of France's wealthiest families in sordid charges of bribery, blackmail, procuring and attempted murder.

A blonde 23-year-old call girl was the key figure in what is known as "L'Affaire Lacaze."

The "Affair of the Rose Ballets" leaped into prominence when a Paris judge summoned former Police Officer Pierre Sorlut for questioning about his alleged role in organizing parties of young girls for prominent French personalities, including at least one high-ranking politician, not otherwise identified.

Sorlut was arrested and jailed recently on the basis of stories told police by several girls who said Sorlut arranged indecent "rose ballets" in villas in the outskirts of Paris.

The girls were said to have been lured into the "ballets" with promises they would meet important men who would help them to careers as actresses and models.

What exactly took place at the "Rose Ballets" was not disclosed. But some Paris newspapers said part of the routine was for the girls to perform "suggestive dances" in front of "personalities who wanted to meet young girls."

"L'Affaire Lacaze" involved Jean Lacaze, 57, wealthy director of the Zellidja lead and zinc mine in Morocco, and his adopted nephew Jean-Pierre Guillaume, 25.

Guillaume was adopted by Lacaze's sister, Mme. Jean Walter, widow of the founder of the mines and a wealthy woman.

Lacaze was alleged to have attempted to have Guillaume murdered and tried to frame him on a charge of procuring in order to cheat him out of his heritage.

According to Guillaume, Lacaze promised $30,375 to self-admitted call girl Marie-Therese Godeneche if she would get Guillaume arrested on charges of procuring.

Lacaze and one of his attorneys were arrested last week and charged with bribing a witness.

Holdup Man Held As Killer Suspect

Metro detectives Tuesday began checking the possibility that an 18-year-old Minnesota youth who told police of a whirlwind robbery spree may also be a killer.

Public Safety Director Thomas J. Kelly said a .32 caliber pistol dropped Monday by Herbert Leland Richard of Austin, Minn., alias Michael David Leahey, was the same type that fired a fatal bullet into the head of Ojus bar owner Vernon Brubaker Saturday night.

Miami police said Richard told them of four robberies, two of them at gunpoint, and two car thefts in Minnesota that netted him some $3,000 in cash. He said he lived like a king in Jacksonville and Miami Beach before being caught in a Miami supermarket holdup Monday.

Homestead Jail Practices Hit

The Dade County Grand Jury in an interim report Tuesday criticized "lax practices" in the Homestead city jail and recommended reorganization of the Homestead Police Department.

The report said the jury's recommendation followed an "extensive investigation" of conditions in the jail, including the escape of a Negro prisoner who wounded an officer before he was finally shot down and killed.

Byroade Backed for Afghan Post

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Henry A. Byroade won Senate Foreign Relations Committee approval Tuesday to be ambassador to Afghanistan. First, however, he was questioned about complaints over his contacts with an American Negro at his former post in the Union of South Africa where the government maintains a color barrier.

The ambassador, just back from South Africa Monday night, was asked about a party given there in his honor to which an American Negro was invited. Sen. Frank Church (D., Idaho) noted reports that an official of the South African government had protested.

Byroade said that was correct, but it wasn't the first time an American Negro citizen had been invited, although the embassy has been accused of maintaining a color barrier.

The ambassador said he attempted to explain to the South African official the difference between the U. S. citizen and African natives, because "their laws are very strict."

"I think the embassy is making the best compromise that it can," he said.

Louis DeJoie, wealthy mulatto planter who lost to Duvalier in the 1957 election and fled to New York, boasts from exile that his political foe "won't last another six months."

There is a lot of speculation as to the nature of a recent border conference between Duvalier and Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo of over-the-mountains Dominican Republic.

Duvalier says it was to patch up differences that have strained relations between the countries for years, to sign a non-aggression pact and to launch a joint battle against communism on the island.

Despite its poverty, Haiti has resisted the heavy hand of the Communists.

Dr. Duvalier estimates there are 2,000 known Communists in Haiti. He is proud that he was able to reject overtures made to him by Soviet Russia right after his election.

"I'd much prefer to deal with the United States," he said.

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC
HAITI

HAITI is one of the world's three Negro republics, located 640 miles southeast of Miami.

SIZE approximates Maryland in area. Occupies one-third the Caribbean island of Hispaniola which it shares with the Dominican Republic.

POPULATION estimated at 3,500,000 French-speaking natives. The religion is Catholic but Voodoo is practiced.

GOVERNMENT is run by a president and two elected houses.

POLITICS are frequently turbulent. Twice since taking office in 1957 President Duvalier has shaken up the Army's general staff to counter reported revolutionary plots. Haiti is strongly anti-Communist.

ECONOMY hinges on tourism.

Statistics

MIAMI READINGS AT 4:30 P.M. TUESDAY: Skies, cloudy; temperature, 74 degrees; winds from the southeast at five miles an hour; barometer, 30.00 inches; relative humidity, 90 per cent.

National Summary

The slowly moving eastern weather pattern continued to give combinations of ice sleet and snow over much of the most populace area of the U.S.

The advance of colder air will be accompanied by considerable cloudiness through the Gulf states but should help evict the combination of freezing rain sleet and snow from the east.

Fair to partly cloudy and cold weather should return to the central and northern Appalachians mid Atlantic states and New England by Wednesday.

Occasional rain and colder temperatures are indicated for Georgia and the Carolinas restricting fair warm conditions to Florida.

A broad zone of warming temperatures and generally fair weather is forecast from the central plains to the mid Mississippi and Ohio Valleys while some snow may drift across the Northern Great Lakes region.

Intermittent rain will give way to showers through the Pacific northwest Wednesday and showers of rain or snow should extend across northern California into the central plateau and Rockies.

Mullet Catch

The North Star, commercial fishing boat, brought in more than two tons of mullet in this netting operation at Naples Beach this week. Naples, in addition to being a Gulf coast resort, is a busy fishing port, with mullet and mackerel as the principal catch. Large schools of mullet this week have kept fishermen busy bringing in sagging nets.

County Seat Vote Signed By 1,200

By TOM MORGAN
Naples Bureau Chief

NAPLES — There are now 1,200 signatures on the petition asking a vote on moving the Collier County seat—close to the required number. About 700 more will be sought in an intensive drive by civic groups in the next few days.

Feb. 3 is deadline for receipt of the paper. At that time, if the signatures aren't sufficient, the County Commission will move ahead with plans for a $175,000 jail addition in Everglades.

No accurate count of signatures has been made. The law requires a third of "the qualified electors who are taxpayers on real or personal property" to sign the petition, which puts the exact figure between 1,000 and 1,500.

To take care of duplications and invalid names the Naples Jaycees, petition sponsors have had legal advice to get 3,000 signers — two thirds of the registered voters.

"We are concentrating on freeholders who have not yet signed," said Jaycee President John Rogers.

"We gave a list of 445 to the Exchange Club to work, another 200 to the businessmen's group headed by Ad Miller, and are seeking help from the Lions Club."

Rogers said a group of Jaycees got 100 signatures in Immokalee, with only two refusals, Monday night. Other groups will work in Marco and at Everglades, the present county seat.

There has only been slight public opposition to the move.

The principal handicap in getting names on the petition has been inability of Jaycee members to circulate it.

They have reported about 97 out of every 100 persons are willing to sign, if asked.

A hearing on permitting Tamiami Trail Tours to operate buses between Miami and Jacksonville will be held before the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission starting at 10 a.m. Thursday at the Dade County Courthouse.

Tamiami Trail Tours, Inc., has applied for an extension which would authorize it to operate between Miami and Jacksonville as well as other points.

Supermart Signs For Big Center

Herald Bureau

NAPLES — Leasing by the Publix supermarkets of 21,000 square feet of space in the Dudley Gallahue shopping center was announced Tuesday from Indianapolis.

Gallahue, in a phone call to The Herald's Naples bureau, said he had a letter of confirmation of the 20-year lease from George W. Jenkins of Orlando, Publix president.

Gallahue also announced the shopping center will be expanded from 80,000 to 90,000 square feet of floor space, and said "I have more than enough firms to fill it all."

He added no other leases were being signed until he had a chance to confer with Jenkins in February.

"This is all the more reason the city must get the sanitary sewer extended down Eighth St. to the Crayton Cove section," said Gallahue.

The proposed sewer extension, on which preliminary refinancing work has begun, will run past the three-square-block shopping center Gallahue proposes, and a site he has offered for a branch courthouse, or the county seat.

Sewer construction has delayed another Gallahue project, the one and a half million Tahitian Lodge on the Tamiami Trail, but Gallahue said work will resume within "two or three weeks."

Gallahue said Handley W. Caraway of Hollywood, contractor, started on the motel project "full time" Monday and work will resume as soon as details are cleared up. The job shut down in August.

Referring to building plans for the shopping center Gallahue said, "This" going to stabilize the middle of town, instead of having it look like a ball park, as it does now."

Gallahue also named Capt. Preston Sawyer, veteran fishing guide, to handle his three boats here.

Judge Sets Petition Hearing

Herald Bureau

KEY WEST—The city asked the Circuit Court Tuesday to rule in its favor in a lawsuit, seeking the court's opinion on the validity of the repeal-the-utility-tax petition.

In a motion filed by City Attorney Hilary Albury, the defendents move for a summary judgment on the grounds that the pleadings, affidavits and admissions contained in the lawsuit "show there is no genuine issue of any material fact . . ."

A hearing on the motion was set for Feb. 10 before Circuit Judge Aquilino Lopez.

The lawsuit in question asks the court for a declaratory decree on the validity of a petition with 3,669 signatures calling on the city commission to repeal the recently imposed 10 per cent utility tax. The city rejected the petition as having insufficient valid signatures to meet the requirements prescribed by law.

This pending lawsuit has already been used by several citizens before the court as grounds to postpone validation of $2,750,000 bond issue proposed by the city.

A hearing on the validation is scheduled before the same court on Feb. 13.

Jet Pilot Bails Out

CHERRY POINT, N.C. —(P) — The pilot was ejected safely when a Navy jet plane developed trouble and crashed near Beaufort, 30 miles northeast of here, Tuesday.

Lt. (j.g.) Patrick J. Gallagher, a Naval reservist, was piloting the F-3H Demon jet to the overhaul and repair squad base at Cherry Point from the Naval Air Station at Key West.

The aircraft, which developed control difficulties, crashed about two miles from Bogue Field, near Beaufort. There was no damage to civilian property.

Trawler Speeds to Port

Bite of Poison Fish Puts Seaman in Pain

NEW ORLEANS—(P)—The Coast Guard reported Tuesday a Florida seaman was bitten by a poisonous fish in the Gulf of Mexico Monday.

The Coast Guard identified the man as Ralph Shores, 34, Key West, a crewman aboard the trawler Duchess. A spokesman said he was bitten on his hand by a scorpion fish off Campeche on the Yucatan Peninsula.

The Duchess reported Shores was suffering pains in his arm, and the Coast Guard advised the owner of the trawler to arrange clearance with Mexican authorities and proceed to Campeche.

Last indications are the vessel is heading for Campeche, the Coast Guard said.

The Duchess is owned by Ed Knight of Thompson Enterprises, Key West.

Hit The Supermarkets

Juvenile Thief Gang Arrested in Key West

Homes, Hangout Were Loot Cache

By HARRY CAICEDO
Key West Bureau Chief

KEY WEST — Authorities here have uncovered an apparently smooth-operating gang of pre-teen and teenage thieves, whose latest haul from a supermarket amounted to at least $400 in goods.

Monroe County Juvenile Court officers and Sheriff's Investigator Bobby Brown said Tuesday that seven boys, ranging in age from eight to 14, were implicated.

Brown said he has recovered about $400 in merchandise stolen from the Food Fair Monday afternoon. The loot included fishing reels, lures, lines, knives and food.

Some of it was recovered at the homes of the youngsters, and some at an apparent "hideout," near an abandoned railroad tressle not far from the supermarket where stolen, Brown said.

At the hideout he also found a red English bicycle, apparently stolen earlier. Additional loot, including five reels, were discovered in an abandoned icebox behind Adams Dairy, 2415 Seidenberg Ave.

The youngsters, all white, live in the same neighborhood on the east end of the island. All were released in custody of their parents.

The gang's thieving came to light when James W. White, 2501 Patterson Ave., reported to authorities two boys tried to sell him five reels for only $5.50. The set of reels is worth about $100, Brown said.

White made the purchase and took the boys' names and address. The names and addresses, however, proved to be false.

With that lead Brown combed the neighborhood and soon found one of the boys, who admitted selling the stolen reels.

But the split on the take was pretty lopsided, Brown reported. One boy got 50 cents. The other pocketed $5. The money was recovered.

The gang of thieves apparently had a system for stealing from Food Fair, Brown said some of the juveniles admitted.

They placed articles they had stolen in sacks within the shopping area and then casually slipped out the side of the store, which is behind the cashiers.

They even planned an alibi to use if caught. "I'm just carrying this for my mother," they were supposed to say.

Juvenile Judge Eva Gibson Warner set a hearing for 2 p.m. today. She praised Brown's handling of the case.

"We will not tolerate gangs of young thieves or secret hideouts for juveniles in Monroe County," the judge stressed.

Juvenile Shelter Drive On

Herald Bureau

KEY WEST — A drive for funds for a shelter for juvenile offenders has been launched by the Monroe County Juvenile Council.

The council president, Mrs. James S. Y. Ivan, reported at a meeting Monday night that donations will reach the thousand-dollar mark by Feb. 1, when a special children's home account is opened at the Key West State Bank.

The Council's aim is to build a home on a plot of land on Stock Island, donated by the city.

At present juveniles who are detained must be kept in a block of cells in the county jail. Mrs. Ivan termed it "a nightmare when you have to go through three barred jail doors to reach these small children."

Mrs. William Warner, of the Juvenile Court staff, reported that 114 juveniles were detained in the jail during 1958. She said the court heard 605 cases during the year.

No goal of the drive has yet been set, but unofficial estimates of construction cost of the proposed home are more than $30,000.

The Council also:

APPOINTED Rear Adm. Francis D. McCorkle an honorary member.

HEARD from Treasurer Teresa Braxton that membership last year increased from 26 to 100.

NOMINATED a slate of candidates, to be voted on at the February meeting.

Group Wants Keys Area For Filling

TALLAHASSEE — (P) — The State Road Department and State Park Board were asked Tuesday to study advisability of opening up a stretch of about seven miles of submerged land along the Overseas Highway (U.S. 1) between Manatee Bay and Lake Surprise, for fill and development.

Attorney Bruce Vining, on behalf of clients who were not identified, asked Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund to reconsider their Feb. 13, 1957, action, withdrawing from sale mangrove and other submerged areas east of the Overseas Highway in the Barnes Sound area.

Vining said his clients wanted to buy 350 acres for filling and development. He said Monroe County would benefit, economically and from the beauty of the proposed development.

The area west of the Overseas Highways is in the Everglades National Park.

The only developments in the area between Manatee Bay and Lake Surprise are a few scattered fishing camps.

The trustees decided to find out, from the road department whether development in the area would interfere with any plans for improvement of the Overseas Highway.

Re-Registration Is Scheduled

EAU GALLIE — All Eau Gallie voters will have to re-register starting March 1, City Manager Clark Maxwell said Tuesday.

City council passed on first reading a new ordinance it has written to provide for a permanent registration system and create a second voting precinct.

This ordinance designates Eau Gallie Junior High School as the new Precinct B, and Precinct A will be at the original Civic Center location. The county precinct plan was followed so voters south of the Eau Gallie River will not have to ballot two places during county-city elections.

Only voters living north of the river will use the Civic Center polling place after the new system is put into use.

Mrs. Sarah Ingraham
. . . 'the panthers screamed'

Pioneer is Spry After a Century

FORT MYERS — At 100 years old and almost 101, Mrs. Sara Ingraham is the oldest Southwest Florida pioneer, so far as can be learned — and may be the oldest living woman pioneer in the state.

In 1884 she and her husband J. B. Ingraham — he died 25 years ago — were first settlers on Fisheating Creek, 40 miles northeast of Fort Myers in the settlement now known as Venus.

"Panthers would screan suddenly in the night outside our cabin and frighten me terribly," she said. "Wolves would skulk in the edge of the timber by day and howl along the creek at night.

"Indians were our only neighbors, but they were friendly and helped teach us how to live in the wilderness. Wild deer and turkey were so numerous that we had to take turns standing guard to shoo them out of our garden in daytime."

Mrs. Ingraham was the daughter of a wealthy Reidsville, Ga., family and her husband was a Carolina physician and surgeon.

How they abandoned civilization and turned pioneers to invade the Southwest Florida wilderness is a story as strange as any fiction.

"He had a mania for hunting and fishing — he loved it more than his medical practice," said Mrs. Ingraham.

"He read a series of newspaper articles on the wilds of Florida and after that there was no holding him," she continued. "He closed his practice, we sold everything we had and moved to Fisheating Creek, staking out a homestead."

The doctor never doctored again, she said, except to treat the disorders of his own family, Indian friends, and later, white neighbors.

The Ingrahams brought up 10 children at their wilderness home. Five sons and two daughters are still living. One son, Otis, still lives at the old homestead on Fisheating Creek, raising cattle and hogs there.

Born March 27, 1858, at Reidsville, Ga., Mrs. Ingraham expects to be visiting her daughter Mrs. H. P. Langford at Limestone, Fla., when she celebrates her 101st birthday March 27th.

She is spry, active, cares for herself, walks to visit neighbors, and writes her own letters to old friends and members of the family.

"A person should keep busy, look for things to do — and never give up!" she said.

Schools Will Get The Fund

EVERGLADES—The Collier County School Board's $35,000 contribution from the County Commission seemed a little safer Tuesday, after a conference between School Superintendent W. D. Reynolds and the commission.

Reynolds Monday told the school board unofficial inquiry had been made to see if the schools "might forego the $35,000, in view of the recent three-million-dollar bond issue."

The Tuesday conference brought out that the county is willing to pay the money, earmarked for the purchase of a school site in Naples, but, in view of heavy welfare expense demands, hoped the payment might be delayed.

Commissioner Dick Goodlette said later "The money will be paid, because it is budgeted, but we had asked them formally if it could be put off."

The schools lost $22,000 of their own funds and the county was equally shorted by a tax assessment error, which reduced valuations after the budgets were made.

The meeting will be at the Key West Woman's Club at 8 p.m.

Harbor, Inlet Jobs Approved

WASHINGTON — (P) — The Board of Rivers and Harbors Tuesday approved engineers' recommendations for improvements to Bakers Haulover Inlet near Miami, Fort Myers Beach and Gordon Pass at Naples.

The $478,000 Bakers Haulover work would include jetty reconstruction, inlet protection and provision of a marked 200-foot wide channel. Half the cost would have to be met locally. Annual maintenance would be $9,100.

The Fort Myers Beach project would provide a 12-foot deep, 150-foot wide channel in San Carlos Bay which would become 11 feet deep and 125 feet wide going through Matanzas Pass to the upper shrimp terminals. It would cost $168,000 plus $20,000 annual maintenance.

A local contribution tentatively estimated at $2,200 would be required.

The $331,000 work at Naples would include a channel varying in width from 150 to 70 feet and in depth from 12 to 10 feet in the Gulf of Mexico, through Gordon Pass to Upper Naples Bay and thence to the U.S. 41 bridge. A yacht terminal turning basin 8 feet deep, 250 feet wide and 670 feet long would be provided.

Annual maintenance would be $39,000 and a local contribution tentatively estimated at $123,000 would be required.

The proposals still must be approved by state agencies and other government agencies.

The Rivers and Harbors Board action was reported by Sens. Spessard Holland and George Smathers and Reps. Dante Fascell and Paul Rogers, all Florida Democrats.

Flagship Pays Visit

KEY WEST — HMS Ulster, flagship of the British Naval forces in the West Indies, will arrive here today for a week's visit.

Aboard the warship is Comdr. W. J. Parker, senior naval officer in the British West Indies.

The Ulster will play host tonight at a shipboard reception from 6:30 to 8 p.m. A welcome dance for the ship's crew is also scheduled tonight at the USO Club here.

Wire Roy Rogers

Naples Fine Frontier Town

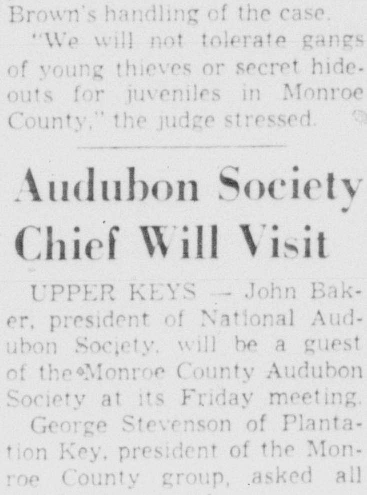
By TOM MORGAN
Naples Bureau Chief

NAPLES — If Roy Rogers the cowboy is coming to Florida, as it said in The Miami Herald's Sunday Fun In Florida, then the Naples Chamber of Commerce wants him to come here.

The story said Roy is looking for a site for a multi-million dollar "Frontier Town" which would show the Old West.

Although the story said the location might be between Miami and Orlando which would about limit it to the East Coast, it is hoped by John Crichton, chamber secretary-manager, that Naples and Collier County will be considered.

"We border the area that supplied cattle during the War Between the States," said Crichton, "and the county is a cattle-raising area itself with more than 30,000 cows, principally high-grade Brahmans. Furthermore we have the main north-south traffic artery of the West Coast, the Tamiami Trail."



Roy Rogers
. . . coming to Florida?

Back in the 1860s the area from Collier north raised thousands of cattle for the Confederate cause. Col. C. J. Munnerlyn's "cow cavalry" was organized there to protect Confederate cattle from Federal troops at Fort Myers.

Many cows were shipped out of Punta Rassa to Federal troops at Key West and others went out on blockade runners to earn Cuban gold for the Confederacy.

Now with the approval of Les Grimes' chamber ad committee the City of Naples, the county government and all local and area civic groups are being asked to wire Roy Rogers to come take a look at what the Chamber thinks is a natural location for Roy's "Frontier Town."

Beth Steel Abandons Its Merger Plans

Dow Jones, AP, UPI

Bethlehem Steel Corp. and the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. announced they have abandoned plans for a merger and will not appeal a federal district court injunction against it.

The companies said an appeal could not be finally disposed of before 1960.

The government opposed the merger on the ground that it violated the Clayton Act and would lessen competition and create a monopoly.

The companies said they still believe the merger would have stimulated competition and resulted in obvious advantages to steel consumers and the public.

A Businessman in Prague

'Czechs Treated Me Like Royalty'

By STAN JOHNSON
Herald Business Writer

A Miami manufacturer who just returned from a buying trip behind the Iron Curtain says it's not difficult to do business with the Communists.

"They treated me like royalty," said Jack Zwerner, president of Perrine Industries, Hialeah jalousie door manufacturer.

Zwerner visited Czechoslovakia where he made arrangements to buy window glass for his business.

He was met at an airport in Prague by a chauffeur-driven limousine and whisked to his hotel.

Later, he concluded a deal with the director of the government owned glass industry to buy 1.5 million dollars worth of jalousies over a 12-month period.

"They knew all about jalousies," said Zwerner. "I didn't have to explain anything to them."

He said the Czech glass can be delivered in Florida for about five per cent less than the glass he formerly bought in Western European countries.

Zwerner doesn't expect to encounter any sales resistance to his product in this country because of the switch to a Communist-made glass.

"A contractor is interested in quality and price," he said. "He doesn't care where the glass comes from."

The Daily Investor

'Your System Is Too Hit-or-Miss'

Q. I am a 39-year-old widow and have a monthly pension of $125. I ventured into the stock market for the first time a few months ago and I am a bit nervous.

I bought 15 shares of Kroger (I will have 45 as a result of the three-for-one split), 25 shares of Texas Gulf Sulphur, 100 shares of Chock Full O'Nuts, 1,000 shares of Lisbon Valley Uranium (at three cents a share) and 100 shares of Holly Corp. (at $1.50 a share).

I know the last two are highly speculative. But I decided to take the risk because of the low cost. What do you think of my choice?

A. Some are fair. Some are bad. But your whole system (if it can be called that) of buying stock is terrible. You are going about investing in a hit-or-miss method. You have no more right owning some of those things than you do playing the horses.

A widow on a pension should never buy highly risky stocks, no matter how low their price seems to be. The small profit you might make isn't worth the worry and the distinct possibility that you might lose some of what little money you have.

And those two low-priced things aren't the only ones you should be concerned about. Actually, none of the issues you hold is really suited for you:

Kroger has been a very good performer. It is a high-grade stock, but is more of a growth issue than an income producer. It should appeal to people looking to the future—not to widows in need of current income.

Texas Gulf Sulphur has had its ups and downs in the market. It might be easy to argue that, because the company is the world's largest producer of sulphur and has a strong financial position, its stock has to improve in our expanding economy. That may be true. But it has to live down its past reputation.

Chock Full O'Nuts looks good. However, the stock has been on the market only a short time and will have to prove itself.

Life Firms Plan Merger

Stockholders of the American Life Savings Insurance Co., which has headquarters in Miami, voted unanimously here Mondy to merge with a Nashville, Tenn., firm that has been expanding its insurance holdings in recent months.

American Life is being acquired by American Investors Corp., headed by Harry McDonald, former chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Louis Jepeway, board chairman of the Miami firm, said American Life policyholders will be protected "through re-guaranteed" policies handled by a South Carolina firm in the American Investors group.

Dr. E. C. Lunsford, president of American Life, becomes a vice president of American Investors under the new arrangement. Insurance commissioners of Florida and Tennessee must approve the merger before it becomes final but approval is expected in about 45 days.

Unheralded Stock Goes Up 967 Pct.

NEW YORK —(UPI)— A spectacular stock market performance in the tradition of E. L. Bruce, Lukens Steel, American Motors and P. Lorillard is being staged by a little-known $2 million a year chemical company headquartered in Elizabeth, N.J.

Stock of Borne Chemical Co. on the American Stock Exchange more than doubled itself last week and touched a high Monday of $80 a share which is 967 per cent above its 1958 low of $7.50.

But it was sold heavily Tuesday when the American Stock Exchange announced a routine investigation into the rise. It lost $27.25 points net and closed at $42.25.

Last week it rose by $32.25 a share to $63.25.

Company officials aren't sure what's responsible. Neither are the brokerage houses.

But there are lots of theories. Among these are a slim supply of stock and a new process for hermetically sealed plastic containers.

In many cases of such rises the ticker is fired by groups trying to buy into the company.

Out of 189,492 outstanding shares only about 40,000 or 50,000 are on the market, with the balance held by management.

In Florida

New High Set in Savings

A record savings increase of $47,123,000 in December brought total savings for the 103 Florida savings and loan associations to $2,054,265,000 at the close of 1958.

According to statistics released by the Florida Savings and Loan League, the record savings increase during December surpassed the previous monthly high of $40,879,500 established in December, 1957, by $6,243,500.

While savings were on the rise in December, total loans closed during the month also set a new monthly record of $51,904,761 which enabled the Florida associations to close out the year with $506,881,000 in loans closed.

This was the first time that the savings and loan lending volume in Florida had passed the half-billion-dollar mark. The record lending year was $54,096,000 above the total for 1957.

During 1958, the savings and loan associations in Florida financed 61,370 dwellings including 23,900 new homes.

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Champagne consumption in the U.S. has made tremendous gains in 1958, an importer says. Alfred Fromm, vice president of Fromm & Sichel Inc., said Americans are not only using champagne instead of cocktails, but are drinking more with their meals.

A Sell-It-Yourself Lot

A do-it-yourself car lot where people can rent space and sell their own flivvers opened Tuesday in Fort Lauderdale.

The promoters, Bruce Meinken and Ray McMackin, say their Car Owners Market Corp. is the first used car lot in the nation which allows the buyer and seller to do business directly, thus eliminating middleman costs and profits.

A flat fee of $9 entitles the car owner to three days, or any part thereof, of "sales exposure" on the COMCO lot at 620 W. Broward Blvd.

After three days, the rate drops to $1.50 a day.

An inquiry card setup enables the buyer and seller to get together privately and set their own price.

Meinken and McMackin will advertise cars on their lots and arrange financing and insurance for buyers, if they need them.

His 'Prescription' Makes Sense

Doctor-President May 'Cure' Haiti

Dr. Francois Duvalier, Haiti's president, has outlined the progress of his five-year plan for development of his poverty-stricken country to Miami Herald Managing Editor George Beebe. This is the first of several articles.

By GEORGE BEEBE
Herald Managing Editor

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti—A couple of recent economic transfusions are improving Haiti's chances of recovery — but the patient is still on the critical list.

It is going to take all of the skill of Dr. Francois Duvalier to rectify the bungling of a long line of political medicos who preceded him in the presidency of this vibrant but bankrupt Negro republic.

In the 15 months since the good doctor took over the miserably happy country, he's come up with a formula that seems to make sense to most of his 3,500,000 constituents.

Haiti has had 130 revolutions in 155 years of independence.

People are sick of revolt. They seem to like Dr. Duvalier's soft touch on the pulse.

The man who studied for two years at the University of Michigan, still has envious foes plotting his downfall. But their chances lessen as his program solidifies.

Duvalier had the misfortune of gaining the presidency when a sagging world coffee market knocked the props completely out from an already shaky economy.

This makes his task doubly difficult.

Undismayed, the graying, distinguished looking 51-year-old Dr. Duvalier has launched an ambitious five-year recovery program that looks like this:

INAUGURATED a slum clearance project—in one of the world's worst slums.

SIGNED contracts for a score of job-producing industries.

CALLED in United States experts to analyze his budgetary and military problems.

APPOINTED a $1-a-year tourist commission to beat the drums for more free-spending Americans.

TURNED attention to furthering secondary education to produce better civic and political leadership.

LAUNCHED the $6,500,000 Artibonite Valley irrigation and drainage program that will open up farm lands and resettlement areas.

Dr. Duvalier made two significant announcements in recent days.

He set Friday as expiration date of dictatorial powers he decreed for himself six months ago. This will ease the fear of his people that he had dictatorial ambitions.

Dr. Duvalier
. . . five-year plan

He has hired a U.S. military mission to reorganize the 5,000-man army and take it out of politics.

In the past, presidential aspirants who could sway military leaders to their side, had the key to overthrowing the government. The plums for being a military officer were great.

"All this must change for the good of our country," said the president.

Haiti now spends nearly one-fourth of its $30,000,000 budget on its army. President Duvalier is quick to explain this major expense item by pointing out that the soldiers also serve as the island's police force.

Smathers Calls for Unity

Western Hemisphere Association Proposed

From Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Creation of a Pan American Parliamentary Association to seek removal of trade and travel barriers in the Western Hemisphere was proposed Tuesday by Sen. George Smathers.

The association would be set up in accordance with a resolution introduced in the Senate by Smathers.

The Florida Democrat told the Senate the association would "aid immeasureably in breaking down artificial barriers which prevent a maximum degree of unity, cooperation and understanding."

He proposed that the association be made up of legislators from the 21 American republics.

Smathers said the State Department and many of the Latin American nations favor the proposal as a means "by which the strained relations existing today — created solely by unfounded distrust — can be eradicated."

"The Communists in launching their Latin American economic offensive wasted no time in seizing upon this unfortunate and needless situation," Smathers said.

Cold War Still On --Dulles

High Level Talks On Germany OKd

Nixon's Views, 2A

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Secretary of State John Foster Dulles gave the nod Tuesday to a foreign ministers conference on Germany this spring. At the same time, he firmly rejected any idea that Russia is trying to thaw the cold war.

Dulles told newsmen: "I have seen nothing so far which leads me to feel that there is a genuine (Soviet) desire to end the cold war. There is a very strong desire to delude us into thinking the cold war is ended.

"There are a series of proposals made ostensibly to help end the cold war which would, in fact, play greatly into the hands of the prosecutors of the cold war."

This attitude led reporters to ask what possible good could then be expected from any foreign ministers meeting this spring.

Dulles replied that the West simply has to keep trying. Sometimes, if you are tough enough and patient, agreements fair to all can be reached, he said.

Dulles said the Korean armistice, the Austrian peace treaty and last January's U.S.-Soviet exchange agreement were all examples of results from this kind of tenacity.

Dulles said it seems to him that Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan got the wrong idea about America's unity during his U.S. visit this month.

The trouble was, Dulles said, Mikoyan's talks with government officials got down to brass tacks—"concrete cases, concrete — proposals" — while his talks with businessmen and others mostly dealt with broad generalities.

The exception, Dulles said, was Mikoyan's meeting with a group of union leaders who, the secretary said, "presented their views very strongly and effectively."

Apparently what Dulles had in mind were Mikoyan's sour comments that the American people want peace but their government clings to policies which continue the cold war.

"After his trip around the country," Dulles said of Mikoyan, "he still seemed to be under an illusion that there was a greater divergence on these matters than I think is the case."

Nevertheless, Dulles added, he has "no great concern" that Russia will make a serious miscalculation on that basis, conceding there is always such a danger. He recalled that both the Kaiser and Hitler misjudged America's temper before each of the world wars.

Court Plea For 'Porky' Is Denied

FORT LAUDERDALE — Attorney Ray Sandstrom fired a broadside of legal motions in Criminal Court Tuesday on behalf of three clients — James Gunn, Donald (Porky) Baines and Chris di Bona.

Only one scored a hit with Judge Louis Weissing, who set the trio's next appearance for 1:30 p.m. Friday.

All three are charged with receiving stolen property. Di Bona also faces trial for grand larceny.

Weissing refused to quash charges against Gunn and Baines, but he knocked out the stolen property county against Di Bona — when prosecutor Wallace Allbritton noticed it was dated 1959 instead of 1958.

Allbritton said that an amended charge will be filed promptly.

Sandstrom, attacking the charge as "vague and indefinite," had made no mention of the date, although he apparently was aware of it.

Sandstrom maintained that his clients were deprived of their right to a preliminary hearing after arrest. Weissing disagreed.

At one point, Sandstrom called County Solicitor Tom Coker to the stand to inquire into details of the charge against Baines.

After Coker said it was based on an affidavit from Ben Grigsby, sheriff's chief criminal investigator, Sandstrom complained that Grigsby's signature was marred by an erasure.

The defense attorney asked for a bill of particulars and a list of witnesses in each case.

Weissing later noted the heavy burden on the solicitor's office. Four prosecutors handled some 13,000 charges last year, he said.

Meanwhile, Coker had gone to the County Commission with an urgent plea for more money to staff his office adequately. It now has four trial lawyers.

"The system's antiquated," Coker told the board. "I need at least two more trial lawyers. People aren't getting a fair shake on prosecuting cases."

Jobless Diplomat Undecided on Future

Batista Consul Pops Up, Denies Fleeing From Miami

By JAMES BUCHANAN
Herald Staff Writer

Eduardo Hernandez, Batista's Miami consul-general who dropped out of sight when the dictator fled into exile, popped up here just as suddenly Tuesday.

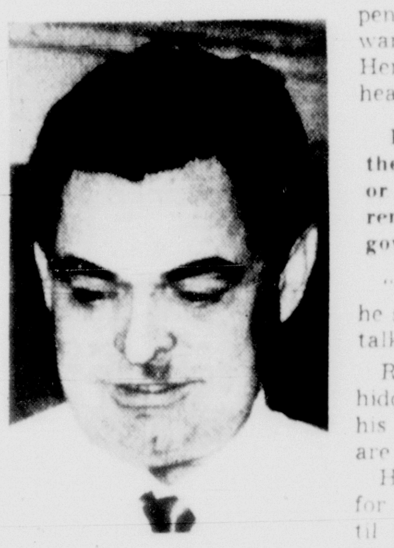
The diplomat, who lost his job with the change in Cuban governments, denied there was anything "mysterious" about his absence, as implied by rebel forces.

In shirt sleeves, sporting a cold sore on his upper lip and undecided about the future, the 49-year-old, dapper Hernandez is trying to find a new place in the sun.

His light went out Jan. 1 when rebel chieftain Fidel Castro took over Cuba.

Hernandez stood on the lawn of his home at 403 W. San Marino Dr. on Miami Beach's Marino Island and talked to four of his close friends.

It probably was the largest gathering of pro-Batista men in Greater Miami since Cuba's latest Independence Day.



—Herald Staff Photo

Eduardo Hernandez
. . . no 'mystery'

"I did not flee Miami on Dec. 31 as the rebels have claimed," Hernandez said.

"I left Miami Beach on Dec. 8 for New York, where my wife is hospitalized. And I did not 'strip' my consulate office of official records in Miami as the rebels also claim," Hernandez said.

His future is indefinite, Hernandez admitted, but his plans depend solely on the health of his wife "whom I expect to be well, and to join me, very soon."

Hernandez said the loss of his job with the Batista government would be covered "by investments I have here in Florida." He declined to name them.

"What I do from now on depends first upon what my wife wants to do," he said. Mrs. Hernandez has been in ill health for nearly a year.

Hernandez would talk about the weather, the price of fish, or anything but the past-current-or-future of Cuba or its government.

"Just make it 'no comment'," he said. "It is no time for me to talk now."

Reports that Hernandez was hidden behind armed guards at his island home or had moved are untrue.

Hernandez served Batista for the first time from 1936 until 1944 as consul-general at Miami and then went to Rio de Janeiro as consul. He returned here in 1945 as a real estate man and exporter.

In 1952, with Batista returning to power, Hernandez became consul-general once again and remained until the recent change in government.

The new consul here is Antonio Medina, career diplomat who was Hernandez' assistant.

Getting a Bang Out of Life

Sorghum--Wall-to-Wall!

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — (AP) — Somebody dropped the sorghum and thus began the wildest evening in Mrs. Raymond Fisher's life. That was the night she was having a dinner party.

She related her tale of woe Tuesday.

A friend dropped by with a quart of sorghum and fumbled it as it was being put in the refrigerator. The result: Wall-to-wall sorghum.

Then somebody else brushed too close to the kitchen stove—and over went a big roaster pan almost brimful of giblet gravy.

Have you ever had a kitchen with wall-to-wall sorghum topped with giblet gravy?

Somehow or other Mrs. Fisher got her 10 guests fed, then stumbled wearily off to bed. Four hours later she wakened with a touch of dyspepsia and reached in the dark for a piece of indigestion-cure chewing gum.

She got something, put it in her mouth and bit down. Boom!

It wasn't gum at all, but a tiny torpedo firecracker, the kind kids fling on the sidewalk.

Premier Sets Sight On 1970

Original Doctrine Of War Reversed

Warning to West, 7A

MOSCOW — (UPI) — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev Tuesday launched a campaign for the economic conquest of the West that is designed to put Russia ahead of the U.S. by 1970.

He proclaimed the Communist doctrine that neither hot nor cold war is inevitable against capitalism in his message to the opening of the 21st Soviet Communist Party Congress. He stressed that while Russia wants peaceful competition, it is keeping itself well armed with missiles.

He spoke for six hours and five minutes on everything from Germany and Berlin to giving Russians the shortest working week in the world and each family an apartment. His every point drew loud applause.

He disclosed that military strength will not be sacrificed.

"Massive serial production of intercontinental missiles is under way," he said.

The premier did not elaborate. But he warned that Russia, with its cosmic rocket and satellites, has missiles to hit any point on earth.

He stressed, however, that "we want competition to take place . . . not . . . in the production of atomic and hydrogen weapons but in the production of industrial goods, meat, butter . . ."

The U.S. will be "outstripped" by 1970 in the new "realistic" Russian plan, he said.

Khrushchev visualized stepped up Russian production under the 1959-1965 seven-year plan; then, within the next five years, or by 1970, the time will have come when Russia has "the decisive edge" in the world.

He called for an 8.6 per cent annual increase in Soviet production and said America's annual increase was only two per cent.

"When fulfilled, the seven-year plan will so greatly increase the economic potential of the U.S.S.R. that it will, together with the growth of the economic potential of all the Socialist countries, give peace a decisive edge," he said.

He admitted that the U.S. industrial production per capita now is double Russia's and that American agricultural production is 40 per cent ahead.

But in the last eight years, in such fields as steel, oil, coal, cement and wool, the rate of increase of Soviet production surpassed the American rate, he said.

Khrushchev called for a 1965 production target of 65 million to 70 million tons of pig iron, 86 million to 91 million tons of steel, and 65 million to 70 million tons of rolled stock. Other metal production must be increased "several times over." Oil production should double to 230 million to 240 million tons. Electric power stations must double capacity.

The national income is to rise as much as 65 per cent, he said.

"This new balance of forces will be so patently evident that even the most diehard imperialists will clearly see the futility of any attempt to start a war against the Socialist camp."

Khrushchev's thesis, hammered at again and again, appeared to be that with the nuclear stalemate in the world, economic power will be the key to eventual Communist triumph —a reversal of the original doctrine that war is inevitable between socialism and capitalism.

Nixon: Labor Knows How to Handle Reds

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Tuesday night that American businessmen who lionized Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan could learn a lesson from labor leaders on how to deal with Communists.

Nixon called Mikoyan "the equal of any leader I have met" and said that his recent visit here — taken as a whole —was "in the best interests of the U.S. and the free world."

But he added in an address to the Fordham College Alumni Association that the Soviet official brought "no new approach" on major East-West issues. The visit, he said, resulted in no change in the U.S. or Soviet positions.

Nixon said he did not agree with those who criticized American businessmen and bankers for entertaining Mikoyan.

"But I would respectfully suggest," he added, "that some of them in this instance could learn a lesson from our labor leaders who had to fight their unions and in the process learned how to deal with them.

"They know that a soft and naive approach does not produce results. The Communists respect those who oppose them on principle. They have nothing but contempt for those who are dupes and who can be deceived by what they know are obvious untruths."

The vice president also warned that no more disastrous mistake could be made than to slash this country's foreign economic, propaganda and political programs in the name of economy.

Nixon said he could testify that Mikoyan returned to Russia with completely different views if he expected to find this country divided in its opposition to communism, its workers "seething with discontent" or its economy in trouble.

He said Mikoyan was "noticeably impressed by the economic progress the U.S. had made in the 22 years since his last visit here and by the obvious strength of our economy today."

In a further tribute to the anti-Communist stand of American labor, Nixon added that Mikoyan did not find any encouraging signs of progress in the U.S. toward fulfillment of the Marxist prediction of an inevitable class struggle.

"On the contrary," he admitted with almost grudging admiration that the strongest defenders of the American system, the most vigorous critics of communism, and the most uncompromising supporters of our firm stand in Berlin were not the traditional whipping boys of Communist propaganda, the Wall Street bankers and businessmen, but the leaders of our free trade unions who represented the views of millions of America's wage earners."

Nixon said Mikoyan displayed mental ability and shrewdness but that even more impressive were his "steel-like toughness of character and an almost arrogant faith that his cause was right and that it would inevitably prevail."

He said he showed "no flabbiness, no softness, none of the uncertainty of the pragmagist seeking a philosophy." In short, he said, the American people were reminded in Mikoyan of "the massiveness and of the seriousness of the challenge we face in the world today."

The vice president admitted that he had been deeply concerned at "the naive attitude and the lack of understanding of communism displayed by some Americans" who represented this country in government and out overseas.

He said too few Americans saw the total picture of the anti-Communist struggle when they attacked technical aid, developmental loans, exchange and information programs.

Ike's Labor Message Due Today

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Eisenhower will send his labor message to Congress today. Sparks are expected to fly.

Eisenhower helped set up a fight by scorning a rival bill, introduced a week ago by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D., Mass), as a halfway measure.

That presidential description was relayed to newsmen by Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, House Republican leader who was among a group that conferred for 2½ hours with Eisenhower at the White House Tuesday.

The Kennedy bill may be a little better than nothing, Halleck said on his own account. But not much, he added slightingly.

Kennedy, a likely contender for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960, got his bill in well ahead of both the administration's and one planned by Chairman John L. McClellan (D., Ark.) of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

All three aim, or are expected to aim, in the same general direction but with different approaches: To eliminate as much as possible of the corruption and racketeering that have been shown to exist in some labor-management relations. The Teamster Union headed by James R. Hoffa is a common target.

It was reported at the Labor Department last week that Secretary James P. Mitchell regards the Kennedy bill with a good deal of favor—as far as it goes.

However, Mitchell is said to feel that there should be a stronger ban on blackmail picketing and that union officials should be held more accountable to members for handling union funds.

Halleck said the administration bill is intended to deal with a situation that has created a "stench in the nostrils of everybody."

Kennedy has spoken of his measure as an effective reform bill which would "virtually put Mr. Hoffa and his associates out of business."

The Kennedy bill would require public financial accounting by unions, fix criminal penalties for mishandling of union funds or books, make it illegal for union funds to be paid to hoodlums, ban shakedowns and require democratic union elections.

Mrs. Hernandez Loses Airline Job

Fired by Castro, She Says

A 10-year employe of Cuba's "Q" Airlines said Tuesday she was fired by Fidel Castro "because I am married to the brother of the former Cuban counsul."

Mrs. Elena Bejar Hernandez, a U.S. citizen, and her husband of nine months, former Cuban Army Major Efrain Hernandez, said the orders for her dismissal "came right from the top—from Castro himself."

Ex-Maj. Hernandez's brother is former Cuban consul Eduardo Hernandez who fled Miami with his wife on Dec. 31, the day before Castro's revolutionary forces took control of the government.

Efrain Hernandez, who said he was serving in Miami as an army attache to the consulate here, turned over the keys to his office Monday to the new Cuban consul, Antonio Medina.

"Since March 15, 1949, I have served 'Q' Airlines in Miami," Mrs. Hernandez said, "and all of the officials here said they were sorry they had to give me 24-hour notice, but those were their orders."

Roberto Chomat, special representative for the airlines here, was not available for comment Tuesday afternoon.

Efrain Hernandez said another of his brothers, Humberto, who had been with the airlines "since they put the first seat in the first plane," also was dismissed from his job at Havana.

"Castro has decided to clear all the Hernandez family from any connection whatsover with Cuba," the ex-major said. "Myself, I expected it, but it is sad to realize they are extending the purge to U.S. citizens who may be members of our family."

Hernandez, often the target of rebel Cuban groups in Miami for his alleged espionage activities for Batista, said both he and his wife "are looking for jobs."

Mrs. Hernandez was given two weeks pay with her dismissal from the airline, which serves several points in Cuba from West Palm Beach and Key West.

Rain's Out For Today

Sudden hard rains caught weathermen and beach-goers with their umbrellas down Tuesday — but it's not supposed to happen again today.

Mostly sunny weather with temperatures near 80 was forecast for today, and only a chance of showers.

"It won't be anything like Tuesday," said Forecaster Gil Clark.

He blamed the afternoon showers Tuesday on a cold trough in the upper air that didn't change ground temperatures but plastered Greater Miami with nearly an inch of rain.

'Ballet' Girl Scandals Rock Paris

PARIS —(UPI)— The "Affair of the Rose Ballets" added stories of alleged sex orgies involving at least one prominent French politician and teenage girls Tuesday to a wave of scandals which have suddenly beset the young Fifth French Republic.

Paris circles already were buzzing over a sensational legal battle that has entangled one of France's wealthiest families in sordid charges of bribery, blackmail, procuring and attempted murder.

A blonde 23-year-old call girl was the key figure in what is known as "L'Affaire Lacaze."

The "Affair of the Rose Ballets" leaped into prominence when a Paris judge summoned former Police Officer Pierre Sorlut for questioning about his alleged role in organizing parties of young girls for prominent French personalities, including at least one high-ranking politician, not otherwise identified.

Sorlut was arrested and jailed recently on the basis of stories told police by several girls who said Sorlut arranged indecent "rose ballets" in villas in the outskirts of Paris.

The girls were said to have been lured into the "ballets" with promises they would meet important men who would help them to careers as actresses and models.

What exactly took place at the "Rose Ballets" was not disclosed. But some Paris newspapers said part of the routine was for the girls to perform "suggestive dances" in front of "personalities who wanted to meet young girls."

"L'Affaire Lacaze" involved Jean Lacaze, 57, wealthy director of the Zellidja lead and zinc mine in Morocco, and his adopted nephew, Jean-Pierre Guillaume, 25.

Guillaume was adopted by Lacaze's sister, Mme. Jean Walter, widow of the founder of the mines and a wealthy woman.

Lacaze was alleged to have attempted to have Guillaume murdered and tried to frame him on a charge of procuring in order to cheat him out of his heritage.

According to Guillaume, Lacaze promised $30,375 to self-admitted call girl Marie-Therese Godeneche if she would get Guillaume arrested on charges of procuring.

Lacaze and one of his attorneys were arrested last week and charged with bribing a witness.

Holdup Man Held As Killer Suspect

Metro detectives Tuesday began checking the possibility that an 18-year-old Minnesota youth who told police of a whirlwind robbery spree may also be a killer.

Public Safety Director Thomas J. Kelly said a .32 caliber pistol dropped Monday by Herbert Leland Richard of Austin, Minn., alias Michael David Leahey, was the same type that fired a fatal bullet into the head of Ojus bar owner Vernon Brubaker Saturday night.

Miami police said Richard told them of four robberies, two of them at gunpoint, and two car thefts in Minnesota that netted him some $3,000 in cash. He said he lived like a king in Jacksonville and Miami Beach before being caught in a Miami supermarket holdup Monday.

Homestead Jail Practices Hit

The Dade County Grand Jury in an interim report Tuesday criticized "lax practices" in the Homestead city jail and recommended reorganization of the Homestead Police Department.

The report said the jury's recommendation followed an "extensive investigation" of conditions in the jail, including the escape of a Negro prisoner who wounded an officer before he was finally shot down and killed.

Byroade Backed for Afghan Post

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Henry A. Byroade won Senate Foreign Relations Committee approval Tuesday to be ambassador to Afghanistan. First, however, he was questioned about complaints over his contacts with an American Negro at his former post in the Union of South Africa where the government maintains a color barrier.

The ambassador, just back from South Africa Monday night, was asked about a party given there in his honor to which an American Negro was invited. Sen. Frank Church (D., Idaho) noted reports that an official of the South African government had protested.

Byroade said that was correct, but it wasn't the first time an American Negro citizen had been invited, although the embassy has been accused of maintaining a color barrier.

The ambassador said he attempted to explain to the South African official the difference between the U. S. citizen and African natives, because "their laws are very strict."

"I think the embassy is making the best compromise that it can," he said.

cratic, may regret his recent move to grant amnesty to 10 political exiles. Being nice to your enemies is looked upon by some here as a weakness.

Louis DeJoie, wealthy mulatto planter who lost to Duvalier in the 1957 election and fled to New York, boasts from exile that his political foe "won't last another six months."

There is a lot of speculation as to the nature of a recent border conference between Duvalier and Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo of over-the-mountains Dominican Republic.

Duvalier says it was to patch up differences that have strained relations between the countries for years, to sign a non-aggression pact and to launch a joint battle against communism on the island.

Despite its poverty, Haiti has resisted the heavy hand of the Communists.

Dr. Duvalier estimates there are 2,000 known Communists in Haiti. He is proud that he was able to reject overtures made to him by Soviet Russia right after his election.

"I'd much prefer to deal with the United States," he said.

Haiti At a Glance

HAITI

HAITI is one of the world's three Negro republics, located 640 miles southeast of Miami.

SIZE approximates Maryland in area. Occupies one-third the Caribbean island of Hispaniola which it shares with the Dominican Republic.

POPULATION estimated at 3,500,000 French-speaking natives. The religion is Catholic but Voodoo is practiced.

GOVERNMENT is run by a president and two elected houses.

POLITICS are frequently turbulent. Twice since taking office in 1957 President Duvalier has shaken up the Army's general staff to counter reported revolutionary plots. Haiti is strongly anti-Communist.

ECONOMY hinges on tourism.

Dania Sea Scout Gets Top Heroism Award

By CHARLES TAYLOR
Herald Staff Writer

Leaping into the boiling surf for the third time, a life-line in tow, Eddie DuMuzzio was starting to think that if anybody was going to drown that Easter Sunday, it would be him.

He had hauled two young girls to shore at stormy Dania Beach on his first trip, and two men on the second. Now he was going after the fifth and last person — the one he was afraid of because the man was panicky.

That was on April 21, 1957, and Eddie, 15 then, made it back with the rescued man, even though the anxious people on shore pulled so hard on the life-line they dragged Eddie underwater most of the way.

Tuesday night, Sea Scout Eddie, South Broward High football star and son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles DuMuzzio, 30 SW Seventh St., Dania, was given the Boy Scouts of America top hero award — the Gold Honor Medal.

Another young hero, David Lehman, 11, son of Dr. and Mrs. David J. Lehman, 2618 Wiley St., Hollywood, was awarded the Certificate of Merit at a meeting of the South Florida Council of Scouts.

Last April 25, David was fishing with friends in a canal when a six-year-old boy slipped into the 20-foot water. David reached once and missed, then reached again and hauled the blubbering younger boy to safety.

'Off' Season Needs Boost

Too many people up north think we're having another chilly winter and we'd jolly well better start doing something about it.

That's today's subject, suggested by a businessman who points out what a lot of people have been reluctant to admit: "The tourists are not exactly overwhelming us."

The indicators bear him out. The most recent surveys indicate that business at this point is about even with or a bit ahead of last year—but last year was a rough one, the like of which we do not care to have. How do we stand with 1957 and 1956? That's the true question, and the answer is not encouraging.

We need a good, fat, 1957-type season this year to make up for the losses of last winter.

* * *

'Weather's Fine; Come on Down'

ONE REASON THE TOURISTS are not overwhelming us, the man says, is that we had a few days of chill weather, the television weather reporters fell into the habit of saying, "It's cold in Florida again today," ("cold" meaning it got down into the 50's) and now we're in a bit of trouble.

It calls for an effort — a strong, combined effort — to convince the north that the weather's good. As this fellow suggests: "Everyone who writes a letter or makes a long-distance phone call should make a point of saying, 'The weather's good—come on down.'" But we should be doing more than that. South Florida should be on network TV with its own weather reports, and sending teams of drum-beaters out to metropolitan centers everywhere right now to carry the gospel.

Otherwise the end of March will be upon us and we'll wonder what happened.

Cruiser's Sendoff Colorful

AN AGENT WHO WAS DOWN at the port Tuesday morning has filed this report on the departure of the cruiser Newport News:

"Only a handful of people showed up. It was really a wonderful show. Entire crew lined up on deck, detachment of Marines in dress blues, white gloves, with colors, master sergeant carrying sword. As lines were cast off, ship's band played jazzed-up versions of 'Red River Valley,' 'Frankie and Johnny,' and others. Director leaned over side to watch for last line to be freed, then led band in 'Anchors Aweigh.'

"The 100 or so people who stood around on dock were quite moved by music, spectacle. Santa Rosa had docked earlier just behind Newport News. Passengers enjoyed sight. As people on dock left they could still hear band playing with the big ship out in the middle of turning basin."

Don't you wish you'd gotten up to see it?

Yule Card Total Hit 20,000

TOTALING UP THEIR WORK on the Christmas-cards-for-missionaries operation, Mr. and Mrs. George Flach found that they have sent about 20,000 cards to 14 places. The cards were supplied, of course, by many people.

To clear up some confusion as to the postage rates, they say the average shoeboxfull costs about 40 cents and the most they have paid is 66 cents. It's absolutely necessary, however, to place on the box the words, "Used Cards, Printed, No Value." Otherwise it goes first class mail, costs much more and involves filling out customs documents.

Meeting Set on Growth

New Procedure On Annexation

By PAT MANGAN
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — City officials will meet Monday or Tuesday with the county legislative delegation to discuss means of annexing lands west of the city.

The city is primarily interested in discussing the possibility of annexation by legislative act followed by a referendum in the area to be annexed. The result of the vote would determine whether the annexation act would become effective.

Assistant City Attorney Robert O'Toole pointed out that the election could be held early enough to allow communities in the annexation area to incorporate if residents voted down annexation.

A preliminary vote with the city could be scheduled April 14 to determine whether voters want to annex the area before the legislative act is submitted.

Meanwhile, Ray Marvin, representing Broward Estates Civic Association, asked the city to consider annexing the area represented by the association. It adjoins the area already under consideration to the north.

His request was favorably received by commissioners who pointed out that taxes received from a large shopping center under construction in the section would make it self-supporting.

Commissioners looked less favorably on a request by Personnel Director Robert Earle to give all city employes under civil service a five per cent across the board raise.

Mayor John V. Russell called the request "embarrassing" three months before an election "though politics shouldn't be concerned with it."

A decision was deferred.

In other business the commission examined plans for a two-lane bridge over the Himmarshee Canal at SE Second Ct. and approved preparation of a perspective drawing for use in a public hearing before opponents and proponents of the bridge.

Resistance Is Worth $25,900

By PAT MANGAN
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — Miss Helen Moore was afraid she was fighting a losing battle with the city when she resisted an $8,000 offer for her SE Third Ave. property.

"They'll take it, we're just little people," she said.

Tuesday, city commissioners paid her $33,900 for the property.

Miss Moore's family home was at 514 SE Third Ave. The city needed her front yard and portions of her porch and dining room for approaches to the Third Ave. bridge.

The property needed was appraised at $4,000, though the taking of it made it impossible to live in what was left of the house. The city offered $8,000.

Miss Moore said it wasn't right and prepared to take her case before a jury.

The city changed its mind.

Tuesday, Commissioner Robert Childers, who serves on the right of way committee, explained that the committee decided to buy all of Miss Moore's property, a total of 13,000 square feet.

He said the committee felt the difference in price was no more than it would cost to take the case before a jury. He said the city has a use for the property, but did not elaborate.

The land in question is close to the courthouse where parking space is at a premium.

Detroit Suspect Surrenders

DETROIT — (UPI) — A credit union manager who was honored for "faithful service" when he retired last August, surrendered to police Tuesday to face charges of embezzling funds from the credit union.

Allan S. Fowler, 69, who moved to Fort Lauderdale after retiring from the Telephone Employes Credit Union, gave himself up to Detroit police after flying here from Florida.

Mom Says Jeers End Schooling

MIRAMAR — A mother of Jewish faith charged Tuesday "taunts and discrimination" against her two daughters had forced her to withdraw them from a public school.

The women said she complained to school officials three weeks ago, but the situation had grown worse. She said she asked Mrs. Grace Norton, dean of girls at McArthur High School, to officially withdraw her daughters, 12 and 14, Tuesday.

Mrs. Norton could not be reached for comment.

School officials said the difficulty appeared to be a community problem, and was being turned over to Arthur Wolfe, deputy superintendent of instruction, for investigation.

"My children have been subjected to cruel taunts in school and in this community. I plan to transfer them to another school, or send them North if nothing can be done to stop it," the mother said.

She asked her name be withheld because she "feared reprisal."

Mrs. Mary Smith, coordinator of visiting teachers, has the case report. She would not reveal its contents, other than commenting:

"As far as we can determine, it is basically a community, not a school, problem."

She said she would turn the report over to Wolfe today.

Limousine Firm Still at Old Stand

Greyhound Blasted by Union Boss

By ERWIN POTTS AND PETER LAINE
Herald Staff Writers

FORT LAUDEREALE — Greyhound Limousine Service was blasted by a Miami union boss Tuesday, but continued operating out of Broward International Airport under a temporary reprieve granted by the County Commission.

FRAZIER

Greyhound service from Miami International Airport to points in Broward County continued as usual.

W. O. Frazier, the union boss, rapped Greyhound and Red Top Cab of Miami for "collusion and a sneak attack" against 33 union members he said lost their jobs over the weekend.

The shuffle came about last week when Greyhound sold its limousine operation at the airport to non-union Red Top. That apparently cost Greyhound men their jobs.

Then Red Top pulled out of the deal Monday when a Miami circuit judge ordered it to honor Greyhound's union contract.

The County Commission followed this by canceling Greyhound's airport franchise, but granted it a two-week authorization to continue service so the airport wouldn't be without limousines while the commission considered applications from other companies to operate the franchise.

Garfield Richardson, local manager of Greyhound, said he wasn't resuming operations with intentions of staying in business only two weeks. He indicated he would attempt to regain the franchise permanently.

Richardson said he was notified by a commissioner by phone Tuesday that his contract was canceled because his company had failed to provide the county with the service it promised.

"We didn't fail to give them the service," he said. "They failed to take the service we did give them. We sold to Red Top and they wouldn't approve the sale."

Richardson said the sale to Red Top was now definitely off and Greyhound's assets are back as they were before the negotiations.

At Tuesday's commission meeting, Airport Director Lee Wagener told the commission both cabs and limousines are needed at the terminal. The cabs would operate in addition to the limousine franchise.

Union Boss Frazier, who is president of the 900-member Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric, Railway and Motor Coach Employes of America, Division 1267, said he will ask the Dade County Port Authority to cancel Greyhound's contract there and "give it to a legitimate operator."

He did not appear at the Dade Port Board's regular meeting Tuesday.

Pompano Science Students Ready SRO Sign for Fair

By CLARENCE ZAITZ
North Broward Bureau

POMPANO BEACH—Could you have devised a way to calculate the mathematical length of a molecule which can't even be seen by a microscope?

Well, a seventh grade girl at Pompano Beach Junior High School has.

And her's will be one of 125 different student-designed projects on display Feb. 5 and 6 in the second annual Science Fair at the Elks Hall, 2300 NE 10th St.

The county-level fairs were discontinued this year. But interest in the event ran so high among PTA members, they urged the school's science department to arrange one. James A. Moore, head of the department, agreed.

The students developed their own projects under watchful eyes of six teachers who teach 700 science students at the school.

They have developed their own projects in chemistry, physics, astronomy, rocketry, etc.

The display will be held in conjunction with the PTA meeting Feb. 5, and prizes will be awarded. The following night, from 7-9 p.m., however, they'll hold open house, and the general public is invited.

Moore says interest in the program is so high this year, they had to find the largest exhibition hall in town in order to accommodate the expected crowds.

At the county science fair last year, Palm Beach Junior High students took five of 16 prizes awarded.

Most of the projects are developed without monetary investment; some require a modest investment for materials.

One boy has created a telsa-coil, an electronic device for building high-frequency voltage.

Another has developed the "detectaphone" a super-sensitive microphone and amplifier which can pick up audible voices from a distance of 50-75 feet.

And then there's that seventh-grade girl who dabbles in the mathematical calculations of molecules . . .

Hollywood Takes the Offensive

Dead End Battle Started

By RICK TUTTLE
Herald Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD — City Commissioners Tuesday directed their attorney to begin legal action to settle the controversial beach access issue.

City Attorney August Paoli will file for a declaratory decree in Circuit Court to decide whether the city or property owners own streets in Atlantic Shores subdivision, south of Hollywood Beach Hotel.

Two weeks ago commissioners voted to pave Greenbrier Ter. from State Road A1A to the Boardwalk right-of-way on the beach, a move that was expected to prompt a lawsuit which would settle the question.

However last week they rescinded the paving approval.

"By filing for a declaratory decree the city doesn't have to move in rough-shod and expend public funds on the streets," Paoli said.

He cautioned the board on assuming title to the streets and street ends in the face of a Federal Court order which holds that the beach property owners have legal title.

The commission feels the streets belong to the public and obstructions — such as shuffleboard courts — should not be allowed on street ends, blocking access to the beach.

The Hollywood Board of Realtors and the South Broward Board endorsed the move.

In other action, the board:

APPROVED a legislative bill on annexation of 350 acres between Washington St. and Pembroke Rd. to the south.

PLEDGED to fight any legislation that would change the Broward Port Authority into a county-wide body. They fear consolidation of the port and county commissions.

DECIDED to mark Dixie Hwy. as a four-lane thoroughfare, despite fierce opposition from businessmen and Commissioner William Zinkil who said it would become a "death trap" unless parking was permitted on the west side.

Volunteers Veto County Fire Plan

Herald Bureau

DANIA — Members of the Broward Volunteer Firemen's Assn., fearing they may be put out of business, have turned down a county fire protection proposal that was drawn up by the group's legislative committee.

But the members left the door open for the committee to come up with a revised plan at the next meeting, Feb. 23, John Lassiter, association secretary, said.

Principal objection raised was fear that existing county volunteer units would be absorbed into the proposed organization against their will, Lassiter said.

Readies Vote

MIRAMAR — City officials decided unofficially Tuesday to hold a mayoralty election April 7. Charles Knapp, who handed in his resignation as mayor last week, has said he would reconsider the action if the council asked him to. The election date will not be official until the council adopts it at a regular meeting.

Beth Steel Abandons Its Merger Plans

Bethlehem Steel Corp. and the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. announced they have abandoned plans for a merger and will not appeal a federal district court injunction against it.

The companies said an appeal could not be finally disposed of before 1960.

The government opposed the merger on the ground that it violated the Clayton Act and would lessen competition and create a monopoly.

The companies said they still believe the merger would have stimulated competition and resulted in obvious advantages to steel consumers and the public.

'Czechs Treated Me Like Royalty'

By STAN JOHNSON
Herald Business Writer

A Miami manufacturer who just returned from a buying trip behind the Iron Curtain says it's not difficult to do business with the Communists.

"They treated me like royalty," said Jack Zwerner, president of Perrine Industries, Hialeah jalousie door manufacturer.

Zwerner visited Czechoslovakia where he made arrangements to buy window glass for his business.

He was met at an airport in Prague by a chauffeur-driven limousine and whisked to his hotel.

Later, he concluded a deal with the director of the government owned glass industry to buy 1.5 million dollars worth of jalousies over a 12-month period.

"They knew all about jalousies," said Zwerner. "I didn't have to explain anything to them."

He said the Czech glass can be delivered in Florida for about five per cent less than the glass he formerly bought in Western European countries.

Zwerner doesn't expect to encounter any sales resistance to his product in this country because of the switch to a Communist-made glass.

"A contractor is interested in quality and price," he said. "He doesn't care where the glass comes from."

The Daily Investor

'Your System Is Too Hit-or-Miss'

Q. I am a 39-year-old widow and have a monthly pension of $125. I ventured into the stock market for the first time a few months ago and I am a bit nervous.

I bought 15 shares of Kroger (I will have 45 as a result of the three-for-one split), 25 shares of Texas Gulf Sulphur, 100 shares of Chock Full O'Nuts, 1,000 shares of Lisbon Valley Uranium (at three cents a share) and 100 shares of Holly Corp. (at $1.50 a share).

I know the last two are highly speculative. But I decided to take the risk because of the low cost. What do you think of my choice?

A. Some are fair. Some are bad. But your whole system (if it can be called that) of buying stock is terrible. You are going about investing in a hit-or-miss method. You have no more right owning some of those things than you do playing the horses.

A widow on a pension should never buy highly risky stocks, no matter how low their price seems to be. The small profit you might make isn't worth the worry and the distinct possibility that you might lose some of what little money you have.

And those two low-priced things aren't the only ones you should be concerned about. Actually, none of the issues you hold is really suited for you.

Kroger has been a very good performer. It is a high-grade stock, but is more of a growth issue than an income producer. It should appeal to people looking to the future—not to widows in need of current income.

Texas Gulf Sulphur has had its ups and downs in the market. It might be easy to argue that, because the company is the world's largest producer of sulphur and has a strong financial position, its stock has to improve in our expanding economy. That may be true. But it has to live down its past reputation.

Chock Full O'Nuts looks good. However, the stock has been on the market only a short time and will have to prove itself.

A Price on Her Head

George L. Giles
. . . the buyer

Katy
. . . the insured

William H. Cauley
. . . the seller

This kangaroo is blissfully unaware of it, but she's been insured for $350.

In what is described as the Miami area's only individual life insurance policy for a kangaroo, Cauley and Martin insurance agency insured the life of Katy, the traveling mascot of Riddle Airlines.

George L. Giles, Riddle's president, took out the policy.

Katy is really more than a mascot. She's valuable as the central theme of a Riddle sales program and makes public appearances in cities on the airline's routes.

Unheralded Stock Goes Up 967 Pct.

NEW YORK —(UPI)— A spectacular stock market performance in the tradition of E. L. Bruce, Lukens Steel, American Motors and P. Lorillard is being staged by a little-known $2 million a year chemical company headquartered in Elizabeth, N.J.

Stock of Borne Chemical Co. on the American Stock Exchange more than doubled itself last week and touched a high Monday of $80 a share which is 967 per cent above its 1958 low of $7.50.

But it was sold heavily Tuesday when the American Stock Exchange announced a routine investigation into the rise. It lost $27.25 points net and closed at $42.25.

Last week it rose by $32.25 a share to $63.25.

Company officials aren't sure what's responsible. Neither are the brokerage houses.

But there are lots of theories. Among these are a slim supply of stock and a new process for hermetically sealed plastic containers.

In many cases of such rises the ticker is fired by groups trying to buy into the company.

Out of 189,492 outstanding shares only about 40,000 or 50,000 are on the market, with the balance held by management.

In Florida

New High Set in Savings

A record savings increase of $47,123,000 in December brought total savings for the 103 Florida savings and loan associations to $2,054,265,000 at the close of 1958.

According to statistics released by the Florida Savings and Loan League, the record savings increase during December surpassed the previous monthly high of $40,879,500 established in December, 1957, by $6,243,500.

While savings were on the rise in December, total loans closed during the month also set a new monthly record of $51,904,761 which enabled the Florida associations to close out the year with $506,881,000 in loans closed.

This was the first time that the savings and loan lending volume in Florida had passed the half - billion - dollar mark. The record lending year was $54,096,000 above the total for 1957.

During 1958, the savings and loan associations in Florida financed 61,370 dwellings including 23,900 new homes.

CHAMPAGNE POPULAR

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Champagne consumption in the U.S. has made tremendous gains in 1958, an importer says. Alfred Fromm, vice president of Fromm & Sichel Inc., said Americans are not only using champagne instead of cocktails, but are drinking more with their meals.

A Sell-It-Yourself Lot

A do-it-yourself car lot where people can rent space and sell their own flivvers opened Tuesday in Fort Lauderdale.

The promoters, Bruce Meinken and Ray McMackin, say their Car Owners Market Corp. is the first used car lot in the nation which allows the buyer and seller to do business directly, thus eliminating middleman costs and profits.

A flat fee of $9 entitles the car owner to three days, or any part thereof, of "sales exposure" on the COMCO lot at 620 W. Broward Blvd.

After three days, the rate drops to $1.50 a day.

An inquiry card setup enables the buyer and seller to get together privately and set their own price.

Meinken and McMackin will advertise cars on their lots and arrange financing and insurance for buyers, if they need them.

'The County Is Floundering,' He Says

Petersen Makes Plea For Home Rule Here

Herald Bureau

FORT LAUDERDALE — County Commission Chairman George Petersen made a strong plea Tuesday for home rule in face of "the steady encroachment of state and federal government."

His request for local authority will be considered Friday when the commission discusses the bills it will recommend to the State Legislature.

"Today our county government is merely an arm of the state," Petersen declared.

"The county is floundering in its efforts to supply services and protection . . . even when citizens are begging for them and willing to pay the bill," he said.

"State boards are too far removed from local matters," Petersen added.

Home rule would enable the county to establish long-range planning and development programs, he said.

Firefighters Real Handy

Sparks from Jail Scorch City Attorney's Own Drapes

Fire broke out in FORT LAUDERDALE City Hall Tuesday and Assistant City Attorney Robert O'Toole lost his drapes.

"They were mine, too," he moaned, "not the city's."

The drapes apparently were ignited by a cutting torch being used to cut jail bars from the wall between O'Toole's office and the old city jail.

Three city firemen armed with an extinguisher came from the neighboring central fire station to stifle the blaze.

Architects

The County Commission will hold interviews Feb. 6 with architects interested in designing the three-million-dollar addition to the courthouse. Appointments are now being made by the commission secretary. Site plans can be obtained from the county engineer's office.

* * *

Settle Feud

County Commissioner John Bell asked County Attorney John Lloyd Tuesday to try to iron out differences between the dog pound and the Humane Society.

Bell suggested that the pound pick up sick animals, and that the society deal with injured animals. One unit should do both when the other is off duty, he said.

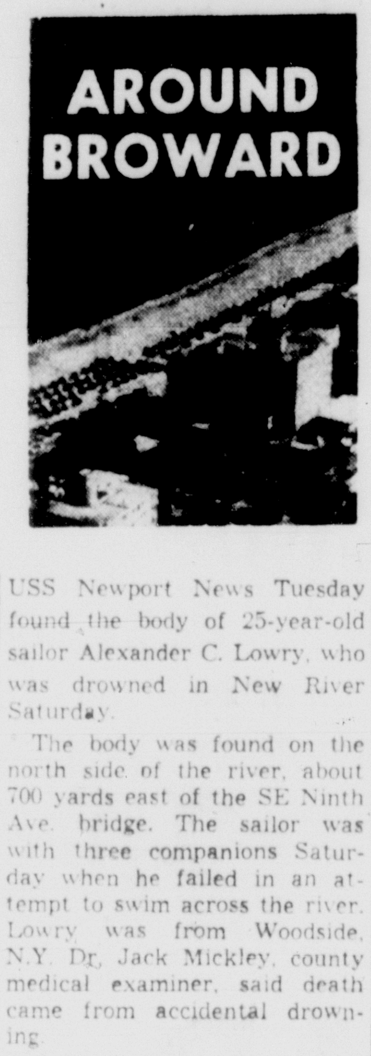
Body Recovered



A detail from the cruiser USS Newport News Tuesday found the body of 25-year-old sailor Alexander C. Lowry, who was drowned in New River Saturday.

The body was found on the north side of the river, about 700 yards east of the SE Ninth Ave. bridge. The sailor was with three companions Saturday when he failed in an attempt to swim across the river. Lowry was from Woodside, N.Y. Dr. Jack Mickley, county medical examiner, said death came from accidental drowning.

Annexation

Annexation of a 116-lot subdivision south of Pompano Canal hinges on POMPANO BEACH'S agreement to pay half the cost of a bridge on SE 11th St. It would be the only span in a 22-block stretch between SE 1st Ave. and Federal Hwy.

Developer James Levit has proposed to pay half the cost of a low-level bridge ($25,000). But nearby developers William and Joseph Pelski say the value of their waterfront property would be impaired. The low bridge would allow only a four-foot clearance at mean low tide.

They say the bridge should be comparable with the one on Federal Hwy., with a seven-foot clearance. City Manager James Hughes said such a bridge might cost $40,000.

The Pelskis agreed to share in the cost if other property owners go along. They're to feel out public reaction to the plan, while the commission withholds formal action on Levit's proposal.

* * *

Duplex Decision

The POMPANO BEACH Commission Tuesday decided that some 25 duplex owners caught in violation of zoning by using their buildings as triplexes, must correct the violation by May 1.

The property owners had asked a change in zoning to allow present use of the buildings. But the commission upheld the Zoning Board in denying the request because "we don't want to jeopardize the zoning ordinances by condoning a violation."

They set the May 1 compliance deadline to allow owners to fulfill present lease commitments.

Broward Deaths

Charles J. Grimsley

FORT LAUDERDALE — Charles J. Grimsley, 62, a retired produce broker, died Tuesday. Mr. Grimsley came here one year ago from Griffin, Ga., and lived at 1502 NW Fourth Ave. Survivors include his wife, Mae, and a daughter, Mrs. Donald O'Laughlin, Fort Lauderdale. TORCH BURNING attempt on her two children landed Mrs. Juanita Hamil, 21, in county jail at Bartow, on a charge of attempted murder. Her husband, Grover, arrived over the weekend and said he would help his wife. Police said neighbors rescued Sharon Kay, 4, and Olin Vivian, 3, from Mrs. Hamil's locked and burning bathroom.

It's Curtain Time Again In-Sewer Line Drama

By CLARENCE ZAITZ
North Broward Bureau

POMPANO BEACH — There's a drama that's been going on in this area for much over a year, and about the briefest description you can use is that it concerns the smelly problem of a sewer plant.

Now another performance is slated. At 9 a.m. today in the City Commission chambers here.

The production? The weary old question of whether a land-locked sewerage disposal plant will be allowed to run an effluent outfall line to the Intracoastal Waterway.

The principals?

Well, on the one side you have county and state health officials and Broward Utilities, Inc., which operates the plant in Cresthaven.

On the other side of the stage you find a delegation of aroused residents from the north part of Pompano and Lighthouse Point.

And in the middle — well, that varies. It used to be the Lighthouse Point Commission. This week it's the Pompano Commission.

When the plant opened for business back in about 1955, it used an open outfall ditch across what is now Lighthouse Point, and into the waterway.

So the effluent started backing up in the roadside ditches along Federal Hwy.

BUI wants to run an underground line down NE 24th St. (Pompano Lighthouse boundary) and cross over a small corner of Pompano, into the waterway.

But because the line would cross a portion of Pompano, the City Commission has set a public hearing on the matter, to ascertain whether the permit should be granted.

146 Pass State Boards in 3 Fields

By the Associated Press

Names of those who have successfully passed examinations for registration as professional engineer, architect and land surveyor were announced Tuesday by state boards.

The State Board of Engineer Examiners announced 62 were registered as professional engineers and 48 as land surveyors. The State Board of Architecture said 36 had passed tests and were registered as architects.

Those receiving registration, and their fields, included:

Architects

Franklin W. Tye, Sanford; William B. Holmes, Clearwater; Robert L. Miller, St. Petersburg; Autha W. Forehand, Tallahassee; Arthur C. McCree, Orlando; Frank S. Roberts, Inman H. Leff, James O. Kemp and Dan P. Branch, all of Jacksonville.

UF Votes to Extend Goal Drive

Herald Bureau

FORT LAUDERDALE — United Fund officials voted Tuesday to continue their current fund campaign until their $497,000 quota is reached.

Ward Jett, UF director, said the decision was unanimous among representatives from the county's 18 local agencies.

"We've raised more money this year than we ever have, but it's still not enough," Jett explained.

He said current contributions, $427,000, are eight per cent higher than the total raised last year.

"But we're still $70,000 short of our goal," Jett continued.

He said agency representatives present at a special meeting Tuesday voted to continue the drive rather than stop now and have their individual budgets cut.

Referring to the county's growth, Jett pointed out that this year's overall budget is 20 per cent greater than it was in 1958.

Jett praised campaign workers and donors, but said numerous persons who gave in former years haven't been contacted in the current drive.

"It's extremely important that we achieve our goal," he added.

Khrushchev Accuses Nasser

World News

MOSCOW — (AP) — Premier Khrushchev Tuesday accused Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic of making spurious attacks on Communists.

He told the 21st Soviet Party Congress that Communists and Arab nationalists should be united in fighting imperialism.

"We cannot remain silent in the face of the campaign conducted in some countries against progressives under the spurious guise of anti-communism," Khrushchev said.

Since there recently have been statements against the ideas of communism in the United Arab Republic and accusations were leveled at Communists I, as a Communist, think it is necessary to declare at this congress of our Communist Party that it is wrong to accuse Communists of helping to undermine and divide the national effort in the struggle against imperialism.

"Quite the contrary. There are no people more resolute and loyal to the struggle against colonialists than the Communists."

In a speech Dec. 23, Nasser classed Communists with imperialists and Zionists as agents of disunity in the Arab world. He started a roundup of Communists leaders in Egypt and Syria and arrested several hundred of them.

Japan Rejects Neutrality

TOKYO — (AP) — Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi firmly rejected neutrality as a foreign policy for Japan but urged renewed trade with Communist China.

In a policy address before the new session of Parliament he endorsed Japan's close defense and diplomatic ties with America. The premier warned that neutrality would lead Japan into the Communist camp.

Newsman Flees North Korea

PANMUNJOM —(UPI)— A North Korean reporter for the Soviet newspaper Pravda defected to the West Tuesday, leaving his wife and infant daughter to what he said was certain execution by the Communists.

"I am saved," said Lee Dong Joon, 30, as he evaded two Communist guards and sneaked into the backdoor of a U.N. Command hut.

A meeting of the Joint U.N.-Communist Korean military armistice commission was going on in the next hut as Lee defected.

Lee said that he feared he was going to be executed by the Reds because of his family background.

Communists executed his father and one brother during the Korean war and arrested his mother as a "reactionary" just one month ago. He, himself, had been interrogated by the North Korean Communist Party over the last two months, he said.

Employes Want Casinos Opened

HAVANA, Cuba — (AP) — A committee representing the employes of gambling casinos is urging the government to authorize the immediate opening of these establishments. The casinos have been closed since the revolution succeeded New Year's Day.

The committee says 2,000 persons are out of work as a result and are in financial distress.

President Manuel Urrutia has announced the question is being studied.

Fidel Castro, the rebel military chieftain, has suggested that the casinos be allowed to operate, but with Cubans barred, and with the government getting 70 per cent of the income for social welfare institutions and for promoting tourist business.

He's Using A Plane

MINNEAPOLIS — (AP) — With his auto driver's license suspended, William G. Hopp is communting by plane to the Minneapolis workhouse to serve a 30-day sentence under the Huber law, which permits him daytime freedom.

Hopp works near his home in suburban Robbinsdale, takes a cab to a nearby airport each evening. There he climbs into his 65-horsepower plane and, in four minutes, lands on the ice of Parkers Lake, on whose shore the bastille is located. Mornings, he reverses the route.

"It's OK with us," said Rolf Stageberg, workhouse superintendent. "Appears to be perfectly legal." And the traffic court has no jurisdiction over Hopp's flying license.

He drew the term Jan. 13 for driving after his license was supended.

His 'Prescription' Makes Sense

Doctor-President May 'Cure' Haiti

Dr. Francois Duvalier, Haiti's president, has outlined the progress of his five-year plan for development of his poverty-stricken country to Miami Herald Managing Editor George Beebe. This is the first of several articles.

By GEORGE BEEBE
Herald Managing Editor

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti—A couple of recent economic transfusions are improving Haiti's chances of recovery — but the patient is still on the critical list.

It is going to take all of the skill of Dr. Francois Duvalier to rectify the bungling of a long line of political medicos who preceded him in the presidency of this vibrant but bankrupt Negro republic.

In the 15 months since the good doctor took over the miserably happy country, he's come up with a formula that seems to make sense to most of his 3,500,000 constituents.

Haiti has had 130 revolutions in 155 years of independence.

People are sick of revolt. They seem to like Dr. Duvalier's soft touch on the pulse.

The man who studied for two years at the University of Michigan, still has envious foes plotting his downfall. But their chances lessen as his program solidifies.

Dr. Duvalier
. . . five-year plan

Duvalier had the misfortune of gaining the presidency when a sagging world coffee market knocked the props completely out from an already shaky economy.

This makes his task doubly difficult.

Undismayed, the graying, distinguished looking 51-year-old Dr. Duvalier has launched an ambitious five-year recovery program that looks like this:

INAUGURATED a slum clearance project—in one of the world's worst slums.

SIGNED contracts for a score of job-producing industries.

CALLED in United States experts to analyze his budgetary and military problems.

APPOINTED a $1-a-year tourist commission to beat the drums for more free-spending Americans.

TURNED attention to furthering secondary education to produce better civic and political leadership.

LAUNCHED the $6,500,000 Artibonite Valley irrigation and drainage program that will open up farm lands and resettlement areas.

Dr. Duvalier made two significant announcements in recent days.

He set Friday as expiration date of dictatorial powers he decreed for himself six months ago. This will ease the fear of his people that he had dictatorial ambitions.

He has hired a U.S. military mission to reorganize the 5,000-man army and take it out of politics.

In the past, presidential aspirants who could sway military leaders to their side, had the key to overthrowing the government. The plums for being a military officer were great.

"All this must change for the good of our country," said the president.

Haiti now spends nearly one-fourth of its $30,000,000 budget on its army. President Duvalier is quick to explain this major expense item by pointing out that the soldiers also serve as the island's police force.

Smathers Calls for Unity

Western Hemisphere Association Proposed

From Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Creation of a Pan American Parliamentary Association to seek removal of trade and travel barriers in the Western Hemisphere was proposed Tuesday by Sen. George Smathers.

The association would be set up in accordance with a resolution introduced in the Senate by Smathers.

The Florida Democrat told the Senate the association would "aid immeasureably in breaking down artificial barriers which prevent a maximum degree of unity, cooperation and understanding."

He proposed that the association be made up of legislators from the 21 American republics.

Smathers said the State Department and many of the Latin American nations favor the proposal as a means "by which the strained relations existing today — created solely by unfounded distrust — can be eradicated."

"The Communists in launching their Latin American economic offensive wasted no time in seizing upon this unfortunate and needless situation," Smathers said.

Cold War Still On --Dulles

High Level Talks On Germany OKd

Nixon's Views, 2A

WASHINGTON —(P)— Secretary of State John Foster Dulles gave the nod Tuesday to a foreign ministers conference on Germany this spring. At the same time, he firmly rejected any idea that Russia is trying to thaw the cold war.

Dulles told newsmen: "I have seen nothing so far which leads me to feel that there is a genuine (Soviet) desire to end the cold war. There is a very strong desire to delude us into thinking the cold war is ended.

"There are a series of proposals made ostensibly to help end the cold war which would, in fact, play greatly into the hands of the prosecutors of the cold war."

This attitude led reporters to ask what possible good could then be expected from any foreign ministers meeting this spring.

Dulles replied that the West simply has to keep trying. Sometimes, if you are tough enough and patient, agreements fair to all can be reached, he said.

Dulles said the Korean armistice, the Austrian peace treaty and last January's U.S.-Soviet exchange agreement were all examples of results from this kind of tenacity.

Dulles said it seems to him that Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan got the wrong idea about America's unity during his U.S. visit this month.

The trouble was, Dulles said, Mikoyan's talks with government officials got down to brass tacks—"concrete cases, concrete — proposals" — while his talks with businessmen and others mostly dealt with broad generalities.

The exception, Dulles said, was Mikoyan's meeting with a group of union leaders who, the secretary said, "presented their views very strongly and effectively."

Apparently what Dulles had in mind were Mikoyan's sour comments that the American people want peace but their government clings to policies which continue the cold war.

"After his trip around the country," Dulles said of Mikoyan, "he still seemed to be under an illusion that there was a greater divergence on these matters than I think is the case."

Nevertheless, Dulles added, he has "no great concern" that Russia will make a serious miscalculation on that basis, conceding there is always such a danger. He recalled that both the Kaiser and Hitler misjudged America's temper before each of the world wars.

Successor OKd for Bishop

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Dr. William F. Creighton was elected bishop coadjutor of the Episcopal Diocese of Washington Tuesday.

The 49-year-old rector of St. John's Episcopal Church of Bethesda, Md., was elected by a special diocesan convention. He will automatically succeed the Rt. Rev. Angus Dun as bishop when the latter retires not later than 1962.

Season Slumps in Rich PB

More Palm Beach News 9A, 11A, 1C, 2D

Herald Bureau

PALM BEACH — This rich resort town is having a poor tourist season so far.

Alfred Kay, president of the Palm Beach Civic Association, reported Tuesday that hotel trade in plush Palm Beach is "far below average" and real estate business is almost nil.

"This is despondent January," he said and described the season as "one of the quietest on the Florida East Coast in years."

But he struck an optimistic note. The poor season, he said, may be partly due to a "phenomenon."

"The season used to end Feb. 27," Kay continued. "Now it is generally spread out. People from the North may be learning that latter February, March, and early April are the most charming months in Florida."

Last year's cold winter, he conceded, might be having its effect on this season.

Whatever the reason, Palm Beach is "very quiet" this season he said.

France Says 'No' To Batista

PARIS —(P)— The French government has poured cold water on efforts by former Cuban Dictator Fulgencio Batista to take political refuge here, a foreign ministry spokesman said Tuesday.

"The moment is not opportune for Monsieur Batista to come to France, if only because of the number of Cubans here who are partisans of the new regime," he said.

Batista had sounded out the French government through intermediaries here, the spokesman said, but a formal request for asylum was not made.

The spokesman said, therefore, that no formal rejection was called for or made.

Batista has been granted asylum in the Dominican Republic.

Jobless Diplomat Undecided on Future

Batista Consul Pops Up, Denies Fleeing From Miami

By JAMES BUCHANAN
Herald Staff Writer

Eduardo Hernandez, Batista's Miami consul-general who dropped out of sight when the dictator fled into exile, popped up here just as suddenly Tuesday.

The diplomat, who lost his job with the change in Cuban governments, denied there was anything "mysterious" about his absence, as implied by rebel forces.

In shirt sleeves, sporting a cold sore on his upper lip and undecided about the future, the 49-year-old, dapper Hernandez is trying to find a new place in the sun.

His light went out Jan. 1 when rebel chieftain Fidel Castro took over Cuba.

Hernandez stood on the lawn of his home at 403 W. San Marino Dr. on Miami Beach's Marino Island and talked to four of his close friends.

It probably was the largest gathering of pro-Batista men in Greater Miami since Cuba's latest Independence Day.

Eduardo Hernandez
. . . no 'mystery'

"I did not flee Miami on Dec. 31 as the rebels have claimed," Hernandez said.

"I left Miami Beach on Dec. 8 for New York, where my wife is hospitalized. And I did not 'strip' my consulate office of official records in Miami as the rebels also claim," Hernandez said.

His future is indefinite, Hernandez admitted, but his plans depend solely on the health of his wife "whom I expect to be well, and to join me, very soon."

Hernandez said the loss of his job with the Batista government would be covered "by investments I have here in Florida." He declined to name them.

"What I do from now on depends first upon what my wife wants to do," he said. Mrs. Hernandez has been in ill health for nearly a year.

Hernandez would talk about the weather, the price of fish, or anything but the past-current-or-future of Cuba or its government.

"Just make it 'no comment'," he said. "It is no time for me to talk now."

Reports that Hernandez was hidden behind armed guards at his island home or had moved are untrue.

Hernandez served Batista for the first time from 1936 until 1944 as consul-general at Miami and then went to Rio de Janeiro as consul. He returned here in 1945 as a real estate man and exporter.

In 1952, with Batista returning to power, Hernandez became consul-general once again and remained until the recent change in government.

The new consul here is Antonio Medina, career diplomat who was Hernandez' assistant.

Getting a Bang Out of Life

Sorghum--Wall-to-Wall!

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — (P) — Somebody dropped the sorghum and thus began the wildest evening in Mrs. Raymond Fisher's life. That was the night she was having a dinner party.

She related her tale of woe Tuesday.

A friend dropped a quart of sorghum and fumbled it as it was being put in the refrigerator. The result: Wall-to-wall sorghum.

Then somebody else brushed too close to the kitchen stove—and over went a big roaster pan almost brimful of giblet gravy.

Have you ever had a kitchen with wall-to-wall sorghum topped with giblet gravy?

Somehow or other Mrs. Fisher got her 10 guests fed, then stumbled wearily off to bed. Four hours later she wakened with a touch of dyspepsia and reached in the dark for a piece of indigestion-ease chewing gum.

She got something, put it in her mouth and bit down. Boom!

It wasn't gum at all, but a tiny torpedo firecracker the small kids fling on the sidewalk.

Premier Sets Sight On 1970

Original Doctrine Of War Reversed

Warning to West, 7A

MOSCOW — (UPI) — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev Tuesday launched a campaign for the economic conquest of the West that is designed to put Russia ahead of the U.S. by 1970.

He proclaimed the Communist doctrine that neither hot nor cold war is inevitable against capitalism in his message to the opening of the 21st Soviet Communist Party Congress. He stressed that while Russia wants peaceful competition, it is keeping itself well armed with missiles.

He spoke for six hours and five minutes on everything from Germany and Berlin to giving Russians the shortest working week in the world and each family an apartment. His every point drew loud applause.

He disclosed that military strength will not be sacrificed.

"Massive serial production of intercontinental missiles is under way," he said.

The premier did not elaborate. But he warned that Russia, with its cosmic rocket and satellites, has missiles to hit any point on earth.

He stressed, however, that "we want competition to take place . . . not . . . in the production of atomic and hydrogen weapons but in the production of industrial goods, meat, butter . . ."

The U.S. will be "outstripped" by 1970 in the new "realistic" Russian plan, he said.

Khrushchev visualized stepped up Russian production under the 1959-1965 seven-year plan; then, within the next five years, or by 1970, the time will have come when Russia has "the decisive edge" in the world.

He called for an 8.6 per cent annual increase in Soviet production and said America's annual increase was only two per cent.

"When fulfilled, the seven-year plan will so greatly increase the economic potential of the U.S.S.R. that it will, together with the growth of the economic potential of all the Socialist countries, give peace a decisive edge," he said.

He admitted that the U.S. industrial production per capita now is double Russia's and that American agricultural production is 40 per cent ahead.

But in the last eight years, in such fields as steel, oil, coal, cement and wool, the rate of increase of Soviet production surpassed the American rate, he said.

Khrushchev called for a 1965 production target of 65 million to 70 million tons of pig iron, 86 million to 91 million tons of steel, and 65 million to 70 million tons of rolled stock. Other metal production must be increased "several times over." Oil production should double to 230 million to 240 million tons. Electric power stations must double capacity.

The national income is to rise as much as 65 per cent, he said.

"This new balance of forces will be so patently evident that even the most diehard imperialists will clearly see the futility of any attempt to start a war against the Socialist camp."

Khrushchev's thesis, hammered at again and again, appeared to be that with the nuclear stalemate in the world, economic power will be the key to eventual Communist triumph—a reversal of the original doctrine that war is inevitable between socialism and capitalism.

Nixon: Labor Knows How to Handle Reds

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Tuesday night that American businessmen who lionized Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan could learn a lesson from labor leaders on how to deal with Communists.

Nixon called Mikoyan "the equal of any leader I have met" and said that his recent visit here — taken as a whole —was "in the best interests of the U.S. and the free world."

But he added in an address to the Fordham College Alumni Association that the Soviet official brought "no new approach" on major East-West issues. The visit, he said, resulted in no change in the U.S. or Soviet positions.

Nixon said he did not agree with those who criticized American businessmen and bankers for entertaining Mikoyan.

"But I would respectfully suggest," he added, "that some of them in this instance could learn a lesson from our labor leaders who had to fight their unions and in the process learned how to deal with them.

"They know that a soft and naive approach does not produce results. The Communists respect those who oppose them on principle. They have nothing but contempt for those who are dupes and who can be deceived by what they know are obvious untruths."

The vice president also warned that no more disastrous mistake could be made than to slash this country's foreign economic, propaganda and political programs in the name of economy.

Nixon said he could testify that Mikoyan returned to Russia with completely different views if he expected to find this country divided in its opposition to communism, its workers "seething with discontent" or its economy in trouble.

He said Mikoyan was "noticeably impressed by the economic progress the U.S. had made in the 22 years since his last visit here and by the obvious strength of our economy today."

In a further tribute to the anti-Communist stand of American labor, Nixon added that Mikoyan did not find any encouraging signs of progress in the U.S. toward fulfillment of the Marxist prediction of an inevitable class struggle.

"On the contrary, he admitted with almost grudging admiration that the strongest defenders of the American system, the most vigorous critics of communism, and the most uncompromising supporters of our firm stand in Berlin were not the traditional whipping boys of Communist propaganda, the Wall Street bankers and businessmen, but the leaders of our free trade unions who represented the views of millions of America's wage earners."

Nixon said Mikoyan displayed mental ability and shrewdness but that even more impressive were his "steel-like toughness of character and an almost arrogant faith that his cause was right and that it would inevitably prevail."

He said he showed "no flabbiness, no softness, none of the uncertainty of the pragmagist seeking a philosophy." In short, he said, the American people were reminded in Mikoyan of "the massiveness and of the seriousness of the challenge we face in the world today."

The vice president admitted that he had been deeply concerned at "the naive attitude and the lack of understanding of communism displayed by some Americans" who represented this country in government and out overseas.

He said too few Americans saw the total picture of the anti-Communist struggle when they attacked technical aid, developmental loans, exchange and information programs.

Ike's Labor Message Due Today

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Eisenhower will send his labor message to Congress today. Sparks are expected to fly.

Eisenhower helped set up a fight by scorning a rival bill introduced a week ago by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D., Mass), as a halfway measure.

That presidential description was relayed to newsmen by Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, House Republican leader who was among a group that conferred for 2½ hours with Eisenhower at the White House Tuesday.

The Kennedy bill may be a little better than nothing, Halleck said on his own account. But not much, he added slightingly.

Kennedy, a likely contender for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960, got his bill in well ahead of both the administration's and one planned by Chairman John L. McClellan (D., Ark.) of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

All three aim, or are expected to aim, in the same general direction but with different approaches: To eliminate as much as possible of the corruption and racketeering that have been shown to exist in some labor-management relations. The Teamster Union headed by James R. Hoffa is a common target.

It was reported at the Labor Department last week that Secretary James P. Mitchell regards the Kennedy bill with a good deal of favor—as far as it goes.

However, Mitchell is said to feel that there should be a stronger ban on blackmail picketing and that union officials should be held more accountable to members for handling union funds.

Halleck said the administration bill is intended to deal with a situation that has created a "stench in the nostrils of everybody."

Kennedy has spoken of his measure as an effective reform bill which would "virtually put Mr. Hoffa and his associates out of business."

The Kennedy bill would require public financial accounting by unions, fix criminal penalties for mishandling of union funds or books, make it illegal for union funds to be paid to hoodlums, ban shakedowns and require democratic union elections.

Mrs. Hernandez Loses Airline Job

Fired by Castro, She Says

A 10-year employe of Cuba's "Q" Airlines said Tuesday she was fired by Fidel Castro "because I am married to the brother of the former Cuban counsul."

Mrs. Elena Bejar Hernandez, a U.S. citizen, and her husband of nine months, former Cuban Army Major Efrain Hernandez, said the orders for her dismissal "came right from the top—from Castro himself."

Ex-Maj. Hernandez's brother is former Cuban consul Eduardo Hernandez who fled Miami with his wife on Dec. 31, the day before Castro's revolutionary forces took control of the government.

Efrain Hernandez, who said he was serving in Miami as an army attache to the consulate here, turned over the keys to his office Monday to the new Cuban consul, Antonio Medina.

"Since March 15, 1949, I have served "Q" Airlines in Miami," Mrs. Hernandez said, "and all of the officials here said they were sorry they had to give me 24-hour notice, but those were their orders."

Roberto Chomat, special representative for the airlines here, was not available for comment Tuesday afternoon.

Efrain Hernandez said another of his brothers, Humberto, who had been with the airlines "since they put the first seat in the first plane," also was dismissed from his job at Havana.

"Castro has decided to clear all the Hernandez family from any connection whatsover with Cuba," the ex-major said. "Myself, I expected it, but it is sad to realize they are extending the purge to U.S. citizens who may be members of our family."

Hernandez, often the target of rebel Cuban groups in Miami for his alleged espionage activities for Batista, said both he and his wife "are looking for jobs."

Mrs. Hernandez was given two weeks pay with her dismissal from the airline, which serves several points in Cuba from West Palm Beach and Key West.

Rain's Out For Today

Sudden hard rains caught weathermen and beach - goers with their umbrellas down Tuesday — but it's not supposed to happen again today.

Mostly sunny weather with temperatures near 80 was forecast for today, and only a chance of showers.

"It won't be anything like Tuesday," said Forecaster Gil Clark.

He blamed the afternoon showers Tuesday on a cold trough in the upper air that didn't change ground temperatures but plastered Greater Miami with nearly an inch of rain.

'Ballet' Girl Scandals Rock Paris

PARIS —(UPI)— The "Affair of the Rose Ballets" added stories of alleged sex orgies involving at least one prominent French politician and teenage girls Tuesday to a wave of scandals which have suddenly beset the young Fifth French Republic.

Paris circles already were buzzing over a sensational legal battle that has entangled one of France's wealthiest families in sordid charges of bribery, blackmail, procuring and attempted murder.

A blonde 23-year-old call girl was the key figure in what is known as "L'Affaire Lacaze."

The "Affair of the Rose Ballets" leaped into prominence when a Paris judge summoned former Police Officer Pierre Sorlut for questioning about his alleged role in organizing parties of young girls for prominent French personalities, including at least one high-ranking politician, not otherwise identified.

Sorlut was arrested and jailed recently on the basis of stories told police by several girls who said Sorlut arranged indecent "rose ballets" in villas in the outskirts of Paris.

The girls were said to have been lured into the "ballets" with promises they would meet important men who would help them to careers as actresses and models.

What exactly took place at the "Rose Ballets" was not disclosed. But some Paris newspapers said part of the routine was for the girls to perform "suggestive dances" in front of "personalities who wanted to meet young girls."

"L'Affaire Lacaze" involved Jean Lacaze, 57, wealthy director of the Zellidja lead and zinc mine in Morocco, and his adopted nephew, Jean-Pierre Guillaume, 25.

Guillaume was adopted by Lacaze's sister, Mme. Jean Walter, widow of the founder of the mines and a wealthy woman.

Lacaze was alleged to have attempted to have Guillaume murdered and tried to frame him on a charge of procuring in order to cheat him out of his heritage.

According to Guillaume, Lacaze promised $30,375 to self-admitted call girl Marie-Therese Godeneche if she would get Guillaume arrested on charges of procuring.

Lacaze and one of his attorneys were arrested last week and charged with bribing a witness.

Holdup Man Held As Killer Suspect

Metro detectives Tuesday began checking the possibility that an 18-year-old Minnesota youth who told police of a whirlwind robbery spree may also be a killer.

Public Safety Director Thomas J. Kelly said a .32 caliber pistol dropped Monday by Herbert Leland Richard of Austin, Minn., alias Michael David Leahey, was the same type that fired a fatal bullet into the head of Ojus bar owner Vernon Brubaker Saturday night.

Miami police said Richard told them of four robberies, two of them at gunpoint, and two car thefts in Minnesota that netted him some $3,000 in cash. He said he lived like a king in Jacksonville and Miami Beach before being caught in a Miami supermarket holdup Monday.

Homestead Jail Practices Hit

The Dade County Grand Jury in an interim report Tuesday criticized "lax practices" in the Homestead city jail and recommended reorganization of the Homestead Police Department.

The report said the jury's recommendation followed an "extensive investigation" of conditions in the jail, including the escape of a Negro prisoner who wounded an officer before he was finally shot down and killed.

Byroade Backed for Afghan Post

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Henry A. Byroade won Senate Foreign Relations Committee approval Tuesday to be ambassador to Afghanistan. First, however, he was questioned about complaints over his contacts with an American Negro at his former post in the Union of South Africa where the government maintains a color barrier.

The ambassador, just back from South Africa Monday night, was asked about a party given there in his honor to which an American Negro was invited. Sen. Frank Church (D., Idaho) noted reports that an official of the South African government had protested.

Byroade said that was correct, but it wasn't the first time an American Negro citizen had been invited, although the embassy has been accused of maintaining a color barrier.

The ambassador said he attempted to explain to the South African official the difference between the U. S. citizen and African natives, because "their laws are very strict."

"I think the embassy is making the best compromise that it can," he said.

cratic, may regret his recent move to grant amnesty to 10 political exiles. Being nice to your enemies is looked upon by some here as a weakness.

Louis DeJoie, wealthy mulatto planter who lost to Duvalier in the 1957 election and fled to New York, boasts from exile that his political foe "won't last another six months."

There is a lot of speculation as to the nature of a recent border conference between Duvalier and Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo of over-the-mountains Dominican Republic.

Duvalier says it was to patch up differences that have strained relations between the countries for years, to sign a non-aggression pact and to launch a joint battle against communism on the island.

Despite its poverty, Haiti has resisted the heavy hand of the Communists.

Dr. Duvalier estimates there are 2,000 known Communists in Haiti. He is proud that he was able to reject overtures made to him by Soviet Russia right after his election.

"I'd much prefer to deal with the United States," he said.

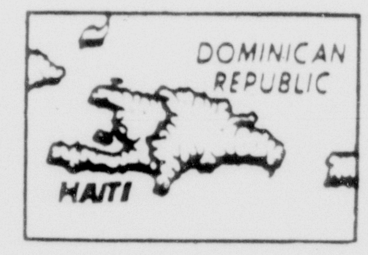
Haiti At a Glance



HAITI is one of the world's three Negro republics, located 640 miles southeast of Miami.

SIZE approximates Maryland in area. Occupies one-third the Caribbean island of Hispaniola which it shares with the Dominican Republic.

POPULATION estimated at 3,500,000 French-speaking natives. The religion is Catholic but Voodoo is practiced.

GOVERNMENT is run by a president and two elected houses.

POLITICS are frequently turbulent. Twice since taking office in 1957 President Duvalier has shaken up the Army's general staff to counter reported revolutionary plots. Haiti is strongly anti-Communist.

ECONOMY hinges on tourism.

Warm, Fair Weather Moving into Central Plains, Ohio Valley

Forecasts For Today

INDIAN RIVER AREA — Partly cloudy and warm through Thursday. High Wednesday, 76 - 80. Low Wednesday, 62-66. Variable winds 5-12 mph through Wednesday night.

LAKE OKEECHOBEE AND NAPLES AREAS — Partly cloudy and warm through Thursday. High Wednesday, 78-82. Low Wednesday night 62-66. Variable winds 5-12 mph through Wednesday night.

FORT LAUDERDALE, PALM BEACH AND KEYS AREAS —Partly cloudy and warm through Thursday. High Wednesday near 80. Low Wednesday night 66 - 70. Variable winds 5-12 mph through Wednesday night.

MARINE—Jacksonville through the Florida Straits. Variable winds at five to 12 miles an hour. Partly cloudy, except considerable cloudiness extreme north with some rain. East Gulf: Variable winds at five to 12 miles an hour. Partly cloudy except considerable cloudiness with some light rain extreme north.

Statistics

MIAMI READINGS AT 4:30 P.M. TUESDAY: Skies, cloudy; temperature, 74 degrees; winds from the southeast at five miles an hour; barometer, 30.00 inches; relative humidity, 90 per cent.

National Summary

The slowly moving eastern weather pattern continued to give combinations of ice sleet and snow over much of the most populace area of the U.S.

The advance of colder air will be accompanied by considerable cloudiness through the Gulf states but should help evict the combination of freezing rain sleet and snow from the east.

Fair to partly cloudy and cold weather should return to the central and northern Appalachians mid Atlantic states and New England by Wednesday.

Occasional rain and colder temperatures are indicated for Georgia and the Carolinas restricting fair warm conditions to Florida.

A broad zone of warming temperatures and generally fair weather is forecast from the central plains to the mid Mississippi and Ohio Valleys while some snow may drift across the Northern Great Lakes region.

Intermittent rain will give way to showers through the Pacific northwest Wednesday and showers of rain or snow should extend across northern California into the central plateau and Rockies.

WPB Garage Is Shifted to Public Works

Three Get Salary Raises In Departmental Shake-Up

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — The first move in the sweeping reorganization of city departments promised under City Manager James J. Mott was disclosed Tuesday.

Mott revealed he was shifting the city garage to the Public Works Department. The change carries salary raises and promotions for three city employes, including Dave Foust, public works superintendent.

The city garage has been operating as a separate department with C. E. Molloy in charge.

A shake-up of City Hall departments with sweeping changes to streamline the city's administrative procedure was indicated when Mott was appointed city manager and took over from Keith Chinn, now finance director, in mid-December.

Mott Tuesday released a departmental memorandum revealing the first reorganizational shifts.

In the letter addressed to the city garage and the Public Works Department, Mott was careful to emphasize that the shift was "not intended to reflect discredit" on Molloy, garage superintendent.

Under the new set-up, Malloy will be garage supervisor and George Bennett, assistant supervisor-mechanic. Their salaries will remain unchanged.

Foust, as head of the Public Works Department is now responsible for the city garage.

Mott announced "in line with the increased responsibility and obligations" Foust would get a salary boost of $440 making his annual pay $7,440.

Other promotions and salary increases disclosed were:

Harold Stevens, from street maintenance supervisor at $5,000 to assistant superintendent of public works at $6,120.

Afred Oatway, sidewalk inspector at $3,950 to public works inspector at $4,140.

Mott pointed out that the memorandum does not change the present police car maintenance, which is now under the Police Department.

However, Mott instructed Foust to make "such changes in garage service operation," he thought necessary to improve coordination, cooperation and efficiency.

The city manager said the reorganization was needed because of the city's growing vehicle fleet.

Mott told city commissioners at their meeting Monday that he was taking steps to improve service at the city garage.

'53 Proposal

WPB Vote to Be Asked

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — City Commissioner L. W. Kelloway disclosed Tuesday that two other fellow commissioners have agreed to ask the state legislature for a referendum on the mayor-commission form of government.

KELLOWAY

Kelloway, long an outspoken opponent of the city's present city manager form, wants the Legislature to pass a bill creating a mayor-commission plan of government for West Palm Beach, subject to a referendum.

The same proposal was thumbed down by voters in October, 1953.

But Kelloway contends, "The people are getting wise now."

Kelloway reported that two commissioners besides himself are prepared to ask the county legislative delegation to push a bill calling for a referendum on the mayor-commission form.

"They said they're willing to let the people vote on it," he said.

He did not divulge tha name of the commissioners.

Kelloway, who comes up for reelection along with Mayor Horace E. Miller this spring, is circulating the same act, defeated at the polls in 1953.

The bill calls for a full-time mayor elected by voters throughout the city instead of commissioners under the present form of government.

It also lumps the administrative and legislative powers in government by making commissioners department heads.

The departments listed in the bill are accounts and finance; public safety; streets and public improvements; and parks, public property and general welfare.

'Unfriendly Act' to Visitors

Residents Protest Ugly Approach to PB

By ROSE ALLEGATO
WPB Bureau

PALM BEACH — The Palm Beach Civic Association Tuesday took a swat at the City of West Palm Beach and the Port of Palm Beach.

In a membership meeting at the Everglades Club, the group complained about the "homely approach to our lovely town" from West Palm Beach.

Alfred Kay, association president, called the "homely approach" almost "an unfriendly act" to visitors. He referred to the approach to bridges on the West Palm Beach side of Lake Worth as "bad".

"You go through what is almost a manufacturing area," he said. He implored members, "If you have any influence across the lake, start talking" to see if the situation could be corrected.

Frank Quigley, chairman of the association's Port Committee, blasted the Port of Palm Beach for pushing the proposed harbor deepening, a $5-million-plus project.

He charged the port with overlooking "utterly unrealistic factors. This port is small business," he said and claimed there was "no sign that port revenues will ever increase."

Quigley maintained that there was no "economic justification" for the proposed multi-million-dollar project, which, he contended, would have a detrimental effect on the entire Palm Beach County coast. "Two-thirds of the frontage on our little lagoon (Lake Worth) are opposed to the project," he said.

In another report, the association was told the Town of Palm Beach's sand transfer plant was proving to be a costly operation. The plant pumps sand on the beach to replace the sand which drifts south.

The association Tuesday also voted to study the possibility of asking the county to construct a bridge over the waters of Lake Worth at the extreme southern limits of West Palm Beach.

The group indicated opposition to a proposed bridge at 12th St. in West Palm. The span would be constructed as part of the 12th St. extension from Westward Expansion.

Crane Topples Into Canal Killing 1, Trapping Another

By BILL BECK
Delray Bureau Chief

OCEAN RIDGE — One man was killed and another trapped for an hour just inches from death when a crane toppled into the Inland Waterway here Tuesday.

As the pile driving crane turned over, witnesses said, the 35-foot boom struck a Negro workman who was perched on a freshly driven piling, knocking him into the water.

It was hours after the accident before searchers found the body pinned under the crane boom. The victim was identified as Al Allen of Pompano Beach. Co-workers said he was married and had a daughter.

The crane operator, Art Allen, of Fort Lauderdale was trapped in the crushed shell of the cabin for more than one hour before rescuers could cut through the tangled wreckage with a blow torch.

Allen's face was less than six inches from the murky water as the torch cut through the steel holding his legs. Rescuers prayed as they worked that the crane would not slip further into the water.

The operator, no relation to Al Allen, was reported to be in good condition after being treated for shock and abrasions.

A third workman was not injured. The three-man crew, employed by Zinke-Smith Inc. of Pompano Beach, were engaged in replacing a seawall in this small resort community just north of Boynton Beach.

Officials of the heavy construction firm were at a loss to explain why the crane tipped over. (They pointed out that although the ground near the water's edge was soft, it did not give way.

When the crane fell the heavy tracks remained on top of the five-foot embankment and the end of the boom buried itself in the muck at the bottom of six feet of water. The cabin was partially submerged.

The third crew member, Ben A. Thomas, Fort Lauderdale, made repeated dives in search of Al Allen even before police and sheriff's deputies had arrived.

The coffee colored water also thwarted the attempts of three volunteer skin divers, who made dive after dive while police awaited the arrival of grappling hooks.

A larger crane and a bulldozer were brought in to right the disabled pile driver.

Cars Crash Head-On, One Killed, 3 Hurt

By ROSA NASH
Herald Correspondent

BELLE GLADE — One person was killed and three others injured in a head-on collision on U.S. 80, 19 miles east of here, Tuesday. Mrs. Julia Rogers, 52, New York City, driver of one of the cars, was killed.

Herbert Van Blarcom, 62, and his wife, Frances, 57, both of New York City, were seriously injured and are in a Belle Glade hospital. Mrs. Van Blarcom and Mrs. Rogers

The driver of the other auto, Robert W. Buss, 48, of Eau Claire, Pa., was not seriously injured and was released from the hospital.

Trooper R. G. Russell of the Florida Highway Patrol said Mrs. Rogers apparently lost control of her car and swerved into the opposing traffic lane, crashing into Buss' machine.

Mrs. Rogers and the Van Blarcoms were en route home after a visit with relatives at Opa-locka. Buss has been visiting in Belle Glade.

Vegetable Shipments Increasing

PAHOKEE — Shipments in the Lake Okeechobee farming section were increasing as warmer weather and sunshine put new growth on plants burned by the recent frost. Monday 174 carlot equivalents of fresh vegetables rolled from this section to markets all over the country and into Canada.

Prices were good on most vegetables, and yields and quality were good considering the recent frosts and rains.

Some 69 car equivalents of celery were shipped from this area Monday. Pascal variety sold for $1.25-$2.75 and golden $4.50-$5.

Cabbage shipments were picking up with 31 cars going out on Monday. Prices ranged from $1.25-$2 on crates of green variety, and $1.35-$1.75 on sacks. Other varieties being shipped were red, savoy and Chinese. Prices on these range from $1.25-$2.75.

Sweet corn shipments were also picking up with some 15 carlots daily going out the first of the month. Prices ranged from $2.50-$2.75 according to quality.

Suit Is Brewing Over Financing Of Ad Board

Is Transfer Of Funds Illegal?

By ED PFISTER
WPB Bureau Chief

WEST PALM BEACH — The right of the City Commission to delegate its authority and tax money to the non-governmental City Advertising Commission may be challenged in court, it was learned Tuesday.

The precise form of the legal action was not disclosed but it was reported an attorney is currently engaged in drawing up the papers.

It was understood the suit will be financed by a private citizen who takes the view the city is illegally transferring both authority and municipal money to the AD Board.

The Advertising Commission is not an adjunct of the Chamber of Commerce and has no official municipal standing.

But Commissioner Sylvan Burdick, who has been critical of advertising and publicity procedures, says, "It has become so because a preponderance of AD Board members are members of the Chamber of Commerce."

In that connection, he said he will revive a motion next Monday to make the members of the City Commission members also of the Advertising Commission.

The disclosure that legal action is imminent came in the wake of a clash between C. Robert Burns, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Commissioner Burdick at the Monday City Board meeting.

Burns took Burdick to task for what he described as unwarranted attacks on the integrity of AD Board members.

Burdick countered that his questions regarding procedure and expenditure of city funds by the AD Board were not intended to reflect on any member of that board.

The AD Board for the current year obtained an appropriation of some $170,000 from the city but there were strings attached to some of the money.

The City Commission ruled that $50,000 of the money should be earmarked for such things as a golf tournament, the Seminole Indian Sun Dance Festival and like events.

The controversy revolving around the AD Board has centered largely on the fact that the city at present has no publicity or public relations director and up to now the AD Board has not allocated money from its appropriation for that purpose.

Burdick contends that the fact that the AD Board right now is considering a publicity setup — along with its advertising program — demonstrates that City Commission interest in the situation has brought results.

As recently as 1950, the city appropriated approximately $35,000 for straight advertising but laid out $15,000 for a publicity firm to handle the ad account and obtain publicity space in northern papers.

There was no indication Tuesday exactly when the suit challenging the right of the commission in the AD Board situation will be filed, but proponents said: "It will be filed, and it is expected to be filed shortly."

No 'Crazyquilt'

Agriculture Revisions OKd

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — An efficient Florida Department of Agriculture — supplanting the present "crazyquilt" setup that has evolved from a bureau created in 1889 — was proposed here Tuesday by a legislative delegation.

The committee, headed by Orange Park Sen. Tom Adams, has been studying the state's agriculture problems for 18 months under a mandate from the 1958 Legislature.

It paused here for a public hearing in the Mounts Agriculture Building to determine the reaction of farm organizations and leaders to 27 sweeping recommendations.

Palm Beach County Rep. Emmet S. Roberts said that "while the recommendations still can't spell out that the Secretary of Agriculture be familiar with that industry, they do provide safeguards."

He explained that the principal advisory committee and two other less elaborate committees would be made up of representatives from all agriculture interests in the state. They would guide the secretary.

Roberts said actually, the recommendations would create Florida's "first statutory Department of Agriculture."

"What we have now," he said "is a conglomeration of activities related to agriculture, both within and without the department."

He said the present system is overlapping and costly and fails to measure up to the demands of the agriculture industry.

The proposed recommendations—scheduled to be laid before the 1959 Legislature—won general tentative approval after they were explained in detail.

David C. Click, Clewiston, agriculturist and chairman of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control Board, commended the committee for its work.

Mike Machek, Delray Beach, representing the Palm Beach County Farm Bureau, said the organization would send a letter of approval.

Roy Rood, of Jupiter, the Florida Nurserymen's Association, lauded the proposed recommendations, and George Young, representing the Glades Livestock Market and the Florida Livestock Market Association, suggested changes and was in agreement with the proposed reorganization.

Cabbies, Police Angry

Charges Light The Fuse

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — Reverberations followed quickly Tuesday on the heels of charges a cabbie-call girl racket is flourishing in West Palm Beach.

Police bristled at the charges which were made by City Commissioner Sylvan Burdick at a Monday commission meeting.

They took the view that, if the commissioner is informed of such cases, it is his duty to report these to the authorities.

Counsel for one cab comapny flared "The City Commission hasn't heard the last of this."

There were reports the attorneys and a delegation of their cabbie clients may call on the City Commission at the meeting Monday and file a formal protest.

Burdick's charge not only created a minor sensation — it resulted in commission adoption by a 3-2 vote of his motion to amend the cab ordinance so drivers involved with call girls would lose their licenses.

The cabbie-call girl tie-up charge came unexpectedly during a debate over a petition by Ace Cab Co. for permits for two more cars.

Yellow Cab, which operates three other cab companies and has 46 permits, opposed the request of Ace, which now has five permits.

Beth Steel Abandons Its Merger Plans

Dow Jones, AP, UPI

Bethlehem Steel Corp. and the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. announced they have abandoned plans for a merger and will not appeal a federal district court injunction against it.

The companies said an appeal could not be finally disposed of before 1960.

The government opposed the merger on the ground that it violated the Clayton Act and would lessen competition and create a monopoly.

The companies said they still believe the merger would have stimulated competition and resulted in obvious advantages to steel consumers and the public.

A Businessman in Prague

'Czechs Treated Me Like Royalty'

By STAN JOHNSON
Herald Business Writer

A Miami manufacturer who just returned from a buying trip behind the Iron Curtain says it's not difficult to do business with the Communists.

"They treated me like royalty," said Jack Zwerner, president of Perrine Industries, Hialeah jalousie door manufacturer.

Zwerner visited Czechoslovakia where he made arrangements to buy window glass for his business.

He was met at an airport in Prague by a chauffeur-driven limousine and whisked to his hotel.

Later, he concluded a deal with the director of the government owned glass industry to buy 1.5 million dollars worth of jalousies over a 12-month period.

"They knew all about jalousies," said Zwerner. "I didn't have to explain anything to them."

He said the Czech glass can be delivered in Florida for about five per cent less than the glass he formerly bought in Western European countries.

Zwerner doesn't expect to encounter any sales resistance to his product in this country because of the switch to a Communist-made glass.

"A contractor is interested in quality and price," he said. "He doesn't care where the glass comes from."

The Daily Investor

'Your System Is Too Hit-or-Miss'

Q. I am a 39-year-old widow and have a monthly pension of $125. I ventured into the stock market for the first time a few months ago and I am a bit nervous.

I bought 15 shares of Kroger (I will have 45 as a result of the three-for-one split), 25 shares of Texas Gulf Sulphur, 100 shares of Chock Full O'Nuts, 1,000 shares of Lisbon Valley Uranium (at three cents a share) and 100 shares of Holly Corp. (at $1.50 a share).

I know the last two are highly speculative. But I decided to take the risk because of the low cost. What do you think of my choice?

A. Some are fair. Some are bad. But your whole system (if it can be called that) of buying stock is terrible. You are going about investing in a hit-or-miss method. You have no more right owning some of those things than you do playing the horses.

A widow on a pension should never buy highly risky stocks, no matter how low their price seems to be. The small profit you might make isn't worth the worry and the distinct possibility that you might lose some of what little money you have.

And those two low-priced things aren't the only ones you should be concerned about. Actually, none of the issues you hold is really suited for you.

Kroger has been a very good performer. It is a high-grade stock, but is more of a growth issue than an income producer. It should appeal to people looking to the future—not to widows in need of current income.

Texas Gulf Sulphur has had its ups and downs in the market. It might be easy to argue that, because the company is the world's largest producer of sulphur and has a strong financial position, its stock has to improve in our expanding economy. That may be true. But it has to live down its past reputation.

Chock Full O'Nuts looks good. However, the stock has been on the market only a short time and will have to prove itself.

Life Firms Plan Merger

Stockholders of the American Life Savings Insurance Co., which has headquarters in Miami, voted unanimously here Mondy to merge with a Nashville, Tenn., firm that has been expanding its insurance holdings in recent months.

American Life is being acquired by American Investors Corp., headed by Harry McDonald, former chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Louis Jepeway, board chairman of the Miami firm, said American Life policyholders will be protected "through re-guaranteed" policies handled by a South Carolina firm in the American Investors group.

Dr. E. C. Lunsford, president of American Life, becomes a vice president of American Investors under the new arrangement. Insurance commissioners of Florida and Tennessee must approve the merger before it becomes final but approval is expected in about 45 days.

A Price on Her Head

George L. Giles
. . . the buyer

Katy
. . . the insured

William H. Cauley
. . . the seller

This kangaroo is blissfully unaware of it, but she's been insured for $350.

In what is described as the Miami area's only individual life insurance policy for a kangaroo, Cauley and Martin insurance agency insured the life of Katy, the traveling mascot of Riddle Airlines.

George L. Giles, Riddle's president, took out the policy.

Katy is really more than a mascot. She's valuable as the central theme of a Riddle sales program and makes public appearances in cities on the airline's routes.

Unheralded Stock Goes Up 967 Pct.

NEW YORK —(UPI)— A spectacular stock market performance in the tradition of E. L. Bruce, Lukens Steel, American Motors and P. Lorillard is being staged by a little-known $2 million a year chemical company headquartered in Elizabeth, N.J.

Stock of Borne Chemical Co. on the American Stock Exchange more than doubled itself last week and touched a high Monday of $80 a share which is 967 per cent above its 1958 low of $7.50.

But it was sold heavily Tuesday when the American Stock Exchange announced a routine investigation into the rise. It lost $27.25 points net and closed at $42.25.

Last week it rose by $32.25 a share to $63.25.

Company officials aren't sure what's responsible. Neither are the brokerage houses.

But there are lots of theories. Among these are a slim supply of stock and a new process for hermetically sealed plastic containers.

In many cases of such rises the ticker is fired by groups trying to buy into the company.

Out of 189,492 outstanding shares only about 40,000 or 50,000 are on the market, with the balance held by management.

New High Set in Savings

A record savings increase of $47,123,000 in December brought total savings for the 103 Florida savings and loan associations to $2,054,265,000 at the close of 1958.

According to statistics released by the Florida Savings and Loan League, the record savings increase during December surpassed the previous monthly high of $40,879,500 established in December, 1957, by $6,243,500.

While savings were on the rise in December, total loans closed during the month also set a new monthly record of $51,904,761 which enabled the Florida associations to close out the year with $506,881,000 in loans closed.

This was the first time that the savings and loan lending volume in Florida had passed the half-billion-dollar mark. The record lending year was $54,096,000 above the total for 1957.

During 1958, the savings and loan associations in Florida financed 61,370 dwellings including 23,900 new homes.

CHAMPAGNE POPULAR

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Champagne consumption in the U.S. has made tremendous gains in 1958, an importer says. Alfred Fromm, vice president of Fromm & Sichel Inc., said Americans are not only using champagne instead of cocktails, but are drinking more with their meals.

A Sell-It-Yourself Lot

A do-it-yourself car lot where people can rent space and sell their own flivvers opened Tuesday in Fort Lauderdale.

The promoters, Bruce Meinken and Ray McMackin, say their Car Owners Market Corp. is the first used car lot in the nation which allows the buyer and seller to do business directly, thus eliminating middleman costs and profits.

A flat fee of $9 entitles the car owner to three days, or any part thereof, of "sales exposure" on the COMCO lot at 620 W. Broward Blvd.

After three days, the rate drops to $1.50 a day.

An inquiry card setup enables the buyer and seller to get together privately and set their own price.

Meinken and McMackin will advertise cars on their lots and arrange financing and insurance for buyers, if they need them.
